Carlisle Herald.

VOLUME XLVII. CARLISLE, MARCH 11, 1846. NUMBER XXVI.

PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY

OFFICE, in the South West angle of the public Square, back of the Court House.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One Dollar and Fifty cents a year IN ADVANCE, Two Dollars, if paid within the year. One Dollar for six months. These terms will be strictly adhered to.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

Advertisements, making fifteen lines or less, will be inserted at the rate of Fifty cents for one insertion, or three times for One Dollar, and twenty-five cents for every subsequent insertion. Yearly advertisers will be charged at the following rates:

One Column, with the paper, for one year,	$25
Half a column, do. do.	15
Two Squares, with quarterly changes,	10
Business Cards, with the paper,	5

JOB PRINTING, OF EVERY DESCRIPTION,

Such as Handbills, Blanks, Circulars and every other description of Printing, executed handsomely and expeditiously, and at the LOWEST PRICES!

Cards.

DR. L. G. LOOMIS,

DENTIST.

WILL perform all operations upon the Teeth that are required for their preservation, such as Scaling, Filing, Plugging, &c., or will restore the loss of them, by inserting Artificial Teeth, from a single Tooth, to a full set. Office on Pitt street, a few doors South of the Railroad Road.

N. B. Dr. Loomis will be absent from Carlisle the last two days, in each month.

June 11, 1845.

DOCTOR A. D. LIPPE,

Homeopathic Physician.

OFFICE: Main street, in the house formerly occupied by Dr. Fred. Ahrens.

Carlisle, April 9, 1845.

JOSEPH KNOX,

ATTORNEY AT LAW, (late of Harrisburg, Pa.,) will practise in the Courts of Cumberland and the adjoining counties. Office on West High street, next door to J. Hamilton, Esq.

Carlisle, October 8, 1845.

CHARLES B. PENROSE,

Late Solicitor of the Treasury of the United States,

WILL practise Law in the several Courts of Lancaster County. Office in South Queen Street, lately occupied by John R. Montgomery, Esq.

June 18, 1845.

COLWELL & M'CLURE,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

WILL attend promptly to business entrusted to them in the counties of Cumberland and Franklin. Offices, one door west of the Jail, East High street, Carlisle, and next door to Stumbaugh & Hoover's Drug Store, Shippensburg.

April 23, 1844. tf-26

CALVIN BLYTHE,

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

WILL practice in the several Courts of the City and County of Philadelphia.

His office is at No. 25 South FOURTH street, between Chestnut and Walnut streets. Philadelphia, Sept. 24, 1845.—3m

S. DUNLAP ADAIR,

Attorney at Law.

OFFICE in South Hanover street, a few doors below J. H. Graham, Esq.

Mar. 26, 1845.

THE MANSION HOUSE HOTEL

Fronting on the Cumberland Valley Rail Road,

CARLISLE, PA.

LATELY kept by Gen. Willis Foulk, has been taken by the subscriber. It is newly furnished and has been thoroughly repaired. Passengers in the cars, strangers, travellers and visitors to Carlisle, are invited to call.

Terms moderate, and every attention paid to the comfort and convenience of those who patronize the establishment.

A. SWORDS.

Carlisle, April 1, 1845.

ROBERTS' HOTEL,

Sign of Washington and Jackson,

THE subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public that he has removed from his old stand on West High street, to the public house lately kept by David Rice on South Hanover street, in the borough, signed Washington and Jackson. Where he will be always ready to accommodate the country traders, drovers and travellers, and accommodate them in the best and most comfortable manner.

His BAR shall be constantly supplied with the choicest liquors, and his TABLE with the best the market can furnish. A good OSTLER is employed, and nothing shall be wanting to make his house all that could be desired by those who may call with him.

CARDS, stamps in the back, sent for one year.

ANDREW ROBERTS.

April 17, 1844. tf-2

A Card.--To the Ladies.

A FULL assortment of French Extracts for the Handkerchief, such as the celebrated genuine German and French Cologne Water, tooth, hair and nail brushes, shell and ivory combs, hair handles, a variety of soap, Rose lip salve, pearl and shell beads, neck and bead combs. In fact, every thing appertaining to a lady's toilet, to which we would respectfully invite the attention of the fair ones on their purchase elsewhere.

STEVENSON & McHAFFEY.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

THE subscriber has now and will constantly keep on hand all kinds of LUMBER, such as White Pine Boards, Plank, Scantling, Shingles, Shingling and Plastering Lath, all of which will be sold at the river prices, with the addition of hauling for Cash, at the Warehouse of

WILLIAM B. MURRAY.

Carlisle, November 5, 1845.

Vegetable Cough Candy.

THIS Candy in its present form is made entirely of Vegetable Jellies, and possesses all the qualities recommended in pictures of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, &c. The subscribers are confident from the unparalleled success of their candy, that it will speak well for itself to those afflicted with the above complaints.

Prepared and sold wholesale and retail by Stevenson and McHaffey.

Fine Oil and Lard Lamps.

JUST received in addition to my stock of Fine Oil and Lard Lamps. Also, Lamp wick and Lamp burners of various kinds, Lamps of different kinds for stores, churches, halls and parlors furnished at short notice. Fine Oil kept constantly on hand and for sale by

GEO. W. HITNER.

Groceries.

A FRESH supply of Groceries, Liquors, &c., just received and for sale cheap by C. Quillin.

Dry Goods, &c.

MORE AUCTION BARGAINS AT OGILBY'S

THE subscriber has just returned from Philadelphia, and is now opening one of the largest stocks of Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots and Shoes that has been brought to Carlisle for many years. The holidays are coming and now is your time to lay out your money to advantage. My stock comprises every thing in the way of Cloths, Cassimers, Woolens, Silks, Cashmeres, Velvets, Calicoes, &c., and is the most, costly in quality, to prices lower than ever. The public are invited to call at the old stand, East Main street, directly below the Market House, and opposite Martin's Hotel.

CHARLES OGILBY.

dec. 10

NEW GOODS.

THE subscriber has just returned from the City with a fresh assortment of goods, consisting in part of Cloths, Cassimerts, Satinetts, Tweeds, Kentucky Jeans, Fluid Cloakings, Merinoes, Alpacas, Cobourg Cloths, Lindseys, Tickings, &c. Also, Groceries and Spices of all kinds. ROBT. IRVINE, Jr.

dec 24

NEW GOODS.

ANDREW RICHARDS has just received and is now opening at his old stand, corner of the public square and South Hanover st., a new and elegant assortment of staple and Fancy, consisting in part, of Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinetts, Linens, Cambrics, Summer Cloths, Vestings, Silks, Hombagines, Ginghams, Lawns, Crape and Mousline de laines, Swiss Cambrics, Jackinet, and all other kinds of Muslins, Calicoes, Shawls, Checks, Tickings, Velvet Cords, Cotton goods of all descriptions, Carpet chain and Cotton Yarn, Umbrellas, Parasols, Sunshades, Gloves, Hosiery, &c.

DRY GOODS,

ALSO, A choice and well selected stock of Groceries, consisting sugars, Coffees, Sugar, Molasses, Teas, Tobacco, Spices, &c.

ALSO, Crockery, Glass and Queensware of nearly all descriptions and qualities, together with numerous other articles comprising a complete and general assortment—all of which he offers for sale at very low prices for cash.

Carlisle, January 7, 1846.

NEW GOODS! NEW GOODS!!

THE subscriber, thankful for the friends and the public in general, for the support they have given him in this line of business, takes this method of informing them that he has just received, and is now opening, a large and splendid assortment of

FALL AND WINTER GOODS,

Consisting in part of superior Black and Blue Black Wool dye Cloths, invisible Green, Cadet, Blue and Gray Cloths, Drabs and plain Beaver Cloths, Buckskins, Tweed Cassimeres, Double Milled Blue and Black Cassimeres, super plain, barred and striped Satinetts, from 37 cents to $1.00 per yard, Paramatta Cloths, Indiana do. plain barred and striped Alpacas, Cashmere do. do. Bombazines, red, white and yellow Flannels, Oxbloods from 6 1-4 to 18 3-4 cents per yard, bleached Muslin, from 6 1-4 to 12 1-2, 5-4, 6-4 and 9-4 brs., Muslin, Checks, Ticking, Canton and Dorskin Flannels, Linsey woolsey, horse blankets, Mackinaw do., Kentucky Jeans, Drillings, colored corduroys, super pin dotts, Thibet, Mosselaine de laines, Wildrake, Merrimack, plaid and cotton shawls, edging, bobbinetts, and laces, Swiss, jaconett, lawn and Cambric Muslins, Bishop's Lawn, long Lawn, linen, cambric Handkerchiefs, Irish Linens, Black Italian Crevats, Fancy barred silk do., stocks, suspenders, black cotton, merinos, cashmere and Thibet stockings, Gloves, Mits, worsted Caps, Nettings, glazed Fur, seal, Velvet, Cloth Caps.

Also—A fresh supply of GROCERIES AND SPICES of all kinds, which he will sell at the lowest prices for cash, at the old stand in North Hanover street, one door below Messrs. Myers & Haverstick's Drug Store.

HENRY ANDERSON.

Carlisle, October 1, 1845.—tf.

BARGAINS! BARGAINS!

CHEAP GOODS! CHEAP GOODS!

THE CHEAP CORNER CAN'T BE BEAT.

JOHN GRAY & SON return their sincere thanks to their friends and the public, for the liberal share of patronage extended to them, and respectfully announce that they have just returned from Philadelphia with a cheap, choice and fresh selection of Foreign and Domestic DRY GOODS, GROCERIES AND QUEENSWARE.

BOOTS AND SHOES,

HARDWARE and NOTIONS, of all kinds, which they will sell as cheap as any house in the county—being determined to take for their motto, "Small profits and quick sales." We would say to all, whether they be purchasers or not, give us a call before buying elsewhere, for we are convinced that you will not go from the store disappointed. Remember our stand is on the corner south of the Post Office, and directly opposite the Second Presbyterian church and Roberts' Hotel.

Carlisle, January 28, 1846.

Another Chance for Bargains

Selling off at Cost.

THE subscriber, intending to shortly make a change of business, offers to his customers and the public in general, his stock of GOODS AT COST, consisting of Olive, Black, Brown and Mixed Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinetts, Cords, Jeans, and a general assortment of

GENTLEMEN'S WEAR.

Also, Alpacas, Cashmeres, Merinoes, Mousde Laines, Linseys, Calicoes, Ginghams, Silks and Worsted Shawls, Dress Silk Handkerchiefs, with a general assortment of Gloves, Hosiery, Buttons, Trimmings, &c. Also, Shoes, Boots, Hats, Caps, Umbrellas, &c., Coffee, Teas, Dye Stuffs, &c.

To purchasers in Hardware and Merchants in the country, an opportunity never offered of supplying themselves at Philadelphia prices.

Many persons of persons desirous of engaging in the mercantile business, can find a healthy township of Carlisle, an opportunity is now offered, as the subscriber will dispose of his entire stock upon accommodating terms, either for cash or for a well improved farm in a good neighborhood.

S. WARNER.

N. B. All persons knowing themselves indebted to the subscriber, will please call and settle their accounts without further solicitation.

Carlisle, November 3, 1845.

NEW GOODS.

More Bargains at GLIPPINGER'S

JUST received, his fall and winter supply of Goods, which he has purchased at the late Philadelphia sales, consisting of a fresh assortment of Superfine Cloths, Cassimeres, Satinetts, Linseys, Kentucky Jeans, Flannels, Cotton Goods, which he invites to the attention of purchasers, being a fresh assortment of new style Prints, Second mourning Prints, Bonnet Silks and Ribbons, fashionable style Calicoes, Gentlemen's Fancy Cravats, Superior Satin Vestings.

These goods will be sold very cheap for Cash or Country Produce.

Shippensburg, Sept. 11, 1845.

FANCY GOODS.

JUST received a great variety of Fancy Goods, such as Breast Pins, Bracelets, Fancy Combs, &c. &c. W. Hide.

Miscellaneous.

GIVE THANKS.

When softly came the wreathing Spring
To dance around the rosy king,
And still, to raise the early flowers,
The sky flung down refreshing showers,
The Indian pleased to see his land
To scatter could his favors kind,
The praising hills in his honor bend,
Where Summer lurked with his leafy train,
Her path a rainbow in the skies;
Her hands with fragrance dropping sweet,
And roses gathered at her feet,
She brushed the blossoms from the tree,
And left the fruit exposed there,
To court the sunshine and the breeze,
And ripen in the balmy air.

Then Autumn claimed the sovereign sway,
And swept the shattered leaves away;
But nourished still the branching root,
And filled the earth with ruddy fruit!
Then raise your fervent hearts to heaven,
Give gracious thanks to God above,
Who all these glorious gifts hath given,
And pitied us for his mighty love!

And also, on the storm deep
Our God did watchful yield keep;
He bade the billows rage no more,
And brought the vessel safe to shore;
Then bless him for his wondrous grace;
Give thanks for his almighty care,
And bending low, with veiled face,
Lift up the voice of praise and prayer!

Give thanks to God! Kind homage pay!
He sweet instruction from our way!
Forbade that foil disease appear,
And bless'd us with a healthy year!
Then sing loud praises for his love,
All honor to the Lord Jehovah!
For he hath overflowed our store
With waving corn, and dashing wine.

But more, my gentle friend, have we
To lift the heart, and bend the knee;
For harvest rich, and blessings full,
That cheered the soul, and raised the mind
Blended with links of sovereign love,
The Lord our young affections bound,
So light and comfort from above,
Shall ever in our home be found!

With reverent eye, and holy fire,
Exalt the heart, and strike the lyre!
Oh! sing to him a sacred song,
To whom all sacred things belong!
With fervent love and humble voice,
We'll breathe our thankful prayers to heaven
Praise our kind Father, and rejoice
For all the favors he hath given.

THE CHRISTIAN FARMER'S PRIVILEGES.

The Christian Farmer ought to regard himself as peculiarly happy in having an employment so favorable to the habits of devotion. Either in their own nature, or the circumstances in which they must be pursued some other occupations impede, if they do not prevent, devotional feeling. Not so of the Christian Farmer.

"The calm retreat, the silent shade,
With prayer and praise agree—
And seem by my sweet retirement made
For those that follow thee."

This is the truth as well as poetry, and it well describes the scenes of agricultural life. The works of God awake the rapturous devotion, the sweetest as well as the most exalted strains of ancient saints. These works ought to be contemplated with the same feeling by the Christian Farmer. If his heart pants to hold communion with his Maker, he will see the divine image in every plant and flower. He dwells in the magnificent temple of nature, where the sweet incense of prayer is continually ascending from a thousand altars. Cold must be his heart, if he does not catch the spirit of the scene, and exclaim: "The earth, O Lord, is full of thy goodness. All thy works praise thee!"—The poet says, "An unlettered astronomer is mad." He might, with equal force, have said the same of an unlettered farmer.—How can he be insensible to

"The boundless store
Of charms which nature to her votary yields?
The warbling woodland, the resounding shore,
The pomp of groves and splendour of fields;
All that the genial ray of morning gilds,
And all that echoes to the song of even,
All that the mountain's sheltering bosom shields
And all the dread magnificence of heaven?"

Where, sooner than the daily resorts of the Christian Farmer, shall we look for evidence of the wisdom of God? Where shall we find fruits of his faithfulness and stimmitability, if not in the uniform and constant laws of nature, on which all the operations of the farmer depend for success? From year to year he breaks up the soil, and casts the seed into the ground, and looks not in vain for the return of harvest. Seasons come, and go in their round. The same kind of crops spring from the same kind of seed—and the same sort of fruit from the same trees; the same mode of cultivation produces similar effects from year to year. But if God were not immutable, would the farmer witness this regularity? The laws of nature are only the fixed mode in which God operates. If he were to change in his power, the sun might cease to send forth beams as bright as genial. The clouds might cease to pour down their watery treasures in copious abundance upon the thirsty fields. Were he to change in his plans, the cultivation which last year, was followed by a plentiful crop, might next year only favor barrenness. The meadows, which last year, were clothed with grass and ornamented with flowers, might next year be covered with flints and transformed into marshes. The operations of husbandry proclaim in tones not to be misapprehended, the immutability of God.

The Bible abounds in reference to agricultural scenes, and the Christian Farmer can have little lost in drawing analogies, when with the examples of the Bible before him, is not carried forward, and raised upward, to the scenes of the invisible world, by the objects which cluster around his daily path. Poets and prophets and apostles and even the Son of God, he may almost fancy, have been in the fields, and written on every tree, plant and flower, some divine lesson. The Bible has commentated the various employments of the farmer, to sacred purposes—and made the mirror in which, as he labors, he can see images of things which are eternal.

DREADFUL.—A gentleman residing in a residing pretty well up town was returning home late one evening last week, and after getting his favorite drink, strong liquor, in his way home, he was seized with a violent attack of the cramp, and was obliged to lay down on the pavement. While in this situation, a stranger happened to pass by, and seeing the situation of the gentleman, he kindly offered to assist him home, which was accepted, and the stranger, as he returned again to the opposite walk, he did the same, he stopped—he and his followers—he looked behind him—his attendant was close at his heels—he arrived at his own door—he knocked—he waited—he knocked again—he waited—he knocked—he waited—he knocked—he waited—he knocked