The Key of Death.

About the year 1660 one of those dangerous men, 'in whom extraordinary talent is only the fearful source of crime and wickedness, beyond that of ordinary men, came to establish himself as a merchant or trader at Venice. The stranger, whose name was Tebaldo, became enamored of the daughter of an ancient house, already affianced to another. He demanded her hand in marriage and was refused. Enraged at this he studied how to be avenged. Probably skilled in mechanical arts, he allowed himself no rest until he had invented the most formidable weapon which could be imagined. This was a key of large size, the handle of which was so constructed that it could be turned round with little difficulty. When turned it discovered a spring, which, on pressure, launched from the other end a needle or lancet, of such subtle fineness that it entered into the flesh and buried itself there without leaving any external trace. Tebaldo waited in disguise at the door of the church in which the maiden whom he loved was about to receive the nuptial benediction. The assassin sent the slender steel, unperceived, into the breast of the bridegroom. The wounded man had no suspicion of injury, but, seized with a sudden and sharp pain in the midst of the ceremony, he fainted and was carried to his house amid the lamentations of the bridal party. Vain was all the skill of the physicians, who could not divine the cause of this strange illness, and died in a few days. Tebaldo again demanded the hand of the maiden and received a second refusal. They, too, perished miserably in a few days. The alarm which these deaths, which appeared almost miraculous, occasioned, excited the utmost vigilance of the magistrates; and when, on close examination of the body, the small instrument was found in the engrained flesh, terror was universal; every one feared for his own life. The maiden thus cruelly orphaned had passed the first month of her mourning in convent, when Tebaldo, hoping to bend her to his will, entreated to speak with her at the gate. Her reply was most decisive in the negative.

Tebaldo, beyond himself with rage, attempted to wound her through the gate, and succeeded; the obscurity from the place prevented his movements from being observed. On her return to her room the maiden felt a pain in her breast, and uncovering it she found it spotted with blood. The pain increased; the surgeons who hastened to her assistance, taught by the past, waisted no time in conjecture, but cutting deep into the wounded part, extracted the needle before any mortal mischief had commenced, and saved the life of the lady. The State Inquisition used every means to discover the hand which had dealt these insidious and irresistible blows. The visit of Tebaldo to the convent caused suspicion to fall heavily upon him; his house was carefully searched, the infamous invention discovered, and he perished on the gibbet.

Mishler's Bitters.

THE SCOURGE OF OUR RACE!

WHEN digestion is bad every part of the human system necessarily suffers. The entire structure of the body becomes affected, even the mind itself, showing the effect of it in the low spirits of the patient. Indigestion is the parent of a thousand indescribable miseries, and prepares a foundation for disorders that cannot be easily shaken off. The premonitory symptoms of Dyspepsia are known to every person. It is a disease that fastens itself alike upon the old and young, and both fall victims to its destroying power when the proper remedy is neglected or rejected. It is for this reason that thousands endure a living death as the natural penalty of delay. It is a fearful thing to become confirmed Dyspeptic. Those who have suffered the pangs of this scourge of the human race do not need to be told that it is an ailment which interferes with all the enjoyments of this life, spreading gloom and despondency over the mind and steadily wearing out the vital principle of life itself.—And other complaints such as Biliousness, General Debility, Diseases of the Bowels, Stomach, Liver and Kidneys frequently result from it and often terminate fatally. What the Dyspeptic requires is a constitutional specific, and such is

MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS.

Of its wholesome efficacy thousands have testified who were rescued by it from the power of Dyspepsia, and saved from its attendant evils. Has this disease intrenched itself in your system? If so, we urge you to act wisely, and use the

GREAT HOUSEHOLD REMEDY,

which will successfully combat and utterly destroy the disease, and fortify your against any subsequent attack of it. You will derive immediate benefit from using it, and place yourself in a position to enjoy the good things of this life once more. This is a sovereign remedy and will effect a positive cure in your case. The public is made acquainted with all the ingredients used in preparing this Bitters, and the highest medical authorities are daily recommending it as an infallible remedy for all diseases arising from a disordered stomach.—Be reasonable with yourself—consult your health and happiness—throw away your pharmacopoia prescriptions and take a course of

IF A RUMBUG,
What a wonder
That the doors
Are not painted
Over since the
First of August
Thousands have Been Paint applied.
Those who like
To call it humbug,
Are the doctors,
Not acquaint;
For they always
Have been jealous
When new remedies
Use Pain Paint.
Pile up facts
As high as mountains,
Flash the truth
Before their eyes,
But the sight
Is always humbug,
Men of science
Full of lies.

People know that liniments composed of oil, turpentine, hartshorn, ether, &c., will produce inflammation and pain. To purchase such trash to stop Pain and Inflammation is folly. It will not stop beating a dumb brute shuns the heat, and knows enough to wade in a pond of water, when wounded, to reduce, cool, and cure inflammation and Fever.

Pimps and gamblers try to look honest, but talks can detect them plainly. Sometimes to persuade the ignorant that pills, physic, &c., cleanse the blood, purge the system, and do a hundred other things equally absurd—everybody knows that it is false, and that no medicine can purify or increase a drop of blood. Food makes blood, bone and muscle, and is the staff of life. Every dose of medicine swallowed is rejected, and hurried out of the system as quick as possible. It is an empty yes, a deadly foe. Constipation, ill health, and weakness, are the result of dosing, dosing, dosing the stomach. The living system cannot stand without working herself to death in expelling and kicking out the pernicious nostrums poured down the throat. Food sets women and children on, and says, asks for it. Let pill-makers and physic venders stop eating food, and see how long they can maintain their blood-purifying, invigorating, health-giving medicines and cordials.—What humbug is more transparent? A dog would feel insulted, if offered a dose, he would curl his tail downward in scorn, and run away in utter disgust. All physical pain arises from inflammation. Put one drop of Pain Paint on pain absolutely. You can stop pain as easy as you can quench fire with water. WOLCOTT'S PAIN PAINT will subdue inflammation, heat, and fever one hundred times faster than ice. Thousands have had a practical test of its merits at its first appearance on the market, and they can testify that it has not failed in doing its work. It is simple; it is harmless; it has no stain; it gives no smart; it is speedy; it is sure; it is sweet; and it is tested free of cost at 170 CHATHAM SQUARE, N. Y., and 422 Arch Street, Philadelphia.

My wife had an ulcer on her leg for thirteen years, caused by varicose veins, ulceration extending from her ankle to her knee, some places eating away to the bone. I have employed over twenty physicians at vast expense during this period. But all attempts at cure proved utterly abortive until I tried Dr. Wolcott's Pain Paint, which the doctors told me was a humbug. But humbug or not, it had done the work completely in less than one month, removing the pain at the first application. I kept her leg wet with Pain Paint constantly night and day. I wish we had more humbugs as useful as Dr. Wolcott's Pain Paint. I am well known in this city, any person who wants to see the ulcer mentioned above, will call at 101 West Street, New York, at the Hanover House of which I am the proprietor, and think I satisfy them as to the benefit derived by the use of Pain Paint.
