Cambria Freeman.

EBENSBURG, CAMBRIA CO., PA.

FRIDAY, - - FEBRUARY 9, 1894.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

—Lent began on Wednesday.

—Rev. Father Kittell, of Loretto, was in town on Wednesday.

—Washington's birthday, February 22nd, is the next legal holiday.

—Peter Gutwald, of Gallitzin, spent a few hours in town on Monday.

—Henry Leiden, of Chest township, spent a few hours in town on Wednesday.

—On Friday two cows were killed on the Ebensburg branch near Lucketts station.

—Misses Mary Schwaderer and Mary Lynch, of Summit, visited Ebensburg on Monday.

—Geo. H. Roberts accompanied by his mother and sister, are visiting in Philadelphia.

—Matthias Kessler, one of White township's oldest residents, was in town on Wednesday.

—The death rate of the world is sixty-seven a minute, and the birth rate is seventy a minute.

—A number of Ebensburg's young people took a sleigh-ride to the Summit on Saturday evening.

—Mr. Jacob Warner, one of Chest township's first class citizens, was a visitor to Ebensburg on Thursday.

—Jack Finn, formerly of Johnstown, has accepted the position of bar-tender at the Central Hotel, in this place.

—Miss Lou Wilt, of this place, visited her home in Clearfield township for several days during the present week.

—Quite a number of sleighing parties visited Ebensburg during the good sleighing the early part of the present week.

—The average total wealth of each inhabitant of the United States is estimated at the average to be $869.50. Printers generally fall below.

—A telephone line is to be erected between the almshouse and the office of the Long Distance Telephone line, in this place.

—A petition with 188 names has been handed into Ebensburg's borough dads praying for a modification of the cow ordinance.

—It is plainly evident that the ground hog of to-day is not as well posted on the vagaries of the weather as were his ancestors.

—"Mickey" Priest, of Johnstown, has been placed in jail to answer charges of larceny, malicious mischief, surety of the peace, etc.

—Deputy Recorder H. A. Englehart is nursing a badly sprained wrist, the result of a fall on the slippery pavement in front of the postoffice.

—John Cunningham, of Cambria township, has placed in position a steam saw mill, near the mouth of the Bracken run in Blacklick township.

—Rev. R. C. Morgan, of Johnstown, will preach in the Ebensburg Baptist church on Monday and Tuesday evenings, February 12 and 13, at 7:30 P. M.

—The Pennsylvania railroad will probably build a short road from its main line to reach the works of the Johnson Steel Company, near Johnstown.

—Mrs. Ida Livingston, of South Fork, died at her home in that place, on Friday last. She was aged 26 years and is survived by a husband and one child.

—George Hooper, who is charged with robbing the station at Kaylor's a couple of months ago was arrested in Philadelphia on Sunday last and brought to jail.

—On Thursday Sheriff Shoemaker took Martin Marfiles to the penitentiary where he will serve two years for cutting the throat of a Swede at Patton last fall.

—Mrs. Kinnell, and aged lady of Loretto, died at her home in that place, on Tuesday aged about 80 years. She leaves two sons, Samuel and Andrew both of that place.

—The Republicans will hold a convention in the Opera House, in this place on Monday, February 26th, for the purpose of electing delegates to the State convention.

—George Figart, of Robertsdale, Huntingdon county, was leading his horse to water a few days ago, when the animal kicked him, breaking his right arm in two places.

—The hotel of Peter Seymore at Portage was entered by burglars at an early hour on Wednesday morning. Several bottles of liquor were carried off, but no money was obtained.

—Walter Strayer, aged about twelve years, whose mother is a widow residing in Summerhill township, died in a Philadelphia hospital on Monday. The boy was subject to fits.

—A surprise party was given in this place on Tuesday evening by a number of young people in honor of Misses. Blanche and Josie McKendrick. Those in attendance spent a very enjoyable evening.

—The Cresson & Clearfield Coaland Coke Company is still prospecting on its mine near Van Ormer. Several seams of excellent coal have been discovered, ranging from three to five feet in thickness.

—Samuel Dillon, of Frugality, was fatally hurt in a coal mine at that place on Thursday of last week. He was taken to the Altoona hospital where his injuries were found to be a broken back and injuries internally.

—Charles Hollar, the man who nearly killed his wife with a hatchet at Du Bois last week, was captured and taken to the Clearfield jail. The condition of his wife precarious, the chances being against her recovery.

—Mrs. Margaret Lewis, the great-great granddaughter of Rev. John F. Salkeld, the chaplain aboard William Penn's fleet when the Quakers came to Philadelphia, died at Hollidaysburg on Friday, aged eighty years.

—We would call attention to the advertisement of Henry Sproul & Co., of Pittsburg, Pa., in another column. This is an old and very reliable house and parties desiring to invest could not place themselves in better hands.

—The election proclamation which is easily to be found on our 2nd page came in on Wednesday and has crowded a lot of reading matter out of our columns. It will, however, be of interest to the voting portion of our readers.

—Notwithstanding there is a reward of $1,000 offered for the capture of Jacob Bookwalter, the alleged murderer of John Cunningham, in Indiana county, he is still at large. He is supposed to be harbored by some of his friends.

—James Adams, son of Christopher Adams, of Barr township, died at his home on Thursday, February 1st, of consumption, aged about 23 years. The deceased was buried in St. Bendict's cemetery at Carrolltown on Monday last.

—By an error in the make-up, half a column of our first page is printed upside down in part of this week's edition. Our intelligent readers can stand on their heads to read it while the ladies can invert the paper to perform the same task.

—M. D. Kittell, Esq., and P. J. Little, Esq., attorneys, of this place, have formed a partnership for the practice of law and, judging from the well known professional standing of the gentlemen, the firm will no doubt have a large practice.

—William Mallat, aged about 26 years, who lived on the Frankstown road, Johnstown, was found dead in the woods near Parkstown, Conemaugh township, on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. It is supposed he was frozen to death.

—There are seven cases of genuine small pox at Tyrone Forges, a suburb of Tyrone, Blair county. The first fully developed case being that of Mrs. Daniel Stillwater, and it is thought the disease was carried there from Reading, where she had been visiting a few weeks ago.

—Pennsylvania last year mined over half the bituminous coal in the United States. Of the amount mined, Westmoreland comes first with 8,201,068 tons. Fayette comes next, Clearfield third and Allegheny fourth. Cambria, which is the eighth in order of production, mined 386,554 tons.

—Lulu Giffin, a domestic in the family of J. H. Curry, of Tyrone, was found dead in bed on Saturday morning. She was 16 years old. The coroner of Blair county held a post mortem examination, which resulted in finding that death was due to the continuous use of certain drugs taken to beautify the complexion.

—Henry Kirn, of Pittsburg, died at the residence of his brother, Abraham Kirn, in Susquehanna township, on Monday. He had been attending the funeral of his father, who had died in Altoona and was buried at East Ridge on that day. After the funeral he went home with his brother Abraham, and on going out on the porch, dropped over dead.

—On Saturday night burglars broke into the Pennsylvania railroad station at New Stanton, Westmoreland county, and thoroughly searched the building for valuables. A drummer's trunk was broken open and a lot of sample goods stolen. The burglars broke three locks before they were satisfied that none of the rooms contained anything else of value to them.

—S. M. Wilson, of Patton; P. E. Dillon, of Hastings; D. G. Myers, of Ashville; Vincent Reig, of Carroll township and Albert Nagle, of Clearfield township, viewers appointed by the court to inspect the new iron bridge over Chest Creek, at Patton, took a look at the structure on Monday and report it as being built in accordance with the plans and specifications.

—Ed. J. Mildren, who a number of years ago was a resident of Johnstown and nine loss for the Cambria Iron Company and who since that time has been engaged in the manufacture of fire brick at Blacklick, Indiana county, has become financially embarassed. Executions aggregating $8,000 have been issued at Indiana and the works have been closed throwing two or three hundred men out of employment.

—If the borough authorities would make an example of some of the boys who are continually throwing snow balls on the street, it would be a benefit to everybody. On Wednesday night on Hight street a lady was struck on the head by a young hoodlum, who threw the snow ball at one of his chums. Every now and then ladies have to stop in a door-way until he boys get through with their snow-balling.

—Last Friday afternoon the Beech Creek passenger train struck and killed an unknown man when near Morrisdale, Clearfield county. He is described as being aged about 40 years, of medium weight, about five feet eight inches in height, and had black curly hair, light moustache and small goatee. His body was brought to Morrisdale and placed in charge of the Morris township authorities for burial.

—At the coming election the return judge of each precinct must make two returns, one of the vote of congressman at large and the other the vote for the local candidates. In the first instance the return must be made to the prothonotary and in person; in the other to instance the return can be made in the ordinary manner to the clerk of the courts. The judges will no doubt make both returns at the same time.

—The Park hotel, the largest hotel in Somerset, caught fire at an early hour on Tuesday morning and burned to the ground, the guests barely escaping in their night clothing and one servant girl, Ella Hartman, being severely burned. Many of the inmates had narrow escapes. The original building was the home of the late Judge Jeremiah S. Black and had been remodled and turned into a hotel. The loss is estimated at $15,000, partly covered by insurance.

—Godfrey May, proprietor of two large dry goods stores at Latrobe, shot his wife because she refused to indorse a check, and then committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart. Mrs. May's wounds are serious, but she will recover. May had been drinking heavily for several days and had tried to kill his wife on Saturday, but was prevented by a large dog, which attacked him. The May's came to Latrobe from New York two years ago, and were quite wealthy.

—The Low Grade division of the West Penn railroad was recently completed to Johnstown by way of the old tow path, and it is said that hereafter the bulk of the freight received from the west over the Ft. Wayne and billed to the seaboard, will be taken over the West Penn to Johnstown, where it will run on the main line. The grade to Johnstown over the West Penn is so light that one engine can haul from forty to fifty cars, while to the the same point over the Pennsylvania road but twenty-five cars can be hauled by one locomotive.—Johnstown Herald.

—A subscriber asks what compensation a farmer is entitled to for erecting and maintaining a watering trough at the side of a public road. The road law of 1876 says that anyone who may erect a watering trough on a public road or highway and keep the same in repair is entitled to a fee not exceeding five dollars, to be agreed upon at the time by the party erecting the trough and the township supervisor. These watering places shall be approved by the supervisor and but one trough in every five miles can have the benefit, the oldest troughs having the preference.

—One day last week while a driver from the stable of Messrs. O'Hara, Luther and Davis, in this place, was taking a party out to look at some coal lands in Jackson township, the team while crossing over where a drift had been run in, broke through. Notwithstanding a number of men were at work close by and rendered all the assistance they could, it was with much difficulty that one horse was extricated, while the other was completely buried by the earth which kept continually falling in, and after several hours work, had to be shot and left in the hole.

A Farmer's Tragic Death.

James Rager, a Jackson township farmer, was killed Saturday afternoon in the woods some distance from his home by a heavy log falling upon him. Mr. Rager had been engaged in hauling timber in the woods and, being alone, the exact nature of the accident will probably never be known. It is the presumption, however, that Rager was in the act of lifting the heavy log upon a low bob sled and that his feet slipped, when he fell with the timber upon his body. When supper time arrived Mrs. Rager became alarmed about his absence, and after awaiting for more than an hour she called at the homes of some of her neighbors to whom she related the circumstances of her husband's failure to return from the woods. Not having any idea as to what section of the farm he had gone, the party were at a loss to know in what direction to start. With lanterns they made a search in the woods for more than two hours, but without success. They then returned to Mr. Rager's home, hoping that in the meantime he might have returned. Here they again met disappointment. Reinforcing themselves the searching party again started for the woods, determined not to return until they traversed the entire farm or found Mr. Rager. After a long tramp which lasted until 11 o'clock, they succeeded in finding the team in the woods and close by the dead body of Mr. Rager. A heavy log was lying close by and from the general appearance of things it is thought an accident occurred as above described.

Holiday Cheer.

The holiday season is close upon us, and every household in the land is preparing for the plum pudding, and the general feasting and rejoicing. A little good brandy for the mince pie, rum for the pudding, or a little stimulant to keep the spirits up and the cold out, is absolutely necessary for an old-time Christmas cheer. One of the most prominent liquor dealers in the country, Mr. Max Klein, of Allegheny, Pa., whom we can cheerfully recommend, and who has the reputation for handling only absolutely pure liquors, will sell you the following brands of six-year-old pure Pennsylvania ryes at $1.00 per full quart or six for $5.00: Bear Creek, Gibson, Guckenheimer, Finch and Overholt. The famous Silver Age, the finest whiskey in the country, at $1.50, and Duquesne, a whiskey distilled from rye and malt, at $1.25 per quart; Guckenheimer, 4 years old, at 75c. quart, and the Anchor rye at 50 cents. You can have your choice of all kinds of California wines, gins, rum and brandy, all pure and old, at from 50 cents per quart up. All goods neatly boxed and shipped by express. Send for catalogue and price list of all kinds of liquors to Max Klein, 82 Federal street, Allegheny, Pa.

Death of Mrs. Durbin.

Mrs. Catharine Durbin, relict of ex Sheriff Augustine Durbin, of Munster township, died at her home in that township, on Thursday of last week, in the 90th year of her age.

The deceased was born in Cambria township, in March, 1804, and was a daughter of John Scanlan, deceased, one of the pioneer settlers of Cambria county. She was twice married, her first husband being Jacob, Feltz and three children born of her first marriage survive, namely: Mrs. M. E. Adams, of Cresson, Mrs. William Callan, now in Baltimore and Mrs. Zachariah Endress, of Altoona. To her last husband she bore two children, James Durbin, who died about five years ago and Johanna, who is single and resided with her mother. She is also survived by one brother, Henry Scanlan, Esq., of Carrolltown. The deceased was noted for her kind and charitable disposition and leaves many friends who will sincerely mourn her death.

—A sleighing party from Gallitzin drove up to this place on Wednesday and after taking dinner at the Mountain House, spent several hours viewing the town and shaking hands with friends. In the party were Mrs. James C. Helman, Mrs. R. L. George, Miss Winifred George, Mrs. A. D. Blue, Mrs. W. T. Mitchell, Mrs. J. Yeckley, Mrs. James Pearce, Mrs. Will Smith, Mrs. Sol. Henry, Mrs. James Weston, Mrs. J. H. Nowhart, Mrs. F. J. Pidgeon, Mrs. George McDonald, Mrs. Sara DeNormandy, Mrs. Will Robinson, Mrs. Thomas Munroe, Miss Agnes Munroe, Mrs. Alfred Hancuff, Master Eugene Robinson and Earl McDonald.
