NEW PUBLICATIONS.

PROTECTION—THE TARIFF.—In the month of June last, a series of articles upon "The Doctrine and Policy of Protection, with an illustrative History of our Tariffs from the Organization of our Government to the present time," were published in The Press.
They were read with unusual interest; and their republication has been called for, by so many who desire to see them widely distributed, that we have been induced to throw them into convenient form for study and preservation.
The students of Tariff and Free-trade doctrines will find abundant repayment for an hour's attention, and matter for much leisurely reflection.
The Publishers give it to the public at the fair cost price of publication, and expecting large orders will be ready to fill them promptly. The pamphlet is in 32 pages, double column, on fine white paper, good, clear type. Price, 10 cents per copy; 75 cents per dozen; $5 per hundred.
Address orders, enclosing the money, to
RINGWALT & BROWN,

VOL. II. 8vo. $2 25.
This volume consists of six hundred and forty pages, and embraces the period of the Confederacy of the Four Colonies, extending from the year 1664 to the year 1667. It treats of the history of England during the last years of Charles the First, the Commonwealth, and the first years of Charles the Second; of the primitive institutions and manners of New England; of the relations of the Four Colonies to the neighboring French and Dutch planters; of transactions with the Narragansett and Nyantic Indians, and with the English borderers; of the attempts of Eliot, Mayhew, and others, to evangelize the natives; of the organization of Congregationalism, and its influence on the course of ecclesiastical and political affairs in the parent country; of the proceedings against Presbyterians, Quakers, and Baptists; of dissensions in the Confederacy threatening its dissolution; of the establishing of Rhode Island and Connecticut, as chartered Governments; of the annexation of New Haven to Connecticut; of the adventures of the three regicide fugitives; of the defeat of the attempt of Lord Clarendon to overthrow the Charter Government in Massachusetts; and of the establishment of the authority of the colony over New Hampshire and Maine.
"This work, of an author who sifts out the old and the new, in the light of a true philosophy, and who knows to give a coherent and comprehensive exhibition of the ground pollway of the men who created New England."—Christian Examiner.
"We congratulate Mr. Palfrey, not only for his good fortune in having so noble a theme received for his pen, but for the eminent success with which he has so interpreted it. We trust his life and health will be spared to complete the work on the comprehensive scale on which it has been begun; for we are confident that it will take its place with those "possessions forever" which an unusual manner of general historical writers have in our day given to the world."—Boston Courier.
"Every page gives evidence not only of conscientious research, but of that historical sagacity without which the most industrious Ed Hy of facts is dead. We believe that Dr. Palfrey has penetrated deeply into the spirit of our colonial history, and has thus given a certain harmonious unity to the records of the New England Pathers, the want of wh ch has made the narrative of their fortunes, as usually presented by the early writers, so rand, confused, and repulsive."—N. Y. Evening Post.
"Based upon thorough research, written with good sense, and the modesty that commonly distinguishes a work of real merit, the second volume of the first History of New England promises to be a substantial addition to the libraries of England and America."—London Examiner.
"Mr. Palfrey is one of that school of historians of which this age—deficient in many departments of literature—has a just right to be proud."—London Saturday Review. ae1-4tuthstf
