Monument to the Biddles.

Wooden Cross Erected by Unknown Hands Where They Fell.

A simple wooden cross has been placed by some person or persons unknown at the place, now a beautiful grass-clad spot, where the famous Biddle brothers and their female liberator—Mrs. Soffel—made their last stand and battle for liberty on the road between Mt. Chestnut and Prospect, in Butler county. The little monument attracts the attention of all who pass that way and had opened anew the discussion as to whether the notorious brothers were really as bad as they were painted in the criminal calendar.

Whether the marker was erected by some sympathizer, or by some person merely concerned in preserving the memory of the spot, is in no way indicated. A Butler man who passed the spot recently said that at the foot of the cross fresh flowers were strewn, possibly by some hysterical female drawn by the same mysterious force which led thousands of foolish women to lavish flowers on the Biddle boys' coffins in Pittsburg.

Lives Lost in the Antilles

The official estimate of the number of lives lost at St. Pierre, in Martinique, puts it at 28,000 buried in the ruins of the town, with 3,000 probably drowned in endeavors to escape. The supply of provisions and clothing going forward for immediate wants is ample, but more will be needed hereafter. Outside of the fatalities in Martinique districts there does not appear to have been much suffering consequent on the volcanic eruption. The 30,000 dead, of course, do not require relief, and aside from them the island does not appear to have suffered greatly—at least, not as at first reported. In the British Island of St. Vincent the deaths are reported at 1,600 and the destitude needing aid at 4,000. They will require aid for six months.

——"Miss Birdie," stammered the young man, "I—I feel that I can no longer disguise the sentiments that I—you must have noticed my preference for your society—and—have I said too much, Miss Birdie?"

"Not yet, Mr. Bashful," replied Miss Flyppe, encouragingly.

——Sitting on the balcony of the Anglo-American Club, Brussels, a Yankee and an Englishman spent a lazy afternoon guying each other on racial and national foibles and traits. The conversation veered into flags.

"Yours," drawled the Britisher, "reminds me of nothing so much as a gridiron—a duced big gridiron, doutcherknow!"

"And yours," was the quick come-back from the American, "reminds me forcibly of a beefsteak—a darned big beefsteak, but not so big that we can't cook it on our gridiron!"

——Bertha—I can't say that we are positively engaged; but it amounts to that. Last evening Charles asked me if I was going to make him the happiest man in the world.

Mercy—But how do you know, dear, he didn't mean he wanted you to release him altogether.

DYSPEPSIA

Is difficult digestion, due to a weakened condition of the stomach and its inability to properly churn the food; or to unhealthy condition of the gastric juice, too much or too little acid, too much or too little pepsin.

Hood's Sarsaparilla relieves all the distressing symptoms of dyspepsia because it promotes the muscular action of the stomach and intestines, aids nature in the manufacture of her own digestive secretions, which are far better than any artificial pepsin, unlocks the bowels, stimulates the kidneys and tones up their mucus membrances.

So prompt is its effect in many cases that it seems to have almost a magic touch.

Begin to take it NOW.

SUFFERED EVERYTHING—"I was troubled with dyspepsia, suffered everything but death, could not eat without terrible distress. Since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I eat heartily and I am well." MRS. EUGENE MURPHY, Danbury, Conn.

EAT THREE TIMES A DAY—"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of dyspepsia and I never felt better. Can eat three good meals every day." FRED POEHLER, 437 South Penn St., Indianapolis, Ind.

ARE YOU BILLIOUS

IS YOUR LIVER STAGNANT

IS YOUR COMPLEXION YELLOW

When your liver becomes clogged and stagnant the bile which goes into the intestines gets into the blood and billiousness results. Constipation and billiousness are two great foes of health, and each results from the other. If you keep your bowels open by the use of the great tonic laxative, you will never be troubled by either billiousness or constipation. It acts directly upon the bowels in a mild and gentle, not a violent and irritating way, as do cathartics. It is something more than a laxative,—it is a marvellous tonic; acting directly upon the stomach, liver and kidneys, keeping them active, clean and strong, and toning up the entire system to a condition of health.

All druggists, 25 and 50 cts., or send for a free sample to THE LAXAKOLA CO., Nassau St., New York. 47-4-3m
