The Committee as constituted, being politically as equally based on the number of election districts and their Republican vote, as the same can be arranged, without in any degree effecting them, the earnest and immediate attention of the members thereof is called to the formation of the Sub-Committees by them, of working Republicans, in their respective districts, as heretofore announced, and that at an early date they will forward the same to the Chairman, so as to complete our organization, as intended and desired, and thus aid in securing the full vote of the Republicans in the county, for their candidates at the coming election.

JOHN W. MATTERN,
Chairman of County Committee.

THE Harrisburg Telegraph says it looks like an extra session. More's the pity.

SOME California papers call Hendrick B. Wright's committee "Congressional Lunch Fiends."

SECRETARY SCHURZ is on a visit to Spotted Tail and other "big Inguns," at Rosebud Landing.

DE YOUNG, the fellow who wanted to kill the scalawag Kallock, in San Francisco, has been admitted to bail.

"RARUS," the famous trotting horse, has been purchased by Mr. Z. E. Simmons, of New York city for the fabulous sum of $36,000.

IN Cumberland county, last week, Max. Hamilton, colored, was sentenced to the penitentiary for fifteen years for having committed an outrage upon a little white girl.

"CASTLE THUNDER," at Richmond, Va., used during the war for the purposes of a prison, wherein Union soldiers were starved to death, was destroyed by fire a few days ago.

GOV. HOYT has accepted the invitation to deliver the opening address at the fair of the Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society, in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, on September 9th.

CHAIRMAN GEORGE W. MILLER, ESQ., has called a meeting of the Democratic State Committee to be held at Bolton's hotel, Harrisburg, on Wednesday, September 10th, at 2 P. M.

PROF. VICTOR DEHAM, one of the music professors in Dr. Pershing's Pittsburgh Female College, was shot dead, in his grapery, on Monday night, by some person engaged in stealing fruit. The deceased was 77 years of age.

A TREASURY statement shows that while in 1866 the national debt amounted to $78.25 per capita of the whole population of the country, and the annual interest to $4.20 per capita, the debt has now fallen to $40.42 and the annual interest to $1.69 per capita.

MR. FRANK DIXON, brother of the victim of the Yazoo City tragedy says his brother's death was undoubtedly hastened to prevent the disclosure of the political secrets he was possessed of. He says his brother was killed by order of the Democratic committee.

FOUR of the Lebanon county murderers, the men who killed the poor old man Raber for the insurance they had upon his life, Drews, Stickler, Hummel and Brandt, are to be hung on Friday, the 14th day of November, Gov. Hoyt having signed their death warrants on Tuesday of this week.

THE Monitor of this week, we understand, will contain the declination of Michael Stair, the Democratic nominee for Director of the Poor. The high priest of Greenbackism in this town says that that party "bought him off in order that they might make a nomination upon which the Democrats and Greenbackers could unite." More anon.

THE New York Republican State Convention which met at Saratoga, on Wednesday, nominated Hon. A. B. Cornell for Governor; Geo. G. Haskins, for Lieut-Governor; James W. Wadsworth, for Comptroller; Gen. Jos. B. Carr, for Secretary of State, and Nathan D. Wendall for Treasurer. This is said to be a strong ticket and insures the State to the Republicans.

GENERAL GRANT'S CANDIDACY.

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin has a very interesting article on the position of General Grant, and the true inwardness of his late utterances. It winds up with the following concise statement of his position and corresponds with what we have already said on that subject:

The relation of General Grant to the next Presidency is a very simple one. He does not want it. He would honestly prefer private life to any office in the gift of the people. If he is to be President again, it will be the outcome of no plan or plot of his, but of a condition of national affairs and national feeling that call for him. He cannot be nominated on any "slate." If he is nominated at all, it will be because of a popular pressure behind the Convention that will compel it. And if there is such a popular pressure when the time of nomination comes, his election will be a foregone certainty. There is but one man in American public life to whom the next Presidency does not present itself as an estimable prize, and that is the man upon whom the American people are, to-day, the most likely to confer it, Ulysses S. Grant.

IN the Dauphin county courts last week, the bribery cases were sent to the grand jury and that body found true bills of indictment against, Salter, Kemble and Crawford. In the case of Representatives Smith, Petroff, and Clarke, of Philadelphia, and Rumberger, of Armstrong, whose names did not appear in the list in charge of the committee selected to prosecute, the grand jury ordered the district attorney to prepare bills of indictment against these four gentleman. The bills against Kemble and Salter for conspiracy were ignored, but true bills were found against them for corrupt solicitation and perjury. Judge Black and Senator Matt. Carpenter appeared as counsel for the prosecution. The cases have been all postponed until November, when they will go to trial, Judge Pearson giving notice that at that time they will take precedence over all other cases. The defendants were each held in $2,000 bail for their appearance at that time. The best legal talent in the country has been secured on both sides.

WITH their usual pertinacity when engaged in deliberate falsification, the Democratic organs are insisting that the Republican convention which nominated Samuel Butler for State Treasurer, rejected a resolution favoring honesty and purity in legislation. The Republican convention did no such thing. It rejected no such resolution. On the contrary, the convention favored all resolutions pledging the party to a continuance of its purity in legislation and honesty in administration, and heartily approved the sentiments of those who advocated such resolutions. There never has been a party in this country so ready to denounce and punish wrong as has the Republican. It owes its origin to a necessity to curb and correct wrong, and grew in strength and glory while thus engaged. In this matter of the wrongs of legislation, no party has ever been more zealous to prevent such evils than the Republican.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

AFTER the grand jury had found true bills against Salter, et al, who are charged with attempted bribery in their efforts to secure the passage of the Pittsburgh riot bill through the Legislature, that body created a sensation, late on Saturday afternoon, by the presentiment of C. S. Wolf, of Union county, and M. H. Silverthorne and A. M. Short, of Erie county, members of the House of Representatives, "for conspiracy to advise and promote corrupt solicitation of members of the Legislature." It will be remembered that Wolf and Silverthorne were playing the role of detectives, and for this purpose Silverthorne was delegated by Wolf to go out among his fellow members and offer them bribes to support the riot bill, and report progress to his chief. Such conduct is questionable to say the least, and may result disastrously to those engagad in it. The end of the bribery case is not yet.

H. FRYSINGER, ESQ., who for twenty-five years has owned and published the Lewistown True Democrat, last week severed his connection with that paper, having sold the establishment to Mr. D. L. Sollenberger, of Sunbury, who will hereafter conduct it. Mr. Frysinger has purchased the Delaware County Democrat, the only Democratic paper in a county of 50,000 inhabitants, and will at once assume control of it. During the quarter of a century that he conducted the Democrat we have read it weekly, and we looked for its visits as we would look for the visit of an old friend. We are sorry to lose Brother Frysinger from the Juniata Valley region, but we are pleased to know that our loss will be his financial gain. We welcome Mr. Sollenberger to the Juniata Valley, and wish that good fortune may come to him.

INSTEAD of a bloody shirt, the Southern Democracy now raise and wave bloody hands imbrued in the crimsoned life currents of citizens who dared to stand up for their personal rights. It must be decided then, now and forever, whether the assertion of political rights on the part of an American citizen, anywhere in the Union, is to peril his life. This does not merely concern the people of Yazoo, Mississippi, but those of every State in the Union. If the Democracy of the South can, with haughty impunity, drive men out of a political canvass, and into their graves, then they can and will do it in Pennsylvania; and no party which does this in one State is fit to be trusted with power in another. —Harrisburg Telegraph.

THE Presbyterian church reports for 1879, 38 synods and 179 presbyteries, an increase of 1 each; 4937 ministers, a gain of 36; 5415 churches, a gain of 146; and 664,486 communicants, showing an increase of only 6631. The total contributions were $8,259,923, which is less than any other year since the reunion. Of the whole amount, $390,785 was for home and $381,568 for foreign missions, $43,860 for the freedmen, $124,477 for churches, $82,585 for education, $29,715 for publications, and $5,311,768, for congregational expenses. In the Sunday school there are 614,774 children. The baptisms numbered 28,519, of which 18,501 were of children.

THE Harrisburg Telegraph asks: Could anything be more suggestive of the resources of a young country like ours—young, we mean, in the development of its natural resources—than the fact that while we are supplying the breadstuffs deficiency of all Europe, we are also called upon to furnish some of the most powerful of its governments with materials of war, naval stores, ships, &c. And this is only a beginning of what we intend to do in this line.

IN last week's issue of the JOURNAL we stated that E. M. Schrock, member of the House from Somerset county, had been arrested for bribery in securing his nomination and election. Since then a true bill has been found against the honorable gentleman, and he will be compelled to "face the music." One witness testified, "Schrock gave me two dollars and a half, and said, 'work for me like blazes.'"

THE large sheet-iron and tin plate works of T. W. Booker & Co, near Cardiff, England, have been closed for debt, and 4,500 workmen thrown out of employment. Three villages had grown up around these works, the inhabitants consisting solely of working people and their families, and these, numbering six thousand souls, are in destitute circumstances in consequence of the closing of this large industry.

THE New Orleans Times, in commenting on the murder of Capt. Dixon, in Yazoo, says that "the only terror that awaited the slayers of Dixon—for this was the deed of hundreds, not of one—were the despairing moan of his widowed wife and the desolate wail of his orphaned little ones. He was but a solitary, hunted creature after all."

THE North American declares that "Senator Wallace can now do a good stroke for civil service reform and an honest ballot by returning to Pennsylvania and settling up that old coffee pot. He can demonstrate the fact that in the hands of men entirely great the coffee pot is mightier than the shot gun. Rio and Laguayra are cheaper than powder and lead."

THE exodus of colored people from the Southern States still goes on, but it is not safe for any one to encourage the poor, down-trodden blacks in their flight. Wm. Jones, a colored Baptist preacher, attempted it the other day in Missouri, and the result was that his house was surrounded by a mob and he was dragged out and hung.

GEO. W. MILLER, the generalissimo of the Democratic party in this State, is out in a two column pronunciamento to the faithful, urging them to rally to the support of Daniel O'Barr. It is labor lost, for the people propose to elevate honest Samuel Butler to the position of guardian of the money bags of the State.

THAT wide-awake and progressive Republican paper, the Harrisburg daily Telegraph, every Saturday furnishes its patrons with a large half-sheet supplement in addition to its regular issue. The Telegraph is carefully edited and is doing yeoman service for the advancement of Republican principles.

TILDEN'S chances for the Democratic nomination for President are waning. It now looks as if Yellow Fever Blackburn, of Kentucky, and shoot him-in-the-back, Barksdale, of Mississippi, were the coming men. The South has only to ask their nomination and it will be given them.

HON. JOHN WELSH, late Minister to England, arrived at his home in Philadelphia, on Sunday evening. Although no public reception was tendered him, he was met at Newcastle by a committee of the Board of Trade and a number of personal friends, who gave him a hearty and warm welcome to his native shores.

AN ardent Greenbacker of our town handed us a copy of the Rag Baby, a small paper just started in Philadelphia, by J. G. Miles and Frank Higel, in the interests of the Greenback party. The paper is printed with green ink, and its contents are about as green as its appearance.

HON. SAMUEL J. RANDALL opened the Democratic campaign in this State, on Tuesday afternoon, at Norristown, where he howled "fraud" until he was as windbroken as a darkey preacher at a camp meeting. And "fraud" was the burden of his theme.

REPUBLICANS in every part of the county should not fail to work for the election of Jacob Haffley to the office of Director of the Poor. Whenever opportunity presents itself speak a good word for him, and ask your neighbors to support him.

IN the case of the Commonwealth vs. P. Herdic, charged with obtaining money from W. F. Reynolds & Co., bankers, by means of false pretenses, which has occupied the time of the Centre county court for a number of days, the jury returned a verdict Saturday of not guilty.

GEN. JNO. B. HOOD, of Confederate fame, died in New Orleans, of yellow fever, on Saturday morning, aged about 49 years. He leaves a family of eleven children.

A GRAND re-union of the survivors of Andersonville and other Southern military prisons, is to be held at Toledo, Ohio, on the 1st and 2d days of October.

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29, 1879.

The telegraph has informed the country of the reversal of the sentence of a court-martial on which sixteen years ago Surgeon General William A. Hammond was cashiered, and the universal feeling is that this long delayed act is well done. The question arises, however, why Gen. Townsend should be put on the retired list without pay. If the sentence against him was unjust, and his dismissal from the service a grievous wrong, it is difficult now that the sentence is reversed and he is put on the retired list, to see the justice of making such a distinction between him and other retired officers as to make him the only one retired without pay.

In this case, and in Gen. Porter's, it is the opinion of most people here that the reversal of the sentence is proper. Now, these are the only two cases in which Congress has interfered. Does not the result in these cases show that Congress ought to provide some way, for others convicted by court-martial—volunteer soldiers and officers—to prove their innocence. The benefits of Government should not be conferred to those who have political and social influence. Why not have a Board of Officers, or other persons, here, charged with the duty of inquiring into any court martial sentence that the convicted man may declare unjust and against the facts? It would cost the Government very little. It would secure justice to hundreds of innocent men.

One million two hundred thousand dollars in gold bars arrived at New York by steamer Canada from Europe yesterday. This is a part of the hundreds of millions of coin and United States bonds now coming to this country, each year, to pay for our agricultural products and manufactures sent abroad in excess of all the goods we buy from other nations. Truly the outlook towards the future for the financial and business prosperity of this country is brighter than at any time during its past history. The party which has governed the country through the greatest of modern wars, and has so soon, brought us to this gratifying condition, must be held to be more worthy of confidence than another party which not only brought on that war but destroyed our credit before the war began. LEO.

A Murderer Confesses!

READING, Sept. 1, 1879

Charles Drews, under sentence of death as one of the principals in the Raber murder, has made a confession. He says: I went to Brandt last summer and we sat on the porch. He treated me to beer, and both felt its effects. He said we could make money, and told me how. I said I would consider it. Finally I ask if he was alone. He replied there were three others with him. He mentioned Hummel and Wise, and I said I did not know them. He then offered to bring them up. I saw them and he said I certainly knew Wise. From boyhood up I knew him. I then agreed and they insured Raber. I said it was a hard thing to kill Raber. He said they could make money. When they again met, Brandt said there were five interested. Hummel also spoke about it. Wise came and asked whether I was to kill Raber. I told him I was not certain. He urged me to go ahead, and said they would shoot me if I didn't.

I promised, but I never intended to do it. They afterward often urged me to do it, as the insurance had all been effected Brandt afterward said they had the plan ready, and if I did not kill him they would shoot me, and to save my life I promised. A week or two afterward Wise said I should not do it so far as he was concerned, as, he said, he did not like the job. Think it was the same day he said I had to kill Raber. I then asked Frank Strichler to do it, because I could not. Strichler said he did not care, he could kill any one, but bargained I should go along, which I promised, but declared I would not touch Raber. Then Raber came to my house and we went off together with Strichler following. I went over a plank, and Raber got onto it.

Strichler got Raber by the legs, threw him in, and jumped on top of him. Raber fell below the plank. I then went back to the fence. It was at first intended to drown Raber in the dam. Brandt had planned that Raber was to go fishing at Kitzmiller's to catch fish for Brandt and wife, and then I was to drown him. We went, and Peters went with us. When I saw the dam I could not do it, and said we would return, when Raber replied: Yes, it was too cold anyhow. I pitied him. Drowning at the plank afterward was also a plan of Brandt's. Brandt had promised me $300, and the others should get the same. He promised Strichler nothing. I had tried to coax Elijah Strichler, but he would not go with me. I said to Frank I would give him $300 after I was paid.

[Since the above was put in type another of the murderers, young Stichler, the man who did the drowning for pay, has made a confession of his guilt. This makes the third one that has confessed to guilty participation in that crime, and by the time the day of execution arrives, Nov. 14th, we would not be surprised if each and every one of them would admit their guilt.

State News.

Black diphtheria has broken out in Titusville.

A suspension of mining operations in Lehigh valley is predicted.

Cooking stoves made in Leavenworth, Kansas, are now sold in Pennsylvania.

Counterfeit trade dollars are circulating very numerously in the central part of this State.

William Brossman, who resides in Heidleberg township, Berks county, raised 426 potatoes from one potato. The potato was cut into pieces, each piece having an eye, and these were planted.

Mr. Frank McKean, aged 77, died in Centre county on Tuesday last. He was a grandson of Thomas McKean, who signed the Declaration of Independence. He was a firm friend of the Republican cause, and a most estimable gentleman.

The cattle of Lewis Trego, West Nantmeal, Chester county, that died of pleuro pneumonia, as it was supposed, a few days since, are not considered to have been poisoned. A great deal of sumac had been cut on the place and some of it had gotten into the pools of water which the cows drank and thus died.

The body of a boy about fourteen years of age was taken from the river at Duncannon on Sunday. Part of the body, including arms, head and neck, were missing. The body was much decomposed; had on copper toed boots. This is the body that was found by a fisherman a short time since, but after notifying the coroner they were unable to find it again.

IS IT POSSIBLE that a remedy made of such common, simple plants as Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., make so many and such marvelous and wonderful cures as Hop Bitters do? It must be, for when old and young, rich and poor, Pastor and Doctor, Lawyer and Editor, all testify to having been cured by them, we must believe and doubt no longer. See other column. Sept.5-2t.

On our Most Distant Frontiers,

As in our busiest and most populous cities of the seaboard and interior, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is pre-eminently popular. Wherever civilization plants its foot on this continent, thither the great tonic soon finds its way. Nor is this surprising, for it is the medicine of all others best adapted to the wants of the Western emigrant, be it miner or agriculturist. It is an incomparable remedy for the diseases to which he is most subject, and which are liable to be brought on by a change of climate, hard ship, exposure, unaccustomed air and diet, and miasmatic atmosphere and water. Among these are disorders of the stomach and bowels, rheumatic ailments, and malarial fevers, for all of which Hostetter's Bitters is a certain specific. A course of these Bitters before departing for the new field of labor, or on arriving, will have the effect of preventing the evil for which it is such a signal remedy. Sept.5-1m.

SANFORD'S LIVER INVIGORATOR

To Have Good Health, the Liver must be kept in order; its unhealthy action causes Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Headache, Bowel Complaints, Seasickness, and other Disorders.

The Liver is the seat of malarial diseases. The Liver Invigorator protects the system from Miasmatic Influences. It Purifies the Blood, Regulates the Bowels, Assists Digestion, and Strengthens the System.

$20,000 WORTH OF BOOTS AND SHOES

TO BE SOLD AT THE

BOSTON BOOT AND SHOE STORE,

At Prices Lower than ever before offered the People of Huntingdon County.

The reason we make this assertion is this: J. H. M'CULLOUGH, Proprietor of the Boston Boot and Shoe Store, has just returned from the East, having attended a large

BANKRUPT SALE OF BOOTS AND SHOES,

And being a pushed sale, they were bought at nearly half their actual value. This benefit is to be given the people of Huntingdon county by selling them Boots and Shoes,

AT PRICES LOWER THAN ELSEWHERE IN THE STATE.
