Harry English and His Crime.

BRIEF SKETCH OF THE CRIME FOR WHICH HE WILL HAVE TO ANSWER,

The recent capture of Harry English in Michigan, has awakened a lively interest in his case, and many of our readers are desirous of having the particulars of the crime with which he is charged, we reproduce the same from the Elmira Gazette:

"The crime for which English is to answer is one of the gravest known to law. A warrant had been issued for his arrest on a charge of forgery. Subsequently he removed to Caledonia, Elk county. Frequent attemps were made to apprehend him, but he carefully evaded the officers. Between four and five o'clock on Saturday, April 17, District Attorney Wurzel, Justice Thomas Burke and Constable Vollmer of St. Mary's, accompanied by Constable Warneth, of Benzinger township, went to the house in which English resided at Caledonia and surrounded it. As the story runs, several of the officers entered the house, and as they did so English started to run up the stairway. He was commanded to stop, and not doing so one of the officers fired at him. He ran into a room upstairs, and secured a Winchester rifle, and on the party coming up he thrust it out of the partially closed door and shot striking the constable, Warneth, from the effects of which he died shortly after.

Finding the avenues of escape guarded, and determined to gain the woods, English fled from a rear window upon Constable Vollmer, who was guarding the rear of the building. English then extended down and out and made a dash for the wooded mountain. As he was running District Attorney Wurzel shot at him, the ball taking effect in the calf of English's leg. This only disabled him slightly and he managed to gain cover and make good his escape. How the woods and mountain were scoured in vain for him is yet familiar to our readers. The gravest apprehensions were felt by the citizens of Caledonia and vicinity who had in any manner aided the authorities that English would return secretly at night and seek vengeance by either injuring them in person or property. So thoroughly agitated did that section of the country become that the Commissioners of Elk county offered a reward of $1,000 for the delivery of the person of Harry English at the jail at Ridgeway, the county seat. It is said the residents of St. Mary's and Caledonia agreed to swell it to the amount $1,000, and the commissioners of McKean county offered $200. English was seen at different times by persons with whom he was acquainted afterward, both in Forest and Warren counties. On the 3d of June he met J. R. Borst, (a former resident of Weston's Mills, Pa.) at Cedar Springs Mich. Borst used to know him quite well and English approached him by the Masonic signal. They had a long talk, and in taking his departure English promised to return in a few days, evidently feeling that Borst would not betray him. He failed to come the second time, however, and Borst, in company with an officer traversed the country around but did not discover him. It was probably through information furnished by Borst that English was finally captured at Sheboygan last week. Sheboygan is quite an important city on Lake Michigan, at the terminus of the Sheboygan division of the Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western railroad. It is forty-three miles east of Fond du Lac, and sixty-two miles north of Milwaukee. The people of the surrounding counties are largely engaged in the lumber industry. Williamsport Banner.

Answer This.

Did you ever know any person to be ill, without inaction of the stomach, liver or kidneys, or did you ever know one who was well when either was obstructed or inactive: and did you ever know or hear of any case of the kind that Hop Bitters would not cure? Ask your neighbor this same question.—Times.

A Rough Old Farmer.

A Hartford jeweler recently directed the attention of a friend to a rough appearing old farmer sauntering down Main street, and remarked, "I've been worse sold on that man than any other in my whole business life." The man, fully threescore years and ten, wore shabby pantaloons, rough cowhide boots innocent of the slightest trace of blacking, a vest soiled in front and with the back partly in tatters, was in his shirt sleeves, without a collar, and his head covered by a tile fashionable many years ago. "That was about his style," continued the merchant, "when he dropped in at my store one day during the war and said he wanted to buy a watch. Judging from his appearance that he meant something in the future, after the scarcerow season was over and he had drawn his money, I didn't bustle around very lively to make a trade. I thought that about a $10 silver watch would close on his pile and shoved one across the counter to him. He merely glanced at it and asked, 'Don't you keep anything better?' This nettled me for a bluff I hauled out an American watch, one of the costliest we had in the store, worth $175 in gold, and gold was worth $200 then. He examined it carefully, asked the price, and then to my amazement said, "That'll do. He dived down into his pantaloons pocket and after fishing out of the way a roll of greenbacks as big as your hat he hauled up a purse of gold, counted out of it the $175 shoved the watch into his pocket and walked out. You may imagine this excited my curiosity, and after awhile I ascertained who my strange customer was. He lived a few miles down the river and was worth enough to have bought out my whole establishment. Since then I haven't tried any bluffs on plainly dressed men. You can't always tell by a man's clothes what he's got in his pockets."

"Say, Susan, have you lost your appetite? Are you weak and nervous? If so, 'Dr Lindsey's Blood Seacher' is what you want."

At the Bavarian Industrial Museum there has recently been exhibited a new kind of flooring tiles made from asphalte in a very simple way. The drawing of the intended design is first made on coarse heavy paper. Then it is covered with bits of china and glass so as to form a mosaic. Lastly a border is made to the sheet, and liquid asphalte is poured upon it. After the whole has been covered, the paper is taken away with cold water and the tile is finished. This flooring is said to be handsome in appearance, and to resist damp for an indefinite period.

Drunken Wolves.

Henry De Criquelle, in a French work upon the natural history of Le Morvan, (a district of France), tells us that "in the Summer the wolves, like the gypsies, have not any fixed residence. They may then be met with in the standing barley or oats, the vineyards and fields; they sleep in the open country, and seldom seek the friendly shelter of the forest except during the searching hours of the day. Toward the end of August I have often met them," says he, "in the vineyards, apparently half drunk, scarcely able to walk—in short, quite unsteady on their legs, almost plowing the ground up with their noses, and staring stupidly about them. I once came upon one partly hidden among the thick undergrowth and weeds on the edge of the piles of stones collected from among the vines. My presence aroused his growl, when rising lazily from among the bushes he stumbled and fell, being evidently incapable of going further. A salute from both barrels with small shot scarcely tickled his skin, but it brought him once more on his legs, though only to fall again, when, having reloaded, I advanced on him, and administered a double dose in his ear, which had the desired effect. The fact was he was quite drunk, although not disorderly." This inclination in wolves for intemperate indulgence in the fruit of the grape is vouched for by several authorities. It would appear that the wolves during the ardent heats of August suffer greatly from thirst, and in the absence of water take to the vineyards, and there endeavor to assuage it by eating large quantities of grapes—very cool, and, no doubt, very delightful at the time, but the treacherous liquor ferments, Bacchanalian fumes soon infect the brain, and for several hours these four legged topers are literally "as drunk as beasts," and entirely deprived of their senses.—All the Year Round.

In Canton, Bradford county, the fire works for Independence Day were so carelessly handled that they all "went off" at once, giving the citizens a display which they will never again witness.

The little ones love it, and often cry for more—what? "Dr. Sellers' Cough Syrup," which cures them of coughs, colds and whooping cough.

An Irishman who had a pig in his possession was observed to adopt the constant practice of filling it to repletion one day and starving it the next. On being asked his reason for doing so, he replied: "Och, sure, and isn't it that I like to have bacon with a strake o' fat and a strake o' lane aequally, one after the t'other."

Mr. Bowen, of Gun Lake, Mich., says: "The people here cannot do without 'Sellers' Liver Pills.'" Try them.

Literary Revolution and UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE

An Encyclopædia in 20 VOLS, over 16,000 pages; 10 per cent more matter than any Encyclopædia ever before published in this country, and sold, handsomely and well bound, in cloth for $10, in half morocco for $-5, and printed on fine heavy paper, wide margins, bound in half Russia, gilt top for $20—an enterprise so extraordinary that its success, beyond all precedents in book publishing, may be fairly claimed to inaugurate a Literary Revolution

THE LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE is a reprint entire of the last (1879) Edinburg edition of "Chamber's Encyclopædia," with about 40 per per cent of new matter added, upon topics of special interest to American readers, thus making it equal in character to any similar work, better than any other suited to the wants of the great majority who consult works of reference, and altogether the latest Encyclopædia in the field

I. Publish only books of real value.
II. Work upon the basis of present cost of making books, about one-half what it was a few years ago.
III. Sell to buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent. Commission commonly allowed to dealers.
IV. The cost of books when made 10,000 at a time is but a fraction of the cost when made ten at a time—adopt the low price and sell the large quantity.
V. Use good type, paper, etc., do careful printing, and strong, neat binding, but avoid all "padding," fat and heavily-leaded type, spongy paper and gaudy binding, which are so commonly resorted to to make books appear large and fine, and which greatly add to their cost, but do not add to their value.

THE GREAT MEXICAN REMEDY.

Thousands suffering from Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Scrofula and Blood Diseases, Female Weakness, Will find the first and wonderful discovery, which as a disease conqueror and health restorer, has no equal in modern medicine. The Great Mexican Remedy was first introduced into California in 1859, where its few months it effected so many wonderful cures as to create a demand for the medicine from Maine to Florida. It cures all diseases of the Stomach, Blood and Liver, by the native plants, roots and herbs of Mexico. It cures all tumors from the worst Scrofula, to a common blotch, pimple, or eruption, while it clears and beautifies the complexion. In diseases of the Stomach, Blood, Liver and Kidneys, it has permanently cured thousands of hopeless cases where all other known remedies had failed. One dose will cure any case of Sick Headache. Two doses will break up any ordinary cough or cold. Persons suffering with Heartburn, Waterbrash Sour Stomach, Biliousness, Costiveness, Piles, Palpitation of the Heart, Low Spirits, and kindred affections, will find the Mexican remedy a swift and sure relief. The genuine is placed before the public, under the following name:

Herbaline Bitters the Great Mexican Remedy.

Call on your druggist and get a bottle of the Mexican Remedy, and convince yourself that it is the Best Medicine in the World.
