DIRECTIONS FOR USING SAWYER'S CHEMICAL OLIVE ERASIVE SOAP—A new and valuable article, which is fast receiving the preference over other family soaps, for Laundry and Family use. Being free from rosin and other adulterations—economical and pure—suitable for washing with cold or warm, hard, soft or saline water.

It speedily removes oil, grease, paint, printer's ink, tar, pitch, etc., from the hands and from clothes. It contains no filthy fish oils or stale grease, nor any ingredient that will injure the hands or the finest fabric. One pound will go further—make richer washing suds—than two to three lbs. of common brown rosin or palm soap.

It is the purest, best and cheapest Erasive and Laundry Soap now offered to the American people. It can be used for washing clothes same as other soaps, though it is better to follow directions:

Cut into shavings one pound lump of soap; dissolve it well in ten or twelve gallons of hot water; let the clothes—as many as can be immersed—soak in this solution, say about thirty minutes; wring out; rinse well in warm water once, cold water twice. A dirty wristband, seam or grease spot may require some rubbing, but otherwise the clothes will come out clean and white, without much rubbing or much boiling; thus saving time, labor and money—almost setting aside the old-fashioned washboard.

Cold water may be used in place of hot, requiring about double time in soaking. If water is hard or salt, it will need more soap. Clothes remaining soiled some time before washing; those long worn without washing; and garments of machinists, engineers, iron-workers, and of many other mechanics and artizans, may need more soaking and more rubbing than others. Attentive housekeepers will soon learn, by a few trials, how to suit it to different kinds of work. It is invaluable to those who are compelled to wash with hard or well water.

Cotton Prints and Calicos, after being washed in the suds, and well rinsed, should be dried as soon as possible, to prevent colors from running.

Woolen garments and goods should be soaked and rinsed well in hot or warm—not in cold—water, wrung out, stretched and dried soon as convenient. If washed in cold weather, they should be dried in a warm room, to prevent shrinking. Housewives will find this one of the finest and best soaps they ever used for washing woolen hose, under-garments, skirts, blankets, merinos, delaines, etc. Also, for every kind of white clothes, coarse or fine, cotton, linen or silk.

For cleaning Paints, make about the same suds, or solution as above, using a cloth or sponge, if paint is new or is often cleaned; when paint is old or much soiled, a brush may be needed. We feel assured that no good housekeeper, after once learning its value, will wish to be without it; nor will they return to the use of rosin soap for washing clothes, if they can procure this. It is an honest soap, offered in confidence to an intelligent public, by established soap manufacturers, who have been manufacturing for nearly half a century, and who still continue to manufacture every variety of Oils, Candles, Fancy Toilet and Plain Soaps, and to whom gold and silver medals have been awarded by the Pennsylvania and several other State Fairs.

Sold throughout the United States, by wholesale Grocers and Druggists, and for retail, cheap, at the Family Grocery and Provision Stores

It is our wish that dealers and consumers may all be supplied at the lowest prices that can be afforded. We have no agents. Terms, cash. Be sure and ask for "Sawyer's Chemical Olive Erasive Soap." In pound lumps—60 in a box. Colors: Pure white and lemon.
