Agricultural.

THE INDEPENDENT FARMER.

Let sailors sing of the windy deep,
Let soldiers praise their armor,
But in my heart this toast will keep—
The Independent Farmer.
When first the rose in robe of green
Unfolds its crimson lining,
And round his cottage porch is seen
The honeysuckle twining;
When banks of gloom their sweetness yield
To bees that gather honey,
He drives his team across the field,
Where skies are soft and sunny.

The blackbird clucks behind the plough,
The quail pipes loud and clear,
Yon orchard hides behind its bough
The home he loves so dear;
The gray and old barn doors unfold
His ample store in measure,
More rich than heaps of hoarded gold,
A precious, blessed treasure;
While yonder in the porch there stands
His wife, the lovely charmer,
The sweetest rose on all his lands—
The Independent Farmer.

To him the Spring comes dancingly,
To him the Summer blushes,
The Autumn smiles with mellow ray,
His sleep old Winter hushes;
He cares not how the world may move,
No doubts or fears confound him;
His little flock are linked in love,
And household angels round him;
He trusts to God and loves his wife,
Nor griefs nor ills may harm her;
He's Nature's nobleman in life—
The Independent Farmer.

Fertilisers.

The great trouble of farmers is the deterioration of land under tillage, and the cost of manure to supply the properties abstracted by growing crops. By the order of nature the tree returns to the earth all that it has taken from it, by giving back back each year its crop of leaves and fruit, and finally its woody fibre. This year's grass is food for that of next. Every animal returns, in droppings and its carcass, all that it takes from the ground, and, in savage life, this is true of man. Civilization, by depositing the waste of families in deep vaults, and draining it off into rivers, poisons the wells and streams, kills the fish, creates pestilential diseases and robs the land. The river Thames became so foul from the drainage of London that the new Parliament House and other costly buildings on its banks were uninhabitable. The sewers are now emptied into tanks forty miles from the heart of the city, there deodorized by a chemical compound, which precipitates all solid matter to the bottom and leaves clear water on the surface. This is drawn off and the sediment carted out and sold for manure. By this device the city waste is returned to the earth, and instead of importing fertilizers from the Guano Isles and battle-fields of the continent, the English farmer, near London, gets his substitute for guano and bone dust, in a form as inoffensive as either, from the city sewer tanks.—The process is, perhaps, the most expensive which could be adopted, but, even then, it is a vast economy compared to the old system of waste. A new plan of "earth closets," as a substitute for "water closets," has been adopted in some parts of England.—The Baron Rothschild has them introduced on his estate at Halton. These consist of water tight, shallow boxes, on low wheels, under the seat. About one pound and a half of dry earth is thrown into the box, daily, for every member of the family, so as to cover and absorb the waste. The box is drawn out and its contents thrown in a convenient place to dry, when the same earth is sometimes used several times as an absorbent dedorizer, and becomes equal in value to guano.—Those who object to a second use have it removed at once to the compost heap, and an "earth closet" is found so free from offensive odors that it may be kept in the house without any unpleasantness. This secures the occupants from that fruitful source of disease, the exhalations of vaults and water closets, and ensures a return to the earth of the waste which is its natural compensation for the strength expended in maturing crops.

In cities a system of cartage and railway trucks can bring in the clay and take out the waste, much as the kitchen slops of large cities are now removed. In a coal region the ashes, made in a dwelling, would often be sufficient as an absorbent, and there would be no additional cost in removal. Furnace cinders, and coke dust, in addition to being valuable absorbents and deoderizers, are the best pulverizers for clay soils that have been discovered.

No shovelful of coal ashes or cinders should be wasted. In addition to their pulverizing and fertilizing qualities they are sure to enrich the land by their color. This absorbs the sun's rays and thus warms and feeds the growing plant. The blackness of soil is an assurance of its fertility, not only from indicating chemical properties, but from the color itself. White rejects the light and warmth, and reflects it back into the atmosphere. Black drinks the rays and they become warmth and nourishment. For this reason soot is a more powerful fertilizer than guano.

SHELTER FOR COWS.—As the season for cold storms is near at hand, it is especially important to provide shelter for stock—particularly that pertaining to the dairy department—some farmers are culpably remiss with reference to their milch cows.—They will not thrive and be productive if left to shelter of fence corners during the prevalence of storms of rain and sleet, where they become so chilled as to assume a crecent shape, and tremble and shiver as if under the influence of an ague fit. Thus situated milch cows cannot prove productive, nor render that return to the farmer which they would do if suitably cared for during the inclement weather of the autumn and winter. As a question of humanity, as well as of interest, farmers should see to it that their stock is not allowed to suffer for want of attention in this respect.—Ruaal New Yorker.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS EXPERIENCE IN DENTISTRY.

J. M. SMITH, M. D., would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Bradford County that he is permanently located in Waverly, N. Y., where he has been in the practice of his profession for the past four years. He would say that from his long and successful practice of 25 years duration he is familiar with all the different styles of work done in any and all Dental Establishments in city or country, and is better prepared than any other Dental operator in the vicinity to do work the best adapted to the many and different cases that present themselves oftentimes to the Dentist, as he understands the art of making his own artificial teeth, and has facilities for doing the same. To those requiring under sets of teeth he would call attention to his new kind of work which consists of porcelain for both plate and teeth, and forming a continuous gum. It is more durable, more natural in appearance, and much better adapted to the gum than any other kind of work. Those in need of the same are invited to call and examine specimens. Teeth filled to last for years and oftentimes for life.—Chloroform, Ether, and "Nitrous Oxide" administered with perfect safety, as over four hundred patients within the last four years can testify.

I will be in Towanda from the 15th to 30th of every month, at the office of W. K. TAYLOR, (formerly occupied by Dr. O. H. Woodruff).—Having made arrangements with Mr. Taylor, I am prepared to do all work in the very best style, at his office. April 23, 1867.

DR. VANBUSKIRK, OPERATIVE AND MECHANICAL DENTIST, has opened rooms in the Beldleman Block, directly opposite the Means House, for the practice of his profession, and is prepared at all times to perform all operations belonging to Dentistry. The different kinds of Plate Work, will be recommended accor ing to their honest merits. Natural Teeth filled and restored to their original beauty, with material the best adapted to each individual case. The greatest care and attention will be given to the correction of irregularities and the extraction of Teeth. In this Department of practice the Doctor would say he claims an amount of skill and experience equal to that possessed by any one in this or any other country. Teeth will be extracted without pain, by the uso of gas, chloroform or ether, and in a manner very satisfactory to patients, as the testimony of hundreds can be shown. Please call and examine specimens of our work, and be assured of the correctness of the statements. Advice and consultation will be cheerfully and gratuitously given.

Towanda, June 6, 1867.—3m.

HARDING & SMALLEY,

Having entered into a co-partnership for the transaction of the PHOTOGRAPHIC business, at the rooms formerly occupied by Wood and Harding, would respectfully call the attention of the public to several styles of Pictures which we make specialties, as: Solar Photographs, Plain, Pencilled and Colored, Ojalytpes, Porcelain Pictures, &c., which we claim for clearness and brilliancy of tone and Artistic finish, can not be excelled. We invite all to examine them as well as the more common kinds of Portraits which we make, knowing full well that they will bear the closest inspection. This Gallery claims the highest reputation for good work of any in this section of country, and we are determined by a strict attention to business and the superior quality of our work, to not only retain but increase its very enviable reputation.

We keep constantly on hand the best variety of Frames and at lower prices than at any other establishment in town. Also Passepartouts Card frames, Card Easels, Holmes' Stereoscopes, Stereoscopic Vies, and everything else of importance pertaining to the business. Give us an early call.

N. B.—Solar Printing for the trade on the most reasonable terms. D. HARDING,

To run the same, and are prepared to fill orders promptly,

ON AS GOOD TERMS

As can be bought in the United States. Having been 15 years engaged in manufacturing Threshing Machines, we have spared neither time nor expense in perfecting our machines, and claim to have

THE BEST SEPERATOR,

One that will seperate the grain from the straw more perfectly, and with less power, than any other manufactured. Our Machines can earn good pay by

THRESHING THE STRAW

As left by most of the machines used. They are very simple in construction, being comprised in one piece, so that it does not require a mechanic to set them up or run them; they are all manufactured under our personal supervision, and we

CHALLENGE THE WORLD

To show better workmanship or material. Every machine is set up and

THOROUGHLY TESTED UNDER MOTION,

Before leaving the Works, and are

Warranted to be in Working Order.

They have been in practical use for several years, so that we are not advertising a new machine every season, each "better than anything ever before offered to the public." They can be attached to Tread Powers, Sweep Powers, Steam or Water Power, and for

DURABILITY,

Perfection of Working and Economy, their equal has not been invented.

OUR PRICES

Are as low as those of any other manufacturers and parties desiring to purchase, will find it to their interest to examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere.
