The penalty for killing any of these birds is a fine not less than $10 nor more than $50, and imprisonment not less than five nor more than thirty days.

Wilmore Briefs.

WILMORE, Pa., June 18, 1889.

EDITOR FREEMAN:—The late flood is still the theme of conversation here, as many people from this place were in the midst of the catastrophe, among which was the family of Mr. Peter Brown, of 22 Maple avenue, Woodvale, consisting of Mr. B., his son Thomas A. Brown, his daughters Sadie, Emma, Gertie and Lizzie, and his grand daughter, Miss Laura McCauliff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McCauliff, of Somerset county, Pa., who was attending school in Kernville preparatory to entering the teacher's profession. The bodies of Mr. Brown and those of his daughters Emma and Lizzie and that of Miss McCauliff have been recovered and interred in the Catholic cemetery by Mr. McCauliff's family with all the solemnity possible on this sad occasion. The funeral of Miss McCauliff was attended by all of her school mates, who brought floral offerings for the sad occasion. Mr. Brown has four children who were not in the flood, Mr. McCauliff, above mentioned, Mrs. F. A. McCormick, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Sister M. Cecelia, of the Order of Charity, Altoona, Pa., and Michael J. Brown, of Barnesville, Minn. Thomas, Sadie and Gertie Brown are also supposed to be lost, as at latest accounts, nothing had been heard from them by their friends. The sympathy of the community is with the surviving relatives, as Mr. Brown and his family were exceedingly good and generous people and were not, we trust, unprepared to meet the dread summons. Miss Emma Brown when found above the B. & O. bridge, in Stonycreek, had clasped in her arms the body of a child named Shoemaker, whom she was endeavoring to save when she met her fate. Peace to their ashes.

Another sad case among the many sad ones in Johnstown is the death of Mr. Louis Weinzirl, his wife and six children. Mr. W. formerly lived in Summerhill and was a shoemaker by trade.

John Feeney, brother of Mrs. John Schroth, of Wilmore, is reported drowned.

Jacob Bopp, whose body was found at Nineveh, was a son of Mr. John Bopp, of New Germany.

John Hess, the engineer who sounded the alarm from South Fork to Conemaugh, by running his engine down, whistling all the way, thus saving many lives, is a former Wilmore boy, and is entitled to the highest commendation. He is the real Paul Revere of the flood.

John Roehm, of Summerhill township, lost a son and two daughters in Johnstown.

Lewis Dopp was in the flood but escaped by swimming, and afterwards rescued some of his relatives.

Pat Doran was the engineer of the first section of Day Express which was lying at Conemaugh at the time of the flood, and saved himself by swimming to Prospect Hill. Pat has had several close calls but has always come out right.

Vivantius McHugh, of Conemaugh borough, had gone to the telegraph office to send a message to his mother-in-law, Mrs. P. M. Brown, of Wilmore, that his wife was very low when he was caught by the flood, but escaped to Prospect and did not get home until Sunday. The shock of the suspense almost caused the death of his wife, but she was at latest accounts recovering.

Mr. Simon Lingle, formerly of Wilmore, was injured but escaped with one son and the rest of his family perished.

Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. L. H. Linton, formerly teacher of the writer, in her sad affliction.

Next week week I will send you a true account of the condition of the reservoir before the flood. J. M.

White Township Items.

DEAR FREEMAN:—Thinking your many readers who have so generously taken chances on a cow belonging to L. A. Burgoon to aid him to purchase a team of horses would like to hear the result of the drawing. I will say the cow was rafled off on the 15th in the village of St. Augustine and Thomas Richardson, of Frugality, was the lucky man. Mr. Burgoon extends many thanks to those who have so generously assisted him in his misfortune.

The late floods did considerable damage in White township in the way of carrying off bridges, fences, logs, etc.

The crops are all looking good except the corn, and there is very poor prospects for that crop since the flood and the depredation of the cut worms.

Mr. S. J. Luther received an addition to his Holstein, Fresian, herd of cattle last week from Chester county, they are beauties and if he continues he will make a show on the cattle in his neighborhood in a few years. He has also commenced breeding and shipping the Yorkshire breed of hogs. His stock is pure bred and of high pedigree.

News being scarce I will for the want of a better name call myself

SCRIBBLER.

It Takes a Better Nine.

Last Tuesday the Altoona base ball club came to Ebensburg for the purpose of "doing up" the home club, but before the game was over they found out that they would have to go home a defeated nine. Only six innings were played. Following is the score.

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6
Altoona	0	0	1	1	0	1—3
Ebensburg	3	6	3	0	2	*—14

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED.

The following marriage licenses were issued by the Clerk of the Orphans' Court for week ending Wednesday, June 19, 1889:

Jamiah Fisher and Mary Wills, Croyle township.

Shannon Hershberger and Clara McAteer, Johnstown.

Isaac O. Rowland and Margaret Humphreys, Johnstown.

John H. Thompson and Maggie L. Thomas, Johnstown.

Testimonial to a Faithful Priest.

The following notice of a testimonial to a worthy priest, well known in Cambria Co., where he has many friends and relatives we take from a recent number the Catholic Columbian published at Columbus, Ohio.

An unusual scene both solemn and sad was witnessed after the Vesper services in Holy Trinity Church, Somerset, O., last Sunday.

There had been throughout the day a solemn quiet and deep solemnity resting throughout the congregation. It was the last day that Rev. Father Noon, was to serve at the altar as Holy Trinity's pastor. After 20 years of faithful care and watchfulness over his devoted flock they were to separate. The shepherd going into retirement for rest, and as he expressed himself "to prepare for another world." If this good man and shepherd has not been preparing for it for the last 20 years, and is not now prepared no man has or will be. The flock remains in the fold with a new shepherd, Rev. Father Flood.

The severing of old ties of love and friendship are always hard to be borne, especially so were they in this case.

The tender relationship existing—the intimate knowledge of each other as pastor and members of the Church through so many years of close personal acquaintance, was very endearing—all his kind acts, all his noble works, all his sacrifices for the good of the Church and the welfare of his people both spiritual and temporal were passing in rapid review in their minds and clouding them with sadness. But it was the will of God that they part, and bowing humbly and sorrowfully to the Divine decree they submitted, knowing that "He ordereth all things well." They will always retain his fervent piety and zeal and all his good work in their hearts and with grateful remembrance.

He has left an enduring monument in the beautiful and substantial building known as St. Mary's Novitiate. From the first of his assignment to Holy Trinity Church, he resolved to erect a Convent building upon the site of the destroyed old St. Mary's, of happy memory. It was the study of his days and nights and the object of his prayers. How well he succeeded, through what trials and tribulations he passed are well known, and it is also known that he saved thousands of dollars in its construction by the labor of his own hands. We can never look at that work of Father Noon's without seeing him with the eyes of our mind, as we have seen him a thousand times with our natural eyes, busy in carrying out the earnest desire of his soul. God bless him in his retirement at dear old St. Joseph's! There may be find the rest his body so much needs from its weary labors, and that peace and comfort his soul craves!

But to return to the scene we alluded to. Some two weeks before, it was learned that Father Noon was about to retire, at his special request, to St. Joseph's. Some of the leading members of the congregation took the matter in hand, organized in behalf of the congregation, and appointed the following committees:

On Finance, John Yoerger, J. D. McKinney, Henry Walker, John Gallin, Joseph A. Flautt, and E. Kempf.

On Testimonial Address, Hon. W. E. Finck, J. J. Magruder, Wm. Snider, Thomas Scanlan, Ed. Kuhns, and L. V. Kullman.

The committee on finance presented Father Noon with a new outfit of clothing and a handsome purse of money. They besides paid off all the indebtedness of the church, so that he could leave his charge free from encumbrance.

The committee on testimonial presented the following address at the hands of their distinguished chairman, Hon. W. E Finck:

TESTIMONIAL.

Very Rev. and Dear Father Noon:—At a meeting of a number of the members of Holy Trinity Church congregation lately held, the following was unanimously adopted, and the undersigned committee was requested, on behalf of the congregation, to present the same to you, as an expression of their sentiments and feeling.

When we heard a few weeks ago that you had asked permission from the Very Rev. Provincial to be released of your charge of Holy Trinity Congregation and to be retired to St. Joseph's Convent, our hearts were filled with sorrow, but as the time draws near for the separation we feel how painful it is to part from one who has for more than twenty years been our beloved and devoted pastor, and we cannot refrain from tendering you this public expression of our deep felt attachment, sincere regard, and the high esteem we entertain and will always cherish for you and to return you our most grateful thanks for your untiring zeal and labor for our spiritual and temporal welfare.

The rebuilding of St. Mary's Academy will always stand as a monument to your industry, self sacrifice, and devotion to the advancement of the educational interests of our people. Behold the the improvements added by you to Holy Trinity Church, and to the pastoral residence, evinced the zeal and interest which continually actuated you in our behalf.

But above and beyond all this you have been, during these many years, to us an example of every virtue and your life with us has been a continual sermon. You have led us by your kindness, meekness, and sweet temper along the path of duty, and we have always found you, not only the devoted Pastor, but an indulgent and affectionate father.

We among us has been in affliction and sorrow, that you have not soothed and comforted by your tender sympathy and paternal kindness, and which one of us has had cause to be sad and be glad, and you have not also rejoiced with us, so that your life among us has been characterized by that of the good Shepherd, save in the fact that knew no interruption for our spiritual welfare.

We now unite in tendering you our affectionate and heartfelt thanks, and to beg of you, that in your retirement at dear old St. Joseph's you will not forget us in your prayers, that we may all have the grace to lead Christian lives, and finally be united in the happiness of heaven."

As Mr. Finck finished the reading of the testimonial the Old Father and present were much affected. On the Rev. Father's part too much so, to do much speaking. Father Noon's thanks were returned in a few feeling words that went to the hearts of his hearers, assuring them he should never forget his children who have always been so kind to him.

The committee before they returned to their respective homes, called upon the newly appointed Pastor, Rev. Father Flood, and paid their respects.

The Public Will Appreciate It.

The public are indebted to the Royal Baking Powder Company not more for having perfected and prepared a leavening agent that is pure and wholesome beyond a question than for its exposures, so boldly made, of the numerous impure, adulterated and injurious articles that are sold under the name of baking powders, bread preparations, etc., throughout the country. In making these exposures the company has, of course, made itself the target for all of counter attacks, but the animus of these attacks has been perfectly understood by the general public, and by their very viru ence have served to more prominently call attention to the good work of the "Royal" Company.

Ordinary adulterations such as are found in coffee, spices, etc., although they are swindles in a commercial sense, are often tolerated because they do not particularly affect the health of the consumer. But when an article like baking powder, that is relied upon for the healthful preparation of almost every meal, is so made as to carry highly injurious if not rankly poisonous elements into our daily food, it is the duty of the public authorities to take cognizance of it.

In this fight for pure food made by the "Royal" Company, it is to be noticed that the most trustworthy scientific authorities are emphatically upon its side. In all the contests of this company with the alum and other impure baking bowders the result has proved that every statement made by the Royal Baking Powder Company, both as to the purity of its own and the adulteration of other baking powders of the market, was fully authorized by the most competent chemical and medical authorities of the country.

In this contest two facts have been pretty conclusively settled in the minds of the public—the first that the Royal Company has found the means, and uses them, to make a chemically pure article of food; and the other that the market is full of poisonous, alum and other adulterated baking powders which, no matter how strongly endorsed by "commercial" chemists, are to be studiously avoided.

A pure baking powder is one of the chief aids to the cook in preparing perfect and wholesome food. The recent controversy in the press has left it no longer a question with those who desire purity and wholesomeness of food what baking powder they shall use.

To Atlantic City via Pennsylvania Railroad.

The outlook for the summer season of Atlantic City was never so promising as it is at present, and the prosperous City by the Sea was never so good a condition for entertaining and amusing its summer guests. Entertainment in the sense of affording food and shelter is all that is required of the Atlantic City people, Nature furnishes the rest, and she lays sea and sand, sky and wind under tribute to aid in accomplishing her purpose. The great Seaside City of summer pleasure, resourceful as it is in all that is attractive and beneficial on sea and land, could never attain to its high standard of popularity if Nature's ally, the railroad, did not lend its efficient aid in rendering access so easy that the average traveler counts the trip as nothing.

The facilities afforded by the Pennsylvania Railroad's seashore branches will be greatly improved for the coming season. They have always been maintained on a scale of liberality unapproached by those enjoyed by any other watering place, but a progressive spirit will, this summer, be manifested in many and striking improvements. The summer schedule will go into effect on June 29th, and it will present a service of trains superior in number, speed, and equipment to that of any previous year. The roadway of both the West Jersey and Camden and Atlantic roads have been reballasted and relaid in many portions in anticipation of an improved, accelerated, and increased service, so that the new schedule will find both of the Pennsylvania's Atlantic City lines in prime physical condition. A large number of express trains are promised, and the very quick time of transit heretofore made between the Delaware and the ocean will be materially reduced.

An innovacation, which hard-working business men will appreciate and the residents of suburban town and neighboring cities will find most convenient, is a late evening train from Philadelphia. It is proposed that this train shall leave Philadelphia about 6:30 P. M., after all the afternoon connections are in and all business is over, and arrive in Atlantic City for late supper. It will undoubtedly prove a popular movement, and will oftentimes save much hurry and annoyance. Another new feature will be a late train up, leaving Atlantic City at 10:30 P. M. for Philadelphia, enabling visitors to spend the evening with friends and return the same night. Other fast trains will run at convenient hours of the day in both directions, so that every one may find a leaving and arriving hour to his taste.

Two new trains of considerable importance have been added to the schedule within the past week—one an early morning train, designed to deliver the newspapers in Atlantic City before breakfast, and the other an early train up for the accommodation of those who would be in Philadelphia before nine o'clock.

The equipment of the summer trains will be greatly improved by the use of new coaches and by the substitution of new Altoona built Parlor Cars, such as are run between New York and Washington, for the old Woodruff Parlor Cars that the march of progress has left behind.

With these superior facilities, and the advantages offered by a centrally located station easily accessible from all portions of the city, and in direct connection with Broad Street Station, travel to Atlantic City by the Pennsylvania Railroad holds out to its patrons to the strongest inducements of promptness, readiness, and comfort.

Whiskey Kills.

How often are we yet to be told that whiskey kills? Arsenic kill; opium kills, and so do hundreds of other good remedies kill if abused instead of used. But ask the question, "Will whiskey cure?" "Yes!" is the positive reply of the most eminent physicians of all the land. Disease steals into your system like a sneak thief into your house, and often by neglecting a bad cold, we end our days in lingering, and wishing for health—when, indeed, one bottle of Pure Whiskey or Brandy would have cured the cold. Such goods may be scarce, but they can be found at Max Kleins, 82 Federal street, Allegheny. His "Silver Age" is the only whisky endorsed by the doctors. You can get the pure Guckenheimer, Finch or Gibson Rye at $1.00 per quart or six quarts for $5.00 Send for price list.
