For sale by J. Spigelmyer and D. S. Kauffman, & Co., Millheim Pa.

—Two new machines have been placed in the planing mill of Elias Luse & Son, one of them for the purpose of manufacturing blinds for shutters. These gentlemen commenced at the foot of the ladder, with but two or three machines and now their mill boasts of 15 different machines and a continual rush of large orders for work.

—An animated discussion of various interesting topics took place in Kauffman's store last Saturday evening. The most brilliant talent of Millheim and vicinity participated in the debate and quite a lot of curious spectators took it all in. Gentlemen, we would propose the organization of a literary and debating club.

THE U. S. Dispensatory and the Science of Chemistry justify the assertion that for tonic, diaphoretic and expectorant properties, no combination of remedies can be devised to equal in power and efficacy Dr. Kessler's Celebrated English Cough Medicine. It is the safe and reliable standby in case of croup and whooping-cough. Dissatisfied purchasers can have their money refuded.

—The telephone wire was stretched last Thursday and the first message sent over it on Friday morning. This puts Millheim and Coburn upon "speaking terms" and the enterprise will prove a great convenience. The instruments are placed as follows : At Millheim, in Musser & Smith's hardware store, at Coburn, in the railroad station.

--The teachers of Millheim and Penn township met on Tuesday evening for the purpose of making arrangements to organize a literary society in this town. Committees on constitution and by-laws and also to secure a suitable place for meetings were appointed, and Tuesday evening, Nov. 10th, was fixed upon as the time for the next meeting, in the Penn street grammar school room. Everybody is cordially invited to attend and enroll as members.

—Rev. J. A. Bright received a unanimous call from a Lutheran charge in the state of Illinois, to become its pastor at a large salary, all moving expenses paid and rent free. He has however declined the call and will remain in Ellsworth, and preach at his regular appointments as heretofore, all of which shows that the Rev. is a gentleman of sound judgement.—Ellsworth (Kansas) Reporter.

—This is the season when lumbermen should provide themselves with good boots. The best place to buy them is at Kauffman's store, Main street, Millheim, Pa.

—The first copy of the Keystone Gazette, another of Bellefonte's new weekly papers, is on our table. It is well edited and in its general make-up presents a neat appearance. But alas, it is a rank Republican paper—and right here we will stop and say no more.

A CHANGE.—After three years' faithful work as compositor on the JOURNAL, S. H. Alter left the case last Saturday with the intention of attending school this winter. Fred Brumgard, a son of our townsman E. J. Brumgard, steps in as the new "devil."

A single trial of Dr. Henry Baxter's Mandrake Bitters will convince any one troubled with costsyness, torpid liver or any kindred diseases of their curative properties. They only cost 25 cents per bottle.

For sale by J. Spigelmyer and D. S. Kauffman &Co., Millheim Pa.

—We call the attention of our lady readers to the fact that Mrs. E. J. Brumgard's fresh stock of Millinery Goods is unexcelled. Her assortment of Hats, Bonnets, Feathers, and Trimmings are "just too lovely for anything," and her prices are as low as anywhere. If you need new headwear for this winter call on her and she will suit you.

—A Newspaper subscriber remarked that he found it much cheaper to pay for his paper in advance than at the end of the year. In answer to a query, he gave as a reason that when paid in advance he was getting something new for his money, but to do so at the end of the year was like paying for worn out clothes—there was none of the pleasure of anticipation in the transaction. That man was something of a philosopher.—Ex.

AN ORNAMENT TO TOWN.—The iron fence which adorns the front of the prospective Fairview Cemetery in the western part of Main street is a substantial as well as ornamental improvement. The arched gateway, bearing the name of the cemetery in large letters presents a fine appearance and altogether the affair is a credit to town. Millheim has made wonderful progressive strides in the last year as far as public accommodations are concerned. It has a fire apparatus, a town clock, a new cemetery and telephonic connection with the nearest railroad point. Enterprise and push truly are two powerful factors in a community.

—On Tuesday the telephone wire was broken somewhere between this place and Coburn, but it was very soon mended again by Mr. Kreamer, the R. R. agent, and in the evening its powers were tested by our band. The boys were out serenading, when a message came from Coburn that they would like to share some of the fine music. The band played several pieces in Musser & Smith's store, the telephone office, and the Coburnites being congregated in the ticket office had the pleasure of distinctly hearing every note, even at a distance of six feet from the instrument. This was something new for Coburn folks and they enjoyed it very much.

AT REST.—Mr. & Mrs. A. J. Harter, of this place, were called to Hartleton, Union county, on Saturday evening on account of the sudden death of Mrs. Geo. P. Ruhl, the mother of Mrs. Harter. Mrs. Ruhl had been in good health and was feeling better than usual until shortly before she died. She was entertaining some friends at the supper table on Saturday evening and partook of a hearty meal herself, when almost in the "twinkling of an eye" her head dropped on the table and her spirit left the body for a higher and happier sphere. Mrs. Ruhl was a model wife and mother, a Christian lady and an esteemed neighbor. Her death is an unspeakable bereavement to her kind husband and loving children and the writer offers his sincere sympathy in their heavy affliction. The funeral will take place tomorrow.

—Last week's Bellefonte Watchman contains the following, which may serve as a warning to handle coal stoves with care during the coming winter :

SUFFOCATED BY COAL GAS.—Mr. Mingle, of the Pennsvalley Banking Company at Centre Hall, sent us by telephone yesterday morning the particulars of a sad affair in that place on Wednesday night. It appears that Mrs. Susan McCulley, an old lady who lives in the house adjoining Mr. Mingle's residence, probably afraid to stay alone secured Mamie Keller, a little daughter of ex-Treasurer D. C Keller, to sleep with her. The two seem to have gone to bed with the dampers of the stove turned so that the gas from the coal escaped in such quantities as to fill the room and render them unconscious. Not making their appearance in the morning, at the usual time and the house remaining unopened, with no signs of life about it, Mr. Mingle procured a ladder and with Dr. Alexander entered a window, when the old lady was found nearly dead, as was supposed, and the little girl unconscious. The proper remedies were promptly applied by Dr. Alexander, and we are pleased to say that the child Mamie is now out of danger. It is feared, however, that the old lady cannot recover.

DID it ever occur to you, thoughtful and prudent reader, that Dr. Kessler's Celebrated English Cough Medicine must be an article of real merit, or how could the manufacturer ever be able to advertise "money refunded to all dissatisfied purchasers."

Miscellaneous News.

No one is to blame for the recent terrible accident on the Philadelphia and Erie railroad. Such is the verdict of the cooner's jury.

It is estimated that there are 100 coke operators, 6,000 men, 10,000 ovens and over $13,000,000 invested in the coke business of the Connellsville region at this time.

An Ohio Town on Fire.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 1.—The town of Geneva, Ohio, is burning. The indications point to the destruction of half the village. Fire engines have left this city by a special train. The loss by the fire in Geneva, will not be less than $50,000.

The latest case of faith cure is that of a Miss Morgan, of Pittsburg, who had been confined to bed for three years with spinal disease. She is now able to walk and firmly believes that she will permanently recover, attributing her improved condition entirely to her faith in the efficacy of prayer.

Near Wilkinsburg, in Allegheny County, there is an encampment of two hundred Italians. They live in rough board shanties and canvas tents and do their own cooking. They have no idea what constitutes comfort or luxury, and are not epicureans. One of the Italians is always king of the camp and makes all their contracts with emyloyers, for which he receives a percentage of the wages of the men under him. The ditchers get $1.25 a day, but after deducting the commission paid to the padrone they have little left. Though they don't have much, they save all they get. Their expenses are so little that they will get rich upon what an American laborer can't live on.

Discovery of a Big Coal Vein.

PITTSBURG, October 30.—An important discovery of a large vein of coal was made by the New York and Westmoreland Gas Coal and Coke Company at Manor Station this morning. At a depot of one hundred and eighty-three feet a vein between seven and eight feet of excellent coal was found. The shaft will be put in shape at once and the mine will be in operation within the next month. The company's territory lies mid way between the coal lands of the Westmoreland Company and the Pennsylvania Gas Coal Company, at each of which the same vein is found, but the latest shaft is twenty feet deeper, making quite a dip in the vein at the point struck yesterday. The cost of sinking the shaft was $35,000. The mine is near to the main line of the Pennsylvania Road and a siding has been graded up to the new works. The mine will prove a valuable one.

The Storm in the State.

Four Boats Wrecked in the Schuylkill Canal. The Occupants in Peril.

At Black Rock, near spring City, in the Schuylkill Canal, during the storm last night, four boats were wrecked. The dam at this point is very wide. The violence of the winds broke the tow-lines and the boats were drifted into the breast of the dam. They were so far away from the tow-path that it was impossible to cast a tow-line ashore. Several drivers made an effort to reach them in small canoes, but the latter capsized and a man named Donahue narrowly escaped being drowned.

For several hours the adrift boats rocked to and fro at the mercy of the winds. The families on board were panic-stricken, as it was expected every moment that the boats would be dashed to pieces. They crouched together in the cabins. About midnight the storm abated and the families were taken ashore. The individual boat Peerless ran ashore and filled with water. The crew easily escaped. The storm of last night was the most severe ever experienced in the Schuylkill Valley so late in the season.

HAZLETON, October 30.—[Special.]—A heavy fall of snow occurred here today, in many places throughout the region the fall being two inches deep.

QUAKER
Is the Best
TABLE SAUCE.

Thousands of articles are now manufactured that in former years had to be imported, paying high import duty as it is now being done on Lea & Perrins table sauce; the QUAKER TABLE SAUCE takes its place; it has been pronounced by competent judges just as good and even better. The QUAKER SAUCE has Slowly but surely gained great importance and is replacing the very best imported sauce on the shelf of the grocer, the tables of the restaurant and the tables of the rich and poor men, greatly prized and relished by all on account of its piquancy, aroma, taste, strength and pureness. The inventor has by years of study of the secret virtues contained in the aromatic spices of the Indies and China, such as mace, nutmeg, cinnamon, genuine Jamaica ginger and peppers and buds of trees unknown to most men, and by long practice succeeded to combine their extracts in such a liquid form as we now find it, of agreeable taste, and so invigorating as to be taken in place of stomach bitters. By manufacturing this sauce here, heavy import duties and freights are saved, and it is sold at a lower figure to the dealer, who making a better profit on Quaker Sauce can sell it to the consumer cheaper than the very best imported article hardly equaling ours. If your grocer does not keep it, write us for prices, etc. Sold in bottles or by the gallon.
