The Old-Fashioned Choir.

I have listened, sometimes, the Bethel-bent
Where the choir and the chorus together belong,
O, be lifted, ye Gates! Let me hear them again,
Blessed song, blessed Sabbath; forever, Amen!

Wise and Otherwise.

The pastor of a popular church, one Sabbath evening at the Sabbath School concert, said: Boys, when I heard your beautiful songs to-night I had to work hard to keep my feet still; what do you suppose is the trouble with them?

Corns, sir, said a little six-years old boy, which, notwithstanding the solemnity of the occasion, set the whole audience in a roar.

A romantic youth, promenading in one of our streets, picked up a thimble. He stood awhile meditating upon the probable beauty of the owner, when he passed it to his lips, saying, "Oh! that it were the fair cheek of the weaver." Just as he finished, a stout, elderly negress looked out of an upper window and said: "Massa, I lost a thimble yesterday, I guess, as just please to bring dat thimble to mine in de entry."

A ten-year-old boy was asked by his teacher to write a composition on the subject of water, and the following is the production: "Water is good to drink, to swim in, and to skate on when it froze. When I was a little baby, my nurse used to bathe me every morning in water. I have been told that the Injuns don't wash themselves but once in ten years. I wish I was an Injun."

How They Had Him.

When I was young and tender, too,
I had to mind and had to do
Whatever mother bade me;
She used to have a walnut stick
Which kept me on the double quick
And that was where she had me.

When older grown, and quite a beau,
Among the girls I used to know,
A Miss Priscilla Calmy,
And with the help of smiles and nods
I fell in love as fools do,
And there was where she had me.

When I was older say sixteen,
I thought the mellow queen
Such coffee could not make me,
She made a little smooth object,
Or otherwise perhaps flirtation,
And there was where she had me.

But I soon found her temper straight
I was up to snuff in a minute,
Affairs with colonel Calmy,
He said he "didn't care to sell,"
He told me I might go to—well,
And that was where he had me.

I drowned my sorrow in my cup
Until I got my dander up
(I could not have been madder)
When she proposed that we be one—
In spite of pa, the thing was done,
And that was where I had her.

Two lovely urchins on my knee,
I'm proud to say belong to me—
(That is to me and mundam);
For when we left our native sod,
We spent a year or two abroad—
And there was where we had 'em.

The Campaign Gazette says: A friend tells us that he plainly felt the shock of an earthquake during the eclipse last Saturday. On investigation we find that his wife caught him kissing the hired girl during the performance of the heavenly bodies.

A Young man who, on being asked by a judge whether he had a father and mother, said he wasn't quite sure whether he had or not; first his father died, and then his mother married again, and then his mother died, and his father married again; and now he didn't exactly know whether they were his father or not.

An editor, commenting upon the importance of small things, says, "It does not take much of a sheriff to make a sheriff's officer, nor a sight a straw, if it has a cherry cobler in one end."

A writer asks through the farmers' department of a cotemporary, if any one can inform a poor man the best way to start a little nursery. Get married!

A story is told of a young man who was going west to open a jewelry store. When asked what capital he had, replied, "A crowbar, sir, and I know how to use it."

Although I never drink, I think I'm taking a drop now, as the temperance man said when he fell out of third story window.

The man who did the thing right up to the handle must have been in the milk business, and at about that period was at the watering-place.

They have a coin in China, fifteen of which equal a cent. Wouldn't they be nice to carry to church?

Capable of ocular demonstration, that the prices of Cloths, Cassimeres, Ready-Made Clothing and Furnishing Goods are less than one-half what they were during the war, at the Merchant Tailoring establishment of

S. S. RATHVON,

Corner North Queen and Orange Streets, opposite Shober's Hotel, Lancaster, Pa.

This is the oldest establishment in the line of trade in Lancaster county, and is selling, at this time, fine Moscow Esquimaux, and common Beaver Overcoats, Sacks, or Sacks and Common Union Beavers from $10 to $15; Common Union Beaver Business Suits from $12 to $15; Good Cassimere Suits from $16 to $20, and fine qualities from $25 to $30. A few suits on hand as low as $10. Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods at low rates as they can be obtained anywhere else, and sold by the yard to those who may wish to have them made at home, or elsewhere.
