The Velocipede half a Century Ago.

William Howitt, in his Visits to Remarkable Places, a book published in 1841, makes mention of the velocipede, on this wise. The passage is taken from a description of Alnwick castle, the ancient seat of the Percy family: "Among the curiosities laid up here are two velocipedes—machines which twenty years ago were for a short period much in vogue. One young man of my acquaintance rode on one of these wooden horses all the way from London to Falkirk in Scotland, and was requested at various towns to exhibit his management of it to the ladies and gentlemen of the place; he afterwards made a long excursion in France upon it. He was a very adroit velocipedian, and was always very much amused with the circumstances of a gentleman meeting him on the highway by the river side, who, requesting to be allowed to try it, and being shown how he must turn the handle in order to guide it, set off with great spirit, but turning the handle the wrong way, soon found himself hurrying to the edge of the river, where, in his flurry, instead of turning the handle the other way, he began lustily shouting "whoa! whoa!" and so crying plunged headlong into the stream. The duke's horse, which he laid up here for the gratification of posterity, was I believe, not so unruly; yet I was told its pranks caused it to be disused, and here stabled. It is said that the duke and his physicians used to amuse themselves with careering about the grounds on these steeds; but one day, being somewhere on the terrace, his grace's Trojan steed cap sized and rolled over and over with him down the green bank, much to the amusement of a troop of urchins who were mounted on a wall by the road to witness this novel kind of racing. On account of this accident the velocipede was laid up in lavender, and a fine specimen of the breed it is.

Can't Steal Enough.

The members of the Pennsylvania Legislature want their pay increased from one thousand to fifteen hundred dollars. If they can not make up the difference out of the lobby they are a poor set of legislators and ought to emigrate to this State and be sent to Albany; or, if they have influence enough, go to Washington, where the greenbacks are so plenty that members of Congress paper their walls with them and Pacific Railroad bonds.—New York Herald.

Our bonds in London went up 81½ on Tuesday, the highest figure they have ever attained. This is the result of a growing confidence in our securities and a hopeful feeling as to the wisdom of General Grant's administration, stimulated more immediately by the passage of the bill declaring our bonds payable in gold. Five-twenties are thus at a discount of about eighteen per cent. If the item of exchange be taken into consideration they are only twelve or thirteen per cent. below par.

ANDREW JOHNSON'S vetoes will render vetoes so ridiculous that no future Executive will indulge in the luxury without measuring the effect well beforehand. The Copper Tariff bill was returned to the House vetoed on Tuesday. Some half dozen short speeches were made, and the bill was then passed over the vetoe—115 to 56.

SEVERAL English gentlemen who went last September to Virginia to spend some time in hunting in the Blue ridge, were so delighted with the country that they purchased a large track on the Manassas railroad, near Gainesville. A colony of English will settle on the land in the spring.

POOR FUN.—A boy named Henry Johnson, living near Adrian, Mich., climbed into an apple-tree, back of a farmer's house, the other night, and imitated the hooting of an owl so accurately that the farmer rushed out and put nine buckshot into him. It is said that Henry has not hooted since.

THE State Auditor of North Carolina was committed to jail recently by the Supreme Judge for contempt of court in refusing to comply with an order of the court. The papers in the Auditor's office were seized and piled up in a confused heap in a passage-way of the Capitol.

IT is a fact not generally known perhaps that Washington drew his last breath in the last hour of the last day of the last week in the last month of the year, and the last year of the century. He died on Saturday night, 12 o'clock, December 31st, 1799.

AT Peoria, Ill., recently a convention of grape-growers sat down to a repast, which was washed down by native wine furnished from 225 samples. The fact shows to what an important point the manufacture of American wine will soon attain.

THERE are twelve New York city clergymen receiving over ten thousand dollars a year for their clerical services, and a hundred ministers in the same city who do not receive over one-tenth that amount each.

THE Methodist Episcopal Church South has 35,040 members, including 6311 traveling and local preachers. They have churches as far north as Baltimore, southern Illinois, California and Oregon. There are 2561 members reported in Illinois.

CHARLES READE wisely and liberally says that when men are forever handling heaps of money, it is prudent to fortify them doubly against temptation, with self-respect and a sufficient salary.

IT IS A FACT!

Capable of ocular demonstration, that the prices of Cloths, Cassimeres, Ready-Made Clothing and Furnishing Goods, are less than one-half what they were during the war, at the Merchant Tailoring establishment of

S. S. RATHVON,

Corner North Queen and Orange Streets, opposite Shober's Hotel, Lancaster, Pa.

This is the oldest establishment in this line of trade in Lancaster county, and is selling, at this time, fine Moscow, Esquimaux, and common Beaver Overcoats from $15 to $20; Common Union Beavers from $10 to $15; Common Union Beaver Business Suits from $12 to $15; Good Cassimere Suits from $16 to $20, and fine qualities from $25 to $30. A few suits on hand as low as $10. Cloths, Cassimeres and Trimmings as low as they can be obtained anywhere else, and sold by the yard to those who may wish to have them made at home, or elsewhere.

Overcoats, Dress Coats and Business Suits made to order with dispatch, and in the best and most fashionable manner, as the customer may desire. All kinds of cutting and repairing done at reasonable prices. An entire new stock got up for the Fall and Winter trade of 1868 and 1869, and manufactured in the city of Lancaster. It would be to the interest of the public to call and realize that "IT IS A FACT."
