A Visit To Gen. Walker's Camp.

A correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune, on a visit to General Walker's camp at Rivas, writes on the 2d ult.

"Although it was nearly two o'clock in the morning, Walker was seated on his sofa, giving one of his officers directions for the morrow.—Being left alone, after a few words of recognition (for we were in 1851 brother newspaper scribblers in San Francisco,) he asked in a careless way, and in his habitual soft, half-traveling voice, some questions in regard to the closing of the river against him by the Costa Ricans, the first news of which we had just brought from Panama. He did not appear the least disturbed at the intelligence, and I doubt were an earthquake rocking his house from its foundation, if he would show the least concern. But Walker has been so often described to your readers that a new picture would be superfluous. I was much struck, however, with the change that three years of exposure to the tropical sun of Sonora and Nicaragua, their chills and fevers and anxiety, though he never appears to feel any, have produced in his face. He is only thirty-three years of age, but no one would take him for less than forty."

The same writer adds:

"The whole force under Walker's command before the battle of St. George amounted to 800 men. He had in his two hospitals at Rivas about one hundred and fifty sick and wounded. I counted seventy-five in one hospital, and was told that the other had a little larger number.—There may be two hundred more about the camp, consisting of hostlers, cooks, servants and useless loafers, who receive rations. The fifty men from California made up the loss at St. George.

"The men look well, Rivas, at this season, being very healthy. A fresh, invigorating breeze comes off the lake, tempering the hot sun, and making the nights cool and delicious. But in six weeks there will be a change of weather, with less winds and more heat, and then probably the troops will suffer some by sickness. Most of the cases in the hospitals are old ones from Granada, where the climate is extremely fatal to foreigners. Some of Walker's officers estimate that he buried from 1,500 to 2,000 men there.

"Walker's officers are all excellent fighting men, and have no idea they can be whipped if they can bring the 'greasers' to a pitched battle, no matter what their force. The men are also eager for a fight, not so much for the sake of fighting as from a hope of terminating the war, a large portion of them seeming to be heartily tired of it. The little army has powder and lead enough, but is short of round-shot and shell. They have a considerable quantity of corn and jerked beef in the city, and foraging parties are constantly bringing in cattle."

Cumberland County Normal School,
NEWVILLE, PA.
FACULTY:

D. SHELLY,
Principal, and Professor of the Art and Theory of Teaching.

D. E. KAST,
Professor of Elocution and Grammar.

S. B. HEIGES,
Professor of Mathematics.

F. M. L. GILLELEN,
Professor of Natural Sciences.

GEORGE SWARTZ,
Principal of Model Schools.

J. H. HOSTETTER,
Teacher of Intermediate Department of Model Schools.

MISS M. SHELLY,
Teacher in Primary Department in Model Schools.

This Institution will be opened for the reception of pupils on Wednesday, the 8th of April, 1857.

BUILDINGS AND LOCATION.

This school will occupy the convenient and tasteful building of the "Big Spring Literary Institute," in the borough of Newville, by whose munificent liberality it has been donated for the use of the School.

The building is a spacious brick edifice, seventy by forty feet, three stories in height, and affords ample room for hall, recitation rooms, &c.

The town of Newville affords unequalled advantages for the location of this school. Easy of access, healthy, and situated in a highly intelligent community; it offers a desirable situation for the teacher and student to vigorously prosecute their studies.

DESIGN.

The Board of Trustees, composed of one Director from each school district in Cumberland county, have established the school with the design that teachers may be properly trained and qualified in the different branches, necessary for a proper prosecution of their professional duties; and, to furnish as far as possible, a model of a well organized and efficiently conducted school, to all others who may desire to attend, and prepare themselves for other positions in life.

COURSE OF STUDIES.

The annexed list of studies is arranged in departments, without regard to the order in which the various branches will be pursued, or to the length of time which may be devoted to them.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE.—The Elementary sounds, Spelling and Definition of words, Reading, Elocution, English Grammar, Composition including Rhetoric, the Art of Debate.

MATHEMATICS.—Oral or Mental Arithmetic, Written Arithmetic, Practical Mathematics, Mensuration, Algebra, Geometry, Surveying, Mathematical Geography, including the use of Globes.

NATURAL SCIENCES.—Descriptive and Physical Geography, and the use of the Globes, Astronomy, with illustrations by Magic Lantern, Maps, Planisphere, &c., Human and Comparative Physiology, Natural Philosophy, with apparatus. Elements of Chemistry.

THEORY AND PRACTICE OF TEACHING. Intellectual Philosophy, the study of School Systems, Lectures on Education and the details of Teaching, Practice in Model Schools. Vocal music throughout the course.

Students who do not design to become teachers can select their studies from the above list, and will be classified according to attainments.

LECTURES ON TEACHING.—These lectures will be frequent and practical, and comprehend the best modes of application of instruction and discipline in schools. Although not relied upon as the chief basis of instruction; yet, in connection, with a rigid study of Text Books, their utility is unquestionable, and fully acknowledged. The catechetical mode will be discarded.—The student will be expected to master his subjects, and recite them in clear, and well-chosen language of his own.

MODEL SCHOOLS.—There will be three Model Schools connected with the Normal School, which will be at all times open for observation and practice. The Normal student will be frequently called upon by the Principal to take part in the management, and to adapt a proper system and method in his attempts to teach the young.

DISCIPLINE.—No school can prosper without good discipline. The government of the Normal and Model Departments will be such as to afford a model worthy of imitation in our public schools. It will be rigid and impartial, yet relying much upon the self-respect of the pupil. Dismissal will follow all immorality and ungentlemanly deportment.

TERMS OF TUITION.

Sessions will continue three months. The tuition will be $5 per three months, including the use of apparatus, &c., payable in advance to J H. Herron, Esq., Treasurer, Newville, Pa. No extra charges will be allowed for any purpose.—No deduction made for absence. Books, Stationery, &c., will be furnished at Philadelphia retail prices.

BOARD.

Good board can be obtained in respectable families at $2,25 per week, including all except washing. The pupils will frequently be visited by the members of the Faculty, and a care exercised over them at all times.

CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

Male pupils must be sixteen years of age, and female pupils fifteen. Satisfactory evidence of good moral character must be furnished, and the pupils must have healthy constitutions.

EXAMINATIONS.

There will be public examinations at the close of each term, both in Normal and Model schools, which the public is invited to attend. A certificate will be awarded to those who give satisfactory evidence of accurate attainments combined with ability to teach.

TEXT BOOKS.

Webster's Dictionary, Saunders' Series of Readers, Pelton's Outline Maps, Greenleaf's Arithmetic, Bonnycastle's Mensuration, Davies' Legendre, Gummere's and Gillespie's Surveying, Parker's Philosophy, Burritt's Astronomy, Cutter's Physiology, Quackenboss' Rhetoric and Composition, Saunders' Elocutionary Chart, Silliman's Chemistry, Covell's Digest of English Grammar.

VISITATIONS.

The Normal and Model schools will be open to visitors during the term through all regular session hours. Citizens of the county and strangers are cordially invited to visit them at their convenience.

An Ordinance
Relative to Snow on the Pavements & Sidewalks.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted and ordained by the Town Council of the Borough of Carlisle, and it is hereby enacted and ordained by the authority of the same, That hereafter it shall be the duty of each and every owner and occupier of property within this Borough, whether corporations or individuals, to remove all snow or slush that may fall on the pavements or sidewalks in front of or along any lot or property in the inhabited part of the town limits where persons are accustomed to pass and repass on foot, within twelve daylight hours after the same shall have fallen: And all such owners and occupiers shall be liable to a penalty of Five Dollars for every neglect of the requirements of this Ordinance, to be collected as other penalties are collected.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the High Constable after every fall of snow or slush that may incommode the walking or render it disagreeable, and after the owners and occupiers of property have had a reasonable time to remove said snow or slush from the pavements and sidewalks in front of their properties, to go around the different streets of the Borough, to the end of each street so far as it is inhabited, and whenever the snow or slush shall not have been sufficiently removed from the pavements or sidewalks, he shall notify the owner or occupier of the property in front of which the said snow or slush shall not have been sufficiently removed, to remove the same. And the said High Constable for giving such notice shall be entitled to demand and sue for the sum of Twenty-five cents, to be paid by the person to whom said notice has been given; and in case said snow or slush be not immediately removed, after such notice given, it shall be the duty of the High Constable to remove, or employ some one to remove the same, for which service he shall be entitled to demand and sue for the sum of fifty cents for every hour (or less time if one hour is not occupied) that may be occupied in removing said snow or slush. And it shall be his imperative duty also, in the latter cases, to give information to a Justice of the Peace of the violation of the 1st section of this ordinance, and see that the penalty for the same is also collected for the use of the Borough. Provided, That no person shall be obliged to expose or uncover in winter the box at or near the edge of a pavement which contains a street wash.

SEC. 3. Where any property within the Borough is owned or occupied by any corporation, the notice provided for in the second section of this ordinance, may be served on the President or any officer of said corporation; and the said President or officer so receiving said notice shall be personally liable for the price that may be demanded by the High Constable for removing the snow or slush, as provided for in the second section of this ordinance; this, however, not being intended to relieve the corporation from its payment, if the High Constable shall choose to resort to said corporation for payment.

Enacted and passed by the Town Council of the Borough of Carlisle, the 12th day of February, A. D. 1857.
