THE POST

Middleburg.....July 24, 1873

It is a mistake to suppose that mercantile drummers from New York and Philadelphia own those cities—they don't, in a general way, the airs they assume "to the contrary not withstanding. Young ladies in search of "feller" should profit by this statement.

Under a Front Step

The Richmond, Va., News says: A few weeks since, a citizens of Louisa county, named Nathan Johnson, died. On opening the front step of his house for some buried money, the sum of $12,500, in twenty dollar gold pieces, was found buried in four tin boxes. During the late war the county of Louisa was raided on by the Federal troops several times.

On one of these occasions, Mr. Johnson sent his servants out to watch the approaching marauders, and took occasion meanwhile to effectually conceal his funds. In due time the soldiers came and upset everything in the house in search of funds, and even ate Mr. Johnson's provisions while sitting on the step under which he had placed the money, but they did not find it, else his heirs would now be out of that much pocket change.

The Precise Man.

The "Precise Man" sunatimes parts his hair in the middle, and when he doz, he knots the hare on each side ov his hed, and splits sum, if it is necessary, to make the thing ded even.

If he is a married man, everything must be just so—if he is a bachelor, it must be more so.

He alwez sets a hen on 13 eggs, and has a grate horror for all odd numbers.

He gits up just such a time in the morning, and goes tew bed at just such a time at nesht, and would as soon think ov taking a doze o' strickninе for the hiccups as tew kut up a dog's tale when the moon waz in the last quarter.

The precise man haz but few branes, and they are az sotter dogs, for he seldom makes a false point.

He is a bundle of fakts and figgers, and is az handy in the nabrhood as a pair of platform skales or a ready reckoner.

He is invarably an honest man, but often az sure from pride az from principle.

He luvs his children, if he haz any, and would rather hav them perfekt in the multiplikashun table than in the Illiad of Homer.

His wife is soon broke tew akt and think as he does, and she is known far and near for the excellence of her soft sope.—Josh Billings.

A Wise Conclusion.

The life of Dr. Raffles, of London, has the following: A young lady the daughter of the owner of the house, was addressed by a man, who though agreeable to her was disliked by her father. Of course, he would not consent to their union, and she determined to elope. The night was fixed, the hour came, and he placed the ladder in the window, and in a few minutes she was in his arms. They mounted double horse, and were soon some distance from the house. After a while the lady broke silence by saying, "Well, you see what a proof I have given you of my affection; I hope you will make me a good husband."

He was a surly fellow and gruffly answered, "Perhaps I may and perhaps I may not."

She made no rep'y, but after a silence of some minutes, she suddenly exclaimed, "Oh, what shall I do? I have left my money behind me in my room."

Then he said, "We must go back and fetch it."

They were soon at the house, and the ladder was again raised, the lady remounted while the ill-natured lover waited below. But she delayed to come, and so he gently called, "Are you coming?" when she looked out of the window and said, "Perhaps I may and perhaps I may not," and then shut the window down and left him to return upon the double horse alone.

Manhood: How Lost, How Restored

Just published, a new edition of the CELEBRATED (GOLD MEDALLIST) on the Medical care (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., also Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

Price in sealed envelopes, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without medicine, and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or cordials; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain, simple, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and completely.

This lecture should be in the hands of every young man and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps.

Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents.

Celebrated Blood Cleanser or Panacea.

The Panacea will not only cure old standing and most great complaints, but is one of the best preventatives of such diseases ever offered to the world. You can avoid severe attacks of acute diseases, such as Cholera, Small Pox, Typhoid, Bilious, Spasmodic and Intermittent Fevers, by keeping your blood purified. The different degrees of all such diseases depend altogether upon the condition of the blood; for if the vital fluid is deranged you will take a disease much more readily than otherwise, and the suffering will be in proportion to the amount of foreign matter in the blood. This is so reasonable that we need not here make any illustrations.

Remember the name and don't be put off with anything else which druggists may say is just as good as the Blood Cleanser or Panacea—they make more profit on cheap articles.

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For restoring to Gray Hair its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. It soon restores faded or gray hair to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed; but such as remain can be saved by this application, and stimulated into activity, and force new growth to supply the place of those that may have perished. It prevents the hair from turning gray, stops its falling off, and consequently the baldness. The restoration of vitality it gives to the scalp arrests and prevents the formation of dandruff, which is often so unsightly and offensive. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre, and a grateful perfume.
