P. GRAY MEEK,
Chairman

THE Republicans have played the first part of the campaign programme by nominating Blaine and Logan for President and Vice President. Whether their choice is good or not remains to be seen as the time for election approaches.

The Democrats, we think, will nominate a ticket at their convention on the 8th of July, which will enable them to say "our side best." By all appearances Blaine has almost as many enemies in his own party, as he has admirers and a united Democracy led by a strong and unspotted ticket ought to be able to defeat a man whose character and statesmanship was dragged into the mire even by some of the most prominent Republican journals. The love of thousands of Stalwart Republicans for the tattooed man must increase wonderfully before the coming election if he would expect a united support from his party.

As it stands, Blaine and Logan, republican against———, Democratic, but the blank will be filled by a ticket that will knock the props out from under the enthusiastic and noisy Blaine crowd.

MARYLAND, Alabama, and Connecticuit held their Democratic conventions last week, each of them giving voice to their preferences of the '76 ticket.

HENRY G. VENNOR, the Canadian Weather prophet died at Montreal on Sunday, June 8th. He was about 43 years old.

Mr. Vennor has been best known by his weather predictions, which have reached the public through the newspapers.

Result of the Republican Convention.

Blaine and Logan Selected by the Convention.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The convention was called to order at 11.19 a. m., by Chairman Henderson who said: "The convention this morning will be opened by prayer by the Rev. Henry Martyn Scudder, of Chicago." Upon the conclusion of the prayer, the secretary called the roll of the states and territories that have not yet given in the names of the members of the national committee and which were passed yesterday.

A delegate from California—"I desire to offer a resolution without comment.'

Mr. Davis, of Illinois—"I demand the regular order. I object to this resolution."

The secretary then proceeded to call the roll of states for the nomination of a candidate for the presidency, the first ballot resulting as follows:

James G. Blaine,	334½
Chester A. Arthur,	278
George F. Edmunds,	93
John Sherman,	30
John A. Logan,	63½
Joseph A. Hawley,	13
Robert T. Lincoln,	4
William T. Sherman,	2
Total,	818
Necessary to a choice,	419

The second ballot resulted:

James G. Blaine,	349
Chester A. Arthur,	276
George F. Edmunds,	85
John Sherman,	28
John A. Logan,	61
Joseph R. Hawley,	13
Robert T. Lincoln,	4
William T. Sherman,	2

Upon the announcement of this ballot showing a gain of 14½ votes for Blaine, there was an outburst similar to that last night when the Blaine nominating speech was made. It was soon subdued, however, by the exertions of the chair. A great deal of confusion ensued as the various managers continued to run about the hall.

The third ballot gave the following result:

James G. Blaine,	375
Chester A. Arthur,	275
George F. Edmunds.	78
John A. Logan,	60
Scattering,	30

While the roll was proceeding and after the state of Nevada had been called delegates were seen rushing through the aisles in various directions. When North Carolina was reached there was a great deal of uproar, and the chair said: "The gentlemen in the aisles will please take their seats, and the sergeant-at-arms will please see that they do so." An assistant sergeant-at-arms rushed around at a terrific gait, insisting with vehemence, that the order applied with with peculiar force and was especially directed to the reporters. When the vote of Pennsylvania was announced, Mr. Magee and Mr. Flynn, of Pennsylvania, both challenged the vote and insisted on a count. While the roll was being called Mr. Baker, of Indiana, arose and said: "Mr. Chairman, I demand that the lobbyists who have taken possession of these aisles shall go to their places instantly." The Chair—"The gentlemen will resume their seats."

After a season of great confusion during which the audience materially assisted with their feet and their voices in swelling the tumult quiet was restored and the secretary proceeded with the call of the roll. When the state of Pennsylvania was reached the chairman of the delegation reported its vote.

The vote was immediately challenged and the call of the roll of the state delegation was ordered by the chair. When the result of the third ballot was announced there was another scene of wild confusion and cheering.

Mr. Foraker of Ohio arose and offered the following: "I move that the rules of this convention be suspended and that James G. Blaine be nominated by acclamation."(Loud applause and great confusion.)

Mr. Roosevelt, of New York—"It cannot be done." [Loud cries of "roll call, roll call," and continued confusion.] Amid the cries of 'roll call,' 'regular order' and scenes of the greatest confusion Mr. Foraker withdrew his motion and the secretary called the roll for the fourth ballot.

When Illinois was reached Mr. Cullom asked leave to read a dispatch from General Logan, but the chair decided out of order. He then announced that "the Illinois delegation withdraws the name of Logan and gives Blaine 34 votes, Logan 7 and Arthur 3." (Loud applause.) When Ohio was reached Judge Foraker withdrew Sherman's name and cast 46 votes for Blaine, amidst a tremendous outburst of applause. The secretary then announced the fourth ballot for president as follows: Whole number of delegates, 820; whole number of votes cast, 816; necessary to a choice, 411, of which Robert T. Lincoln received 2; John A. Logan 7; Joseph Hawley, 15; G. F. Edmunds, 41; Chester A. Arthur 207; James G. Blaine, 544. The announcement of the votes for Blaine got no further than the hundreds, for his voice was lost in the whirlwind of applause that followed the announcement of the fact of Blaine's nomination which had been certain ever since Cullom had tried to read his telegram from John A. Logan. Every person in the audience, delegates and visitors alike, rose to their feet simultaneously, and all being Blaine men, shouted and sang their delight at the success of the man from Maine with demostrations of joy such as had not been seen before at a convention. When order had been restored Mr. Burleigh, of New York, in behalf of and by request of the president of the United States, moved to make the nomination unanimous, Senator Sabin seconding the motion. The tremendous shout of 'aye' sent up by the vast multitude clearly showed the fact that the nomination was made unanimous. A recess was then taken until eight o'clock.

The Evening Session.

General John A. Logan Nominated for Vice President.

CHICAGO, June 6.—When the convention was called to order this evening the galleries were hardly less crowded than at any one of the proceeding sessions. Rev. Dr. Charles O'Reilly, treasurer of the Irish National League of America, opened the convention with prayer. A resolution was passed permitting the state central committee to name members of the national committee not already named.

Resolutions limiting the speeches of nominations to ten minutes passed and and the clerk proceeded to call the roll of the states for vice president. No response was received until Illinois was reached when Senator Plumbs, of Kansas, came forward and nominated Gen. John A. Logan.

Judge Hauck, of Tennessee, Mr. Thurston' of Nebraska, Mr. Lee, of Pennsylvania, Mr. Horr, of Michigan, and others seconded the nomination.

LOCAL NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENCE.—The object of local correspondence should be to furnish news—a record of events as they transpire—of general as well as local interest—sales of land and good stock, removals, sickness, deaths, the condition of the crops, etc., in fact everything that makes up the current history of the locality; but mere gossip and such items as are of no interest outside of the neighborhood and in fact but little within it, should be carefully and rigidly excluded; hence many of the personal items that are furnished might be omited without detriment to the paper. Anything designed to puff an individual or enhance the business of a firm should go in as an advertisement, except when occasionally a compliment is well deserved. It would be well, especially for new beginners, (and old timers may do well to heed the same) after writing an article to re-write it and expunge all that is superfluous—all that can be left out with loss of interest; in other words, "boil it down." At the same time newspapers should give their recognized correspondents exclusive territory, that the same items may not appear from different places.—Ex.
