SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

President Lincoln, it is said, spends most of his leisure time in franking Loyal League circulars and documents, by this means helping his own renomination for the Presidency.

Secretary Stanton said the other day: "If a single regiment of Lee's army gets back into Virginia in an organized condition, it will prove that I am totally unfit to be Secretary of War.

The leading journals in Louisville have all commenced the issues of papers every day, including Sundays, on the plea that the demands of the war make it necessary. So true is it that the tendencies of war are demoralizing.

The Gelena (Ill,) Advertiser settles the vexed question as to General Grant's political status. While in the army he never voted, but after he settled in Gelena he declared himself a Democrat and voted in 1860 for Stephen A. Douglas.

George M. Franklin, son of ex-Attorney General Franklin, of Pennsylvania, has received an appointment on the staff of Gen. W. B. Franklin with orders to report at New Orleans.

Trust no friend before thou hast tried him, for they abound more at the festal board than at the prison door.

In ancient days the precept was "know thyself. In modern times, it has been surplanted by the far more fashionable maxim, "Know thy neighbor, and everything about him,"

We do not die wholly at our death, we hava mouldered away long before, Faculty after faculty, interest after interest, attachment after attachment disappear; we are torn from ourselves living; year after year sees us no longer the same, and death only consigns the last fragments of what we were to the grave.

During the war of 1812, a single arrest for words spoken or published in New England would have lighted the torch of civil war. As it was, the opposition died out and did little damage if any to the cause of the country. Can not the administration learn a lesson of wisdom from this scrap of history.

A friend from California writes us that they have fire-flies so large in that interesting State that they use them to cook by. They hang their kettles on their hind legs which are bent for the purpose, to cook by.

A country paper out west says: Wanted at this office an editor who can please everybody. Also a foreman who can so arrange the paper that everybody's advertisement shall head the column.

Why is a newspaper like a toothebrush? Because we like to read the newspapers very much but our neighbors are all too stingy to take one.

"Hit one of your size," as the nail said to the sledge hammer.

A promising young man may do very well perhaps—a paying one much better.

'Whose son are you my little boy?' 'I ain't any body's; I'm Mr. Thompson's nephew, sir.'

If a husband and wife are a fast couple there is a danger in their case, as in that of a fast team, that the coupling may break.

'Jimmy, what is the meaning of shepherd?' 'A man who watches sheep.' Then a man who watches cows must be a coward, of course, said Samuel, with a broad grin.

In the life of Wilberforce is the following entry his diary: Went to hear Mr, Foster. Felt much devotion, and wondered at a man who fell asleep during the psalms. During the sermon went to sleep myself.

STERNBERG HALL.

BY PUMP SUNKINS, ESQ.

Some time ago, I told the folks,
About a man in town, sirs,
Who kept a clothing store so grand,
And did the thing up brown, sirs.

Now, this same man has moved his store,
From Diamond down the street sirs
And now, next door to "Conrad House,
He's got things mighty neat sirs.

At Reynold's Arcade, where all
The folks do congregate sirs,
You'l find our Sternberg's Clothing Hall,
With every thing first-rate sirs.

There, coats and pants, and hats
And shirts and boots and shoes ,sirs
Are piled up so "splendificously,
You scarce know what to choose, sirs

I tell you now its mighty grand,
To go into his shop, sirs.
And see, piled up on every hand,
Things nice as any top, sirs,

And then Sternberg, he scrapes around,
And bows and acts polite, sirs,
And asks you if you ever found
Goods half so strong and bright, sirs

And then you're bound to praise his goods,
Because, to tell the truth, sirs,
There's never goods like them to be seen
In town, by age or youth, sirs.

Besides, they're all so mighty cheap,
And good, and clean and new, sirs:
For, should you turn and leave his store,
You certainly would rue, sirs,

That you did not a whole suit buy
From this great clothing man, sirs,
Who'd sell you clothing cheaper, far,
Than any one else can, sirs

So here's to Sternberg—may he live
Forever and a day, sirs.
And when he dies, we hope he'll find
A soft place for to lay, sirs.

And on his grave, mid flowers bright,
Beneath which he shall sleep, sirs,
We'll place a stone, whereon we'll write,
"He sold goods mighty cheap," sirs.

A NEW AND IMPORTANT WORK.

THE FOUR ACTS OF DESPOTISM.

BY A. D. MAHONEY, OF IOWA,

Author of the "Prisoner of State."

This work contains full and official copies of he Four Great Acts of Despotism by which the constitutional government of Washington was subverted, and the irresponsible Lincoln dynasty installed in its place.

1. THE TAX BILL, by which all the property and resources of the people are mortgaged to the resent administration.

2. THE CONSCRIPTION BILL, by which all the bodies of poor men not worth $300 are placed in the hands of the Administration.

3. THE FINANCE BILL, which destroys State Banks and places the entire currency of the country in the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury.

4. THE INDEMNITY ACT, (fitting climax,) which presumes to indemnify the President for all the wrongs he has committed in the past or may commit in the future.

These four acts are each preceded by a careful analysis, by Mr, Mahoney, and their unjust, oppressive, unconstitutional and odious features pointed out. As a book for reference, it will be invaluable to the farmer, the mechanic, the politician, the laborer—in fact, to every person, for these monstrous acts reach from the loftiest mansion to the humblest cabin in the land.

These four acts are not published together in any other form. They will make a large octavo pamphlet of nearly 200 pages, in good sized type and will be sold at the low price of FIFTY CENTS in paper, and SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS in muslin binding.

Send on the orders at once. All orders will be filled according to the date of receipt. First come first served. The cash must accompany the orders.
