Cambria Freeman.

EBENSBURG, PA.,
FRIDAY MORNING, - NOV. 14, 1879.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

HERE, THERE AND THE OTHER PLACE.

—Dr. J. L. McKee, Pittsburgh, Pa.

—Millville is excited over a recent burglary.

—Chas. Jackson's Best Sweet Navy Tobacco. [11-8.-1y.]

—Ladies' hats at the lowest prices at M. J. Tettelbaum's, Loretto.

—Tettelbaum's, Loretto, continues to hold unabated sway in Cambria Borough.

—Ladies' coats at extremely low prices at M. J. Tettelbaum's, Loretto.

—Butter prime, commands 18½ cents per pound in the Ebensburg markets.

—New goods received every week at M. J. Tettelbaum's, Loretto and St. Augustine.

—Mr. Samuel Iseri, of Catharine township, Blair county, has this year sold a ton of honey.

—Johnny Moore, son of Mr. James A. Moore, deceased, is a clerk in the Johnstown Post Office.

—Lumbago, Sciatica and Neuralgia yield to Dr. D. Sands' Specific. [10-24-1y.]

—If queensware, why may not common folks lamphone?

—A couple of prisoners, charged with petty larceny, have been located in the county jail of this city.

—Ladies, when coughs and colds are flying about, when coughs and colds are flying about in all directions in a storm, "Dr. Sellers' Cough Syrup" is a sure cure.

—Clothing for men's and youths' overcoats, at M. J. Tettelbaum's, Loretto and St. Augustine, are marked at lowest prices.

—Mr. Jones, look what we said last week. Prices will not be Deputy Sheriff Thomas Griffith.

—Chief Engineer Swoyer is drawing President Tilden's name for a prize. The President has appointed Thursday, Nov. 27, as a day of thanksgiving and praise.

—The subscribers will receive an advance on last year's prices in their wages beginning with the first of the present month, as announced. George Jacobs accidentally shot himself in Hollidaysburg last Sunday, while trying to pat the bullet where it would do most good.

—Don't forget to go and hear what Dr. Row, of Altoona, has to say at the Court House, this (Friday) evening, or you will miss an intellectual treat.

—Miss Ida, daughter of S. M. Brophy, Esq., of this place, formerly of Altoona, was severely burned by accidentally upsetting of a coffee-pot last Friday.

—A fatal accident occurred at Huntingdon last week, whereby two car loads of oil were thrown over an embankment and demolished.

—The Ebensburg Silver Cornet band is disbanded. Who owns the horns and who will foot up? Does the borough of Ebensburg?

—Capt. Jno. X. Blair, a one-time postmaster of Huntingdon borough, has been adjudged bankruptcy by the United States Court.

—Pipes is the name of the new hotel in Hollidaysburg. Register office, formerly of our former townsman, Col. Jno. Lemmon.

—It is stated that M. J. Tettelbaum, Loretto, has the largest stock of general merchandise in Cambria county, and sells cheaper than any other merchant.

—Joseph Cook, the celebrated Boston comedian, will talk to a Johnstown audience next Monday evening, his lecture, "Dead Death End All?" on the 24th inst.

—Mr. Jas. Leech, of Carrolltown, is raising a turkey numbering four-and-twenty, all of which, having their roost in Carrolltown township, not far from the Benscreek and the Blacklick river.

—Thos. Rhoads, a merchant at West Lebanon, Indiana county, attempted to stop a runaway team last Saturday, when one of the horses kicked his brains out. Mr. Patrick Sharkey, of Prospect borough, Clarion county, was instantly killed by the premature discharged of a blast in a quarry one day last week, and was badly cut by the explosion. He may live.

—Mr. R. J. Lloyd, A. J. Rhey, Caleb Davis, all the eminent local political critics, will be on our side of the Blacklick during the ensuing campaign, or know the reason why. Lots of heads to be filled with names as a security for Mr. Thomas Swoyer's office of Register and Recorder.

—Mr. James Weal, of Hollidaysburg, died last week at the age of a little last Tuesday. He is engaged in the coal trade and draws considerable quantity of his supplies from this county.

—Mr. Jno. Lloyd, of Ebensburg, has left for Philadelphia to open up a large stock of goods in a few days for trade he expected to open on Monday last. Mr. Joseph Weiss has purchased the building of Mr. Lloyd, and will occupy it with a large stock of dry goods, the latter of a silver gray fox, worth a great deal of money.

—The State Supreme Court, in session at Harrisburg, this week rendered the following important decisions: Good's appeal, Cambria county, affirmed. Hager, vs. Walker, Cambria county, affirmed.

—Charles Kast, of Johnstown, returned home from a very pleasant trip to Europe, and his arrival suggests the inquiry whether he hasn't been kept upon our shores.

—Mr. Jno. Lloyd, of Cambria township, has 400 pounds of butter to dispose of every Tuesday morning, and extraordinarily in disposing of the quantity it counts per pound.

—Messrs. Leopold, Loretto and St. Augustine, keep no stores with an assortment of goods and shoes, hardware and groceries, but sell cheaper than anybody else, and the assertion is the quality of his goods.

—Mr. Owen Cunningham, formerly of Cambria, but now of Lancaster county, is expected home next Wednesday. Officer Jones has a number of subpoenas for witnesses in the company next Wednesday.

—Mr. Jno. Lloyd, and generally all the Democrats and nearly all the Republicans, will be found on the election day, when the total amount of money lost by reason of the recent failure of Charley O'Donnell was known.

—Charley O'Donnell was seen a few days lately, and the medical advice to relieve him of the pecuniary pressure upon a severe attendant upon a severe cold to know that he is well and hearty.

—Mr. Jno. Davis has something to say in our advertising department. He should command their attention at an early visit from all of the machinery establishment on Julian street.

—Capt. Jno. A. Major, of Altoona, a laborer employed in the erecting shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad, got caught in some machinery last week and had the life crushed out of his body. His age was about 45 years.

—Mr. Jas. F. Campbell, sr., of the Cambria Freeman, visited us last week. He reports his new newspaperial venture, with fifteen hundred as his circulation. That's enough for a beginning.

—Mr. Jno. Gill, aged 65 years, of Mount Pleasant township, Westmoreland county, went to the house of his son, Friday night, for the enjoyment of his usual Saturday evening visit, and in the morning was found in his bed, dead.

—Messrs. Leopold & Pittenim, proprietors of the Loretto store, have bought a property on the corner of Twelfth avenue, that formerly belonged to Mr. Kinsey, for the accommodation of their business. Mr. Pittenim, of the firm, is now in the city, at the office of Register and Recorder, Jno. Lloyd, Esq., and Caleb Davis, Esq., are his sureties.

—James Weal, of Hollidaysburg, did not come out of a fight last Tuesday. He is engaged in the coal trade and draws considerable quantity of his supplies from this county.

—Mr. Jno. Lloyd, of Cambria township, has left for Philadelphia to open up a large stock of goods in a few days for trade he expected to open on Monday last. Mr. Joseph Weiss has purchased the building of Mr. Lloyd, and will occupy it with a large stock of dry goods, the latter of a silver gray fox, worth a great deal of money.

—The