CITY ITEMS.

JOHN S. CLARK, No. 1003 Market street, notwithstanding the lateness of the season, is still selling large quantities of his celebrated Silver's Gas-Consuming Parlor-Heating Stoves, with his own admirable improvements. All who are not yet supplied should bear in mind that his stock, in all sizes, is still very complete. Within the present week, we learned by a casual glance into his warerooms yesterday, he has been introducing his celebrated Heaters into a large number of our wholesale stores on Market street, preparatory to the opening of their spring trade. These Heaters, we may add, have given the most entire satisfaction to all who have tried them. They are singularly economical; perfectly proof against accident by fire, and are, moreover, sold at astonishingly low prices. Merchants and others should remember this. Of some three hundred erected by Mr. Clark within the present season, there has not been a single complaint entered to the manufacturer. We have heard of several instances where brick heaters of ten times the cost have been abandoned, and those of Mr. Clark introduced instead. His references are therefore numerous and unexceptionable.

ESHLEMAN'S CRAVATS.—J. A. Eshleman's Cravats, and the mystical initials, G. P. E. C., are becoming almost as much the topic of conversation as the fights in Congress. Eshleman, however, has this advantage: Eshleman is organized. He is, himself, a fluent speaker, and so are his clerks. His cravats are universally popular, and impart a degree of grace and elegance wholly unattainable without them. In short, Eshleman is great on the neck. He collars people by thousands, but never insults them by letting them leave his store (No. 625 Chestnut street) unnoticed. Everybody says "Eshleman's a trump," so you see everybody becomes his trumpet, but, after all, his inimitable cravats are trumpeters. Our devil, who received one of them for a Christmas gift, indulges in the original remark at our elbow, "That's so."

CHEAP CLOTHS.—We invite the attention of our readers to a large stock of general cloth goods, now offered at No. 623 Chestnut, (Jayne's Hall,) at rates far below the usual prices. As all grades of cloths and cassimeres are included in this lot, buyers, at either retail or wholesale, will economise by giving it their attention.

DELICIOUS CONFECTIONERY.—We anticipated: now that the holidays are over, that the tremendous rush of customers at the widely-known confectionery establishment of Messrs. E. L. Whiteman & Company, Second street below Chestnut, would experience, at least, a temporary lull, but, judging from the swarms of customers that daily throng their store, this is not the fact. Nor is it to be wondered at. Such confections as they manufacture are just as tempting to the palate on the 14th of January as they are on the 24th of December. Add to this the fact that they manufacture the finest, finest, and richest goods of this class in the world, and the mystery is at once explained.

CLASS FOR THE STUDY OF PHRENOLOGY.—On Tuesday evening next, as will be seen by a Advertisement elsewhere, Mr. John L. Capen, the eloquent and talented practical Phrenologist, No. 822 Chestnut street, will commence a course of ten lectures on the subject of Phrenology, with a view of instructing a class of ladies and gentlemen in that highly interesting and invaluable science. As the initial lecture will probably be an important index to the course, the names of applicants should be handed in without delay. We are happy to state, from personal knowledge, that Mr. Capen is thoroughly skilled in his science.

The great philanthropist, Dr. Livingstone, in his African Travels, records, in his communications to the Geographical Society, the fact that the people of Angola made their staff of life of the plant from which Dr. Barry's Revalenta Arabica food is prepared, which keeps them perfectly free from cough, consumption, asthma, debility, indigestion (dyspepsia), constipation, nervous affections, and liver complaints, and restores the faculty of digestion and nervous and muscular energy to the most enfeebled. In England, likewise, this excellent food has cured thousands of these annoying complaints, as proved by testimonials from the celebrated Professor of Chemistry, Dr. Andrew Ure, Dr. Shorland, Dr. Harvey, Dr. Campbell, Dr. Gattiker, Dr. Wurzer, Dr. Inrram, Lord Stuart de Decies, the Dowager Countess of Castlestuart, and fifty thousand other well-known individuals, whose health has been restored by this useful and economical diet, after all other means of cure had been tried in vain for many years, and all hopes of recovery abandoned. We are happy to find that Messrs. Barry & Co., of London, have at last supplied a want long felt in this country, and established a depot of their Revalenta Arabica Food, under the care of H. Munro, 143 South Third street, Philadelphia, principal agent for the United States. Packed, with full instructions, in canisters, $1.50 to $12, the latter carriage free on receipt of cash. Also to be obtained of W. Parvin, Jr., Chestnut and Twelfth streets; D. L. Stackhouse, Eighth and Green streets; J. Harkinson and E. B. Clarke, Main street, Germantown, and through all respectable grocers and chemists.

LABOR, LIFE, AND MONEY-SAVING MACHINES—In other words, SEWING MACHINES.—The universal use of these really beneficent instruments cannot be too warmly recommended. We are glad to notice the fact in this connection that the "Harris Sun-Jar"—the admirable machine, for which Mr. S. D. Baker, No. 720 Arch street, is the agent—is meeting with a daily increased demand. The high encomiums which have been lavished upon this instrument at all the late fairs, over all competitors, have not been improperly bestowed, and we are happy to find the public responding so generously to the officially expressed preference for the "Harris Sun-Jar."

GRANE'S PATENT CARPET-SWEEPER.—This new and highly-improved article may be had, wholesale and retail, at E. S. Farson & Co.'s House-furnishing store, 8, W. corner of Second and Dock streets.

PERSONS with impaired eye-sight should use the improved Spectacles, correctly suited, by M. J. Franklin, optician, 115 south Fourth street, below Chestnut.

ENTERPRISING.—We desire to call the attention of our merchants and manufacturers to the advertisement of William H. Weeks, in another column. Mr. W. is extensively acquainted with our business men, and possesses the faculty of advantageously disposing

THROAT AFFECTIONS.—[From Rev. E. Rowley, A. M., Pres dent Athens College, Athens, Tenn.]—"I have found great benefit from the use of 'Brown's Bronchial Troches,' before and after preaching, as they prevent hoarseness, to which I am very subject. I think from their past effect they will be of permanent advantage to me. Several clergymen of my acquaintance to whom I have given the Troches have been benefited by them." ja12-thstu-3t

THE HUMAN HAIR.—How many persons abuse this delicate and beautiful ornament, by burning it with alcoholic washes, and plastering it with grease, which has no affinity for the skin, and is not absorbed! Burnett's Cocoaine, a compound of Cocoa-nut Oil, &c., is unrivalled as a dressing for the hair, is readily absorbed, and is peculiarly adapted to its various conditions, preventing its falling off, and promoting its healthy growth. The publishers present this work to the public, as being in every respect the most beautiful of its kind ever issued.

The name of the author—a name so intimately connected with the mountains and their vicinity by his incomparable descriptions of their scenery—is a sufficient guaranty that the text is all that can be desired.

In carrying out their plan they have secured the assistance of Mr. M. G. WHELOCK, an artist whose delineations of Mountain, Lake, and Landscape Scenery are unsurpassed, and of Mr. JOHN ANDREW, whose skill as an engraver on wood is unequalled

With this combination of talent, the publishers feel confident that they will produce the most attractive, valuable, and popular book of the season.

The Newark Daily Advertiser says: "We have seen few more attractive books the present season than this. The soft tint of its paper, the clearness and distinctness of its type, at once command the notice of the reader, and prepare him for the beauty and fidelity of its illustrations of a region of our country which deserves a more good and permanent memorial than the careful details of its history, presented by the barely gon, secure for it, almost irresistibly, a permanent place in every library."

The Boston Daily Traveller says: "It does not disappoint the reader, or 'looks for the season,' unlike intellectual excellence with artistic beauty. Occasionally a work of that kind appears that appeals so well to the mind as to the eye, to that deeper sense of beauty which lies beyond pictorial representation, and, in moments of leisure, and volumes) through any RESPECTABLE BOOKSELLER in the United States at our regular rates, or obtained from us, free of extra charge.

'TIS FOUND!

SOMETHING NEW, TRUE, INTELLIGIBLE AND IMPORTANT.

PROFFS. CHASE'S PILL BOLUSES,

Have permanently located (since 1822) WALNUT Street, Philadelphia, and are introducing their new and important discovery in the use and application of Electricity for the cure of all forms of Nervous and Chronic diseases. They solicit no patients except those given up anywhere else as incurable. The results might here ask, do they really cure such cases? are their statements false?

In reply they would say they have cured, and are curing every day, just such cases. They have restored to health thousands who had been given up as incurable diseases, five, ten and fifteen years and upwards, in a few days. They have cured and are curing a class of diseases that have baffled the skill of the most eminent profession in all ages of the world. The reader might here inquire, what means have been used, and how are they formed? Not by irritating the delicate membranes of vital organs by drugging the stomach, but by direct application of the positive and negative principles of Electricity. Again, it might be asked, has not electricity been employed as a remedial agent for years, both in Europe and the United States, with indifferent success? Yes, most of them have been using it, in our very midst, with no better result? This is all very true, and when we consider the ignorance and recklessness displayed in its application, the results have been fairness than could have been anticipated. It has been considered as hazardous in few cases only, and uncertain even in those. There has been no fixed principle for applying it, and therefore no uniform result could have been anticipated; but owing to the Electrical Bath, examine between electricity and health, remarkable cures have been performed, which have been looked up
