HUMOROUS.

Dividing Up.

A man of forty-five, having a swollen jaw and the look of one who has suffered with the toothache, sat down in the chair vacated by the boy, and after a smile of encouragement began:

"If matters don't mend pretty soon I'll either murder her or take my own life."

"Domestic trouble, I suppose?" queried Bijah.

"That's it, sir, and I'm getting desperate. I left home thinking I'd come from the dock, but I happened to think of you; and so I thought I'd ask advice."

"Is the bread heavy?"

"Shot the bread! I can stand heavy bread, sloppy tea, raw meat and half-cooked potatoes, but I can't nor won't stand this infernal, whining, complaining and jawing around."

"Fellow-traveler along the towpath of Time's broad-guage canal, I think I see the pint. You have been married about two years."

"Not quite."

"You are fifteen years older than your wife."

"Yes—eighteen."

"You have a wooden leg, and she—she—"

"She hasn't, but I wish she had two of 'em!"

"She likes good clothes?"

"You bet!"

"She likes the mad whirl of society, sixteen dollar bonnets, reserved seats at the opera, eight dollar boots, forty button kid gloves, and trains on her dresses!"

"She does; that's her to a dot!" exclaimed the husband.

"And you prefer your home, evening fire, newspaper, snow apples, game of checkers, glass of cider, cat on the hearth, and so on?"

"That's the sort o' man I am, sir, and she harasses me to death. She's on the trot all day and on the gad all evening, and if I remonstrate she says I want to make a slave and a prisoner of her."

"Don't you go along with her to the theatre and parties?"

"I used to; but for the last year she's got awful particular about my wooden leg; says the public will think I was shot while stealing chickens."

"Does, eh? and you sit at home and keep your feet warm by the cook stove while she gallivants?"

"The same, sir, and now what shall I do about it? Something has got to be did, and that right off. I'll be hanged to Davy Crockett if I put up with it another day! You are an older man than I am, and you've had three wives to my one, and I'll do just as you say about it."

"Fellow man, you have been wrong from the beginning," slowly answered Bijah, as he looked out of the window in a weary way. "The man who marries a woman only half his age is a D. F.—deceived friedcake—at the start. Youth may reverence old age, but love isn't reverence. Youth and old age don't like their taters cooked the same way, and the man who says they do is a forger. They don't see alike, and it's a cat and dog life. If I was to marry again, bald-headed as I am, I should look for a lady wearing No. 10 gaiters and No. 9 shoes as an offset. Do you love your wife?"

"Well, to be honest about it, I don't think either of us are dying of love."

"Then, my friend, you go home and have a candid talk, divide up the things, and part good friends. Give her the larger half, throw in some small change, and see that she gets home safe to her mother. By and by you can quietly secure a bill of divorce, get on some store clothes, and look out for a woman of fifty, who has the rheumatics so that she can't get mad."

"That's honest, is it?"

"Honest injun. If you can't live happy together don't hesitate to live happy apart. No use in any scandal or hard words, but divide up and call it a bad mistake. This killing one's self on account of domestic trouble is all bosh."

"That's so, and I'll walk straight home and begin the dividing up business. Thank you, Bijah; may your feet stop growing as a reward for this."

When he had departed Bijah took a short cut through the alleys, and presently gained a position from whence he could view the house where the man lived. Developments did not tarry. The husband had not been in the house more than five minutes before he was suddenly rushed out again, hat and cane flying, and his share of the things, consisting of three flat irons, a kettle and two bricks, overtook him before he could dodge.

"So young and so artless!" mused Bijah, as he turned away; "and yet that last brick thumped him between the shoulders just as purty as if I'd thrown it myself!"—Free Press.

The "WHITE" stands acknowledged Kng of all Sewng Machines.

Important and Cautionary Notice to all intending purchasers of sewing Machines.

OFFICE WHITE SEWING MACHINE CO. CLEVELAND, O, May 27, 1880.

We particularly call your attention to the fact that we stamp a number in plain, distinct figures on the back shuttle-race slide of each machine and keep a record of such numbers. When sold, a WARRANTY FOR FIVE YEARS is given to the purchaser. This warrant bears the name of the agent who purchased the machine from us, as also the date of purchase and a number corresponding to the slide number. The warrant is signed by us, and has the OFFICIAL SEAL of our company stamped upon it. All other warrants in our name are spurious, and parties finding the SLIDE NUMBERS MUTILATED OR DEFACED, and no warranty to correspond with the above description, may know at once that sooner or later the owner will be involved in trouble, with no one to fall back upon.

The GENUINE "White" is today the most popular machine upon the market, the cheapest, and the best to own or sell. A large number of the "White" have been made and sold since they were placed upon the market, than any other make in the same length of time since Sewing Machines were invented. Their lightness, speed, space, beauty, quietness, durability, and price, combine to make them the machine that every family desires to own, and thoroughly satisfied when once they possess the "White."

THE REGULAR AUTHORIZED DEALER FOR Snyder and adjoining counties, is C. C. SEEGOLD Middleburg Pa., and we advise intending purchasers to patronize none other, and thereby get the genuine "White"

Is a compound of the virtues of sarsaparilla, stillingia, mandrake, yellow dock, with the iodide of potash and iron, all powerful blood-making, blood-cleansing, and life-sustaining elements. It is the purest, safest, and in every way the most effectual alterative medicine known or available to the public. The sciences of medicine and chemistry have never produced so valuable a remedy, nor one so potent to cure all diseases resulting from impure blood. It cures Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Pimples and Face-grubs, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Humors, Salt Rheum, Scald-head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Mercurial Disease, Neuralgia, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, Jaundice, Affections of the Liver, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility.

By its searching and cleansing qualities it purges out the foul corruptions which contaminate the blood, and cause derangement and decay. It stimulates and enlivens the vital functions. It promotes energy and strength. It restores and preserves health. It infuses new life and vigor throughout the whole system. No sufferer from any disease which arises from impurity of the blood need despair, who will give AYER'S SARSAPARILLA a fair trial. Remember, the earlier the trial, the speedier the cure.

Its recipe has been furnished to physicians everywhere; and they, recognizing its superior qualities, administer it in their practice.

For nearly forty years AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has been widely used, and it now possesses the confidence of millions of people who have experienced benefits from its marvellous curative virtues.

A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment, and radical cure of Seminal Weakness or Spermatorrhœa induced by Self-Abuse, Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, &c.—By ROBERT J. The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-abuse may be effectually removed without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or cordials; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
