Farmer's Department.

MEDITERRANEAN WHEAT.

Among the great varieties of wheat cultivated, it is a matter of the greatest importance to know which is the most profitable kind to raise, take everything connected with it into account. Mr. A. Y. Moore, an intelligent farmer of Schoolcraft, Michigan, has communicated to his agricultural brethern, through the Michigan Farmer, his experience in determining this question. Seventeen years ago, he procured about a pint of Mediterranean wheat from New York, and has been so well satisfied with it from year to year since, that he now raises no other kind. Among the advantages of this wheat, he names the following: It has always, without exception proved to be more productive than any other kind; it makes good flour and a good yield; it is not at all affected by the fly, which is becoming so destructive to some other kinds; it ripens early; and lastly it has never been affected by rust or smut. The bread made from its flour is pretty well known, it is not so white as that made from some other kinds of wheat, but he thinks it decidedly better.

The only disadvantage in raising it is that most buyers will not pay as much for it as white wheat. He thinks this will be temporary, that as soon as more is raised it will cease. On Door Prairie, Ind., nineteen twentieths of the wheat raised is Mediterranean, and there the farmers find no trouble in selling it at fair prices. He says he would prefer raising it even if obliged to sell it at 10 per cent. less than other varieties. He says he has recently floured a quantity of his wheat, and "the yield was very good and the flour excellent." He thinks that 100 lbs. of the offals is worth as much for any kind of stock as 100 lbs. of oats. Other farmers give their experience on this useful subject.

STRIKING CUTTINGS.—The following are half a dozen general rules relative to the selection and preparation of slips or cuttings. 1st. Let all slips be cut off as near a joint as possible without injuring it. 2nd. For autumn or winter take choice of well ripened firm wood. 3d. In spring or summer half ripened young shoots are best, as they strike quicker than old wood. 4th. All succulents, such as Cactuses, Geraniums should remain a few days to dry, until their wounds are closed up, before they are potted, or planted. 5th. Never allow cuttings to remain in water; if they cannot be planted immediately lay the ends in moist sand. 6th. In winter or summer always let a few of the leaves remain on evergreens.—Gard's Chronicle.

HOW MUCH LIME DO SOILS NEED.—We have lately had occasion to remark that less lime is needed in soils than many suppose. Prof. Emmons, in his report on the Geological survey of North Carolina, says—"If we may appeal to observation and experiment, it is established that a small per centage of lime only is necessary to the highest degree of fertility; and yet this small per centage is necessary. If there is present one-half of one per cent, it seems to be sufficient; for it is rare to find a large quantity in productive soils."—Prof. E. is a chemist and geologist of long experience and was one of the first (perhaps the first) to ascertain that some of the most productive soils for Wheat in Western New York contain comparatively little lime.—Boston Cultivator.

UNDERDRAINING PAYS.—A correspondent at Lancaster, N. H., writes: "I had a piece of land that was so wet that cattle could not go on to it. I underdrained it, and broke it up late in the fall of 1853, and planted it to potatoes without plowing or a particle of manure. The piece yielded over two hundred bushels per acre, and were sold at 34 cents per bushel without sorting." This is $68 per acre, and doubtless pays the whole expense of draining, cultivating, &c.

SAND YOUR STANDS.—Let fresh clean sand be sprinkled every day over the floor of Coops. This will keep the animals clean and prevent their being attacked by vermin. Every morning remove all excrement to the manure heap, and throw over it a few handfuls of gypsum or pulverised charcoal.

MACHINE FOR QUARRYING SLATE.—Slate has hitherto been all cut out in quarries by hand labor. The workmen with picks cut groves in the rock to the depth required, and then the slate comes off in thin layers the size of the space between the cut groves, forming rectangular slabs. To supersede this slow method of quarrying slate, Henry J. Bremner, of Nazareth, Pa., has invented a machine for which he has applied for a patent. The cutters are operated to feed forward and cut out a grove in one direction, the desired length, and then it (the machine) is turned and the cutters made to cut a traverse groove, and thus proceed until the rock is so grooved that the space between the side and the two end grooves or cut channels, forms a slab of the size desired for the slate, when the slate is forced out, and splits easily into as many seperate slabs as there have been horizontal layers from the surface to the depth the cutters have perforated. One of these machines has been in operation for some time, and has accomplished more than its inventor anticipated. It is operated by hand, and with one man will cut out more slate in one day than twelve men with picks by hand labor.

LONGWORTH'S CERTAIN CURE FOR SCROFULA.

Put 2 oz. of aquafortis on a plate, on which you have placed 2 copper cents. Let it remain for 18 or 24 hours. Then add 4 oz. of clear strong vinegar. Put cents and all, into a large mouthed bottle, and keep it corked. Begin by putting 4 drops into a teaspoonfull of rain water and apply it to the sore. Make the application 3 times a day, with a soft hair pencil, or one made of the rags. If very painful put in more water. If not too painful put in less. I request editors in all parts of the Union, to copy this, and republish it quarter-yearly, it may save many lives.

N. LONGWORTH.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 17th 1854.

P. S. Capt. Hardness, of our city, the first person cured by this remedy, applied it without water, and he informs me that he thought it would burn his leg off. But the next day it was cured. His was a small sore, and had been attended to months by one of our best physicians, without any benefit.

HUMBUG FOR CROUP.—The following remedy for croup I have never known to fail when administered in season:

"As soon as the first symptoms appear, (which I need not describe, as they are known to all) get the child's feet into warm water, and as soon as possible, administer a dose of something nauseating, say a grain or two of ipicac, antimonial wine, or Cox's Hive Syrup; then oil a cloth with goose oil pigs foot oil, skunk's oil, or any other soft animal oil, then sprinkle Scotch snuff over the cloth till it is pretty well browned, and apply from the chin to the middle of the chest, and repeat, if necessary, in two hours—the snuff should be applied as soon as possible after the attack. This treatment will most invariably give relief in a few hours. The snuff should be kept in every family of young children and be where the hand can be laid upon it any time of night.—N. Y. Paper.

THE AMERICAN'S FRIEND!!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

To the Citizens of the United States:

I most humbly and sincerely thank you for the immense patronage which you have bestowed upon my Pills. I take this opportunity of stating that my Ancestors were all American Citizens, and that I entertain for all that concerns America and the Americans, the most lively sympathies, so much so that I expressly compounded these Pills expressly to suit your climate, habits, constitutions, and manner of living, intending to establish myself among you, which I have now done, by taking premises in New York.

THOMAS HOLLOWAY.

PURIFICATIOF OF THE BLOOD, AND LIVER AND BILIOUS COMPLAINTS.

The Citizens of the Union suffer much from diseases of the Liver and Stomach, scarcely any are free from the influence of those destructive maladies, hence they fall first. The fair sex, perhaps the most handsome in the World, up to a certain period when, distressing to say, many lose their teeth and good looks, while yet in the heyday of life, such sad evils may be effectually remedied by continually keeping the blood pure, and the Liver and Stomach in a healthy action, when life will flow smoothly, and resemble plants in a congenial clime, where an eternal spring appears to reign. As it regards the preservation of the human frame, and the duration of life, much may be effected, and I say fearlessly, that health and life can be prolonged for many years beyond their ordinary limits, if Holloway's Pills are taken to purify the blood according to the rules laid down for health contained in the directions which accompany each box.

A CASE OF WEAKNESS AND DEBILITY OFTEN YEARS STANDING, CURED BY HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

Copy of a Letter from Captain John Johnson, Astor House, New York, dated January 5th, 1854

To Professor HOLLOWAY, 80, Corner of Ann and Nassau Streets, N. Y.

SIR—It is with the most heartfelt pleasure I have to inform you that I have been restored to health and strength by taking your Pills. For the last ten years, I suffered from a derangement of the Liver and Stomach, and was reduced to such an extremity that I gave up my Ship, never expecting to go to Sea any more, as I had tried every Remedy that was recommended to me, but all to no purpose; and had given myself up to despair, when I was at last recommended to take your Pills. After using them for three months, the result is that I am now in better health than I have been for eleven years past, and indeed as well as ever I was in my life. You are quite at liberty to make this known for the benefit of others.

I remain, Sir, yours respectfully,

(Signed) JOHN JOHNSON.

The American

PLEADERS' ASSISTANT:

Being a collection of approved declarations, with writs and proceedings in the several actions now in use in the United States.

By CHAUNCEY RUGG, Esq.,

Good sign was out

With notes and additions, together with a short system of conveyancing. By A. Archer, President Judge of the Eighth Judicial District of Pa., and Wm. M. Rockefeller and M. L. Shindel, of the bar of Northumberland county. Since the publication of the book, the following letter has been received from Judge Pearson of Hunting:

HARRISBURG, June 30, 1853.

GENTLEMEN:

After a careful examination of your "American Pleaders Assistant," I take pleasure in expressing my entire approval of the selection and composition of the precedents thus offered to the public. The legal profession in Pennsylvania stands in need of a correct system of pleadings adapted to our habits of business, and the practice of the courts. Your forms of declarations being to a great extent founded on the rules of assumpsit will be a saving of labor to the pleader, and conduce to safety and brevity in our pleadings.

It should be in the hands of every practicing lawyer in our state.

Yours, with great respect,

ANDREW G. PEARSON.

Hon. A. Archer, Wm. M. Rockefeller and M. L. Shindel, Esquires.

W. McCARTY, Esq.,

Dear Sir: I received more than a year ago a copy of "Rugg's Pleaders' Assistant" compiled by Judge Archer and others. I examined it with some care soon afterwards, and have had occasion to use it several times since. I think it decidedly valuable as a manual for practicing attorneys in Pennsylvania, and do not hesitate to recommend it. If it were generally used it would increase the accuracy of the profession in matters which are often very carelessly done.

I am very truly yours, &c.,

J. S. BLACK.

I also received a copy of the Pleaders' Assistant, and have examined it sufficiently to enable me to concur very heartily in the above commendation by the Chief Justice.

GEO. W. WOODWARD.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL:

For the Cure of

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, IRONCHITIS, CROUP, ASTHMA, WHOOPING COUGH AND CONSUMPTION.

TO CURE A COLD, with pleasant medicine, is an object desirable to all who suffer from the sudden changes of our climate. Prudent people will not trifle with a cough, which, if neglected, may lead to serious consequences. Even a hoarseness, or tickling in the throat, should not be neglected. Every one knows that a cough, however slight, is an indication of disease in the lungs, and that it should be cured by some medicine which will heal the diseased organs. Experience shows that this can be done only by such medicines as have a healing effect upon the lungs, and which, by reaching the seat of disease, can there exert their curative power. Many preparations are offered to the public, which are represented to be equally efficacious with AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, but which, from their ingredients, are not adapted to the cure of pulmonary diseases. Ignorance of the nature and tendency of these complaints, is the cause of much of the prevalence and fatality of Consumption. Ignorance of the fact that Consumption is, in its first stage, a curable disease, is the cause of its fatal termination in so many instances. Ignorance of the fact that the means of cure are within the reach of all, is the cause of the continuance of the disease in those who, if they knew the facts, would be cured by the use of a few bottles of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.
