Scenes From The Hunt

Jim McMath, loves to restore old John Deere tractors. He has seven models on display at the fair.

Gene Shore, left, editor emeritus, Huntingdon Daily News, and Everett Newswanger, Lancaster Farming editor, compare fair notes. Shore is known for his excellent coverage of the Huntingdon Fair for many years. Newswanger was the committee's Tuesday guest and took photos as part of a special tour of the fair. Each year, the fair committee invites what they call celebrity guests to be part of the festivities.
