Rev. A. B. Bradford.—This gentleman will deliver a lecture in the M. E. 100 BARRELS of Canton City Mills Flour, wholesale and retail, at the store of Spoyerer & Sons, in Rochester, Pa.

Fair and Festival.—The Fair and Festival held in Bridgewater last week for the benefit of the Presbyterian Church of that place, (Rev. Shields's) is said to have been a very decided success. Everybody was pleased with it, and the proceeds exceeded the most sanguine expectations. About two hundred dollars were realized over the expenses.

THE heaven is working! The low price at which we are selling Flour has startled the Millers, and they threaten to "consolidate" to prevent us from doing so. We are not scared. We are the people's friends. We cannot, and will not be undersold. SNITGER & CO.

Mill Property Sold.—During last week the grist and saw mill property in Sharon, owned by Messrs. J. & H. Darragh, was sold to the Messrs. Davidson of North Bridgewater for the sum of $7,000. The latter took possession of the property on Tuesday of last week. The Messrs. Darragh have a large lot of lumber, which they propose to sell cheap. Give them a call.

To the Afflicted.—In this week's paper will be found the card of Dr. E. S. Warner, the well known Indian practitioner, of Pittsburgh. We would advise our readers to carefully read the advertisement, and give him a call or address him by letter.

"Benzine" Establishments.—We learn incidentally that on or about the 1st of May this year, there will be thirty distilleries in operation in this Congressional district. They will be located as follows: In Washington county sixteen, Greene seven, Beaver two, Lawrence five. Two others in Washington county will commence operations sometime during the summer. The comparison of Beaver with the other counties of the 24th district makes us feel somewhat proud of her standing on the temperance question.

HONEY Drips, the best Syrup in the market, for sale by A. S. Harvey, Bridgewater.

Temperance.—We are requested to state that Hon. S. R. Chase, G. W. C. T. of Pennsylvania, will deliver two lectures in New Brighton on the evenings of March 11th and 12th.

Mr. Chase has the reputation of being a good lecturer, and we have no doubt of his ability to entertain and instruct those who may go to hear him. On the first of the evenings referred to the Good Templars will be present in full regalia.

BACON, Shoulders, and heavy Clear Sides, on hand and for sale by A. S. Harvey, Bridgewater.

District Collectorship.—The selection of a suitable person to collect the Internal Revenue for the 24th Pa. district, will devolve upon the "powers that be" in due course of time. Beaver county has, we believe, three gentlemen within her borders that desire the position and will apply for the place. They are as follows: A. Robertson, Esq., of Beaver Falls, present incumbent; C. A. Merrick, Esq., of New Brighton, and Milton Townsend, Esq., also of New Brighton. We presume, in due course of time, they will severally call upon their friends to lend a helping hand.

SEE our prices! Best Extra Family Flour for $6.00 a barrel. Second quality $7.50—this is excellent flour, and many families like it as well as the higher priced Flour. SNITGER & CO.

Bad Practices.—Our bad practices in our town which should be done away with at once are: First, the fact that of stopping horses and wagons on the street crossings while the drivers are in conversation with somebody they may chance to meet. Persons on foot have some rights—it is not always pleasant to be obliged to turn out of the way for horses and wagons.

STILL ahead! It is amusing to watch the flutter and consternation among other grocers, drug stores, and millers, caused by the fact that Snitger & Co. can still sell a better and cheaper article of first-class Flour than any of them.

Prisoners in Beaver Jail.—As some of our friends have inquired of us respecting the number of prisoners now confined in the county Jail, and other matters concerning them, we herd give a list of the names of the same, the crimes of which they are accused and for which they were arrested, etc.

Matthew Anderson...Was committed for fall December 6th, 1867, for arson. He was tried, convicted, and remitted to jail, where he will be kept for an indefinite period, for unsoundness of mind.

Daniel Clutt...Was committed 16 jail August 8th, 1868, for larceny. Confessed his guilt, and was sentenced to jail for 1 year. A petition is now being taken around for the pardon of this prisoner, which will probably result in his release.

Benj. S. Jackson (colored)...He was committed November 16, 1868, for a plot of crow. Waiting trial, 30 days jail or $100 bail, for 1 year.

David Reddick (colored)...Was committed December 15th, 1868, for robbery. Is awaiting trial.

Carolina Reddick...Committed for same as above. Waiting trial.

Isaac Heygarth...Was committed to jail January 21, 1869, for larceny. Waiting trial.

James Jamieson...Was committed January 11th, 1869, for larceny. Waiting trial.

William O'Herrin...Committed to jail January 25, 1869, for selling liquor and assault and battery. Waiting trial.

Robert Mitchell...Committed February 20th, 1869, for larceny. Waiting trial.

It will be seen from the above that the total number of prisoners now confined in the jail is 9, part of whom have been convicted and are awaiting trial. Those who have not yet been tried will have their cases brought up in the March term of court, which commences Monday next.

AN indisputable fact! That people are not all going from the West to the East end of Beaver to buy their Groceries, etc. The reverse is the case. Grocers from the East end have bought from Snitger & Co. to sell again. They are wise. They come to the West shop to SNITGER & CO's.

How Stupid.—Did you ever think how stupid it was to walk along the street with an umbrella or cane under your arm, the point sticking out for every body to run his face into.

How stupid for three ladies to walk abreast and move so slowly that persons in a hurry must either go between them or get into the gutter.

How stupid to stare at an acquaintance when you pass them on the street and neglect to speak when you are saluted.

How stupid to wear long dresses on the street or at public assemblages, and when any one is so unfortunate as to step on it, look daggers at them instead of turn for an apology.

How stupid to cover the smell of your unwashed person with musk or other deodorizing perfumes.

How stupid to think that people's opinion of you increase in proportion to the cost of your clothes.

How stupid to refuse to sing or play when urged, or to bore people to death by doing so when not asked.

How stupid to go into a church and annoy the congregation by your entrance after service has commenced.

How stupid to neglect to thank a person who has rendered you a favor, even a stranger.

Agricultural Meeting.—There will be a meeting of the members of the Beaver County Agricultural Society, at the Sheriff's Office, in Beaver, on Monday, the 15th day of March next, at 1 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of electing Officers and Managers for the ensuing year, settling the Treas. account, &c.—A full attendance is earnestly desired.

J. R. HARRAH, Secretary.

The Coming Girl.—An enthusiastic contemporary thus discourses upon the qualities which will characterize the "coming girl." Let her come! But listen to the coming strain:

She will vote, will be of some use in the world, will cook her own food, will earn her own living, and will not die an old maid. The coming girl will not wear the Hottentot bend, dance the German, ignore all possibilities of knowing how to work, will not endeavor to break the hearts of unsophisticated young men, will spell correctly, understand English before she studies French, will preside with equal grace at the piano or wash-tub, will spin more yarn for the house than for the street, will not despise her plainly clad mother, her poor relations, or the hand of an honest worker; will wear a bonnet, speak good plain unlisping English, will darn her own stockings, will know how to make doughnuts, and will not read the Ledger either than she does her Bible.

The coming girl will walk five miles a day, if need be, to keep her cheeks in a glow, will mind her health her physical development and her mothers will adopt a costume both sensible and conducive to comfort and health; will not confound hypocrisy and politeness; will not place trying to please above frankness, will have courage to cut an unwelcome acquaintance; will not think refinement is French duplicity—that assumed hospitality where hate dwells in the heart, is better than condemnation; will not confound grace of government with stilty reflection; will not regard the end of her being to have a beau.

The coming girl will not look to Paris, but to reason, for her fashions; will not aim to follow a foolish fashion because milliners and mantua makers decree it; will not torture her body, shrivel her soul with artificial life in a Gothic hoop and pleasure.

Correspondence.

NEW BRIGHTON, PA., Mar. 8, 1869.

Grant has been inaugurated; the names of the gentlemen who compose his cabinet have been made known to the country; aspiring politicians are all in confusion, and the good, honest people generally are pleased, encouraged, and look to the near future as full of hope and promise. They read in the Inaugural assurances of substantial peace and prosperity, new life in every branch of industry, the appreciation of the public credit, and the utter disappearance of every species of agitation under the administration of our new President. May the best hopes and most sanguine expectations of all the good and true men of our government be fully realized; and may Grant be guided in all the onerous duties which devolve upon him, by a wisdom, a prudence, a deliberation, and a firm judgment which shall not only meet the approval of those whose suffrages elevated him to his present exalted position; but which shall result in such a renewal of the prosperity of the country as shall render him not the representative of a party, but the representative of a great nation.

Beaver county is not honored with a representative in the Cabinet; nor is the State represented by any such man as the ancient sires of politicians would have chosen. Nor is our State represented by a man sufficiently well known, to either the State or the county at large to inspire much confidence in the wisdom of Grant's choice. Yet, while we doubt the wisdom of selecting men of obscurity and inexperience in affairs of State to fill the most responsible and most onerous position under the government, and while we think Grant would have given greater assurances of his fitness for the trust which has fellow citizens have reposed in him by selecting as his constitutional advisers men of national reputation—men, whose abilities are known to us, and whose records speak for themselves—we can but hope that time will prove that judgment, experience, long statesmanship and wisdom he is greatly superior to what we think have advised him to make a different choice of Cabinet officers.

Of local news we have scarcely any worth while noticing. The oil trade is the west field of enterprise, which, for the present, seems to engross all the capital and work entirely, while it greatly depresses trade by creating a very strong inclination generally to keep near the fire at home.

A spelling lecture on Sunday paid us a visit, but from all I can learn he met with little encouragement; and probably left with a lower estimation of the literary culture of our town than he brought with him. Anatomical lectures are good things, but in a pecuniary way they are not so profitable as shows which make people laugh. People generally are more willing to pay for an hour's laugh than they are to pay for instruction which only enables to teach them that they are fearfully and wonderfully made. In fact, most folks do not seem to care whether they were ever made at all, much less to know how.

Paddle Your Own Canoe.

Up this world, and down this world,
And over this world, and through,
Though drifted about,
And tossed without,
Why, paddle your own canoe.

What though the sky is heavy with clouds,
Or shining a field of blue,
If the black wind blows,
Or the sunshine glows,
Still, paddle your own canoe.

What if breakers rise up ahead,
With dark waves rushing through,
More steadily try
With steadiest eye,
To paddle your own canoe.

If a hurricane rise in the midnight skies,
And the stars are lost to view,
Guide safely along,
With smile and song,
And paddle your own canoe.

MAHER.—It is generally known that in this spring there is more sickness than during any other season. This can easily be accounted for, but to prevent it is often much more difficult.

The whole system is in a relaxed condition which is most favorable to the development of disease. [1mo

A CELEBRATED New York barber said, not long since, that nine-tenths of his customers preferred to have their hair dressed with "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative" to any other substance, as it keeps the scalp so cool and free from dandruff.—Troy Daily Whig.

STONER & MARLATT'S CARRIAGE FACTORY, PITTSBURGH, PA.—We desire to call the attention of our readers to the following Editorial from the Pittsburgh Commercial, of Feb. 17th, 1869, and assuring our citizens that what is said may be depended upon: "We paid a visit yesterday to the Carriage Factory of Messrs. Stoner & Marlatt, and were surprised and gratified to find it one of the most complete and extensive establishment of this kind in the State. They manufacture all descriptions of Carriages, Buggies, &c., in a superior manner, and at prices much lower than the same class of work can be purchased from the best makers in the East. Their factory is connected with their salesrooms, and purchasers are requested to examine the various styles of manufacture and the materials used, by which means they can form a proper judgement as to quality and workmanship. We shall take occasion hereafter to speak more particularly of the Carriages, &c., made by this firm, and would recommend purchasers to visit them and examine their stock, Warhouse Nos. 167, 169 and 171 Penn St., near Saint Clair." Special inducements to Dealers and Livery Men. 2w
