From the Ohio Statesman.

Sentenced for Life.

An old convict in the Ohio Penitentiary has been confined therein for 30 years, and was sentenced for life. He was sent from Butler county, for murder in the second degree—and was in jail some two years before final conviction and sentence. He is about 60 years of age, large, frame and very portly. He has been a man of powerful nerve, and sinewy. Perhaps the strongest man ever in the prison. But for the last ten years, he has been suffered to remain idle, and amuse himself in taking care of his bear, deer, peacock and other fowls about the yard. He has been up to that time a very hard working man—chopped wood in the fields adjacent to the prison—and carried stone during all the time of building the new penitentiary—and claims to have bossed the job. For several years his mind has been fulling—he claims that the State owes him for all the work he has done—and says he will never leave the prison until it is paid—amounting by his estimate, to $4,444. He insists that the State shall board him until every cent is paid, and refused to leave his old quarters.

He has occupied the same cell for many years, has it fixed up to suit himself with all manner of traps—including an old-fashioned suit of clothes, which he sometimes puts on, struts about the yard in grand style with his cane, demanding a settlement of his accounts. He makes tooth picks of a very fine appearance, and is permitted to sell them to visitors. His hat is of the old fashioned bell crown high top—and when he gets on the citizen's coat and pants—the latter being quite too short and close fitting—he presents a ludicrous appearance. One day a quail had got into the yard and was caught by him—and he started to the office to show it to the warden—having never seen one for thirty years, it was a great curiosity to him. While in the office the warden whispered to the guard, in tones just so that the convict could hear him, to lock the door and keep him out, so that the State would get clear of paying the debt. In a twinking the old man was through the door to his cell, before the officer was aware of his intention; saying as he went off, that he never made a house that he could be locked out of.

He came to the prison under the name of John Phillips, but for a number of years has called himself Aaron Crouder, and flies into a passion the moment Phillips is mentioned. He is very healthy, though growing feeble, never is sick, never troubles the hospital—pretends to be a doctor, and often feels the pulse of the officers to see if they are well, and prescribes some simple remedy for them. During the cholera, brandy was prescribed in small quantities for the convicts, but he never tastes a drop, and says he never will.

He gives an account of his arrest and conviction. He says it was all about a woman. Her man abused her—he took her and her things into a wagon to take her to her people; her man overtook them in the woods, and a fight ensued, in which her man was killed.—Crouder says he could not help it, he would fight, and he was the strongest. That's all.

He knows of no relatives living—and has no accurate idea of his state after death. He is kind, docile, and rather inclined to be sociable, but he has been sometimes a hard case to manage. Sometimes now, he gets a little wild and scolds bitterly—but an offer to buy a toothpick, or trade for anything, puts him in a good humor.

His case is a lamentable one, and it is questionable if he becomes better prepared for death than when sentenced—though he has suffered more than death in his thirty years of dying. If turned out fifteen years ago, he would no doubt have behaved himself—been some comfort to himself, and thought more about the future.

☞ The Examiner, a Baptist paper published in New York, has a very sensible article upon the appointments of chaplains in Congress. We copy:

"It is needless to picture the scene yearly recurring, of what has become an actual scramble for the office of chaplain. Every session of Congress, some score of candidates, away from their posts, are eager in attendance; some dozen or more of names of different denominations are proposed as candidates; all but two of whom are, of course, to be disappointed of an election by wordly men to the office of Christian minister. The successful candidate is not usually the man whom his own denomination even, not to say our Christian community generally, would wish to see at such a post; often he is the man who has written many letters beforehand soliciting votes, who meets this friends' as they alight at the railroad stations, who follows them to their hotels, and who in the barroom even is heard talking loudly of his devotoin to 'the party.' It is time that these scenes, which make a worthy man blush, should be banished from among us; and that our Christian community should be spared the painful mortification to which every year they are subjected at the meeting of Congress."

Really, the parsons are no better than the politicians.

A DESPERATE VILLAIN.—The St. Louis Democrat records the case of one Wm. F. Morgan in that city, a young lawyer, who was arrested for stealing, and against whom some of the foulest and most heinous crimes known to the law are made. Among them that he forged and procured the record of a deed for a piece of property belonging to an old mulatto woman of that city, and that some time ago he employed two men to take the life of this woman, so that there could be no difficulty in establishing his claim to her property. The woman states that two men did come to her house, one a red, and the other a black-haired man, and after trying to drug her with brandy and wine, hit her a terrible blow on the side of the head with a stone and left her for dead.

BREADSTUFFS.—Speaking of the prevailing high prices of breadstuffs, and the immense supplies for exportation which the country is capable of affording, the Buffalo Courier remarks:

"There is hardly any limit to our surplus of wheat and corn and if the demand abroad should carry off 100,000 bushels, which is almost four times as much as we have ever exported in one year, there would still be an abundant supply for home consumption. Strange as it may seem that with a large surplus on hand, fully equal to supply the demand from abroad, prices should rule so high, it is, nevertheless, in obedience to a law of trade, which makes a sudden impulse push the market values beyond a due limit, as well as to another law of trade, which makes a derangement in the ordinary channels of supply produce for a time all the consequences of an actual scarcity."

☞ They that govern most make the least noise.

Markets.

PHILA., Dec. 18.

Flour and Meal—The Flour market continues dull, and shipping brands are selling at 8¾ a 8¾ per bbl., sales of family at $8 50 a 8 75 per bbl. There is a fair inquiry from retailers and bakers at $9 to $10 for extra and fancy brands. Rye Flour is dull at $6 37½, and Penna. Meal at $4.

Grain—There is a good supply of Wheat, but the market is still dull. Sales of small lots of Southern and Penna. red, at $1 85 a 1 95 and 2 05 a 2 10 for prime white. Rye is rather lower; sales at 123c per bu. Corn is also dull. Sales of old yellow at 92c a 94, and new yellow at from 80 to 85c. Oats are dull at 40 a 42c per bu, for Delaware, and 42c for Penna.

Whiskey is steady—sales of bbls. at 39 a40c and 38c for hhds.

Cloverseed comes in very slowly and is wanted at $9 per 64 lbs. Timothy ranges from $1 75 a $3 12½ per bu. Flaxseed is very scarce and in demand at $2 50.

CURED without pain or surgical operation, in from ten minutes to three hours, by Dr. JONES, who has been practising with such unbounded success in Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and other large cities and towns in the United States. He has references from the Medical Faculties of the above named places, and any quantity of testimonials from persons cured by him. This system is the only one known to man by which those impediments can be forever removed, and he will have to pay till the patient is cured, which shall be tested by reading and speaking without an impediment. Remember, no cure no pay required. Dr. JONES may be found at Parson's Hotel, until the 30th instant.

SATURDAY EVENING POST.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.

Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000.

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY-FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been, as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse, but also instruct and improve those who may read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character procured, when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture; Accounts of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it has faculties which delight in the humorous and lively, the imaginative and poetical. These faculties also must have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and, as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided, and is not able to take an enlarged and generous view of human nature and its destiny. To satisfy these heaven-implanted cravings of our mental being, we devote a fair proportion of the Post to Fiction, Poetry and Humor.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above Departments, are several of the most gifted writers in the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a new story, by Mrs. SOUTHWORTH, author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c., in our first paper of January next.

Engravings, illustrative of important places and actions, of Agricultural and other new Inventions, with others of a humorous, though refined character, are also freely given.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

This is one of the few large papers filled with life and thought, instead of lumbering trash.—Its management is marked by liberality, courtesy, ability and tact. It employs the best literary talent, and spares no pains or expense.—As a family paper, one of literary and general intelligence, we cordially recommend it.—Cayuga Chief, Auburn, N. Y.

Our readers may rely upon it, that Deacon & Peterson will be as good as their word. So far as we can judge by years of observation, these publishers do rather more than they promise; and their paper is edited with very marked ability. It is singularly free from silly sentimentalism and bluster, but is of a healthy tone on all subjects, always moderate in language, but always mildly advocating the right. We find it one of the most generally attractive papers in our exchanges.—Christian Times & Blue Ridge Ind.

It is the best literary and family paper in the Union.—Rock Islander, Rock Island, Ill.

We have heretofore spoken in high terms of the merits of the Post, as one of the best papers on our exchange list, and we regard it as one of the best literary papers to be found anywhere. Its editorials are written with ability, and take a liberal, independent and comprehensive view of men and things.—Star & Advertiser, Wrightsville, Pa.

It is deservedly one of the most popular public journals in the United States, combining as it does, in a literary point of view, all the interest of the best magazines, with a vast amount of general intelligence.—Republican, Litchfield, Conn.

Proclamation.

WHEREAS the Hon. JAMES H. GRAHAM, President Judge of the several Courts of Common Pleas in the counties of Cumberland, Perry, and Juniata, and Justices of the several Courts of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery in said counties, and Samuel Woodburn and John Rupp, Judges of the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery for the trial of all capital and other offenders, in the said county of Cumberland, by their precepts to me directed, dated the 12th of November, 1855, have ordered the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery to be holden at Carlisle, on the 2nd Monday of January, 1856, (being the 14th day,) at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to continue two week.

NOTICE is hereby given to the Coroner, Justices of the Peace, and Constables of the said county of Cumberland, that they are by the said precept commanded to be then and there in their proper persons, with their rolls, records, and inquisitions, examinations and all other remembrances, to do those things which to their offices appertain to be done, and all those that are bound by recognizances, to prosecute against the prisoners that are or then shall be in the Jail of said county, are to be there to prosecute them as shall be just.

DEAD.

THE N. Y. Tribune, of the 5th, states that Dr. Joel Shew, an honest man and earnest reformer, widely known as a pioneer of the Water cure into the United States, died last Saturday, in his 40th year; and after giving a biographical sketch, states that he "died in the fullest confidence in the system he had so ably and earnestly advocated." We know Dr. Shew prior to his going to Germany, in '41 and '42, and we believe he was honest in his convictions; but, like many other honest men, he died a victim to his delusion. Cold water is not adapted to all manifestations of disease, nor every variety of temperament and constitution. In the East Indies, children are rarely ever washed in water, but they are oiled every day. A child's head can be kept much cleaner with oil than without it; and many young persons with hectic checks would probably never know the last days of consumption, if their parents would insist on having the chest, back, and limbs anointed with the "Electric Oil" two or three times a week. The Hebrew Physicians seem to have considered oil as more efficacious than any other remedy. The sick were always anointed with oil, as the most powerful means that was known of checking disease.

We are not unsupported in our statements, that we have made the most important discovery of modern times; and that the generation now coming on the active stage of life, will most fully acknowledge and apply the principle of Hygiene we have introduced. "No bleeding, vomiting nor purging," but a perfect, natural and healthful action of all the powers of life may be kept up without the aid of poisons or weakening applances. Oil of itself, however, has no Electric principle. We claim its use as a necessary adjunct, and that the combination we have discovered, in which we have introduced an Electric power or principle, is capable of relieving pain instantly in most cases, always soon, and produces no possible bad results.

The "art of healing," though of more importance than all other arts and discoveries, has not kept pace with other arts and sciences—so says an able writer, which he thinks is owing to the proneness of schools to adhere to old views and antiquated dogmas. But the people are beginning to open their eyes and to see these things in their true light, and hence the rise and progress of all the "isms" and theories; female doctors and quacks flourish, because the people will not believe in the infallibility of a profession so inconsistent, and they are bound to try all and to hold fast that which is good, if it can be found.

It is said that Dr. McClintock was once regarded by the "regulars" as a demi-God, but as he saw fit to put out a lot of medicines on his own responsibility, all manner of abuses is heaped on him. Is he not the same talented Doctor now, that the great medical journals represented him formerly? We have great respect for the profession, and have received from them every mark of favor, and we are now submitting to them our views and we tender them our medicine, but have no sympathy with the jealous, timid and backbiting among them, and ask none of their favors. We feel persuaded we shall benefit them more than they can us, and that the people will award us the distinction due an immensely valuable discovery.

Beware of counterfeits.

Cosmopolitan Art Association!

SECOND YEAR.

ARRANGEMENTS for the Second Annual Collection of this new and popular Institution for the diffusion of Literature and Art, have been made on the most extensive scale.—Among the works already engaged, is the famed "GENOA CRUCIFIX," which originally cost ten thousand dollars.

In forming the new collection, the diffusion of works of American art, and the encouragement of American genius, have not been overlooked. Commissions have been issued to many of the most distinguished American Artists, who will contribute some of their finest productions. Among them are three Marble Busts, executed by the greatest living Sculptor,—HIRAM POWERS,

GEORGE WASHINGTON,
The Father of his Country;
BENJAMIN FRANKLIN,
The Philosopher;
DANIEL WEBSTER,
The Statesman.

A special agent has visited Europe and made careful and judicious selections of foreign works of art, both in Bronze and Marble; Statuary and choice Paintings.

The whole forming a large and valuable collection of paintings and statuary, to be distributed free among the members of the Association for the second year.

Terms of Membership.

The payment of three dollars constitutes any one a member of this Association, and entitles him to either one of the following Magazines for one year, and also a ticket in the distribution of the Statuary and Paintings.

The Literature issued to subscribers consists of the following Monthly Magazines: Harper's, Putnam's, Knickerbocker, Blackwood's, Graham's, Godey's Lady's Book, and Household Words.

Persons taking five memberships are entitled to any five of the Magazines for one year, and to six tickets in the distribution.

The net proceeds derived from the sale of memberships, are devoted to the purchase of works of art for the ensuing year.

The Advantages Secured

by becoming a member of this Association, are 1st. All persons receive the full value of their subscriptions at the start, in the shape of sterling Magazine Literature.

2d. Each member is contributing towards purchasing choice works of art, which are to be distributed among themselves, and are at the same time encouraging the arts of the country, disbursing thousands of dollars through its agency.

All persons who may become subscribers, will please give their post-office address in full, stating the month they wish the Magazine to commence, and have the letter registered at the Post-Office to prevent loss; on the receipt of which, a certificate of membership, together with the Magazine desired, will be forwarded to any part of the country.

Those who purchase Magazines at Bookstores will observe that by joining this Association, they receive the Magazine and free ticket in the annual distribution, all at the same price they now pay for the Magazine alone.

Beautifully illustrated catalogues giving full descriptions, sent free on application.

For membership, address

C. L. DERBY, Actuary C. A. A.

At either of the principal offices—"Knickerbocker Magazine" office, 348 Broadway, N. Y., or, Western Office, 166 Water street, Sandusky, Ohio.

CABINET WAREHOUSE

THE subscriber takes this method of informing his friends and the public generally, that he continues to carry on the Cabinet and Undertaking Business, at his stand, North Hanover street, next door to Haverstick's drug store, and nearly opposite the Carlisle Deposit Bank. Coffins made at the shortest notice and at moderate prices. Having provided himself with a new and fine Hearse, he will attend funerals in town and country, personally, without any extra charge. He will also carry on the CABINET MAKING in all its various branches, and will constantly keep on hand Bureaus, Secretaries, Work Stands, Parlor Ware, Upholstered Chairs, Sofas, Ottomans, Sofa Tables, Card, Side, Dining and Breakfast Tables, Chamber Ware, such as French Field, (high and low posts,) Curtain and Jenny Lind Bedsteads, Washstands of different kinds, Wardrobes, Venitian Blinds, and Chairs of all kinds, and all other articles usually manufactured in this line of business.

His workmen are experienced, eastern city workmen, and his work is made in the latest city style, and all undergoes his inspection, and of the best materials; all of which is warranted to be good, and will be sold low for cash. He invites all to give him a call before purchasing elsewhere. For the liberal patronage heretofore extended him, he feels indebted to his numerous customers, and assures them that no efforts will be spared in future to please them in style, manufacture and price. Give us a call. Remember the place, nearly opposite the Bank.
