BELLEFONTE, PA.

Wednesday Morning, Oct. 27, 1869.

JOB WORK.—Posters, Circulars, Bill Heads, Cards, Paper Books, Job Work of all kinds, neatly executed at the REPUBLICAN OFFICE, at reasonable rates.

NOTICE TO BUILDERS.—Howell, Gilliland & Co., keep constantly on hand, the Ardell Shingles, Nos. 1, 2 and 3, at the lowest price for cash or produce.

SAVE MONEY.—If you want posters, circulars, bill heads, cards, paper-books, first-class job work, plain or fancy, call at the REPUBLICAN office. All work done at Philadelphia prices.

RE-OPENED.—Loeb, May & Loeb have re-opened in Butt's new building, directly opposite their old stand, where they will be pleased to meet their old customers. Parties desiring cheap goods, of all descriptions, will find them among their rescued stock from the late fire.

TOBACCO STORE.—Our enterprising friend C. T. Fryberger continues to sell the very best brands of tobacco, snuff and segars, at his old stand, in the Conrad House, Allegheny St., opposite the Brockerhoff House. Capt. Fryberger understands his business, and takes great pleasure in accommodating his customers, and all who may favor him with a call. We wish him success.

ENTERPRISE.—J. B. Butts and Levi A. Miller purchased, last week, at Sheriff's sale, the entire stock of goods formerly owned by Mr. C. Derr. They are now selling off the entire lot, at cost, at the old stand of Mr. Derr, in Bush's Arcade, High St. We wish them success, and hope the people will avail themselves of this opportunity to purchase all they need, good and cheap.

DISSOLUTION.—We invite the attention of our readers to the notice of Howell, Gilliland & Co., in another column of the REPUBLICAN. It will be seen that the partnership heretofore existing between those men has been dissolved.—We understand that Mr. Howell intends moving to Jersey Shore, and that Mr. Gilliland will sell off the entire stock of goods at the old stand, at cost. Look out for cheap goods and great bargains.

THE season for new goods having arrived, our people are looking about to see where they can find the best stocks from which to secure their supplies for the winter. We have not seen a finer stock of fall and winter goods than that now on the shelves and counters of Geo. D. Pifer's large store, under the Brockerhoff House. As prices with him are now lower than they have been for years, especially in groceries, boots and shoes, and are likely to advance before Spring, we advise our readers to call on Pifer without delay. †

FIRE.—It is with sorrow we chronicle the fact of the burning of the barn, on Tuesday night, the 19th inst., belonging to our worthy friend, John M. Wagner, near Milesburg. We have not learned how the fire originated, but it is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The entire crop of wheat, oats, hay, &c., together with eight cows, seven head of horses, a lot of farming utensils and harness were destroyed.—We have not learned whether Mr. Wagner's loss is covered by insurance. We sincerely hope it is. Every property-holder should make it a point to have his property insured in some good company. Then, if accident, or the heart-less incendiary brings ruin, disaster and loss, the community aids in bearing the burden.

Since the above was in type, we learn that Mr. Wagner's property was insured for the sum of $2000, which is very fortunate for the gentleman, but it will not quite cover one-third of his actual loss.

STILL ANOTHER.—It has often been said: "when fires commence there is no telling when or where they will stop." This has been demonstrated, at least, in the history of Bellefonte, since the last issue of the REPUBLICAN. Last week we had just room to announce that the dwelling-house of our old friend Jas. D. Turner, together with Loeb, May & Loeb's store, in the same building, was destroyed by fire. We have since learned that Mr. Turner was insured to the amount of $5,500.

Now it is our painful duty to announce that, on Friday last, the 22nd inst., at about 12 o'clock, M., the alarm of fire was heard on our streets, and we soon learned that it was in the kitchen of the Farmers Hotel, on Bishop street, Michael Howard, Proprietor. The fire spread with amazing rapidity. For a few moments it appeared as though all the South side of Bishop street was destined to be consumed by the destroying element. On the West of Mr. Howard's Hotel was the dwelling and wholesale liquor store of Mr. Jacob Ettelle, and adjoining him was the dwelling of our friend Cyrus Strickland. On the East, and adjoining Mr. Howard's Hotel, was the lager beer saloon of Patrick Brown, and another small building occupied as a shoemaker shop, and immediately adjoining these, on the East, was the Hotel known as "Our House," owned by Mr. Edward Brown, but kept by Wm. Brown. In a few minutes—indeed, in less time than it takes to pen these facts, all of the above buildings were in flames. To add to the general alarm, and the almost universal panic that prevailed, some excited and unthinking individual announced, at the top of his voice—"The engine is broke and the water plug's out!"

At this announcement, our most sober and well balanced citizens appeared to lose their better judgment, and, without calculation or reason, commenced carrying the furniture out of all the above named dwellings. Pillows were carried down stairs, and wash bowls, pitchers and looking glasses pitched out of the second-story windows. Mr. Wm. Brown, Mr. Ettelle, Mr. Cyrus Strickland and Mr. Howard all found good friends ready and willing to aid in carrying out their furniture, and saving their property.

Fortunately, the water was not "play'd out," and the devouring element was checked, but not until the house of Michael Howard, the shops adjoining, and "Our House" were so completely ruined as to be past repair. We have not been able to learn the amount of the losses.

Edward Brown was insured in the Lycoming Mutual for $2,000.

Wm. Brown's furniture insured in the Farmers mutual for $1000.

Michael Howard's building was insured in Farmers Mutual for $1000; also $1000 in Girard Insurance Co., of Philadelphia. He also had an insurance upon his furniture of $600 in the Guardian Co., Philadelphia.

Mr. Ettelle was insured, and we understand his damages were assessed at $350 on his building, to say nothing of the stock.

RECREATION is a necessity to human nature, and physical exercise is especially beneficial to men of sedentary habits. We have in Bellefonte a resort that admirably supplies both these wants.—Jno. G. Kurtz, Esq., has fitted up a Ten Pin Alley in the office formerly used as the Central Press office, where our students, lawyers, doctors, mechanics, and a host of others are daily to be found indulging in this beautiful game. The alleys are pronounced very superior by those who understand such things.

Mr. Kurtz's enterprise has been a success, as it deserves to be, from the fact that he maintains perfect order, and allows no profanity or vulgarity about his place. Go and see how many of the pins you can upset.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY is used and recommended by educated and eminent physicians. Read the following:

CORRY, PA., Nov. 6th, 1867.

Dr. Sage & Co., Buffalo, N. Y.,

Gentlemen—I have used your Catarrh Remedy in several very obstinate and severe cases of Catarrh that I have successfully treated. I find it gives universal satisfaction, and I can highly recommend it to the afflicted. I want some of it for my own practice. What are your terms per doz? Answer and oblige.

Very Respectfully,
J. ETHAN ALLEN, M. D.

The above Remedy is sent by mail on receipt of sixty cents. Address the proprietor, DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y. It is for sale by most Druggists everywhere.

A WORD FOR LOCAL NEWSPAPERS.—We take the following from the N. Y. Tribune. It is true, and we commend it to every one who has an interest in the place where he resides:

"Nothing is more common than to hear people talk of what they pay for advertising, &c., as so much given in charity. Newspapers by enhancing the value of their property in the neighborhood, and giving the localities in which they are published a reputation abroad, benefit all such, particularly if they are merchants or real estate owners, thrice the amount yearly of their meagre sum they pay for their support. Beside, every public spirited citizen has a laudable pride in having a paper of which he is not ashamed, even though he should pick it up in New York or Washington.

"A good looking, thriving sheet helps property, gives a character to locality, and is in many respects a desirable public convenience. If, from any cause, the matter in the local or editorial column should not be to your standard, do not cast it aside, and pronounce it good for nothing, until satisfied that there has been no more labor bestowed upon it than is paid for. If you want a good, readable sheet, it must be supported.—And it must not be supported in a spirit of charity either, but because you feel a necessity to support it. The local press is the power that moves the people."

INTEREST CALCULATIONS.—In one of our exchanges we noticed a new rule for the calculation of interest. We cannot say that we have ever seen a new rule for the calculation of interest since we went to school. All the new rules are but the old principle in a new dress.—For the information of our Juvenile readers who are laboring over the rules every day without understanding what they are doing, we will give them the principal.

Interest at 6 per cent. is just ½ cent on each dollar for one month, and as months are usually counted as having 30 days in them, the interest, then, for one dollar, for one day, is one-sixtieth of one cent, or the one-thirtieth of one-half cent.—Then, of course, the interest of any number of days would be as many sixtieths as days. This fraction is often reduced to a decimal by dividing the days by sixty. This decimal is what business men call the per cent, per the days; i. e., suppose there are 18 days, or eighteen-sixtieths, by making a decimal of the eighteen-sixtieths, we have three-tenths, or three mills on the dollar. Any number of days may be reduced to a decimal, and by multiplying the principal by the decimal, or percentage, the result will be the same as if the principal had been multiplied by the number of days, and divided by sixty. As an example; say the time is one year, four months and twelve days. Then half the months in the time are eight, or rather, it is eight per cent. per sixteen months; and for the twelve days, as explained above, the rate per cent. is two mills. Then the per cent. on each dollar for the time above stated is eight and two-tenths.

If it is kept in mind that the interest on one dollar for one month is one-half of one cent, and that the interest for one day is one sixtieth of one cent, there need be no further necessity of rules.—If the interest is more than six per cent., add one sixth for every cent more to the calculation at 6 per cent; if less than 6 per cent., deduct one sixth for every cent less.

Any one with an ordinary education in Arithmetic may become proficient in calculating interest by exercising a little thought. To avoid mistakes, and save time, banks usually refer to interest tables which have been made out with great care.

AUTUMN's truly a delightful season, and even more especially so in a woodland region like our own, when the gorgeous coloring which nature has flung over our hills and forests glows with a beauty and vividness no where surpassed, and the pure, crisp air which blows from our mountains enlivens the spirit, and invigorates the frame like draughts of generous wine. This is also the season for the sportsman. Now the quail pipes from the stubble, the pheasant drums upon the mountain side, the squirrel chatters from the lofty hickory, and the plash of the wild duck is heard along the sedgy pool. We were led to these reflections by examining the immense stock of sportsmens' materials at the store of Burnside & Thomas, in the greatest variety, and of the best qualities and workmanship. These were all selected by Mr. B., who is a thorough sportsman himself, and, therefore, fully cognizant of the wants of such in this vicinity.

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION.—We have received a circular issued by the Young Men's Christian Association of Williamsport, extending the hospitalities of their city to delegates attending the Y. M. C. A. State Convention at that place, Nov. 2d, a notice of which we published some time ago. The Committee have made arrangements with the Pennsylvania Railroad, and all its branches, Philadelphia & Erie, and most other roads in the State to return delegates free, on certificate of the officers of the Convention.

The opening meeting will be held Tuesday afternoon, a meeting of welcome in the evening, and the farewell meeting on Thursday evening. The topics for discusion are:

1st. What is the special work for which Young Men's Christian Associations have been called into existence?

2nd. What means for mental improvement, actually tried, have been most effectual in attracting young men to the rooms of the Association and under its influences?

3d. What means shall be used by the Associations to improve the religious and social condition of young men?

4th What is our duty toward the casual visitors at our rooms, and how can it best be performed?

5th. What is the work for Associations in smaller towns, and in the country, and how best carried on?

6th. The opportunities afforded by the Association, for Ministers of the Gospel to embrace in the service of the Master? It is also suggested that in connection with the closing service of the last evening, the topic be "Personal Consecration to Christ."

Accompanying it is an earnest appeal from Mr. Cree, Chairman of the State Executive Committee, addressed to pastors, in which he says: "We think it particularly desirous that a Young Men's Christian Association be organized amongst you, as an auxiliary to the Church, and for that purpose would ask you to consult with other pastors in furtherance of this end. So thoroughly are our Associations known to be merely an arm of the Church, when they are understood, that we are certain you will gladly avail yourself of their instrumentality. Will you not assist us in securing delegates to the Convention, and in taking steps to interest your young men in the Master's work, through the agency of the Young Men's Christian Association?

Pittsburg delegates will leave at 7;20, Monday evening, going through via Tyrone, and by special train from Lock Haven. Other delegates are invited to join them.

RE-UNION EXERCISES.—According to previous notice, the citizens of Rebersburg, and many others, assembled in the United Brethren church, in Rebersburg, on Wednesday eve., Oct. 6, 1869, to witness the closing exercises of the Centre County Normal Institute. The following was the order of exercises:

Music. Prayer, Rev. W. G. Engle. Salutatory. Oration, H. O. Kline, Bellefonte. Music. Oration—United Effort, C. B. Hess, Philipsburg. Music. Essay—Fashions, Jennie H McCormick, Centre Hall. Music. Oration—Prosperity of America, J. A. Runkle, Centre Hill. Music. Oration—Re-union, J. H. Chatham, McElhattan. Music. Essay—Music, Beckie F. Canon, Port Matilda. Music Eulogy—Lafayette, J. A. Weaver, Pinegrove. Music. Oration—Education, J. H. Zeigler, Rebersburg. Music. Extemporaneous speech, Prof. T. J. Smull, Hamburg. Music. Valedictory Oration, Thos. M. Weaver, Bellefonte.—Music. Benediction, Rev. W. G. Engle.

The musical talent of the school is very good. Part of the singing was done by the school, and a part by a glee club in the school. The Rebersburg String Band furnished music which was very enlivening and entertaining to the audience.

The first speaker, Mr. H. O. Kline, in an appropriate address, welcomed the faculty, and the citizens, to the exercises.

Mr. C. B. Hess' oration was gramatically constructed, well composed, and, in consequence of it being well committed, was very well spoken. It must have made an ineffaceable impression on the minds of his hearers.

Miss. Jennie H. McCormick followed with a beautifully composed essay on fashions, in which she lampooned the extremes of paying too much attention to them on the one hand, and on the other, of paying too little.

Mr. J. A. Runkle's oration portrayed, in elegant language that, though we were at one time a small nation, we have grown to an enormous size, and an ever appreciative bulk of wealth and intelligence.

Mr. J. A. Chatham then spoke, and, in glowing terms, briefly, but pointedly, did he show the origin and progress of each society connected with the school.

Miss. Beckie F. Canon read an essay upon music. She spoke of its influence upon the human mind—dispersing weariness, and substituting in stead, joyousness and mirth, especially so in the army. She also spoke of the connection it bears with religion. The construction of it reflected great credit on the lady Lafayette found a warm friend in the person of Mr. J. A. Weaver, who eulogized, and, in forcible and emphatic language, recounted his deeds and handled his virtues.

Mr. J. H. Zeigler then delivered an oration on education, and its effects morally, socially and politically. He demonstrated in plain, philosophical language, that it was the abuse and not the use of education that made knaves and fools. He proved, beyond doubt, the great importance and advantage of a practical education.

Our friend, and eloquent humorist, Prof. T. J. Smull, showed some of his talent in extemporaneous speaking. During his talk, the house was in a perfect uproar with laughter.

The valedictory was delivered by Mr. Thos. M. Weaver. The oration reflected great credit upon the gentleman, and his composition was such as to enable him to command the attention of the audience. It fully pictured the sadness in parting to meet no more.

After the announcement of the benediction, the audience slowly and reluctantly dispersed.

Taking all in all, it was a grand success, and will long be remembered by the students. PHILO.

CHANGE! CHANGE!—Jerry Butts has sold his new property on Allegheny St., to Loeb, May & Loeb, for $9,000, and Levi A. Miller & Co. have bought out Capt. M. Runkle, and purpose selling at the old stand of Capt. Runkle, the very best of tobacco, snuff and segars; also all kinds of groceries, the very best and cheapest. Capt. Runkle retires from business, and calls upon all his old friends and customers to settle up without delay. His successors, Levi A. Miller & Co., will open up one of the best and cheapest grocery stores ever opened in this town. We have not room to say more this week; but we say to our subscribers, look to your interests.

CABBAGE.—Persons wishing to buy good cabbage, at ten cents per head, can be supplied by calling upon, or addressing the Editors of the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN. The offer is open for one week only. 1t.

This INFAILIBLE REMEDY does not, like the poisonous irritating snuffs and strong caustic solutions with which the people have long been humbugged, simply palliate for a short time, or drive the disease to the lungs, as there is danger of doing in the use of such nostrums, but it produces PERFECT AND PERMANENT CURES OF THE WORST CASES OF CHRONIC CATARRH, as thousands can testify. "COLD IN THE HEAD" is cured with a few applications. CATARRHAL HEADACHE is relieved and cured as if by magic. It removes offensive Breath, Loss or Impairment of the sense of taste, smell or hearing, Watering or Weak Eyes, and Impaired Memory, when caused by the violence of Catarrh, as they all frequently are. We offer in good faith a standing reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh that we cannot cure.

COMPLETION OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.

GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.

Sing to the Tune of Yankee Doodle.

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now couple connection's made,—
An enterprising notion.

The mighty work at last is done,
So speedily and brisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.

No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about,
And wore out all their clothing.

CHORUS, for the end of each verse:

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. STERNBERG,
A most delightful notion.

Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of the elegant and substantial Spring and Summer Clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.

People who travel by other routes, and all so people who, instead of traveling by any route at all, prefer to stay at home, can find the most superior and seasonable garments, for every occasion, of every variety, and at the lowest prices.

Do not fail to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere, if you do not, we are sure you will be sorry that you did not. Our goods are put down to the lowest figure. We sell whole suits, according to quality,
