ARRIVAL OF THE BALTIC.

Exciting News from the Seat of War.

Great Battle!—Sebastopol in Flames!—Ten thousand Allies and Eighteen Thousand Russians Slain.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The steamship Baltic arrived from Liverpool this evening at half-past 6 o'clock.

A great battle has been fought. Sebastopol in flames. Ten thousand allies and eighteen thousand Russians killed.

In the battle at Sebastopol two ships of war were sunk, and one thousand guns captured.

The battle occurred on the 20th ult.—Fort Constantine was destroyed, and other forts, mounting two hundred guns were taken.

Of the Russian fleet six vessels were sunk.

Menschikoff retired to the extremity of the bay with the remainder of the fleet, declaring he would burn them if an attempt was made to capture them. The allies gave him six hours to surrender.—The Russians did so. The Russians resisted the attack on Sebastopol bravely, but were finally annihilated.

On the 19th hostilities commenced between the Turks and Montenegrins, in which the former were the assailants.

Despatches are said to have been received by Gortschakoff confirming the surrender of Menschikoff.

A battle was also fought at Alma which lasted four hours. The French lost 4,000 the English loss not stated.

Prince Napoleon had two horses shot under him. General Thomas was killed. Gen. Canrobert was wounded.

The allies in the Baltic are preparing to attack Revel and Cronstadt.

The first news of the fall of Sebastopol was brought by a Tartar, who arrived at Bucharest.

Considerable doubt is thrown over the news, but the French government it is said, have received confirmation from D. de Buol, Turkish Ambassador at Vienna; also, a telegraphic despatch from the Turkish Ambassador in London confirming it. Details are yet wanting. Telegraphic despatches were very conflicting. The news caused the wildest excitement all over Europe. French and English funds advanced.

The French squadron had again joined Napier in the Baltic.

Omer Pasha was about to attack the Russians in Bessarabia.

The final fall of Sebastopol occurred on the 25th.

In the battle of Alma, 50,000 Russians were engaged. They were defeated by the allies, and forced to retreat on Sebastopol. The allies occupied the heights.—Three English steamers protected the passage of the Alma during the battle.

The assault upon Sepastopol followed on the 22d—not the 20th, as stated. The battle lasted three days, during which the slaughter was dreadful. The garrison, it is said, were offered leave to retreat, but preferred remaining prisoners of war.

The loss at the battle of Alma was 5,000 French and English, 2,800 Turks, and 6,000 Russians. Marshall St. Arnaud and Lord Raglan commanded in person. Three batteries were stormed.

Russia had forbidden the export of corn to Austria.

TERRIBLE RAVAGES OF CHOLERA IN SICILY.—The Philadelphia Inquirer has a letter, dated Messina, September 2d, which says:

"This city has been afflicted in the most awful manner—5,068 persons died from the 23d to the 29th of August. On the 29th there was a complete slaughter; the general terror increased the number of victims. Of the 5,000 soldiers composing the garrison, 2,000 perished, and almost all the police. It is impossible to describe the desolate appearence of the city. Entire families have been destroyed. Of the family of Mr. Ruggieri, Sardinian consul, composed of twelve persons, not one survives. The shops are all closed, and their occupants have either fled or shut themselves up.

"There were not vehicles enough to carry the dead to the cemeteries, and the police were obliged to seek ox-wagons in the country. In a few days 13,000 persons have died. The sick were left without food, medical aid, or the solace of clerical attendance in their dying moments. The physicians as well as the druggists and priests all shamefully took to flight. Large numbers of galley prisoners, condemned to chains for life for capital crimes, were pardoned on condition of burying the dead. Such a spectacle has not been seen in any Italian city since the plague of the 'Middle Ages.'"

From a subsequent letter of Sept. 10th, we see that the government had sent a steamboat with physicians, druggists, and priests, provisions, &c., and that the disease had begun to decline.

GEORGE BANCROFT, THE HISTORIAN. Bancroft is one of our greatest men.—Endowed with a most piercing and at the same time poetic mind, he examines the history of a period with the rigid scrutiny of a judge, and then narrates the story with the lofty enthusiasm of a bard.—Whether he is describing the noble order of Columbus, the half-inspired fortitude of the Puritans, the careless courage of the Cavaliers, or the wonderful western journeyings of La Salle and Vincennes, the story still moves on with absorbing interests, and sometimes with epic grandeur. His natural talents have been cultivated with most assiduous zeal: and to the acquirements of a New England college he adds the profoundest studies of a German University. His history, with its deep and careful research, judicious and philosophic thought, its life-like character-painting, and gorgeous diction, is a treasure for American reader and an honor to American literature.—St. Louis Republican.

CRUEL MURDER.—The murder of a school boy in Covington Ky., by a German grocery keeper, on Friday afternoon the 6th inst., is stated in the Cincinnati Commercial to have caused a fearful excitement among the people of Covington.—The case is a most painful one.

It appears that a little boy, twelve years of age, named Samuel Easton, while passing the corner of Craig and Bremen street, in company with several other school children was engaged in some dispute or conversation with a German boy of his own age, when a German man named Fortman, perhaps overhearing the conversation, came out of his grocery, and among other things called young Easton a fool. The boy replied that Fortman, himself, was a fool. Fortman then said: 'you d—d little son of a b—h,' and made towards the boy. The lad had a shiney stick in his hand, and as Fortman approached, he struck him with it just over the left eye, and then ran.—Fortman pursued, and overtaking him, he knocked him down with his fist, and than kicked and stamped several times on his head and side, and then left him on the ground insensible. The lad was led home a distance of several squares, by some of his school mates, and a physician was at once sent for. This was at 4½ o'clock on Friday evening, notwithstanding the best medical assistance, he died.

Fortman was immediately arrested, and the grand jury found a true bill against him next morning of murder.

MRS. ANN ROYALL, an old literary character, died at her residence in Washington, on Sunday, at the advanced age of ninety-two years. Her husband was a captain in the revolutionary war, and she, as his widow, drew a pension. She was a native of Virginia, and was stolen by the Indians at an early age, remaining with them in Western Virginia until she was fifteen years of age. Being then released, she met and married Capt. Royall, and commenced acquiring the rudiments of an English education. For the last quarter of a century she edited a weekly paper in Washington called the "Huntress." She was the author of several volumes of travels through the United States, and criticisms of individual character, entitled the "Black Book," chiefly notorious at the time of their publication for their local personalities.

THE PENNSYLVANIA COAL TRADE.—The Philadelphia Ledger of Sat. says:

The reports of the several coal carrying companies show a very heavy tonnage the past week. The Lehigh Navigation shipped, for the week ending on Saturday last, 41,581 tons, and for the season, 934,694 tons; the Reading road, for the week ending on Thursday, brought down 45,602 tons, and for the year, 1,719,096 tons, and the Schuylkill Navigation, for the week, brought down 20,162 tons, and for the season, 750,904 tons. Total tonnage by the three lines, for the week, 107,745, and for the season, 3,418,694.

The Cotton Crop—New Orleans Market.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 14.—The account of the cotton crop received during the past few days have been generally of an unfavorable character, and prices in our market are consequently a trifle higher. Middling is quoted at 8¾c.

The sales of the past week have been 50,000 bales: to-day's business was restricted to 2000 bales; flour is selling at $6,50, and Corn at 70c; lard has declined 1s per pound, bbls being quoted at 11c. Sterling Exchange is at 9½ per prem.

Progress of the Yellow Fever.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 16.—The Southern mail as late as due from all points is received.

The total number of deaths at New Orleans during the week ending the 8th inst., was 358, of which 207 were from yellow fever.

Important Work on Pennsylvania.

No Pennsylvanian should be without it. Eight Thousand copies sold! Every Farmer and every citizen should have a copy.

BOWEN'S Pictorial Sketch Book of Pennsylvania; or, its Scenery, Internal Improvements, Resources and Agriculture, popularly described, Illustrated with over 200 Beautiful Engravings, and accompanied by Barns's Large Map of the State, carefully colored. Eighth edition, Revised, Corrected and Improved. One Volume, 8vo., with over 500 pages, and handsomely bound. Sent by mail, ☞ Free of expense.

The author commences with Sketches of Travel as he starts out on his tour, and while every object of interest is marked and noticed, he leads the reader to a clear knowledge of what he passes by—instead of going over the ground traveled before, and describing simply the State and her People, as a stand still Institution, he grasps at once, the sources of her wealth, her immense and increasing improvements, her inexhaustible mineral treasures, her agricultural capacity, and strength; and not being content to pass superficially over these vast interests he handles them all; analyses their respective departments, and treats for the popular ear what before was only reserved for the favored few; having made her minerals one of his pleasant studies, he takes a pride in presenting to Pennsylvanians, Pennsylvania's greatest source of wealth in THE COAL FORMATION. On this subject, probably no man is more at home, and his perceptions of the matter is laid before the reader, in so lucid and clear a style, that none can be misled or mystified. Engravings illustrating the formation, drawn under his own observation, are introduced to make the subject as clear as possible; this article alone is worth double the price of the book. The MANUFACTURE OF IRON is treated in the same masterly manner, with appropriate engravings illustrating the manufacture in all its parts.

The Agriculture of the State—the Cities, Towns and Villages are described and dwelt upon, the characteristics of the people pointed out, and the various improvements in progress or projected, noticed. Added to this is Campbell's always beautiful Gertrude of Wyoming.

The press throughout the State have, with united voice, pronounced it the best popular Book ever written on the State. Accompanying every volume is Barne's large Map of the State, carefully colored—the latest and best Map published, and which retails separately at One Dollar, and is undoubtedly the only correct one issued.

The price of the Book is placed at the lowest rate for which it could be manufactured, and the execution of it in every respect is alike beautiful and substantial. Independently of the fine map, it is a remarkably cheap work; but that accompanying it, the publisher has no hesitation in pronouncing it THE CHEAPEST BOOK PUBLISHED!

The Publisher has gone to great expense in publishing the Book in a proper style. The engravings are beautifully executed; the type large and clear; and the paper of a fine texture; while the binding is at the same time tasty and durable, and having done his part well, he submits the work to the examination of the people, confidently recommending it to the attention of those interested in Railroads, Coal and Iron. To every Farmer and every Citizen of the great State of Pennsylvania, he submits this splendid volume, and respectfully solicits their patronage.

Agents will call upon the citizens for their subscription, and in cases where no agent has called, any person wishing it, will have it sent free of expense, by remitting the amount to the Publisher.

THE CHEST

SIR ASTLEY COOPER, Bart., M. D.,

THE EMINENT MEDICAL PRACTITIONER, HAS LEFT A VALUABLE LEGACY TO THE WORLD IN HIS

Great Preventative of Consumption, and Unfailing Cure for Pulmonary Diseases, without the use of Medicine. Sir A. C. Bart, invented and advised the use of the Medicated Fur Chest Protector.

To all persons of all ages and conditions, as a certain and a safe shield against those fearful diseases, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, Colds, and other afflictions of the Lungs, which arise from the exposed state of the chest, according to fashion, and the continual changes of our climate.

"The Protector," although but recently introduced into America is making rapid progress through the United States, the Canadas, South America, and the West Indies. It has for a long time been a staple article in England and on the continent of Europe, while it has grown in many countries to the position of an article of dress.

To demonstrate these facts enquire of any English resident in your vicinity of his knowledge of the beneficial effects of wearing the Protector without recourse to doctoring of any kind. The cost of wearing these articles is a mere trifle, and one will last some years. No one who values the health of himself or his family will be without them. The Hospitals in this country are not alone recommending them, but rapidly introducing them. Harcourt, Bradley & Co., of London, and Manchester, England, were originally entrusted with the manufacture of the Protectors, by the lamented Dr. Cooper, and continue to manufacture according to his original instructions, and therefore recommend those who would wear "The Protectors," to see to their being genuine.

Remember this is a staple article, and no Patent Medicine.

RETAIL PRICES.—Gent's size, $1,50 each. Ladies' size, $1,00 each. Boys' and Misses size, 75cts.

HYGEANA,

Brought Home to the Door of the Million.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY has recently been made by Dr. Curtis, of this city, in the treatment of Consumption, Asthma and all diseases of the Lung. We refer to "Dr. Curtis' Hygeana, or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup."—With this new method Dr. C. has restored many afflicted ones to perfect health; as an evidence of which he has innumerable certificates. Speaking of the treatment, a physician remarks: It is evident that inhaling—constantly breathing an agreeable, healing vapor—the medicinal properties must come in direct contact with the whole of the arial cavity of the lungs, and thus escape the many and varied changes produced upon them when introduced into the stomach, and subjected to the process of digestion. The Hygeana is for sale at all the druggists' throughout the country.

N. Y. Dutchman, of Jan. 14.

The Inhaler is worn on the breast under the linen without the least inconvenience—the heat of the body being sufficient to evaporate the fluid.

Hundreds of CASES of CURES like the following might be named. One Package of Hygeana has cured me of the ASTHMA of six years standing.

Jas. F. Keesberry, P. M. Dansession, Pa.

I am cured of the ASTHMA of 10 years standing by Dr. Curtis' Hygeana.

Margaret Easton, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. Paul of No. 5, Mammond st., N. Y., was cured of a severe case of Bronchitis by the Hygeana.

My sister has been cured of a DISTRESSING COUGH of several years standing, and decided to be incurable by her Physicians.

She was CURED in ONE MONTH by the Hygeana.

BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.
THE HYDROMAGEN,
OR, WATERPROOF, ANTI-CONSUMPTIVE
CORK SOLES,

Manufactured by HARCOURT, BRADLEY & Co., 44 Market street, Manchester, England.

Principal Warehouse, 102 Wood street, Cheapside, London, England.

American Establishments, 38 Ann street & 102 Nassau street, N. Y.

THE Hydromagen is a valuable discovery for protecting the feet from damp or cold, and therefore a preventive of many Lung diseases, without any doctorting whatever. The Hydromagen is in the form of a sole, and worn inside the boot or shoe. Its medicated character is a powerful antidote to disease.

For Gentlemen it will be found agreeable, warm, and healthy, to wear in the coldest or rainiest weather, as the foot cannot become wet if the Hydromagen is inserted. Ladies may wear the lightest soled boots and shoes in the most inclement weather with impunity; while Consumption, so prevalent among the young of our country, may be thwarted by their general adoption. They entirely supersede over-shoes, as the latter cause the feet to perspire in a very unhealthy manner; and, besides, are not dangerous wear to pedestrians in icy weather, like India rubbers. While the latter cause the feet to appear extremely large, the Hydromagen, being a mere thin slice of cork prepared, peculiarly placed inside, does not increase the size of the boot, or cause the foot to appear untidy. To children they are extremely valuable, as they may engage in exercise with comfort and healthy effects. Their expense is so slight as to scarce need mention; besides, those who patronize them will find their yearly doctor's bills much diminished thereby.

As the Hydromagen is becoming more known, its sale is increasing to an almost incredible extent. Last year in London, Manchester, Birmingham, Liverpool, Glasgow, Leeds, Dublin, Paris, Antwerp, Hamburgh, and Berlin, our sales reached 1,732,456 pairs of Cork Soles. This year the number will far surpass that.

Ask the Faculty their opinion of their value as a preventive for Coughs, colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, and consumption.
