Miss Davenport.

This popular and excellent actress appears to have made what is commonly called a decided hit at the Metropolitan Theatre (late Burton's) on Monday evening. The New York Tribune and the Courier and Enquirer take no notice of the performance. The Herald says:

"The opening night of this establishment, lately known as Burton's Theatre, attracted a very large audience. The leading attraction was the reappearance of Miss Jean Margaret Davenport, after an absence of five years from the New York stage. Added to this very interesting event was the first production here of Mr. C. Leland's English version of Scribe's 'Czarina,' which was written for Rachel, and produced at the Théâtre Français in 1855. It was the last rôle ever created by the great artist of the age, and was not one in which she achieved her usual measure of success. ... Mr. Leland has made a free adaptation, as it is called, but the materials are too heavy for this most difficult experiment. There are two or three good scenes for the Czarina, and the character of the Czar is vigorously worked out, but as a whole, the play is overladen with dialogue, and there is too much time lost between the situations in mere talk. Thanks to Miss Davenport's excellent working up of the dénouement, the play, in spite of the radical defects, was successful. In the concluding scene of the fourth act, Miss Davenport's acting was truly admirable, full of sustained power, and abounding in purely artistic effects. In these latter days, when affectation and artificiality seem to be the chief characteristics of our leading actresses, such a return to the real principles of the art was truly refreshing. The play was generally well cast. Mr. Conway as the Czar, Mr. C. Fisher as Menschikoff, Mr. Reynolds as the Count, and Mrs. Conway as Olga, all played carefully and satisfactorily. The costumes and mise en scène were excellent.

"At the conclusion of the play, Miss Davenport, having been enthusiastically called for, was led before the curtain by Mr. Conway, and addressed the audience as follows: 'Ladies and gentlemen: The famous epilogue of the pleasantest of Shakspeare's comedies argues the question as to whether or not good wines should have good bushes, and decides in favor of the negative upon the theory of the audience to one that hath neither the good wine nor the good bush. In such case, my friends, am I. I have commenced an enterprise, the result of which depends on you to determine; I may assure you, however, in the beginning, that no efforts of mine shall be spared to deserve success. It is not in woman more than in man to command it. For your generous reception to-night of myself and the artists with me associated, I can say simply that we will all try to deserve it by our future efforts. Personally, I am conscious of the debt which I owe to you as well as to the public and the press of this city generally. My earlier efforts were here recognized in a manner which I can never forget. With so brilliant an audience I might plead the privilege of the sex, and ask pardon in advance for any shortcomings; but I take a bolder course, and acknowledging them all, and more, perhaps, than you will urge, only ask for a little time—a phrase which I am told is often heard of in commercial circles. Thanking you very, very much for the favor with which the work of our author and the efforts of our artists have been received to-night, I, with an apology for inflicting upon you what may possibly be called a speech—and I really did not intend to make one—will say to you, one and all, au revoir, adieu. I could not find in my heart, whatever may be the result of my enterprise here, to forget your kindness, so cheering and so cordial at its outset. Once more, ladies and gentlemen, good night.'

"Mr. Leland was also called out, and briefly returned thanks for the favor with which the play had been received. Altogether, the first night of the new season was highly satisfactory to all concerned, both before and behind the curtain."

The New York Daily Times, which goes in very strongly against "The Czarina," as a play, concludes thus:

"The cast of such a play is hardly a fair test of a new company, and Miss Davenport, in her rôle of the Czarina, was the only performer who really developed any special peculiarities of style. This lady has a fine voice, an evident familiarity with stage business, a graceful carriage, and all the elements essential to success in that very declamatory and demonstrative school to which she chooses to belong. She infused her own spirit into her supporters, but the full house seemed to be more gratified with the points which the Czarina made than with the ensemble of the performance."

HIGH CONSTABLE CLARK has been engaged lately in arresting persons for violating the ordinance in relation to signs, awnings, &c. John Lamond, tea dealer, on Second street, above Chestnut, has been fined $5 and costs. John H. Blye, dry-goods dealer, at Ninth and Arch streets, recently erected a show case on the sidewalk. His hearing has been postponed until the 7th, when the suit will probably be withdrawn, inasmuch as workmen were engaged yesterday morning in removing the case. James Milton, No. 103 South Second street, has been held for a hearing on the 9th. He feels satisfied that he can satisfactorily explain that he had no intention of violating the ordinance in question.

PEOPLE'S NOMINATIONS IN THE NINETEENTH WARD.—The People's party in the Nineteenth ward have made the following nominations for ward officers: Select Council—Thomas H. Bartolet. Common Council—Nicholas Thudium, Nicholas R. Eldridge, Joel Siebermel, James House. [illegible] Assessor—George Dilkes, Jr. School Directors—Wm. Atkinson, Samuel McCaully, John H. Allen. Constables—Joseph Lewis, Henry Yetters.

SLIGHT FIRE.—A slight fire occurred between eight and nine o'clock yesterday morning at the cotton mill of Messrs. Taylor & Yeats, in Carroll street, below Cumberland, in the Nineteenth ward. The flames were soon discovered and promptly extinguished. The damage done to the property was but trifling.

LARCENY.—Yesterday morning Alderman Hibbard committed a man named John Robinson to answer the charge of stealing a watch from a house at Fifteenth and Spruce streets, on Monday morning last. He was arrested at the time of the alleged larceny, but was not arrested for some hours afterwards, when he was found at his own house. The watch was recovered.

MAYOR HENRY has signed the ordinance regulating city passenger railways, which was recently passed by Councils.

THE MAIL steamship Keystone State, Capt. Marshman, sailed yesterday morning for Charleston, with a full freight and the following passengers: Hon. Judge Black and lady, W. Jackson, Miss Jackson, Mrs. De La Motte and daughter, Mrs. Mason and three children, Miss Mary Logan, A. Stille, J. Scott, W. H. Purdon, W. Keneley, W. H. Cuthbert, L. S. Tarr, E. Carey, George Fritz, Mrs. E. Bell, A. Lengnick, Wallace Poe, J. Boyer, H. F. Geyer, and twenty in the steerage.

YESTERDAY morning about two o'clock, a man named John Dowey fell down stairs at a house in Harris court, running from the west side of Letitia street. His right ear was split open, and he was otherwise badly injured. He was intoxicated at the time of the accident, and either missed his footing or slipped in the dark. The wounded man was conveyed to the Pennsylvania Hospital by Officer Charles H. Carlon, of the Fifth ward.

THE COURTS.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

[Reported for The Press.]

NISI PRIUS—Judge Woodward.—James Hess vs. John Smick. Before reported. An action of ejectment. On trial.

DISTRICT COURT—Judge Sharswood.—Jos. McCorkle vs. Jacob S. Creese and Titus Creese, trading, &c. An action on a draft. Jury out.

DISTRICT COURT—Judge Stroud.—James Bark vs. Hastings Cooperthwait. An action to recover the value of a quantity of old iron belonging to the defendant. The facts of this case are these: It appears that the plaintiff rented a portion of the Artisan Buildings, in Ranstead Place, which was owned by the defendant, and put a quantity of machinery therein. The place was burned by a fire which occurred there about two years ago, and it is alleged that the defendant sold the machinery belonging to the plaintiff. The defendant alleges that he sold it for the work and labor done in removing it from the ruins. Verdict for plaintiff for $325.

Geo. Fisher vs. John Harmer. This was an action to recover money for work and labor done. On trial.

QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Thompson.—James Shannan was charged with the larceny of one silk apron and two silver-plated forks, altogether valued at $1.75, the property of Timothy Sullivan. The defendant, upon being arraigned, plead guilty to the charge. Sentenced to four months in the county prison.

John Miller plead guilty to the charge of the larceny of a cloth over coat and a pair of shoes, together valued at $9, the property of Harvey Roland, Jr. Sentenced to nine months in the county prison.

Charles Jaquet plead guilty to the larceny of twenty yards of gray doeskin cassimere, valued at eighty-eight cents per yard, the property of Dunadaway & Dodson. Sentenced to six months.

Robert Small was charged with the larceny of 36 horse brushes and 80 scrubbing brushes, valued at $20, the property of the Pennsylvania Institution for Blind. Verdict guilty. Sentenced to nine months in the county prison.

Eliza Ann Tillman was acquitted of the larceny of $10, the property of P. O. Brien.

Ann Peterson was convicted of the larceny of three sheets, a pair of gum shoes, and a shirt, valued at $1.12, the property of Mary Hyman. Sentenced to five months in the county prison.

Rebecca Walters was acquitted of the larceny of a dress and a pair of boots, the property of Elizabeth Thompson.

John Parker was convicted of assault and battery with a knife upon Mary Thomas. Sentenced to one year in the county prison.

John Miller was charged with larceny. This defendant plead guilty to the charge of larceny in the early part of the morning. District Attorney Mann asked the jury to acquit the defendant upon this bill, as he thought he was a sufficient punishment upon the former bill.

The case of Robert J. Douglass was again put on trial. It will be remembered that the defendant was tried in the month of November last, and the jury rendered a verdict of guilty. The defendant then applied for a new trial, which was granted. He is charged with perjury, in having sworn, in an affidavit of defence, which he filed in the District Court of Philadelphia county, [illegible] appears from the evidence that Wilkinson Jones and Margaret, his wife, brought a suit against Robert J. Douglass (the defendant) upon a promissory note for $400, alleged to have been made by the defendant. Judgment was obtained in said court against the defendant, and an execution was issued to obtain the amount. The defendant then made the following affidavit:

THE LOSING AND TAKING OF MANSOUL; OR,
LECTURES ON THE HOLY WAR.
BY REV. A. S. PATTON, A. M.
1 vol, 12mo. Eight Illustrations. Price $1.

Read the following:

[From the New York Observer.]

"Bold, striking, and original in its handling of the subject, it is a book that cannot fail to arrest the attention, and make a deep impression on the reader. It brings out the great work of salvation by the various steps of trial, suffering, and joy, so that a whole body of practical theology is here discussed, and important truth presented, so as to instruct while it deeply interests the religious mind. It is a book for saint and sinner—for all who have souls to be lost or saved."

[From the Baltimore Patriot.]

"The history of the siege so graphically recorded in this volume is one in which every man, woman, and child has a fearful interest."

[From the Delaware Gazette.]

"It is a beautifully-written allegory of the Holy War, carrying the Christian Hero through dangers and temptations much in the same way that Bunyan leads his. It will, undoubtedly, be widely sought after by Christian readers."

[From the Religious Herald.]

"Those who have never read Bunyan's Holy War have in reserve a pleasure of an exquisite sort. Those who have read it will follow Mr. Patton through these lectures with interest. We like the book; our readers, unless we mistake, will like it too."

The rapid sale of this little volume, and the high commendation it has received from competent judges are the best testimony to its great worth. It discusses one of the most important doctrines of the Bible with learning and candor, and overturns by the simple force of truth the skeptical theories of our age. It will gain the attention of unbelievers by its fairness, and convince inquirers by its plain expositions of Scripture, and its strong and manly logic.

"An able work, giving the result of patient thought and study on the important theme discussed."—Lutheran Observer.

"We do not see how his positions can be subverted. The book is timely, and will do much good. It is small, and thus comes within the reach of all."—Morning Star.

"It effectually refutes the popular objections to the doctrine of eternal punishment."—Presbyterian.

AMERICAN GUANO,
FROM JARVIS ISLAND.

We take pleasure in informing Farmers, Dealers, and the public generally, that, having been appointed by the

AMERICAN GUANO COMPANY
SOLE AGENTS
[illegible] Philadelphia,
we are prepared to furnish it in any quantity, from the single bag or barrel to a ship's cargo, at the scale of prices adopted by the Company, viz:
FROM $30 TO $40 PER 2240 POUNDS,
According to the amount purchased.

Experiments made with JARVIS ISLAND and PERUVIAN GUANOS, upon all kinds of soil, have, in every instance, resulted in favor of the former, and we are now enabled to congratulate the agricultural community upon having within its reach a

GENUINE GUANO,
AT A REASONABLE PRICE.

The ship REYNARD will shortly arrive at this port, direct from the Islands. We are prepared to take orders for delivery from her cargo, or from those of the "White Swallow" and "Flying Eagle."

PHOSPHATIC GUANO,
FROM SOMBRERO ISLAND, W. I.

SOMBRERO ISLAND, or ROCK, lies about 120 miles N. E. of St. Thomas, and is of volcanic formation.

It is found by analysis to contain eighty per cent. of BONE PHOSPHATE OF LIME, and is nearly fifty per cent. richer in Bone Phosphate than ground bones.

The Rock is ground, and applied to land like Plaster.

This Guano is for sale by the quantity, or cargo, to dealers, either ground or unground; also, to Farmers, in bags or barrels, at $30 per ton of 2,000 lbs., by

SUPERIOR PHOSPHATIC GUANO.—IMPORTED AND FOR SALE, ON REASONABLE TERMS, BY JAIRUS BAKER,
136 North DELAWARE Avenue, Philadelphia.

The analysis of this Guano shows it to contain 39.34 per cent. of phosphoric acid, and it is thus recommended by high scientific authority:

"This Guano has a slightly acid reaction, due to the solubility of a portion of super-phosphate in water. Its very large per centage of phosphoric acid stamps it, in my estimation, as a Guano of a very superior character, because 39½ per cent of phosphoric acid are equivalent to 83 per cent of bone phosphate of lime.
JAMES C. BOOTH.
For BOOTH, GARRETT, & CAMAC.
Philadelphia, March 7, 1859."

The satisfaction which the superior varieties of Phosphatic Guano have given to farmers, wherever they have been tried, has amply shown that practice as well as theory commend them as the best and cheapest fertilizers that can be used. They are not only immediate but durable in their effects, and benefit not only the first crop, to which they are applied, but succeeding ones.

The value of bones as a manure is now universally conceded, and experiments have clearly demonstrated that their chief value consists not in the animal matter they contain, but in their phosphates, and in this latter quality they are not much more than half as rich as good phosphatic guano. mh28-mw&sim W1m
