Yorkshire boars dominate 3rd Performance Test

STATE COLLEGE — The top performing pen of boars at this year's Third Boar Performance Test is an entry of four Yorkshire boars from Richard D. Miller, Miller's Yorkshire Farm, R1 Spring Grove.

These York County boars came off test with an Average Daily Gain of 2.40 pounds per day. They reached 230 pounds in 136 days with 0.85 inches of fat and 5.07 square inches of loin eye. With 61.4 percent lean cuts, the boars only used 2.26 pounds of feed to produce a pound of gain.

One of the Miller boars, No. 6-1, had an outstanding ADG of 2.67 pounds per day.

The second high indexing pen of boars was entered by Joel Stern, R2 East Berlin.

This pen of Yorkshires had an ADG of 2.24 pounds per day and a feed conversion of 2.35 pounds of feed per pound gain. Their percent lean cut was 63.4 percent with a loin eye area of 5.11 square inches and fat of 0.71 inches.

Lancaster County's John Henkel had the third high indexing pen. Another pen of Yorkshire boars, these finished the test with an ADG of 2.27 pounds and a feed conversion of 2.36 pounds of feed for every pound of gain. The percent lean cut on the pen was 60.3 percent with 0.90 fat and 5.32 square inches of loin eye.

According to Robert Kimble, director of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture's Meat Animal Evaluation Center, the 80 boars on test represent one of the best group of boars ever tested at the Center. They will be sold on Wednesday, August 20 at the Center beginning at 6 p.m.

Catalogs are available by contacting PDA Meat Evaluation Center, 651 Fox Hollow Road, State College, PA. 16801 — SM.
