Agricultural.

CHEESE FACTORIES vs. BUTTER SUPPLY.

The introduction of cheese factories into the dairy regions is having a perceptible effect upon the butter market. A much better article of cheese is, no doubt, made than under the old system. It greatly relieves the farmer's wife and for a time it was more profitable for the farmer. But we apprehend that the new system has been pressed with so much vigor that it is endangering our butter supply. Cheese is now quite too cheap for the farmer's interests, and butter quite too dear for the consumer's. It takes from 9 to 10 lbs. of milk, according to the statistics of the Dairymen's Association, to make one pound of cheese, and about twice as much to make a pound of butter. Allowing the labor of making each to be the same, the price of butter ought to be about twice the price of cheese, and it has been to be about the reverse. [illegible] articles. But now [illegible] changed, and cheese [illegible] third as much as [illegible] our quotations for these [illegible] 1867, are: State cheese [illegible] cheese, 8 to 16½ cents. Average State butter was 23 to 45, [illegible] 14 to 19 cents. Cheese has [illegible] until it is about the cheapest [illegible] of animal food in the market. Butter was quite too dear a year ago [illegible] clearer until March, when [illegible] quoted at 40 to 50 cents. It is [illegible] now than it was a year ago, and likely to go still higher. These quotations show the tendency of the markets, and of course, the tendency of the dairy districts. It may be true that we do not make too much cheese. It is quite evident we do not make butter enough. We know of nothing else to relieve the large supply of these articles except the cheese factories, which are now numbered by hundreds, and absorb the milk of the best farms in the dairy regions. The supply of milk for the cities and large towns draws alike on the cheese and butter supply and would not disturb the balance.

What is to be done to relieve the state of the market, to restore the balance and give us butter at reasonable prices? We believe a few of these factories make both butter and cheese, and this, perhaps, will become necessary for all, to get the highest market price for the products of milk. These are butter, cheese, and whey, the last of which is fed to pigs. Under the old system, all farmers who had a convenient market for butter preferred to make that from a part of the milk, and convert the balance into cheese. The skimmed cheese was a second-rate article, but wholesome and nutritious and entered quite largely into the family supplies. It found a market at the country store and utilized the milk better than exclusive butter making would have done. The exclusive cheese makers were those who had no ready market for butter. The cheese would keep better, and could be disposed of in large or small quantities as suited the convenience of the dairyman. We see no insuperable objection to the making of both butter and cheese by the factory system. Of course a first-rate cheese could not be made at the same time that the butter was made. But we might have first-rate butter with a second-rate article of cheese all through the season, or the season might be divided between them, giving the cooler months to butter and mid-summer to cheese. Some change is called for, and we must have it or go back to home manufacture. If farmers find that they can get 5 cents a pound for a butter at their doors and only 15 for cheese at the factory, they will prefer to take care of their milk at home. The factory system has some drawbacks besides low prices. It strips the farm of fertilizers. The skimmed milk fed to pigs with other food made the best of pork, and the swill, made a yard of the best manure. Wherever it went it told a much better story than stable manure, and its effects were visible for many years upon the hay crop. Any system is much to be deprecated that prevents the manufacture of home made fertilizers. [illegible]

FAT CATTLE. The [illegible] Mass. Republican says: [illegible] and possibly the largest in the world, are now to be found in West Springfield. Chas. A. Ashley has a matched pair that make the beam of the scale [illegible] at [illegible] and Elephant still holds on to his wonderful heifer, that has long astonished the cattle-kings of Westfield. This last animal has been in uninterruptedly seven years, and the last four has not been out of the stable but once. She is a monster of fat [illegible] Her girth at breadth is [illegible] her shoulders, which measure more than 5½ feet, and the natural spread of her hips [illegible] is fully three feet. She has a voracious appetite or she could not [illegible] her food long and regularly. Her daily rations are a peck of dry meal and four quarts of shorts, all the hay she can [illegible] several sheaves of stalks, [illegible] water.

LIQUID MANURE FOR FRUIT TREES.—M. de Thais' recommends liquid manure to be applied three or four times during the summer, over the whole surface, that the roots of fruit trees may be presented to receive it. He advises the surface soil to be removed a few inches deep before the application, and replaced afterward, or some mulching in its place. He gives four kinds of liquid manure, either of which may be used. First, guano mixed with eight times its bulk in water. Second, oil cake, finely bruised, and mixed with six times its bulk in water. Third, excrementious matter mixed with water, and rendered inodorous by mixing two lbs. of green copperas with twenty-two gallons of the liquid. Fourth, urine mixed with four times its quantity of water.

CURE FOR CROUP.—An exchange states that croup is always curable by a very simple remedy, even when the patient is on the verge of suffocation.—This consists, first, in applying water to the throat by means of a sponge or soft cloth, so hot as to be very painful to the hand of the operator, instant relief being afforded. After this has been continued from fifteen to thirty minutes, a poultice of linseed meal, rolled in a cloth, is to be applied when very hot, and left on for some time. The remedies are to be repeated should the attack return; but the writer states that after a long experience he has never known them to fail.

CORN MEAL FOR MILCH COWS.—The statement is often made through the agricultural press, that corn meal is the best feed for cows as a milk producer. Why should this be repeated when the experience of almost every farmer is to the contrary, we cannot tell, unless it be for the reason that corn meal is the best grain feed for cows not giving milk.—There is no grain so good for keeping up fat, animal heat, and producing flesh and it is used in winter by most dairymen for this purpose; but as a milk producer it is the poorest grain that can be given. Oat meal and wheat bran are far superior. These statements are based upon actual experiment and the experience of many farmers.—Ohio Farmer.

☞A daily paper says that the Maine ladies trim a large pumpkin seed with fur, and wear it for a bonnet, the large end being worn in front, to protect the forehead. We shall welcome any style of ladies' head-dress that is worn with a view to protect any part of the head. Any change must be for the better.—American Agriculturist.

HOP SETS.—W. Farmer, Dacotah Co., Minn. These can be safely sent a long distance by rail. The dealers usually advertise them at the proper season.—American Agriculturist.

Hair Renewer.

HALL'S

Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer

Has stood the test of seven years before the public; and no preparation for the hair has yet been conceded that will produce the same beneficial results. It is an entirely new scientific discovery, combining many of the most powerful and restorative agents in the VEGETABLE KINGDOM. It restores GREY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL YOUTHFUL COLOR. It makes the scalp white and clean; cures dandruff and humors, and falling out of the hair; and will make it grow upon bald heads, except in very aged persons, as it furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft, and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a HAIR DRESSING. It is the cheapest preparation ever offered to the public, as one bottle will accomplish more and last longer than three bottles of any other preparation.

It is recommended and used by the First Medical Authority.

The Wonderful results produced by our Sicilian Hair Renewer have induced many to manufacture preparations for the Hair, under various names; and, in order to induce the trade and the public to purchase their compounds, they have resorted to falsehood, by claiming they were former partners, or had some connection with our Mr. Hall, and their preparation was similar to ours. Do not be deceived by them. Purchase the original; it has never yet been equalled. Our Treatise on the Hair, with certificates, sent free by mail. See that each bottle has our private Revenue Stamp over the top of the bottle. All others are imitations.

RING'S

Vegetable Ambrosia,

FOR

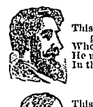
GRAY HAIR.

This is the AMBROSIA that Ring made,

This is the Cure that lay
In the AMBROSIA that Ring made,

This is the Man who was bald and gray,
Who now has raven locks, they say.
He used the Cure that lay
In the AMBROSIA that Ring made.

This is the Maiden, handsome and gay,
Who married the man once bald and gray,
Who now has raven locks, they say.
He used the AMBROSIA that Ring made.



This is the Parson, who, by the way,
Married the maiden, handsome and gay,
To the man once bald and gray,
But who now has raven locks, they say,
Because he used the Cure that lay
In the AMBROSIA that Ring made.

This is the Bell
