THE MARTYR PRESIDENT.

A growing and faithful portraiture of all the startling scenes and picturesque pageant in the mournful from the Second Inauguration of ABRAHAM LINCOLN as sixteenth President of the United States to his final burial at Springfield, Illinois, including the Assassination at the Theatre; Booth's Flight; The Felon's Fate, and the Unparalleled Funeral March from the White House to the Patriot's Grave.

The proprietors, conscious of the public desire to obtain a thorough knowledge of all the scenes and facts connected with the late NATIONAL CALAMITY, which robed the land in mourning, promptly engaged, at a vast expense, no less than twelve competent artists to employ their whole time and genius in the production of this extraordinary series of Pictures, for the fidelity of which they confidently vouch.

Mr. RUFUS SOMERBY, the gifted Elocutionist, will deliver a lecture at each exhibition, descriptive of the various deeply exciting scenes.

Tickets 25 cents. A limited number of reserved seats may be obtained at 50 cents each.

Doors open at 7¼. Entertainment to commence at 8 o'clock.

Grand Matinee Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, commencing at 3 o'clock, when children will be admitted for 15 cents. je10:tf

A Singular Discovery.

Some curious discoveries are being made by parties engaged in hunting for oil in the hitherto neglected sections of the country. It is but a day or two since we published a paragraph in reference to the discovery of silver and lead in Venango county, which has revived the tradition that the early French settlers and the Indians collected both silver and lead in that section. We now have another "singular discovery," the particulars of which are given in the Morgan town Post, as follows:

A few days since, while some hands in the employ of the "Decker Creek Petroleum Company," near Guseman's mills, four miles east of Morgantown, were engaged cleaning away the rocks and logs to prepare a road to the place where the well is to be sunk, they discovered the foundation of a house about sixteen by twenty feet, which undoubtedly was the residence of some of the ancients. The work in masonry was of the best, neatest, and most durable. Exactly on the top of one side of the foundation was a chestnut stump, twenty-four inches in diameter, which our informant says has not been cut down within fourteen years, to his certain knowledge.

Near the house was found a caldron, or kettle, cut down in a solid rock to the depth of four feet, and walled up with the finest quality of brick ever seen by any of the persons present; where broken in pieces the separate parts would be as "smooth as paper," as our informant expressed it. It seemed as though this kettle had been used for smelting minerals; and we remember, in our boyish days, to have heard that the Indians, about the year 1770, had a lead mine somewhere on Decker's Creek, and Mr. Morgan, for whom our town was named, was the only white man who was cognizant of its whereabouts, and he died without revealing the whereabouts of the ore, therefore it is clouded in mystery. Yet, the discovery of the foundation and caldron above mentioned, will lead the careful reader far back beyond that time. Mr. Guseman came to this country and settled within a quarter of a mile of this wonderful discovery, just seventy years ago, and he knows nothing of its establishment. The chestnut stump which stands on the foundation, two feet in diameter; the growth of chestnut is about three eighths of an inch per year, therefore that house could not have been standing at any period inside of seventy five or eighty years. The question now is, to whom did the house belong? No ... nor sign of a road was to be found leading to it. The hands were making a road sufficient to carry out some timber for an oil derrick.

A Plan for an American Protestant Assembly.

At the meeting of the convention of the Young Men's Christian Association, held in Philadelphia, Rev. Rufus W. Clark, chairman of the Special Committee, to whom was referred the paper relative to the formation of an American Protestant Assembly, made the following report:

Among the favorable indications of the times are the tendencies towards union of feeling and effort among the members of the various evangelical denominations throughout the country.

The readiness of a great majority of Christians to co-operate in general philanthropic benevolent movements; the increased disposition to exchange pulpits on the part of the clergy; the desire everywhere felt among Presbyterians to see the two branches of the Church again united; the growing feeling that the present condition of our country demands renewed effort to strengthen and extend Protestantism, all are providential indications that claim the attention of the friends of the Kingdom of Christ.

In view of these facts, we suggest the organization of an assembly, or an association, to meet annually, and to be composed of clerical and lay delegates from every evangelical denomination that is willing to enter into the movement, and from any Protestant bodies in foreign countries; the delegates to be appointed by the highest ecclesiastical body representing the denomination.

The proposed objects of the Assembly are the following:

First. The official and public recognition of the unity of the Protestant church.

Second. The cultivation of fraternal feeling and Christian co-operation throughout all evangelical denominations.

Third. The extension of Protestant education and religion throughout the destitute portions of our land.

Fourth. The publication of an annual report that will present an accurate statement of the numerical strength of each denomination of our land, the condition and strength of Protestantism in Great Britain, France and other European countries, and a view of all Protestant missions throughout the world.

Other objects may be added to these, as Divine Providence may indicate. Such an association or assembly will not interfere with the ecclesiastical order or benevolent operations of any branch of the Church, but through the blessing of God may stimulate them all. The expense attending it would be but trifling, unless it should become an efficient power for promoting education in the west and in the southern fields now opening for philanthropic and Christian exertion. The primary object of the body would be the cultivation of Christian fellowship throughout the true Church and the consolidation of the ideas and principles upon which the extension of the Kingdom of our Lord and the spiritual regeneration of the world depends. The details of the organization could be arranged by a committee for the various denominations.

The report was discussed at length and was ultimately adopted.

Mill Destroyed—Child Burned to Death.

The steam mill of Levi Low, on the Monongahela river, five miles from Morgantown, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday last. A little son of Mr. Low, aged about six years, who was sleeping on some wool at the time, was burned to death. Mr. Low was filling a lamp with oil, when it caught fire, ran over the floor, and soon enveloped the mill in flames. He did not know at the time, that his little boy was in the mill, and not until all rescue was hopeless did he realize the fact. The body of the little boy was recovered out of a pile of wheat next morning. There was nothing saved except about five barrels of flour. Fifteen hundred barrels of wheat and 250 sacks of wool, together with all the valuable machinery, were entirely destroyed. Mr. Low was badly burned. The entire loss will be about $10,000.

Accidents on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

On Friday evening, as a coal train was being transferred from McFarland's switch, near Swissvale, to the main track, two of the cars were thrown off, which blocked up the track and displaced the rails considerably. The six o'clock Accommodation train for Wall's station was delayed for some time, as was also the Penn Accommodation, coming westward. The passengers in these trains were transferred, and reached their respective destinations after an hour's delay. On the same evening, at about the same time, a freight train bound east ran into another freight train, going in the same direction, near Turtle creek. Two cars were broken, and three or four hogs were killed, but beyond this no damage was done.

Argument List in the District Court.—The District Court will meet on Monday morning, when the Argument List will be taken up.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

The following cases were disposed of before Judges Stowe, Mellon and Brown, on Saturday forenoon.

Peter Emge, convicted of aggravated assault and battery, on officer Geise, was brought in for sentence. His counsel, Mr. Coyle, made an appeal in his behalf, stating that he had just returned from the army, that he was only about 18 years of age, that he never had been guilty of any offense before, and asked the Court to pass as light a sentence as possible. Judge Stowe alluded to the serious character of the outrage, committed wantonly upon the person of an officer in the discharge of his duties, and after asking the boy some questions in regard to his age, residence, etc., sentenced him to pay a fine of $200, and undergo an imprisonment in the Penitentiary for the term of six months.

Gustavus Kann plead guilty to a charge of assault and battery, and was sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs.

The following named persons plead guilty to illegal liquor selling, and were sentenced to pay the amounts designated, together with the costs, which amount to about $15 additional in each case:

J. Stirm, Lawrenceville, $15; Margaret Fox, Lawrenceville, two cases, $35 each; Julius Weisert, Third ward, Allegheny, $15; Leonard Kearhn, Third ward, Allegheny, $15; Mary Brannon, First ward, Pittsburgh, $10; David Meenan, Ninth ward, Pittsburgh, $30; Archibald Perry, First ward, Pittsburgh, $30; Jacob Schirtzer, Third ward, Allegheny, $30; Hugh Sallie, First ward, Pittsburgh, $20; George P. Miller, Fourth ward, Pittsburgh, $50; James Young, Sr., Lawrenceville, $20; Barbara Dickenhoffer, Second ward, Allegheny, $10; Anton Wacker, Third ward, Allegheny, $20; Henry Herdt, Third ward, Allegheny, $30; Whitted and Newell, Fourth ward, Pittsburgh, $20; Peter Emge, Lawrenceville, $20; Daniel Vierbieler, Third ward, Pittsburgh, $20; Alexander Campbell, Fourth ward, Pittsburgh, $20; Wm. Cheeseman, Fourth ward, Pittsburgh, $20; Frank Herron, Fourth ward, Pittsburgh, $20; John McGrady, Fourth ward, Pittsburgh, $20; Samuel Cameron, Fifth ward, Pittsburgh, $20; Peter Brady, Third ward, Pittsburgh, $20; Frank Bopp, Collins township, $15.

The Grand Jury at Dixmont.

The Grand Jury having visited Dixmont, by special invitation, the gentlemen present, after having carefully inspected all the apartments, deemed it proper that some formal expression of their views should be had. Whereupon, the Hon. Edwin H. Stowe was called to the chair, and R. C. Loomis appointed Secretary. On motion, a Committee was appointed to draft a preamble and resolutions, in reference to the institution, for publication, which duly reported as follows, the resolutions being unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, An inspection of the Western Pennsylvania Hospital, at Dixmont, has fully satisfied us that it is an institution that deserves the reputation which it has attained as a place eminently adopted to the purposes for which it has been founded.

Resolved, That we consider the said institution fully deserves the confidence of the public and recommend it to the special care of the Legislature.

Resolved, That the Superintendent, Dr. Joseph A. Reid, and the Assistant, Dr. Wray Grayson, are entitled to our gratitude for the attention they manifest in regard to the order and cleanliness of the building, and the patient efforts they constantly exhibit in their care of the unfortunate inmates under their charge.

The New Public Hall Library.

The notice of the meeting for organization is another gratifying step to the accomplishment of this admirable enterprise. Hundreds of our citizens have yet to add their names to the list of stockholders, if the meeting is to be in every way worthy of its objects, and of the city, and we hope the opportunity will yet be given to all who appreciate its value, and wish to be sharers in the honor of its erection.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY HALL COMPANY.—The subscribers to stock of the Mercantile Library Hall Company are hereby notified that a meeting of the shareholders, will be held at the Board of Trade Rooms, Wood street, on Friday, the 16th inst., at 10½ A. M., for the adoption of by-laws and the election of officers. The canvassing committees are requested to have their books at the place of meeting by 10 o'clock.

Disorderly Conduct.

One of the Mayor's police had considerable difficulty in arresting a soldier who had been imbibing rather freely, and was acting in a very disorderly manner. The soldier was something of a Tartar, and withal a powerful man. He resisted the officer, and ferociously bit him on the hands, when the policeman administered the mace as a sedative, but his man succeeded in wresting it from him. He was finally arrested, and sent to jail to-day for five days. A number of the bystanders had encouraged him to make this resistance by telling the officer to let him go. It has got to be quite common now-a-days for citizens to prevent the arrest of disorderly characters, and it is patent to the community that within a few weeks back several officers have been nearly murdered by such interference with them while making an arrest. If rowdyism is to be countenanced, and disorderly characters encouraged or rescued from arrest, our statutes will soon be as much in mock as mark.

Ignored.

The grand jury yesterday morning ignored the indictment against Dennis Davis, charged with a felonious assault on Dougherty, the shoe dealer on Wylie street, a week or two since. Dennis, it will be remembered, was a soldier, who had accepted a bounty a few months since, and managed to get home on furlough. He owed an old grudge against Dougherty, and to make friends with him asked him to drink, which he refused, when Davis became incensed and drew a pistol, threatening to shoot him if he did not. He was prevented from carrying out his threat by the arrival of an officer, who took him in custody. John Davis, an uncle of the prisoner, interfered, and rescued him. It seems that the cases of Dennis and John have both been handled with gloves on.

Book Notice.

THE GAYWORTHY'S. A story of Threads and Thrums. By the Author of "Faith Gartney's Girlhood." Boston: Published by D. Loring.

We have not had time to read this novel. It has been gotten up in good style, and is published simultaneously in England and America. From the title, it may be inferred that it is a work of considerable interest.

For sale by Henry Miner, Fifth street.

WOODWARD'S GRAPERIES AND HORTICULTURAL BUILDINGS. New York: Geo. E. & F. W. Woodward: Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co.; Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

This neat little volume treats the grape in all its aspects. It is treated in the vineyard, in hot bed, in the country, suburbs and city lot. It is forced by strain, by hot water, and by other artificial appliances. The reader will also find some suggestive hints on horticulture. It will well repay a careful perusal.

Assault and Battery.—Two cases of assault and battery came up for a hearing this morning before the Mayor. Frederick Gaff appeared against John Myer and John Trepper. Gaff had been in Myer's employ, and it appears that no assault had been made, but that Gaff, having been drinking to excess, was on the eve of mania. The prisoner was therefore discharged.

Charles and Robert Gibson, charged with assault and battery on oath of J. B. Allison, were held to bail for their appearance at court. It appears as Allison was returning from church last Sunday in a carriage, the two Gibsons, father and son, who were in a wagon, ran into the carriage.

A Big Day's Work.—The Grand Jury, on Friday, passed upon no less than one hundred and twenty bills, besides taking time enough to visit and inspect the jail. On the same day, about thirty-six cases were disposed of in the Court of Quarter Sessions, including the liquor cases, of course. District Attorney Kirkpatrick, and his active Assistant, J. W. Riddell, Esq., are just now "up to the eyes" in work. They have a Grand Jury that knows how to put business through, and at the present rate of progress suitors will have no reason to complain of "the law's delay."

Murder in Cambria County.—An old lady named Paul, residing near Summerhill station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, was murdered on Tuesday night last, by a returned soldier named Miller. The object of the murderer was to obtain a considerable sum of money, supposed to be in the possession of the old lady, but all he got was seventy-five dollars. He was soon after arrested a short distance west of Johnstown, and lodged in jail at Ebensburg for trial. He is well known in the neighborhood, and bears a bad reputation.

Alleged Larceny.—Eberhart Fredericks, barkeeper of a house on Fourth street, charged with the larceny of $31, on oath of J. J. M'Connell, had a hearing before the Mayor this morning. M'Connell, it seems, had thrown his coat containing the money on an ice chest in Fredericks' house, and the money was abstracted by somebody. It appearing that Fredericks was in no way responsible for the coat, and no evidence being adduced to sustain the charge, the case was dismissed, and M'Connell fully exonerated.

Soldier Drowned.—Jefferson Kisner, of Co. C, 7th West Virginia Infantry, was drowned in the Potomac, a few days ago, while bathing. He resided in Monongalia county.
