AGRICULTURAL.

PACKING APPLES IN LEAVES.—A few years ago, Mr. J. W. Boynton, of East Hartford, while gathering up leaves under an apple tree, in the spring, observed beneath them a few fresh, unbruised apples. It occurred at once that dry leaves would answer well as packing material for fruit, and the next fall and every season since, he has used them for this purpose. We saw a few days ago some specimens thus preserved, exceedingly fresh and as pungent in flavor as when first gathered; yet he assures us they were varieties that would have decayed months ago if unprotected. His plan is to pick the apples carefully at the proper time, not to pack them until the forest leaves are perfectly dry and the weather quite cool. Then the apples and leaves are placed in alternate layers, and the last layer of leaves crowded in as close as possible by placing any convenient weight on the cover of the barrel. The leaves are of such elasticity that the whole may be compressed so tightly as to prevent all shaking &c., and not bruise the apples in the slightest degree. In this fashion of Mr. Boynton has never found it necessary to keep more barrels of fruit in any place warmer than an open shed. It would be advisable, of course, everywhere, to keep them in as cool a place as possible. In the spring they are to be removed to a cool airy cellar, or to an apartment specially for fruit, in connection with the icehouse.—Hartford.

RAISING POTATOES.—If all learned the assertion that freezing will not injure potatoes, or any other root or fruit; it is the thawing which does the damage, and not the freezing, as is generally supposed. Now will gradual thawing hurt them; It is only when the thawing is too sudden that they are injured. If we take two frozen potatoes apples or other fruit, and place one under the stove, and the other in water a little above the freezing point, we will find that the former will be spoiled, while the latter is not injured, because with it the thawing is done gradually. Potatoes may be heaped up in the patch, and covered with two or three inches of dirt, will packed down, and they will keep in spite of severe freezings and thawings if kept dry. If kept in the cellar, it should be in a tight box with a lid that they may always be in the dark, to prevent sprouting; for if they once begin to sprout, the starch which gives them their mealiness is changed into sugar, and is more favorable to the vegetation of the sprouts. If, while the potatoes are in the cellar, they should freeze, do not wait for them to thaw, but cover them with straw, old clothes, shavings, or sawdust, and let them thaw very gradually, and they will come out good. This will apply to turnips or any other roots, as well as apples and other fruits. The main point is to keep them dry, and if buried, to provide means to carry away the water from the heap.

The Commissioner of Agricultural has ordered a supply of a variegrain for distribution in the spring. Wheat from England and France, rye from Russia, and oats from Sweden, will be placed at the disposal of our farmers, with a choice variety of new and valuable flower and vegetable seeds. The first report of the new department will be presented to Congress during the winter, and will it is said, be a more attractive and and popular volume upon agricultural and horticultural than has yet been issued under the auspices of the Government.

WHEAT COFFEE.—The present high price of coffee has caused many experiments to be made to find fitting substitutes—and some of them are said to be equally desirable with the genuine article. Here is one of them.—Take eight quarts of carefully washed wheat to one pound of coffee, and it will make a beverage as agreeable as the unadulterated Rio, and more wholesome.

COFFEE IN ILLINOIS.—It is said that G. R. Hoffman of Effingham county, Illinois, raised last year two bushels of coffee. The seed was sent him from Australia. The first year the plants were unpromising; the second year they bore a little; and produced a full crop the third year. He thinks 30 bushels can be grown per acre.

WIT AND HUMOR.

COURTSHIP IN "HARD TIMES."—The following story of an English merchant's courtship whose business was "pressing," may serve to show that times are very "hard:"—"The lady settled in Cunninghouse, and said that her business was to see and kill him on the propriety, or otherwise, of her accepting an offer of marriage which she had received. Now, for the first time, occurred to the merchant the idea of the lady estate in his own case. Marriage, said he, listlessly meditating over some West India correspondence. 'Well, I suppose everybody ought to marry, though such a thing never occurred to me before.—Have you given this gentleman an affirmative answer?' 'No.' 'Are your feelings particularly engaged in this matter?' 'Not particularly.' 'Well, then, Madam,' said he, turning round on his stool, 'if that be the case, and if you could dispense with courtship, for which I have no time, and think you could be comfortable with me, I am your humble servant to command.' There were some people who thought that the lady had a purpose in going there; but if so, she prudently dissembled it. She said she would consider the matter. The merchant saw her out with the same coolness as if she was merely one of his correspondents, and when she was gone five minutes, was once more immersed in his letters and ledgers. A day or two after he had a communication from the lady accepting his offer, very considerately excusing him from an elaborate courtship, and leaving him to name the most convenient day.'—They were married."

THE PAY MAN AND COMMISSIONER.—It is well known that Commissioner Knapp was very precise and exact in his proceedings; always keeping in view the interests of the country, while dealing honorably with all. Now it happened that among the unpublished men drafted there was an object upon whom of humanity, but whom the chances hit as one of the elect. When he received his "ticket for soup" he hastened to town, and knowing where lived the cutest specimen of a lawyer he went straight to his office. He said:

"I'm drafted!"

"The deuse you are! it must have been a strong man that drafted you!"

"Well, I am drafted and I want to get out. Can't march. I'll pay well."

"Very well."

The twain proceeded to the office of the Commissioner.

"Here," said the lawyer, "Commissioner, I have a substitute."

Commissioner looked at the whacky specimen for some time.

"He won't do; can't march.

"But he must do," thundered out the lawyer; "and you know he will."

"He can't march; he won't do; and I can't take him."

This was what our smart friend wanted.

"He won't do, eh?"

"No; he won't."

"Well, then, scratch his name off the list; he is drafted and wants to be exempted!"

The commissioner looked at the lawyer for a minute; then regarded the list draft, and, without speaking a word, scratched off his name.

GEN. ROSECRANS' GALLANTRY.—W. D. B., of the Cincinnati Commercial, is Assistant Provost Marshal General at General Rosecrans' headquarters, and has charge of the female department. He probably a refractory female breaks away from Uncle Billy and insists on seeing the General. One of these creatures day rushed up to Gen. Rosecrans, intercepting himself between Gen. R. and Gen. Hamilton, saying—

"Is this Gen. Rosecrans?"

"Yes, madam."

"Well, General, can't I have a pass?"

"Madam," (with a low bow) "it is not my business to give you a pass; it is my duty to arrest it."

Another lady appeared on another occasion, and began with a pitiful story in regard to her "poor, dear, sick uncle."

"I conclude with you, madame," said the General, in that quiet way of his. "It is unfortunate that uncles will sometimes get seriously indisposed. I, too, have a dear, afflicted uncle."

"Then, you can sympathize with me," she said.

"Yes, madam, I do, and when my Uncle Sam gets over his present serious indisposition I will give you a pass."

It would of course be an anti-climax which would ruin the story to relate what the lady did.

"My dearest Maria," wrote a recently married husband to his wife. She wrote back, "Dearest let me correct either your grammar or your morals. You address me, 'My dearest Maria.' Am I to suppose that you have other dear Marias?"

HAVE YOU A COUGH?

Then use JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. Do not allow your cold to take its own course. Two thirds of the victims of consumption owe their afflictions to the fatal mistake of "waiting for a cough to get well of itself." Do not fall into this error, but avail yourself at once of a remedy which thirty years' experience has demonstrated is certain to procure a speedy cure.

HAVE YOU ASTHMA OR PHTHISIS.

Then use JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT, which will overcome the spasmodic contraction of the wind tubes, and cause them to eject the mucuous or matter which clogs them up, and by an easy and free expectoration remove all difficulty of breathing.

HAVE YOU BRONCHITIS!

Then use JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. This widespread disease which may generally be described as an inflammation of the fine skin which lines the inside of the wind tubes or air vessels, extending through every portion of the lungs, treatment taken for consumption. The Expectorant subdues this inflammation, relieves the distressing cough, pain, and stiffness of breathing, and in the end is not of too long standing, will certainly produce a cure.

HAVE YOU CONSUMPTION?

Then use JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. It cleanses the lungs from all irritating matters, while at the same time it heals and invigorates them. Of all the remedies which have been offered to the public for consumption, which have stood the test of time or the tried diseases, none have proved to the public so universally efficacious as this Expectorant. Thousands who have been given up by their physicians as incurable have been restored to perfect health by its use, and their testimony must carry conviction to all who read it.

HAVE YOU PLEURISY?

Then use JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. By adding coloring two or three large doses in the early stage of the disease in quick succession, and covering up warm in bed, it is prepared to cure a majority of the severe medicines, and subdue the inflammation at the onset.

HAVE YOU WHOOPING-COUGH.

Then use JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. There is no remedy which so effectually relieves the severe spasmodic stages of the Whooping Cough, which prevent the sufferer from taking rest, and in a few days cures the disease.

Prepared only by DR. D. JAYNE & SON, 242 CHESTNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA. JAYNE'S FAMILY MEDICINES are sold by all Druggists generally.

RHEUMATICS!

DR. LELAND'S

ANTI-RHEUMATIC BAND

PERMANENTLY CURES

RHEUMATISM!

IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS.

Acute or Inflammatory: Chronic, Lumbago, Sciatica, Pleurodyne, &c.

Stiffness of the Joints and Cramps—Gouts, Neuralgia and all Nervous Affections—Erysipelas, Salt Rheum and Scrofulous Eruptions of the body—Neutralizes the Impurities of the Blood and Fluids of the whole system, and effectually counteracting Mercurial and other poisonous influences.

ANTI-RHEUMATIC BAND.

It is a convenient arrange BELT, containing a Medicated Compound, to be worn around the body, about the waist FULLY EFFECTING ALL PARTS, wherever the disease may be. It can be worn without injury to the most delicate person, and no change in the proper habits of living is required. It entirely removes the disease from the system, with the fallacious use, in such cases, of powerful internal medicines, which weaken and destroy the constitution and give temporary relief only by stupifying the system, and deadening its vitality. By this treatment, the medicinal properties contained in the Band, being of a highly aromatic and volatile nature and capable of being readily absorbed, through the pores of the skin, come into direct contact with the Blood and general circulation, without first having to pass through the stomach, which would tend not only to detract from their curative powers, but to impair the internal organs so derange the digestion also—Thus avoiding the injurious effects, so often the result of internal remedies, and effecting a perfect cure by purifying and equalizing the circulation of the vital fluids and restoring the parts affected to a healthy condition—This Band is also a most powerful "ANTI-MERCURIAL AGENT."—Calomel being the primary cause of a large part of the suffering, Neuralgic Pains and Rheumatics, so prevalent—and will entirely relieve the system from its pernicious effects.

Moderate cases are cured in a few days, and we are constantly receiving undoubted testimonials—to which we invite inspection at our office—of their efficacy in aggravated cases of long standing.

PRICE TWO DOLLARS. May be had of Druggists, or will be sent by mail upon receipt of $2, or by express everywhere, with all necessary instructions from the principal office of VINELAND.

TO ALL WANTING FARMS.

New Settlement of Vineland.

A REMEDY FOR HARD TIMES.

A Rare opportunity in the Best Market, and most Delightful and Healthful Climate in the Union. Only Thirty Miles South of Philadelphia, on a Railroad; being a rich, heavy soil, and highly productive wheat land; amongst the best in the Garden States of New Jersey.

It consists of 20,000 acres of coal land, divided into Farms of different sizes to suit the purchaser—from 20 acres and upwards—and is sold at the rates of $15 to $20 per acre for the farm land, payable one-fourth cash, and the balance by quarter-yearly instalments, with legal interest, within the term of four years.

THE SOIL

Is in great part, a Rich Clay Loam, suitable for Wheat, Grass and Potatoes—also a dark and rich sandy loam, suitable for Corn, Sweet Potatoes, Tobacco, all kinds of vegetables and root crops, and the finest varieties of fruit, including Grapes, Peaches, Pears, Apricots, Nectarines, Blackberries, Melons, and other fruits, best adapted to the Philadelphia and New York markets. In respect to the soil and crops there can be no mistake, as visitors can examine both, and none are expected to buy before so doing, and finding these statements correct—under these circumstances, unless these statements were correct, there would be no use in their being made. It is considered

THE BEST FRUIT SOIL IN THE UNION.

[See Reports of Solon Robinson, Esq., of the New York Tribune, and the well-known agriculturist, William Parry, of Cinnaminson, New Jersey, which will be furnished inquirers.]

THE MARKET

By looking over the map the reader will perceive that it enjoys the best market in the Union, and has direct communication with New York and Philadelphia twice a day, being only thirty-two miles from the latter. Produce in this market brings double the price that it does in locations distant from the cities. In this location it can be put into market the same morning it is gathered, and for what the farmer sells he gets the highest price; whilst groceries and other articles he purchases, he gets at the lowest price. In the West, what he sells brings him a pittance, but for what he buys he pays two prices. In locating here the settler has many other advantages. He is within a few hours, by railroad, of all the great cities of New England and the Middle States. He is near his old friends and associations. He has school for his children, divine service, and all the advantages of civilization, and he is near a large city.

THE CLIMATE

Is delightful; the winters being salubrious and open, whilst the summers are no warmer than in the North. The location is upon the line of latitude with northern Virginia.

Persons wanting a change of climate for health, would be much benefitted in Vineland. The mildness of the climate and its bracing influence, makes it excellent for all pulmonary affections, dyspepsia, or general debility. Visitors will notice a difference in a few days. Chills and fevers are unknown.

CONVENIENCIES AT HAND.

Building material is plenty. Fish and Oysters are plentiful and cheap.

Visitors must expect, however, to see a new place.

WHY THE PROPERTY HAS NOT BEEN SETTLED BEFORE.

This question the reader naturally asks. It is because it has been held in large tracts by families not disposed to sell, and being without railroad facilities they had few inducements. The railroad has just been opened through the property this season, for the first time.

Visitors are shown over the land in a carriage, free of expense, and afforded time and opportunity for thorough investigation. Those who come with a view to settle, should bring money to secure their purchases, as locations are not held upon refusal.

The safest thing in hard times, where people have been thrown out of employment or business, some little means or small income, is to start themselves at home. They can buy a piece of land at a small price and can more than make wages in improving it, and when it is done it is a certain independence and no loss. A few acres in fruit trees will insure a comfortable living. The land is put down to hard time prices, and all improvements can be made at a cheaper rate than any other time.

The whole tract, with six miles front on the Railroad, is being laid out with fine and spacious avenues, with a town in the centre—five acre lots in the town sell at from $150 to $200; two and a half acre lots at $86 to $120 to $200; two and a half acre lots at from $80 to $120, and town lots 50 feet front by 150 feet deep, at $100—payable one half cash and the balance within a year. It is only upon farms of twenty acres or more that four years' time is given.

To Manufacturers, the town affords a fine opening of the Skoe manufacturing business, and other articles, being near Philadelphia, and the surrounding country has a large population, which affords a good market.

This settlement, in the course of several years, will be one of the most beautiful places in the country, and most agreeable for a residence.

It is intended to make a Vine and Fruit growing country, as this culture is the most profitable and the best adapted to market. Every advantage and convenience for settlers will be introduced, and will insure the prosperity of the place. The hard times throughout the country will be an advantage to the settlement, as it compels people to resort to agriculture for a living.

Large numbers of people are purchasing, and people who desire the best location should visit the place at once.

Improved land is also for sale.

TITLES.—Land can be bought with or without timber. The timber at market prices.

The title is indisputable. Warranty Deed given, clear of all incumbrance, when the money is paid.

Boarding conveniences at hand.
