THE campaign has opened in Pennsylvania. The two great political parties who so often have met in conflict before are again arrayed against each other, and, under leaders of acknowledged strength and power, are marshaling for the great struggle of supremacy at the ballot box. While we have never felt more sanguine of a contest resulting in a Republican triumph, still it is eminently unwise that we should build upon our own strength and with arms folded calmly await victory, making no effort to secure it beyond a doubt. The enemy has been whipped unmercifully time and time again, but each political castigation at the polls only made them more eager and more determined to triumph, and up they come in each canvass as solid and resolute as though they had never felt the shock of a reverse. Possibly, the Democratic party is to-day as well organized and as well prepared for the struggle as they ever were, and will conduct the canvass with a wicked energy born from the fresh recollections of the many disasters and defeats they have of late suffered. On their part victory is esteemed so highly and as a result so desirable that nothing honest or dishonest will remain undone to help on their cause. It is in knowing this that the Republicans should at once prepare to meet and repel them step by step. With a large majority in our favor a guarantee that the ballot-box is shielded by just and wise legal provisions against those frauds and outrages which have been a source of strength to the enemy, leaders who inspire confidence and are especially worthy the suffrages of all honest men, and with a platform broad, liberal and patriotic, there can be no possible doubt of our success if we at once organize for the work—for with all these grand advantages, work, earnest, harmonious and well directed work must be done to secure our triumph. Organization is needed. None will deny the great importance of doing work in concert, by clubs and associations. Let every ward, borough and district of the State have their Geary and Williams clubs in the field early and thus infuse life and enthusiasm into the campaign. One good Republican club of earnest and determined workers will be as effective in each district as an hundred thousand dollars of the greenbacks promised to be expended by the Democratic Cræsus, who proposes to buy his way through to the chief office of honor in the Commonwealth. Let us have clubs at once organized, and thus early set the ball rolling, and keep it in motion till we have again secured an old fashion triumph.

A CLERGYMAN, it is stated, has been engaged in swindling a Hartford Insurance Company to the tune of $2,000; and he is not to be prosecuted and sent to the penitentary, as he certainly would be if he were not a "minister of the Gospel." We don't know what right insurance companies have to compound felonies, but, if this be a mutual corporation, all the insured are cheated, some of them perhaps being ill able to bear the loss. It is bad enough for such a company to allow itself to be fleeced, but to hush up the matter, after a gross swindle, isn't a course likely to recommend the corporation pursuing it to the confidence of the public.

JUDGE Perishing, according to Shephard, has passed through the Legislature without carrying with him even the smell of smoke. It might have been added that Asa Packer passed through the Rebellion with a holy horror of the smell of gunpowder, only the comparison with Governor Geary would have been unpleasantly 'odorous."

MR. GEO. B. VASHON, a colored lawyer, formerly of New York, has just been admitted to practice at the bar of the Criminal Court of the District of Columbia. We have now colored clergymen, doctors, lawyers, schoolmasters, printers, and clerks; yet there are still a plenty of people who insist substantially that the Black is not a human being; that he is of the same kind with the gorilla; that he must not vote, though he may pay taxes; and that, in an incredibly short space of time, his race will become extinct. Every day the monkey theory is reduced to a still deeper absurdity; and these ethnological sciolists in trying to prove the imbecility of the African seem to be in a fair way of demonstrating their own.

WE have been expecting to get our supply of tea from China over the Pacific Railroad, but it seems likely that it will not be long necessary for us to send to China for our tea, but that we will get it from the teafields of California. The Japanese colony of tea-growers, who have settled there, have made a very successful beginning in the work of cultivating the plant. The seednuts are coming up finely and the foot-hill lands are found to be admirably adapted to the tea culture. If this experience be justified by time, and of California prove to be really adapted to the growth of first-class tea, the Golden State will derive more wealth from this valuable plant than she ever drew from her mines.

IN a recent case tried at Pottsville, Pa., some men who were indicted for a conspiracy and unlawful combination to cause a strike at one of the coal mines and to prevent others from working, were fined one hundred dollars each and bound over in the sum of five hundred dollars to keep the peace.

THREE murders have been committed at White Pine within three weeks, and not one of the murderers has been arrested. A salubrious climate for desperadoes and cut-throats.
