HOW TO FATTEN FOWLS.

The Rural New Yorker gives some hints on this subject that are timely at this season and will be valuable to many of our country readers:

Obviously the farmer had better fatten his fowls and send them to market himself. He can do it with less trouble than he imagines. Feed liberally at all times, so as to keep them growing thriftily; but about twenty days before being slaughtered feed them in this way: Make a coop for one dozen fowls; more should not be put together. The coop should be three feet long, two wide, and two and a-half high. Make sides and ends of bars about three inches apart—the bottom of round poles two inches apart, the top of board. Place this in a comfortable room elevated two feet from the floor, in the barn or poultry house, where the cold winds will be kept away and where the light will be dim. Attach feeding troughs all around the outside. Commence feeding very light, giving but little water the first day. Then feed regular three or four times per day with the richest food, as oat meal mixed with milk, boiled barley or corn. Observe the utmost cleanliness, and give a supply of fresh water. In twenty days the poultry should be killed, and for such the farmers will find plenty greedy buyers, willing to pay the highest price.

GENERAL RECIPES.

SOUPS WITHOUT GREASE.—The single but universal defect of soups made in most households is greasiness—usually visible to the eye, but always perceptible to the palate. Most cookery books recommend, as the cure for this, incessant and troublesome skimming; but Lady Llanover solves the difficulty in the twinkling of an eye: "And did it never occur to you," said the Hermit, "that, if you wanted soup on a Wednesday, you had only to make it on Tuesday?—by which means you would be able, the morning you require it, to remove every particle of the objectionable ingredient with a sharp knife, when it can be taken off as a solid cake, and that your soup or broth, whether in jelly or liquid, would then be as pure, and as clear of all oily particles, as if it had been skimmed, and re-skimmed again and again, when in a boiling state, by the first cook in Europe."

CORN MEAL PUDDING WITHOUT EGGS.—Take seven heaping tablespoonsful of meal, a salt-spoonful of salt, two table-spoonsful of butter, one tea-cupful of molasses, a table-spoonful of ginger, and mix with a quart of boiling milk. When thoroughly mixed, pour into a buttered pan, and just as you set in the oven stir in a cup of cold water, which will have the same effect as eggs. Bake one hour.

GINGERBREAD LOAF.—Two pounds of flour, two pounds of molasses, half a pound of coarse brown sugar, one ounce and a-half of ground ginger, once ounce of carraway seed, six ounces of butter, eight eggs, and a small table-spoonful of soda; melt the butter, molasses, and sugar together over the fire, and mix with the other ingredients. Bake three hours.

GOUT CORDIAL.—Rhubarb, senna, coriander seed, sweet fennel seed, and cochineal, of each two ounces; liquorice root and saffron, of each one ounce; raisins, two pounds and a-half; rectified spirits of wine, two gallons; let it stand for fourteen days and then use. A dose is one table-spoonful to half an ounce.

DYSPEPSIA BREAD.—The following recipe for making bread has proved highly salutary to persons afflicted with dyspepsia: Three quarts of unbolted wheat meal, one quart of soft water, warm but not hot, one gill of fresh yeast, one gill of molasses, or not, as may suit the taste, and one teaspoonful of saleratus.

APPLE JELLY.—Take a pound of white sugar, put it into a pint of cold water, let it boil till it is a rich syrup, then add as much apple as it will absorb, and the juice of two lemons; boil it until quite thick; then pour it into a mould until quite cold; it will turn out like a jelly. Serve in a dish with a whipped cream.

☞ By making a solution of shellac with borax, in water, and adding a suitable portion of pure lampblack, an ink is producible which is indestructible by time, or by chemical agents, and which, on drying, will present a polished surface, as with the ink found on the Egyptian papyri.

A NICE TEA CAKE.—One cupful of sugar, one of sweet milk, one egg, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in the milk, two teaspoonsful of cream tartar put into one pint of flour sifted, a cupful of well-cleaned currants, and half a nutmeg or a spoonful of carraway seeds.

CHEAP CAKE.—Take three tablespoonsful of melted lard, butter, or fried meat gravy, one teacupful of sugar, one of sour or sweet milk, (some prefer the sour,) half a teaspoonful of saleratus; put flour enough in to make it as stiff as you can stir it.

MACARONI.—Soak in water, boil in milk and water; when soft, put it in a baking-dish, with a little butter, pepper, and salt, and brown.

Poor Policy

To keep the inferior, scrawny, scrub cows for dairy purposes that give less milk than one good one, and consume more food than three.

To purchase in town 500 loads of livery stable manure, and suffer the same amount of better home-made manure to run to waste.

To estimate agricultural fairs as arrant humbugs, and spend three days every month serving the country at political meetings.

To depend on borrowing your neighbors' rakes, mowers, and all sorts of agricultural implements, in haying and harvest time.

To house a thousand bushels of grain, waiting for a rise, till one-tenth is gone to feed rats and mice, and the remainder smells like essence of rat, and the price is down 40 per cent.

To plant out a big orchard of choice fruit trees with the thought of making money out of it, and leave them to do or die.

To keep two five hundred dollar carriage horses, and pay six dollars a day for a team to plow.

To attempt to fatten your hogs into 1200 pounds of pork on just as much feed as would keep two hogs nicely growing.

It is positively a poor practice to call "book larnin" all bosh, to ignore news and all agricultural papers, and attempt to keep up an even yoke with your progressive neighbors by main strength and stupidness.

HOW TO COOK A HAM.—We dine occasionally at the table of Mrs. K., and until we tasted it there, we did not know what a ham was capable of. It being too nice to remain a family secret, we asked for the recipe for the benefit of our readers. Boil a ham for three hours, remove the skin, and trim it nicely, and then rub into the fat a pound of powdered sugar, or as much as it will take up. The ham is then placed in a dripping pan, in which is put a pint of sherry, or other good wine, and put into the oven, and baked very slowly for two hours. During the baking it is frequently basted with the wine. Try this, and we are confident you will say that you have never before eaten ham in its greatest perfection.—American Agriculturist.

AUTUMN.—The shortening days remind us that another autumn is upon us. Verily, time waits for nobody.

CABINET WARE HOUSE.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

The subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public generally, that he still continues the Undertaking business, and is ready to wait upon customers either by day or by night. Ready made COFFINS kept constantly on hand, both plain and ornamental. He has constantly on hand Peck's Patent Metallic Burial Case, of which he has been appointed the sole agent. This case is recommended as superior to any of the kind now in use, it being perfectly air tight.

He has also furnished himself with a new Rosewood HEARSE and gentle horses, with which he will attend funerals in town and country, personally, without extra charge.

Among the greatest discoveries of the age is Powell's Spring Mattress, the best and cheapest bed now in use, the exclusive right of which I have secured, and will be kept constantly on hand.

CABINET MAKING,

in all its various branches, carried on, and Bureaus, Secretaries, Work-stands, Parlor Ware, Upholstered Chairs, Sofas, Pier, Side and Centre Tables, Dining and Breakfast Tables, Washstands of all kinds, French Bedsteads, high and low posts; Jenny Lind and Cottage Bedsteads, Chairs of all kinds, Looking Glasses, and all other articles usually manufactured in this line of business, kept constantly on hand.

His workmen are men of experience, his material the best, and his work made in the latest city style, and all under his own supervision. I will be warranted and sold low for cash.

He invites all to give him a call before purchasing elsewhere. For the liberal patronage heretofore extended to him he feels indebted to his numerous customers, and assures them that no efforts will be spared in future to please them in style and price. Give us a call.

Remember the place, North Hanover street, nearly opposite the Deposit Bank, Carlisle.

FAMILY GROCERY STORE,

EAST MAIN STREET, CARLISLE, PENNA.,

(Late Martin & Gardner's.)

The subscriber would beg leave to inform the citizens of Carlisle and vicinity, that he still keeps on hand, at his store, East Main Street, adjoining Gardner & Co's. Machine Shop and Foundry, the largest and best selected stock of

FRESH GROCERIES,

Glass and Queensware, which he will sell at the very lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Groceries will always be kept fresh and cheap. He also calls particular attention to the Eureka Patent Glass Fruit Jars, of which he has the exclusive agency for Carlisle, and which has proved its superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplicity, perfect reliability in keeping Fruit, and the extraordinary ease with which it is sealed and opened, without injury for future use. No family should purchase other jars without first examining the Eureka, if they want to buy the best.—Also KNOX'S PATENT STEP LADDER, an article which no household should be without. Also, Lash's celebrated WASHING MACHINE, only Five Dollars, and the AMIDON CLOTHES WRINGER, both of which are confidently recommended to give entire satisfaction. He has also been appointed agent for the sale of

to which he would call the attention of Farmers and others needing them as the best and cheapest article to be found for conveying water thro' yards and barn yards. Also a variety of other articles, such as DOOR MATS, of several kinds and prices.

☞ Just opened a supply of Fresh Herring and all kinds of Salt Fish, put up this Spring. Also Flour in barrels and sacks, and Feed by the bushel.

WORTH KNOWING!

IT IS A FACT worth knowing to all housekeepers, in these times when money is not quite so plenty as it was a year or two ago, that how to economize in purchasing the indispensable articles of

FOOD AND PROVISIONS

is a matter of importance to all, except such as are over flush, (they be few). The subscriber hereby informs the public that his stock of GROCERIES,

PROVISIONS,
QUEENSWARE,
CANNED FRUITS, SAUCES,

and an innumerable list of Goods and small Wares, such as are sometimes to be found in a well established Country Store, is full and complete; and he announces his determination to sell the same at prices that will pay his customers for stepping a little out of the way (although a great business center) and ascertain the truth of the above assertion.

P.S. I don't import Goods FROM ACROSS THE OCEAN, but buy them in New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, at the lowest rates that any man living can buy them. Give me a call.

Insurance Companies.

SPECIAL INSURANCE AGENCY!

OVER $25,000,000 OF CAPITAL REPRESENTED.

HOME,
MANHATTAN,
SECURITY,
NORTH AMERICAN,
GERMANIA,

all of New York. Aetna and Phœnix, of Hartford, Conn.; North America, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Columbia Mutual, of Lancaster, Pa.

The main element to be desired in Insurance Companies is

SECURITY.

If wealth, experience, intelligence and probity exist, perpetuity and honorable dealing will be likely to ensue.

Insurance creates independence. A person pays for his own indemnity, and need not be a tax on his friends.

Every man should insure; the burning or whose property would injure or inconvenience himself, his family, or his neighbors.

Insurance effected at this agency, no matter how large the amount, in either Stock or Mutual Companies. Policies issued, losses adjusted and promptly paid at this office.
