PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

POSTAGE ON NEWSPAPERS.—Rowland Hill writes from Washington to the Journal of Commerce, that the House Committee on the Post Office, have agreed upon a bill altering the rates of postage on newspapers, &c. The provisions of the bill are, that all printed matter shall be charged one cent for two and a half ounces under 2,000 miles, and double this rate over that distance; and for every additional ounce, or fraction of an ounce, one cent. Newspapers not exceeding one ounce, half of the above rates — A reform of this kind is absolutely necessary.

FLUENCY IN CONVERSATION.—Roll an empty barrel down hill and what a rattling noise it makes! So with an empty carriage over the pavements. So also with an empty head. When it contains but a few scattering ideas, everybody can hear them rattle. You almost see them when that fellow who carries such a head passes by you. Have you not such an individual in your mind's eye. We have. His name may be Dick or Jim, or Bill, or Joe—but he is the same everywhere—he wags the same tongue, shoots forth the same ideas. He thinks he is wise, but everybody else thinks otherwise. Had he real knowledge, he would talk less and say more.—Generally a man of sterling talents talks but very little, yet every word tells. Addison was a person of this description. He was always embarrassed in company. Some of our best living authors—men of genius and talent—have been noticed for their paucity of words in common conversation. Yet men who scarcely know more than twice two make four, are always rattling off words, and pass for persons of some consequence. They utter sentences without meaning, and words that would puzzle an editor to understand.

An incessant talker we always avoid. In his presence we feel about as happy as on the brow of a cataract—only there is some sense in the latter. In an office or store what is more trying than a person with the gift of gab?—what but a straggling musician under your window, or a fiddler in your garret.

A History of Pittsburgh.

BY NEVILLE B. CRAIG, Esq.—A History of Pittsburgh, from the earliest period when it was visited by white men, down to the close of the last century, with notices of the first establishment of some of the important manufactories and various works of internal improvement, up to the present time, to which is added a chapter upon the advantages of our position for manufacturing and commercial pursuits, with a summary of the aggregate amount of business transacted here annually upon our rivers, canals, and blackwater improvements.

There is no point in this Union where so many important events and occurrences of novel interest have been compressed within so brief a period of time, as in the country around the head of the Ohio. To collect together and exhibit in historical order these scattered incidents, and to proclaim the advantages of our position, as indisputants for capitalists to settle here, is the object of the proposed work.

The Great British Quarterlies

AND BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE.

DONALDSON & BUTTERFIELD, No. 54 Gold st., NEW YORK, continue to publish the following British Periodicals, viz:

THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW (Conservative).

THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig).

THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church).

THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (Liberal).

BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory).

These Reprints have now been in use over a generation in this country, and have gained a reputation for cheapness, certainty on the increase notwithstanding the competition they encounter from the cheap and showy editions of inferior class, and from numerous selected and Magazines made up of the foreign periodicals. This fact shows clearly the high estimation in which they are held by the intelligent reading public, and affords a guarantee that the publication will be continued with unabated vigor, and without interruption.

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents have any reference to politics. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand undoubtedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood's Magazine, the only one which Christopher North maintains his ancient celebrityand is, at the same time, unusually attractive from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notabilities, written for the Magazine, are first published in the columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such works as "Caxtons" and "My Novel," by Bulwer, "Margaret Maitland," "My Peninsular Medal," The Green Hand, and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued in the cheapest form, are published in Blackwood, and are reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs. Donaldson & Butterfield. Subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these interesting tales.

SELLERS' COUGH SYRUP.—"Without a Rival!"

PITTSBURGH, (Fifth Ward) Feb. 25th, 1850.

Mr. S. E. Sellers:—On the 14th ult. I caught a very severe cold. The night following I was so hoarse I could not speak, and could hardly breathe. I had slept none the night before, the person sleeping with me was so much annoyed by my coughing, that he got up and went to a drug store, and bought a bottle of your Cough Syrup, one dose of which, to my great astonishment, cured me enough to get up by morning, and I was well in the morning, and am now quite well. Yours, &c.

I hereby certify that I am well acquainted with the above circumstances, and that the statement given is true.

Prepared and sold by S. E. SELLERS, 57 Wood st.

Sempr's Rail Ribbon and Jones' are equally helpful, cured by its use, so abundant a perspiration, which, in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, and other cities, is the result of a general feeling of lassitude, and a total inability for any exertion, or mental application, for remedying the hair which and about without soiling the clothes with grease.
