A NEW MONTHLY.

BEGINNING OF A NEW VOLUME.

THE Number for January, 1863, begins the Eleventh Volume of the Atlantic Monthly.
From the commencement, in 1857 the Atlantic has rapidly increased in circulation, and it now has the largest class of readers since its beginning, five years ago. Its prosperity steadily augments, and it continues, amid all the fluctuations and dangers incident to our national crisis to gain ground in the estimation of the public. At a time so pregnant with events which touch the future destinies of America in every vital particular, the Publishers and Editors do not deem it necessary to promise that its pages will never swerve from the honest paths of loyal patriotism and universal freedom. Its opinions have always been on the side of Liberty, Progress and Right, and the course it first adopted to-day, and ever, will ever be faithfully maintained.
Two of the Writers regularly contributing to the Atlantic Monthly embrace all the best known authors in American literature, and warrants the Publishers in promising to their readers,
The Best Essays,
The Best Stories,
The Best Poems,
Which American talent can furnish.
