Then added, one hour passed his book,
Too beautiful for earth.

And when the reaper, Death, passed by,
He read the words and smiled;
Then gently folded in his arms,
Our lovely little child.

We wept, but angels sang,
With soft and chief accord;
"Welcome! the transplanted flower

We wept; we will not weep,
When all our days are run,
And at the gates of Paradise,
We meet our little son."
