READ AND REFLECT—Don't be so miserly, but follow the dictate of common sense. How many thousands there are, who for the paltry sum of two dollars, are willing to remain dead for years, and yet it is no more strange than true: Revalenta lasting many of their friends and acquaintances have been perfectly cured by the use of Dupe's Acoustic Oil, and letters and certificates of unbolted authority may be daily examined at the store of Dr. D Jayne, No 8 South Third st, Philadelphia, where the medicine is for sale; yet because there is a lure possibility of its failure, they continue not only to annoy their friends, but to be miserable themselves.—Pal. WATER CURE HOUSES.

ROUND HILL WATER CURE ESTABLISHMENT—NORTHAMPTON, Mass.

ACCESSIBLE BY RAILROAD.

SAMUEL WHITTAKER, Proprietor.

Dr. EDWARD E. DYNEITHE Resident Physician.

THIS delightful establishment is situated about half a mile west of the beautiful village of Northampton, and a portion of about 240 feet above the Connecticut River, which it overlooks. The grounds surrounding the Establishment comprise about forty acres which are being improved to the use and pleasure of the patients. Ample and beautiful groves and pleasant walks are laid out for the purpose of pleasantly shaded, and affording healthful and pleasant walks for nearly four miles.

The extensive and commodious buildings of the establishment are located upon the eastern brow of the hill, and overlook one of the most enchanting landscapes in the world—especially in Summer, when the fields of Northampton, with its numerous and handsome dwellings, amidst the dense foliage of lofty and overhanging elms. Farther on the eye sees the rich meadows of Northampton and Hadley, dressed in the velvet verdure of Spring or the variegated habiliments of Summer and autumn. Still farther on, north and south, is seen the smooth and gentle surface of the Connecticut, slowly winding its way to the ocean. On the north, in immediate prospect is the village of Hatfield with its rich and beautiful farms; on the east is the flourishing village of Hadley, and also of Amherst, with its seminary, while in the distance, with the aid of a glass, may be seen an extensive and greatly diversified range of country. On the south-east, at about 3½ miles distance, Mount Holyoke, in the form of a lower lying ground and a little beyond, is seen the pleasant village of South Hadley on the south, we behold at about 4 miles distance, the majestic Mount Tom, and the charming village of East Hampton, with its elegant school edifice; the whole presenting a combination of scenery in Europe, when surpassed, perhaps surpassed, by any other in the world. It was remarked by a gentleman, who has spent some thirty years of his life in Europe, that he could not, in the world, behold a scene so perfectly beautiful and enchanting.

The accommodations are ample and well and specious, and are amply sufficient for upwards of one hundred and fifty patients.

It is provided with an abundance of the purest spring water and every other requisite for the full and perfect application of this simple and scientifically successful medium of curing lost or impaired health.

Dr. Dyneithe who resides in the establishment, is a graduate of one of the most celebrated Colleges in Europe, where he enjoyed the advantages of several
