Ole Olson Company One of the All-Right Kind.

The company which presented "Ole Olson" at the opera Houss last evening is not composed of sixty or seventy people, but what it lacks in numbers it makes up in quality, and the entertainment offered was all that it was guaranteed to be. Harry S Brummell as "Ole Olson" is as good as anyone could ask for, and he made a strong hit with both matines and evening audiences. He has the Swedish dialect to perfection. and also has a good voice. Last evening he sang for the first time "I've Got Another One, Just Like the Other One," a song that is bound to make good.—The supporting cast is made up of people of whom only good words can be said. Olean Times, Oct. 6th. At Emporium Opera House, Monday evening, Oct. 14.

Erie Flyer Wrecked.

On Sunday morning the P. & E. Flyer, west bound, was wrecked between Kane and Johnsonburg, caused by a broken rail. The engine, owing to its great speed, passed over the broken rail safely, but the baggage car and passenger coaches broke from the engine and piled up against the bank. A few of the passengers were slightly injured by the flying glass. It took most all day to clean up the wreck.

Engineer Jas. Collige, who was so severely injured in the wreck at Sterling Run, had charge of this train but fortunately escaped. He visited in Emporium on Sunday.

Afflicted Ridgway.

Our former citizen, A. H. Shaffer, of Ridgway, was a PRESS visitor on Monday, the first time he has been able to leave his home since Ridgway was afflicted with the terrible scourge of fever, hundreds of homes being in the grip of the terrible monster. Three of Mr. Shaffer's children were taken down, one yet being confined to his bed. During the epidemic as many as three hundred nurses were in constant service. The worst has now passed, it is thought.

Block the Way of Tariff Tinkers.

The Scranton "Republican" editorially referring to the necessity of electing a Republican State Treasurer this year, on the eve of a Presidential electhen, sounds this warning, viz:

"Pennsylvania must block the way of the tariff tinkers, who would, in the face of a Presidential campaign, possibly wreck the Republican Party by reckless revenue revision. * * * Nothing should be done at this time in a matter of such peril to the party in power, particularly as there is no great demand for tariff changes on the part of the people, the clamoring being largely done by the politicians.

The industries of Pennsylvania have too much at stake to look with complacency upon any movement having a change of the tariff as its object. The opening of the door to the slightest degree would inaugurate a period of doubt and uncertainty which would be reflected in the utter demoralization of Pennsylvania industries. * *

"If the Republicans succeed in the next Presidential election, and there is every indication that they will, then they may go about tariff revision without causing public hysteria, because it is realized that with the "Grand Old Party" in control only such schedules will be changed as are demanded by altered conditions. But if the door is thrown wide open on the brink of a Presidential campaign, who knows what it will lead to or what the ultimate results will be."

A Generous Gift.

Our townsman, Mr. Geo. Metzger, Sr., recently purchased and presented to Randolph-Macon Wonan's College, Lynchburg, Va., a memorial window to the memory of his daughter, Anna B. Metzger.

The following letter will be self-explanatory:

RANDOLPH-MACON WOMAN'S COLLEGE,
College Park, Lynchburg, Va.

MR. GEORGE METZGER, SR.,
Emporium, Pa.

My Dear Mr. Metzger:

The window came on Saturday and was placed in position Monday. We think the workmanship and appearance entirely satisfactory This morning we had a very touching exhibition of the affection and esteem in which your daughter was held at the memoriol service and unveiling of the window.

I hope it may be in your power to visit us some time soon, not only to see this memorial of our dear friend, but also to let us show our appreciation of your own generosity in this gift. It stands where all students assemble every morning for worship, and generations of young woman who pass through our halls will receive an uplift from this beautiful testimonial to high ability, broad sympathy, and inspiring enthusiasm, which made your daughter a felt force in all the work of our College.

Verv truly yours,
WM. W. SMITH.

A TOUCHING SERVICE TO THE MEMORY OF THE LATE MISS ANNA B. METZGER.

The memorial service held in the chapel of the Randolph-Woman's College yesterday morning in honor of the late Miss Anna B. Metzger was of a most touching character. The exercises included the singing of Miss Metzger's favorite hymn, "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me," and a short eulogy delivered by Chancellor W. W. Smith. Dr. Smith spoke of Miss Metzger's entrance upon her work at the College, of the brilliant record that she made, and of the deep impression that she left on the college life. He especially dwelt upon her distinguished success as a musician and of the high regard in which she was held by all who knew her.

At the close of Dr. Smith's remarks, the beautiful stained glass window in the rear of the chapel, placed there in momory of Miss Metzger, was unveiled.

A number of Miss Metgzer's friends from the city attended the exercises.—Lynchburg, Va., News.

As a dialect character "Ole Olson" is a decided success. The speech of the Swede is one that lends itself readily to comedy use and the way that the English language gets tangled up is decidedly amusing. The company that will be at the Emporium Opera House, Oct. 14th, is large and well balanced and is made up of a group of well known favorites. During the performance a number of very pleasing and entertaining specialties will be introduced.

Friendly Aid.

Under the auspices of Mrs. E. M. Newton, a girls Friendly Society was organized at the New Warner on Saturday evening, the 5th inst. The following officers were unanimausely elected: President, Miss Nina Bryan; Treasurer, Miss Encie Howard, Secretary, Miss Alice Montgomery.

"Ole Olson" Coming.

"Ole Olson" a play that has long been a favorite with theater goes will be at the Emporium Opera House, Oct. 14th. "Ole Olson" is one of the best Swedish dialect comedies and possesses all the charms of originality. In place of the yodling German, there is in this truthful depiction of Anglo-Swedish character, an honest, big-hearted immigrant, who is shown in a natural manner.

For the Stone Crusher.

Judging from the legal "ad" in another column, published by the State Forestry Commission, it looks as though the B. & S. R. R., are after state land rock to feed their stone crusher. There is no scarcity of rock in that section.

Big Hit.

M. B. Raymond's big attraction, the "Lunatic and the Lady" at the opera house, last night filled that large house. The company pleased the audience and made a big hit. Encore upon encore was accorded them. "Good," "good" was the unanimous opinion.

Crushed to Death.

Last Thursday evening David Sloppy, aged about 52, whose family reside at Coryville, Pa., was working under a car that was "jacked up" when a yard engine bumped into the car. The car crushed the life out of Sloppy. Deceased leaves a large family. His funeral took place Sunday afternoon from the residence of his son, on Plank Road Hollow.

Big Masonic Meet.

Emporium Lodge, No. 382, A. Y. M., held a special meeting last evening at their spacious rooms, the attendance being the largest in the history of the Lodge. Visitors were present in large numbers from all points in this county, as well as Renovo, Lock Haven, Williamsport and other places. An elaborate banquet was served by the Presbyterian ladies. District Deputy Mussina, of Lock Haven, honored the "boys" by his attendance.

Man Hit by Buffalo Flyer.

Special to the Press.

The noon flyer from Buffalo struck an Italian on Main street crossing, Driftwood, to-day, breaking two of his ribs and otherwise injuring him. Dr. Beale was summoned and at once ordered the man taken to the Williamsport Hospital, which was done. The man's name is Frank Declamo, of Mix Run. He was riding a bicycle at the time he was struck and did not see the train until it was upon him. J. F. S.

Oct. 9th, 1907.

"Age cannot wither nor custom stale" the attractions possessed by that best of Swedish dialect plays, "Ole Olson." Year in and year out, for more than a decade "Ole" has been presented to the Theatre going public and its popularity has never waned. Other Swedish characters have come upon the scene, but none of them can vie with "Olson" in the regard of the public, and it stands unique in its line like Rip Van Widkle and Uncle Joshua Whitcomb. "Ole" will be presented at the Emporium Opera House, Oct. 14th. The company is the same that has presented the play this season in New York, Brooklyn, Boston, St. Louis and other cities.

Advance Skermish to Next Year's Battle.

"The contest for State Treasurer this fall is but the preliminary skirmish to the great Presdential battle to be fought in 1908. In view of the fact that a decided sentiment is being created in the New England States and in some portions of the West in favor of tariff revision, it must be apparent to any citizen of Pennsylvania possessing average intelligence, that he makes no mistake when he advocates the conducting of the campaign on the 'stand pat' tariff policy."—Snyder County "News."

Sneak Thieves.

Last Friday night some sneak thieves stole from the front veranda of Mr. E. F. Zwald's residence a large and handsome palm and several potted plants. These petty larcenies are becoming so frequent that our citizens would do well to be prepared with shot guns and give such miserable creatures what they deserve.
