AVIATORS KILLED, 3 HURT IN FALLS

Victims of Accidents at Five American Training Camps

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 3.—Corporal Carl A. Christenson, of the army aviation school at Rockwell Field, North Island, was killed today when his airplane went into a tail spin at a height of 1500 feet and fell into Coronado Bay. Lieutenant F. Cotton, in the airplane with him, sustained minor injuries. Christenson was a Scandinavian and gave the address of Mrs. Margaret McDonald, Philadelphia, for emergency requirements.

Wichita Falls, Tex., Aug. 3.—Lieutenant W. L. Carson of Call Field here was killed in a fall from an airplane at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, this morning, according to a telegram received at Call Field this afternoon. Lieutenant Carson flew to Fort Sill this morning. The report from Fort Sill says that Carson was alone in the machine when it fell. His home was at Hood River, Ore.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 3.—Lieutenant Robinson E. Bidwell, of Red Bluff, Cal., was killed while making a cross-country flight about nine miles south of here today. Bidwell's machine caught fire when about 2000 feet in the air and descended in flames. At about 500 feet the aviator leaped to avoid the fire and was killed by the fall.

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 3.—Cadet Sewell Willis Rodgers, of Brookline, Mass., died in the field hospital at Chanute Field, Rantoul, late last night as the result of injuries received on the field.

Cadet Rodgers was riding on a motorcycle when he was struck by an airplane piloted by Lieutenant Symestedt, carrying Cadet Nall. Rodgers's bunkmate.

Rodgers was a graduate of the Princeton School of Military Aeronautics and leaves a wife. His father is A. R. Rodgers, manager of the Grand Central Palace, in New York. The body has been shipped to Orange, N. J., for burial.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 3.—An aviator at Scott Field, whose name the officers would not disclose, fell 150 feet in his machine yesterday evening and suffered only bruises, it became known today. The plane was demolished.
