CITY ITEMS.

"ELOQUENCE AND ORATORS."—This is to be the subject of Mr. John B. Gough's lecture at the Academy of Music to-morrow (Thursday) evening, delivered for the benefit of the sick and wounded soldiers. The sale of tickets yesterday and Monday, at Messrs. Marlien's was very large, though there are still a few desirable sittings left, which will, no doubt, be absorbed to-day. A very large number of tickets for the lecture on Friday evening on "Temperance," have also been already sold, as well as for the one on Tuesday evening of next week.

A THERMAL PROPHECY.—March has come in like a lamb, so according to the old adage it will go out like a lion. Should this prove to be the case, it will create another immense rush for Mr. W. Alter's coal, at his yard, Ninth street, above Poplar, as his uniform liberality and moderate prices have secured from our citizens the "lion's share" of their patronage. Alter's success is a tribute to true merit.

A SPLENDID IMPROVEMENT.—We have rarely seen enterprise displayed with more judgment or to better advantage than it has been by the popular Photographers of this city, Messrs. Broadbent & Co., who now embrace in their enormous establishment—excepting the ground floors—the entire three large buildings, at Nos. 912, 914, and 916 Chestnut street. The addition of the latter to their operating rooms was made recently and places their house far in advance of anything found in any other city of the Union. The constantly increasing patronage of this house is doubtless attributable to the facts that their pictures have the very highest artistic merit, and that in several styles of pictures they stand without a rival in the world.

SPRING TRADE.—If we may judge from the marked activity already exhibited in the large Cloth and Clothing House of Messrs. C. Somers & Son, No. 635 Chestnut street, under Jayne's Hall, trade this season will be unusually heavy. These gentlemen had the sagacity to buy early, and hence their stock is very much lower in prices than are asked for the same class of goods generally, which, with the fact that their styles of garments are the beau ideal of grace and excellence, gives them extraordinary advantages.

GET THE BEST.—Our readers, who are desirous of using only the finest and best quality of Groceries, will find exactly what they want at the celebrated old stand of Mr. C. H. Mattson, southwest corner of Arch and Tenth streets. Besides the finest line of family groceries in the city, a full line of the purest liquors, suitable for medicinal purposes, may always be found here, and all at very reasonable prices.

FINE FRENCH AND AMERICAN CONFECTIONS.—Mr. A. L. Vansant, who leads the column of fine confectioners in this country, displays, fresh every morning, on his counters, all the choicest confections of the season, among which his sweet Jordan roasted Almonds, French and American mixtures—put up in handsome boxes; bonbons, Portuguese secrets, taffies, French nauget, and chocolate preparations, are particularly tempting; and the same is true of his rare and delicious fruits.

A SUPERB STOCK OF GENTLEMEN'S FURNISHING Goods can at all times be found at the famous old house of Oakford & Sons, under the Continental Hotel.

EXQUISITE SPECIMENS OF PHOTOGRAPHY. Those who wish to see the perfection of the Photographic Art should visit the popular ground-floor gallery of Mr. E. P. Hipple, No. 820 Arch street. His pictures, in all sizes and styles, are universally admired.

ARMY AND NAVY OFFICERS will find a magnificent assortment of Military Furnishing Goods, exactly adapted to their wants and tastes, at Oakford & Sons, under the Continental Hotel.

"THE PLAY OF HAMLET WITH HAMLET LEFT OUT."—We don't know whether this has ever been attempted or not, but we do know what has been attempted and successfully carried out. We know of a building having been designed by a Washington architect, with the assistance of a smart man, (say a Philadelphia Postmaster,) and built on no less imposing site than Chestnut street, adjoining that pure Grecian marble building, the United States Custom House; and we further know that said building was designed and built expressly for a Post Office for the city of Philadelphia; and, furthermore, the said building was declared completed for business on the 24th day of February, and the citizens of said city were invited to transact their business there, and see the chief clerk in his new office and arm chair, and avail themselves of the conveniences designed for their use. But lo, a Post Office, and no letter-box! $60,000 for a Post Office, and no place to deposit letters! Surely the dinner or the flag-pole must have received undue attention at the hands of somebody. Supposing Charles Stokes & Co., at the opening of their store, under the "Continental," had invited the public to their store, announcing that "the price would be marked in plain figures on all the goods," and neither coat, pantaloons, nor vest in their establishment! We think the simile between this and the Philadelphia Post Office, with no letter-box, a good one.

THE FIELD OF THE SHAWL OF GOLD.—The Empress Eugenie, at the opening of the Boulevard, was enveloped in the famous gold shawl. She wore with this splendid envelope a gray silk dress, in the very best taste, to correct that of the overbrilliant effect produced by the glittering and kaleidoscopic changes of color produced by the sunlight upon the shawl. The Emperor looked extremely well in a plain citizen's suit, and it was whispered around among the knowing ones that he had sent out to this country and procured his handsome "rig" at the Brown-Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth.

SEVEN DEADLY SINS:
1. Refusing to take a newspaper.
2. Not advertising.
3. Making the printing office a loafing place.
4. Taking a newspaper and not paying for it.
5. Reading the manuscript on the compositor's case.
6. Getting married without sending the printers any of the wedding cake.

And 7. Omitting to purchase the wedding suit at the palatial store of Granville Stokes, No. 609 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

TO THE MONTH OF MARCH.

BY THE BARD OF TOWER HALL.

Blustering March, in whose praise
No minstrel has chanted,
At length a few lays
To thy name shall be granted:
And as I've learned how
To berhyme thee, old rowdy,
Come, glance on me now
With an aspect uncloudy.

Old March, should I say
That I like thee as well
As April or May,
What a "whopper" I'd tell!
But, though much addicted
To "puffing"—may hap—
Thou wast never convicted
Of lying, old chap.

Thy puffing is lawful,
Since from falsehood 'tis free,
And not like some awful
Deceptions we see.
Could I speak with thy voice
Potential—I guess,
Tower Hall's great attractions
I'd loudly express.

We have the largest assortment of ready-made Clothing in Philadelphia, comprising every variety, style, size, and price. All can be suited in garments, made in the best and most substantial manner, at prices below market rates.

PURE BOURBON WHISKY.
Bottled by
UDOLPHO WOLFE,
NEW YORK.
TO THE CITIZENS OF PHILADELPHIA:

For some time past, I have been solicited by the Medical Faculty of this city to add to my "Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps" business the bottling of PURE BOURBON WHISKY, which could be relied on by the medical profession. I would have acceded to their request some time since, but found it difficult to procure a pure article. After considerable difficulty and delay, I have arranged with two distillers in Bourbon county for a regular supply. I have also located an agent in Louisville, Ky., for the purchase of BOURBON WHISKY, direct from the distillers, when offered for sale in that market.

The Whisky will be put up in my Schnapps bottles, and packed in cases of one dozen each, with a fac simile of my signature on the label.

I remain, yours respectfully,
UDOLPHO WOLFE,
No. 22 BEAVER Street.

NEW YORK, January 20th, 1863.
UDOLPHO WOLFE, Esq., 22 Beaver St., New York:
DEAR SIR: The want of Pure Liquors for Medicinal purposes has been long felt by the profession, and thousands of lives have been sacrificed by the use of adulterated articles.

We have tested the several articles which you sent us, and consider it justly entitled to the high reputation you claim for it.

We would recommend you to appoint some of the respectable Apothecaries, in different parts of the United States, as Agents for the sale of your Bourbon Whisky, where the profession can obtain the same when needed for medicinal purposes.

Wishing you success in your new enterprise,
We remain your obedient servants,
