Agricultural.

Early and Late Planting of Corn.

I believe that by early planting, say from the 4th to the 10th of May, the farmer is more certain of a good yield. I will admit that late planting will sometimes bring as good a crop as that which was planted earlier, but to do so it requires a very favorable season. I have known a good crop raised from seed planted as late as the 5th of June, but the season was very favorable, and the corn received no "backsets," and had nothing to do but grow. It seems that after the plant has reached a certain stage it is not materially injured by dry weather. All practical farmers know that if the ears are not well filled in August there will not be a large crop; after this the corn will harden, but will not increase in quantity or size.

Although as a general thing early planting is the best, yet on wet soils there will be little or nothing gained by it. It has always been my plan to plant early, and drop an extra grain in each hill. The number of grains required must depend on the care taken in the selection of the seed. This is an item which some, even of our best farmers, are too careless about.

The plan which I persue is as follows: While cutting the corn, all the best and largest ears are left standing, that they may get fully ripe. I always choose twice as much as I expect to use; when the corn is gathered the seed ears are husked and and placed on slats over the kitchen, where they remain until spring. Just before planting time they are sorted over, and those having the smallest cobs, in proportion to the length or depth of the grain, are selected for seed. The next operation is to shell three inches from the point and one inch from the butt, and use the remainder for seed.

This may seem to some to be too much trouble, but rest assureed that "it will pay," and that well.

Another great mistake is, to have too many stalks in the hill. On strong ground three or four stalks will produce more corn than five.

I have proved by actual experiment that corn raised from seed taken from the middle of the ear will ripen from two to three weeks sooner than that taken from either end.

CORN-RAISER.

RACING AT FAIRS.—The Bucks County Intelligencer, whose editor, Mr. Darlington, is the active Secretary of the Agricultural Society of that county, thinks as we do on the question of horse-racing at Farmer's fairs, and refers to the address of the President of the New York Society, in which he says that the Legislature ought to withdraw its aid from agricultural societies which encourage racing and shows and games of all kinds. There is no agricultural society in the Union that has had more experience as to what these exhibitions ought to be, or that has achieved so much substantial and honorable success as that of New York We might also refer to the old Montgomery County Society which has not encouraged racing, and which has been well attended by the best and most respectable practical farmers in the county, and has always been satisfactorily sustained. We trust that it will in the future, as it has in the past, eschew everything not recognized as belonging to the farm and the household of the farmer. It is only by such a course that it will prove itself entitled to what it claims to be, and become an actual benefit to the agriculture of the country.

TESTING THE VITALITY OF SEEDS.—We never liked the idea of sowing seeds that would not grow, because it is a very poor way of spending time, and the result is quite annoying. It is a very easy matter to test the vitality of seeds, and much time and labor would be saved if every one would do it before sowing. A few seeds of almost any of our common vegetables may be started in a few days, if they are good, by putting them into a small pot filled with soil, and placing them in a warm room, or on the south side of a building or fence, after the weather becomes warm. Very small seeds may be sown in damp cotton or a bit of moss, placed in a saucer or small box, and if kept warm and moist they will show whether they are good or not Onion-seed will sprout in five minutes if boiling water is poured upon it, and as old onion-seed will not grow, although it is often sold, the only way is to test it before sowing.

EGG-PLANT AND TOMATOES.—Every person can raise his own tomato and egg plants, with very little trouble. Select a warm border, enrich heavily with horse manure, pulvarize the ground thoroughly, and sow pretty thickly, thinning out if necessary. A common window sash or two, raised two or three inches over them, on any kind of supports, will greatly facilitate their vegetation and growth. If they are transplanted into other beds when three or four inches high, so that they shall stand about three inches apart each way, it will cause them to become very stout in the stem, and will branch considerably, making much stronger and more productive plants. Tomatoes should not be set out for a crop until the ground is warm and settled, say the last of April or first of May, the later perhaps the better. Egg-Plants should never be set out before the last week in May. We prefer the Fijii tomato, and the Long Purple egg plant, though many other excellent varieties of the tomato are now introduced, some of which it would be well to cultivate also. Not a day should be lost in getting in the seed.—Germantown Telegraph.

CURRANT bushes may be pruned this month with advantage. Don't be afraid of cutting out to much. Leave only healthy, strong wood of two summers growth, and your fruit will be larger and almost as much in quantity. A verty pretty way of training is to stretch wires from posts set about twelve feet apart, and tie the stalks fan shaped to them. In this way the currant makes a beautiful border for a path, and also a pleasing cover for an unsightly fence.

LEMON PIE.—The yolk of two eggs, four tablespoonfuls brown sugar, one tablespoonful of melted butter, juice of one lemon; crust as for custard pie. Bake. While baking beat the whites of two eggs to a froth, add two tablespoonfuls of white sugar; when the pie is done, take out and spread over the top the white sugar, and bake three minutes.

Gents Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, &c., &c., which they assure the said citizens cannot be excelled in style or elegance and that the prices are so low as to astonish everybody.—Rosenberg & Wolff hope that by strict attention, and fair dealing with the people of Towanda, they will obtain their patronage and support. They also beg to subjoin the following Commandments for their guidance.

COME ONE! COME ALL!

At Rosenberg & Wolff's One Price Regulator, Main Street, Towanda, Pa.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS,

Keep them, and Happy will be Thy Days.

1. Thou shalt have no other place to buy clothing except Rosenberg & Wolff's One Price Regulator, Main Street.
2. Thou shalt not choose any other merchant: though shalt not listen to their speeches, for Rosenberg & Wolff are no Chatham-st. dealers, but sell at one price, and reliable, and will serve you unto the third and fourth generation.
3. Thou shalt not seek in vain any more for cheap raiment, for they can be found at Rosenberg & Wolff's One Price Store.
4. Thou shalt bear in mind that we sell only on six days of the week, and don't desecrate the Sabbath by keeping our doors open and hangin out a show, for, on the seventh day, Rosenberg & Wolff and their clerks, desire to rest from their labors.
5. Thou shalt honor the way Rosenberg & Wolff deal, and long may be thy days to enjoy its benefits.
6. Thou shalt not commit an impropriety—of buying of Chatham st. Dealers, but come direct to Rosenberg & Wolff's Once Price Regulator, Main street
7. Thou shalt not seek in vain for goods of Foreign make, for Rosenberg & Wolff keep a large variety.
8. Thou shalt not purloin from the Regulator for Rosenberg & Wolff sell so cheap it would be a sin
9. Thou shalt not bear false witness, but honestly acknowledge that you can get better suited and for less money, at Rosenberg & Wolff's than any other store.
10. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbors goods or his bargains, for Rosenberg & Wolff can give them to you likewise; therefore, take counsel, and buy only of Rosenberg & Wolff the Once Price Men

NEW YORK, Oct. 10, 1868.

The undersigned takes pleasure in announcing to his numerous friends and patrons that from this date, the charge of the Pacific will be $2,50 per day.

Being sole Proprietor of this house, and therefore free from the too common exaction of an absent landlord, he is fully able to meet the downward tendency of prices without any falling off of service.

It will now, as heretofore, be his aim to maintain undiminished the favorable reputation of the Pacific, which it has enjoyed for many years, as one of the best of travelers' hotels.

The table will be bountifully supplied with every delicacy of the season.

The attendance will be found efficient and obliging.

The location will be found convenient for those whose business calls them in the lower part of the city, being one door north of Cortlandt st., and one block west of Broadway, and of ready access to all Rail Road and Steamboat Lines.
