WATER CO.'S PLEA DENIED

New Jersey's Utility Board Will Not Permit "Ready-to-Serve" Charge

Trenton, Oct. 18.—The Board of Public Utility Commissioners today denied the petition of the New Jersey Water Service Company asking the privilege of adding a war surcharge on its rates.

The company desired to impose an extra 25-cent "ready-to-serve" charge on its customers, basing its plea on the ground that the operating expense of the concern increased greatly last year through the rise on the cost of fuel and the increase in other expenses.

"Yes dear—
Kolb's Bond Bread is helping to pay off the Liberty Bonds

"I'VE been putting something over on you, Jack. During the last three months, I've saved out $50 from my house money to help pay off our Liberty Bonds."

"But what have you been doing, Nell? How the dickens could you save $50 when everything has gone up in price, the way it has?"

"Well, for one thing, I've stopped baking bread at home. It costs less to buy Kolb's Bond Bread, and I've got a lot more time since I quit baking.

"And believe me, Jack, a woman's time is valuable nowadays. I thought I had to buy a lot of winter underwear for you, for instance, Jack—and when you find all my patches, please don't kick. You see I saved several dollars, just because I had time enough to make them last for another winter.

"The same way with my clothes. So, in addition to squeezing out a little extra savings to pay for our Liberty Bonds, you see, Jack, I'm freeing labor to help Uncle Sam smash the Kaiser."
