The Trade of Nassau.

Governor of the Bahamas states, in his annual to the Colonial office, that the imports into au rose from £374,581 in value, in 1861, to £1,- 22 in 1862; and the exports from £195,584 to 07,755. This is attributable to the important which this harbor has played as an entrepôt of ish goods destined for the ports of the Confede- States. The contiguity of Nassau to Charleston Wilmington has made it, he says, a kind of out- for Liverpool, Cardiff, and Glasgow; and a berce with the Southern belligerents, which not have been carried on as all directly be- European and American ports, has been pro- d through the supplementary aid of this small tl recently, obscure harbor. The exports ylsed brandy and other spirits, tea, coffee, l meat, oils, textile fabrics, drugs, earthen and ware (£278,088,) gunpowder, (8,836 kegs,) lead ewt.,) quicksilver, leathern goods, &c. hough half the vessels which attempted to the blockade in the last six months of 1862 were ed, the profits of the trade were so great that storekeepers who took shares in the vessels eir cargoes doubled their capital in the year. wer classes of laborers in Nassau have ob- a dollar a day for unskilled work, and two for night work. All the stevedores, dray- and laborers, belong to the colored popula- but they have shown no unwillingness to ge in the service of persons interested in the ern trade. The demand for clerks was very ; the members of the bar profited by the im- s given to commerce, and says the Governor, dealers in dry goods, many of whom are Wesley- have found their advantage in the taste for ensive finery which among several of the better ing of the young women of the middle and er classes has been encouraged and gratified by generosity of their devoted, though transitory irers.

mmanders and pilots of vessels engaged in run- the blockade have, in some instances, been as much as £1000 a month. The wages of do- ic servants have doubled; food has risen greatly ice; warehouses and offices have been rented an annual sum not much less than what was r full purchasing price five years ago. All per- have profited by the change except Govern- officials. The Governor has to state that his al salary has been barely equal to his expendi- Nor has the public revenue risen, the Legis- being reluctant to impose duties on goods in ette. It is observable that although the co- s in the police-court increased, those in the su- or court for more serious offences declined. The ernor patriotically expresses his hope that the ty will never again be quite the same as it was; that the result will be that the latent resources e Bahamas will be recognized, and the oppo- of Nassau to become the centre of a more ensive trade than it has hitherto been.

THE PICKLE BUSINESS IN MASSACHUSETTS.—coln is one of the most famous towns in the te for raising pickles. Many of the farmers have to one to five, and even ten acres devoted to this duct. This season is very favorable to the busi- ss. One man, from two and a half acres of vines, s gathered at two pickings 67,000 pickles. They k about three times a week in warm, fair weather. e man gathered from his five acres, at one pick- y 80,000. This was regarded as an extraordinary eld. Another man has realized from his ten acres ated with cucumbers, in one season, at 20 cts. They e selling them now for $1.80 per thousand.—Boston raveller.

BRISK VOLUNTEERING IN NEW JERSEY.—We rn that volunteering is becoming quite brisk in any parts of this State. In the agricultural distri- s, since the close of harvesting operations, an ex- llent class of young men have begun to come in, hile in the towns the large bounties offered have ostly stimulated enlistments. Jersey Blues and ard has filled its quota, another nearly so, and in third it is hoped that the required number of men ll be secured before the 5th October. In Trenton, cruits are also coming forward, and generally the espect is much brighter than it was a fortnight o.

DRAFT MEETING IN THE SIXTH WARD. last evening, a meeting of citizens of the Sixth d ward was held at National Guards' Hall. The ob- t of the meeting was to raise funds whereby ref- ts could be obtained and the ward exempted m the draft. The meeting was well attended. A d of music enlivened the proceedings. The ting was called to order by calling Samuel ham, Esq., to the chair. Wm. R. Dunham as secretary. One vice president from each tinct of the ward was elected. Rev. Mr. Peterson delivered an impressive prayer. Professor Saunders was then introduced. He said t, at this time, it was very difficult to obtain men. here were but forty men required to fill the quota the ward, and yet that number it was very diffi- lt to get. People would say that the obtaining of ien for carrying on the war was useless and an ex- vagant waste of money and blood. A physician hose medicines were known all over the world, nd who, at the last election, had voted for he Government, had told him that this time e was going to vote against the Government, nd he asked him (Saunders) if he was not happointed in the war. He told him that he was mazed, not that so little had been done, but that o much had been accomplished. During the past hree years a little band of soldiers collected in Utah had multiplied itself into the mightiest army the world had ever seen, and from a few ships of war we had raised an immense navy, fittingly re- presented by Farragut. (Cheers.) The name of Farragut will stand out in history to the end of time. Never before had a vessel-of-war lired upon nother at a distance of a mile, and sunk her at the distance of a quarter of a mile. We had in three years effected a lodgment in every State that had been in rebellion, and there was nothing in history comparable to what had been achieved by the people of the North in the suppression of the rebel- lion.

He proposed that all who had the interests of the ward at stake should do as he had done—furnish a representative recruit. Any one who was not him- self liable to the draft could, if he chose, do this, and he could receive from the Adjutant General of the United States a certificate that he had done so. He could point with pride to this certificate in days to come. Money should be raised, and he suggested this as a way by which it could be done.

Ex-Governor Pollock, John E. Latta, Esq., and others, addressed the meeting.

A number of subscriptions were obtained. The quota to be furnished by the ward was 141. Of this number 59 have already been sworn in, leaving 82 to be furnished. There is a large number claimed for naval enlistments, but these have not yet been offi- cially credited.

FIFTY-CENT COUNTERFEIT CURRENCY.—James Pardee was arraigned, yesterday afternoon, before U. S. Commissioner Serjeant, on the charge of selling counterfeit fifty-cent currency notes. It is alleged that for the sum of $10 he sold forty of the fictitious notes. The accused was committed in de- fault of $1,000 bail to answer.

THE UNDERSIGNED, A COMMITTEE appointed by the Bounty Fund Convention of the several wards, for the purpose of recruiting for the benefit of deficient wards, in anticipation of the coming draft, impressed with the importance of the subject, desire their fellow-citizens to unite with them in an effort to fill the city's quota by obtaining volunteer recruits. To do this before the 5th of September will require the most earnest and vigorous exertions, and the Committee appeal to the patriotic and public spirited to aid them by their influence and by contributions of the necessary means to offer inducements equal to those offered by other communities. The Committee have appointed a sufficient number of recruiting lieutenants in various quarters of the city, and all recruits obtained will be distributed pro rata among the wards, and, of course, will benefit most largely those that are most deficient.

By united and continued effort the Committee hope, if not ensured the d. aft altogether, at least to reduce it to insignificant proportions.

The whole number required to free the city from the draft, on the first of August, about 9,000. From this number is to be deducted those who have been recruited since the commencement of the war, who are not entitled to from persons enlisting in the navy from the city and who have not been credited to us; also, from persons enlisting in the interior, to fill the city's quota, and not credited to any particular district, of which the city will have her proportion. Efforts are being made to ascertain these credits. The Committee also expect to obtain recruits from veterans re-enlisting from the Southern States now occupied by our forces, and from other quarters. They do not deem it impossible, therefore, by proper exertions, to fill the city's quota.

Money is necessary, and can only be obtained by the voluntary subscriptions of citizens. Such subscriptions may be sent to the addresses of any members of the Committee, as below given, or to the headquarters of the Committee, No. 142 South FOURTH Street.
