THE BEAVER ARGUS.
January 30th, 1867.

LOCAL and MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

The attention of the public is directed to the following new advertisements which appear for the first time in the Argus to-day:

Administrator's Notice—W. H. & W. J. Davis.

Administrator's Notice—Peter G. B. Hunt & S. H. Darragh.

Dentistry—T. J. Chandler, & Co.

Local notices—Watt Gealy.

W. Dissman, Jr., of Fifth st., Pittsburg, is the authorized agent for the Argus in that city.

See Gealy's advertisement in another column.

Found.—A lady's breast-pin was found a few days ago on Third street, Beaver, Pa. The owner can have the same by calling at Griffin's Photograph Gallery, in this place.

We congratulate our Presbyterian friends of New Brighton for having an elegant organ, we understand, to the energy of our enterprising friend, James H. Stokes.

Concerts.—Prof. Orevington, teacher of music, will give a concert with his pupils, at the Lutherian church, in Rochester, on Friday evening. The Prof. has a large class in that place, also one in Bridgewater and New Brighton, each.

Grand closing out sale of furs at Gealy's.

Iron Chimney-Tops.—The good people of Rochester have ascended the ladder of progress as high as Iron Chimney-Tops, which is quite out of reach of the commonality, and so independant as to have them manufactured within their own borough, at J. Anderson's. The patent is claimed by W. B. Faber.

Furs! Furs! Call and see Gealy's furs at less than cost.

Discharged on Recognizance.—As will be seen by reference to the proceedings of the adjourned court, Maria Gordon, et al., who were arrested on suspicion of murder of Thos. Middleton, have been discharged upon their own recognizance. The ground for this discharge appears to be a want of evidence. The whole affair of the disappearance of Mr. Middleton is as much shrouded in mystery as ever.

Supper to Judge Acheson.—On Wednesday the members of the bar and officers of the Court gave a complimentary supper to Judge Acheson at the National Hotel. About forty gentlemen partook of the sumptious repast.—Judge Acheson has made a very favorable impression upon our citizens, not only by his judicial ability, but by his courtous and affable demeanor.

Ladies' rubber shoes and drawers at Gealy's cheap as ever.

Mr. D. Marquis, Sr., has left at this office the following riddle for solution: "In Prussia there lived a blind beggar; that blind beggar had a brother; that brother died; the man who died had no relation; then was the blind beggar to the man that died?" Who cancel? Ans. next week.

School Examination.—An examination of the pupils of the Public School in Rochester, will take place on Thursday and Friday next, by the different teachers and the principal, Mr. Russell. Those who are inclined to the belief that a public school cannot be successfully conducted by the gentler sex, should not fail to present at this examination, and respectably entertained they will be. Friday afternoon Mr. Russell will have a room full of visitors, and witness a very fair test of their ability, and thus have this belief dissipated.

Remember country flannels, warranted, at Gealy's, cheaper than ever.

We incidentally learn that Mr. Sheik, from whom we spoke last week in connection with a Machinery horse case, feels aggrieved at our notice. We did not hear in what part he considered Mr. S. injustice, and assure him if such is so, we know what our error is, we will gladly correct it. We do not wish to wrong any one but we no doubt occasionally do so in calling up our local news.

No trouble to show goods at Gealy's.

Oil Run.—The Lawrence Journal of the 11th inst., says: "On the 5th inst., a company of our citizens struck oil on the Slipperyrock, in this county, which it is supposed will yield at least fifty barrels per day. They have tubed out their tubing and will soon have the well in operation. The well is located a few rods above the Lawrence well.

Blockaded.—The Somerset Herald and Democrat says that the average depth of the snow, where not drifted, in that county at the present time is three feet, and that the drifts in some localities are twenty-five feet deep.—The result is, the good people of that place are just now doing with an occasional mail, and have the satisfaction of reading news that is old enough to be entirely out of time.—They have our sympathy, and we trust the blockade will be raised in the course of time.

Millinery, trimmings, hosiery and gloves very cheap, at Gealy's.

Sold Hog.—James Beaty, of South Beaver township, brought to market in this place on Saturday last, a hog of eighteen months' growth which weighed 590 pounds—clean weight. Mr. Border was the purchaser.—Local.

All bosh.—We are requested to say that the pork brought to town by "James Beaty, of South Beaver township" weighed 314 pounds—or 276 pounds less than the Local has it.—Mr. Border was the purchaser, and at 8 cts per pound his hog cost him $25.12. We wonder if the Democratic Committee intend running Mr. Beaty for Poor House Director next year, and employing this occasion to induce the people to believe that he is an excellent farmer." Mr. B. may be one of the very best agriculturalists in the world for aught we know, but we submit that his friends have taken a very shabby and shallow way of demonstrating it.

Snow Sleighing, &c.—For the benefit of our sister editors, we note the fact that we have had pleasant weather, an occasional fall of snow, and excellent sleighing.

Allegheny Court.—An application was made in the Court of Common Pleas of this county on the 23d instant, by Hiram Rhodes, Esq., of the Bar, in behalf of Ben Perley Poore, of Mass., to have the proceedings of the court, the commission of Judge Acheson having been read, his honor delivered a brief but appropriate address to the members of the Bar, in which he shadowed forth a number of reforms he intended to initiate, calculated to facilitate the business and guard against those frivolous delays so common at the present time.

Mr. Fetterman presented a pardon from the Governor for Ebenezer Martin, some time since convicted of the crime of seduction. He was however, to enter into recognizance to answer the charge of fornication and bastardy, of which he was also found guilty.

The Habeas corpus cases—Commonwealth vs Paris, Hall, Gordon, and Ann Waters—were called up, and on suggestion, and at instance of District Attorney and counsel for prosecution, the Court discharged the prisoner, on each entering into recognizance in the sum of $1000 to appear at March Term.

Commonwealth, vs. James Logan—charged with involuntary manslaughter—taken up, a number of witnesses called and examined, after which the defendant was discharged. Mr. Logan was conductor on a train of cars on the P. Ft. W. & R. R., from which, last fall at New Brighton, a little boy, 7 or 8 years of age, was thrown by the sudden backing of the train, and killed.

Jos. Penny and Sarah Cisco brought up on process, and sentenced to pay the costs on prosecutions brought by them.

Wm. Kennedy vs. H. M. Mendenhall—two cases: scire facias to revive judgements—argued by Hice for plaintiff and Wilson for defendant. The balance of the civil list was continued until March Term.

Judge Acheson was in very feeble health, so feeble indeed that the Court was brought to a sudden close. Yet by his readiness and promptitude in the dispatch of business, he raised himself very high in the estimation of all who were present during the session of the court. It is to be hoped most sincerely, that he will speedily recover from the illness which has so prostrated his system.

Ben Perley Poore Rivalled.—Ben Perley Poore, of Mass., is a somewhat celebrated character in his locality. Some years ago much ado was made over the fact that he wheeled a barrel of apples from his home to Boston on a wheelbarrow—a distance of six miles. This was a pretty fair exhibition of strength and endurance, but we have a gentleman in Beaver, who, if he does not "knock the balls" off of Ben, at least equals him in these qualities. Joseph Hall, Esq., of this place, the keeper of the National Hotel, purchased a sleigh last week at Roger's Ferry, in this county; and not having a horse with him at the time, determined on "pushing it up himself. Accordingly at it he went, and in the short space of two hours he brought up in front of his own hotel, having taken the "institution" up-hill and down, for eight miles without assistance from horse or man. Considering Mr. Hall's age—about sixty—we take it that this feat is pretty hard to beat.

Schools in Beaver County.—We have for some time past been anticipating the report of the Superintendent of Common Schools of the State, but as yet it has not reached us. When it comes to hand we shall take pleasure in laying that part of it before our readers which relates to our own county. In the meantime, however, we have obtained from other sources the following highly interesting information touching the number of schools, months taught, teachers, salaries, &c., for this county during the past year:

Schools, 166; average of months taught, 5; teachers: male, 76 female, 104; average salaries of male teachers per month, $35.71; of female teachers, 25.83; number of male scholars, 4,075; of female, 3,699; cost of teaching per scholar, per month, $0.73; receipts for school purposes, $35,512.37.

Refractory.—On Friday last, an inmate of the Poor House became refractory, and having no "decent respect" for "moral suasion," was taken in tow by the officials and handed over to Sheriff Littell. He calls himself "Fremont," and, we believe, hails originally from Venango county. Being able to do some work, he was requested to "develop" in that line, but utterly and peremptorily refused to do so, and threatened to break things up generally, and do many other vicious things, if similar requests were made of him. Under the circumstances it was thought prudent to bring him to jail, where he would injure no one, and where his turbulent disposition would have an opportunity of quietly cooling down.

Not Stolen.—The pocket-book belonging to Capt. John Tiepold, containing twenty-five hundred dollars, and referred to by us last week as having been stolen by a stranger who took breakfast at the same table with him near Baden, proves not to have been stolen after all. Mr. Tiepold hung his overcoat which contained the money over the back of a sofa, and the pocket-book slipping out of his pocket, fell behind it, and was not found until the next day. The stranger was therefore guiltless, and Mr. Tiepold decidedly careless in the handling of large sums of money.

Death by Starvation.—A few days ago a woman in Darlington died very suddenly, under the following circumstances: Her husband was an artist by occupation, and with his family had recently moved to that place from Pittsburgh. He went out in the evening, as was supposed, to procure provisions, and on his return found his wife dead in her chair.—A post mortem examination, taken with the fact that nothing in the line of food could be found about the house, save a small quantity of corn meal, lead to the conclusion that she died of starvation.

At the annual meeting of the stock-holders of the New Castle & Beaver Valley R. R. company, at their office, in New Castle, on Monday last, the following gentlemen were elected to manage the affairs of the company for the ensuing year. President, A. L. Crawford, of New Castle; Directors—G. W. Cass, of Pittsburg; R. W. Cunningham, William Patterson, of New Castle; John M. Crawford, of Philadelphia; Wm. M. Scott, of Erie; William Hadaugh, of Pittsburgh; Treasurer—Jas. A. Crawford, of New Castle; Secretary—J. W. Blanchard, of New Castle.

Gealy can be found at the corner of Bridge and Market streets, Bridgewater, Pa.

Married.—On Sunday evening last, some one entered the house of Mr. James Crawford, of this place, and stolen a carpet sack belonging to Mr. John Reesberger, who is at work for Mr. C. The carpet sack contained twenty dollars besides his clothing, all of which were taken by the thief. The Crawfords with the exception of a coat were found in the sack near morning. Quite a quantity of clothing belonging to Mrs. Crawford was also taken out of the house, but was found in the stable. The robbery is supposed to have taken place between dusk and 9 o'clock at night, for at the latter period the articles were found to be missing. What makes the robbery a very singular one, is the fact that the family were in the house all the while, and it appears almost impossible that a person could have entered the building and committed the crime without being heard or seen.

The loss will fall quite heavily upon Mr. Rosenberger, who is said to be an industrious young blacksmith, and who, no doubt, accumulated the money by hard labor.

Obituary.

At a regular meeting of Beaver Lodge No. 366, held on the evening of Jan. 22d, 1867, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to remove from us our much respected and lamented Brother, Ira Blanchard, Deputy worthy Grand Patriarch of this District;

Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to the will of Him, who rules the Heaven and Earth, but at the same time, we deeply feel and deplore the loss of our beloved Brother and associate.

Resolved, That we do sincerely sympathize with the bereaved widow and family in this their day of affliction, and we cannot help but feel gratified in the thought, that in her widowhood she can reflect, and know that we sympathize with her, and that her husband was an affectionate and kind father, a warm friend, a good citizen, an honest man, and a true Odd Fellow.

Resolved, That the members of the Lodge wear the usual badge of mourning for sixty days, and that the Lodge be clothed in mourning for same time.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing be sent to his distressed widow, also that it be sent to each of the Beaver papers for publication.

Truly we may say,

The circle is broken—one seat is forsaken,
One bud from the tree of our friendship is shaken;
One heart from among us, no longer shall thrill
With joy in our gladness, or grief in our ill.

Wm. Hunt,
D. Woodruff,
Jessie Nanna, } Committee.

Washington, Jan. 28, 1867.

The interest manifested in the reconstruction question was again evinced to-day by a large attendance of spectators in the House. Hundreds were unable to get in the galleries, while the floor of the House was at one time so crowded that it was cleared of all persons except those privileged to be present. The debate however was not very exciting, most of the speeches being read from manuscript.

At 4 P. M., Mr. Stevens modified his enabling bill, which was under consideration, by striking out the section which was claimed to acknowledge the validity of the present Southern State governments. As modified, it provides only that loyal people, white and black, shall elect delegates in the ten Southern States, on the first day of May next, to a State convention, which convention is to form a State constitution, giving all persons except those who have been in rebellion, equal civil and political privileges. This constitution is to be submitted to Congress, and if accepted, the State is to be entitled to representation.—The Judges of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia are authorized by the bill to appoint a commission, who in turn are to appoint in the States judges and registers of election.

Mr. Stevens desired that the House should have still further opportunity to amend, but Mr. Bigham, of Ohio, insisted on the motion being put, made some days since, to recommit the whole matter to the Committee on Reconstruction. He was willing, however, he said, to make a suggestion to Mr. Stevens relative to the disposition of the bill.

At this remark Mr. Stevens jumped up in his seat, and said excitedly—"I will not take your counsel, recognize your authority nor believe one word you say."

The Speaker promply called Mr. Stevens to order. The recommitment of the bill Mr. Stevens contended all along, was equivalent to its defeat—The vote was then taken, and the entire subject was sent to the Committee on Reconstruction, which its friends claim is its certain death. The vote on referring was 88 to 65. Most all the leading Republicans voted for the reference.

A Washington letter says: "That sign of the times which gives most hope to the patriotic heart is the position, no longer concealed, of General Grant and his illustrious military associates, Philip Sheridan, George H. Thomas, Daniel E. Sickles, E. O. C. Ord, and Samuel P. Heintzelman, on the great questions of the day. The hope that the President of the United States will attempt, as a second interference in the legislation of the Congress of the people, openly expressed by the still defiant leaders of the rebellion, is thus sternly extinguished."

Married.—On Sunday, the 20th inst., by Rev. Weiss, Mr. Isaac M. Cline, of Allegheny, Ind., formerly of this county, Pa., to Miss Vienna M. Irons, daughter of James Irons, Esq., of Beaver county, Pa.

On the 17th inst., by James Irons, Esq., Mr. Wm. Staub to Miss Mary C. Miller, both of Beaver county, Pa.

Died.—On the 17th inst., John Neely, Esq., of Economy township, in his 68th year of his age.

On Jan. 24, 1867, in Allegheny city, of scarlet fever, Walter Heth, son of Capt. William and E. Grey M'Callister, aged 2 months and 12 days.

The funeral took place on Friday last, from the residence of Wm. Orr, Esq., of Beaver.

On the 20th inst., Mr. Wm. Small, of Brighton township, aged about 70 years.
