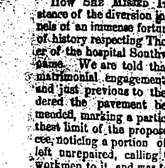
How She Missed It.—A remarkable instance of the diversion into philanthropic channels of an immense fortune is giving in a scrap of history respecting Thomas Grey, the founder of the hospital Southwark, Eng., bearing his name. We are told that Grey had formed a matrimonial engagement with his servant girl, and just previous to the wedding day had ordered the pavement before his door to be mended, marking a particular stone as the farthest limit of the proposed repairs. His fiancee, noticing a portion of the pavement being left unrepaired, calling the attention of the workmen to it, and was told that Mr. Grey had forbidden them to extend their operations so far. The girl presuming upon her supposed power over her lover, ordered the workmen to continue their labors, and added, "Tell him I bade you, and he will not get angry." But she had reckoned without her host; for Grey, perceiving that a change had been made in his positive orders, involving an additional outlay of a few shillings, renounced his intention of marrying the girl, and at the age of seventy-six years formed the design of building the hospital referred to. In erecting the structure he expended nearly one hundred thousand dollars, and to endow it he left the further and munificent sum of eleven hundred thousand dollars. An idea of his wealth may be obtained from the fact, that besides making many of his relatives happy with annuities, and giving large sums to various charities during his life, he bequeathed nearly half a million dollars to be divided among all who could prove themselves in any degree related to him. History is mute respecting the manner in which the almost bride bore her disappointment. There is no evidence however, of her having played the heroine's part in an Effie Carstang melo-drama, nor are we told whether the indignant old gent left her the least legacy as a slave for her wounded pride. All we know is, that the assumption of mistreasship a few hours too soon, secured for England one of the finest hospitals, and placed the name of Thomas Grey on record as the largest contributor to benevolent objects known to English history, or our own.—[Post.

French Dynasties.—I have watched the change of dynasties in Paris for the last forty years. Each has fallen from its own incapacity. French promises are always ready to take the place of their predecessors; but they are never fulfilled, and the same ruinous course is entered on anew. I have known, and, indeed, in some instances, been intimate with most of the men of the day. Among them were some of distinguished talent, and the best intentions, but they did not last. Sometimes they were no better than their predecessors, and often turned out even greater rogues. No government has yet kept faith with the people; none has looked on its own interests as of subordinate importance to the public good. Until that happens no power will be permanently established in France. The nation has already been deceived, and will now be deceived again. Then again, too, will it punish these frauds and tricks, and for that it is already ripe and strong.—[Humbolt's Letters.

It is noticed that the gray hair of elderly people always softens and improves their complexion. Accordingly, dyeing is the most stupid of blunders, unless one prefers the parchment skin of a mummy, which is the inevitable consequence. How little confidence in good mother Nature is shown by her figty children.

When a generous man is compelled to give a refusal, he generally gives it with a worse grace than the ungenerous: first, because it is against his nature: and, secondly, because is is out of practice.

MCCORMICK'S REAPER AND MOWER.



20,000 Sold in the Last Five Years!

Being a Larger Number than is Manufactured by any other single Establishment in the World.

THE MACHINE for 1860 will be found so greatly improved as fully to meet the wants of farmers, both as a Reaper and as a Mower—so modified in its construction, as now to be for both purposes. While cutting a swath several inches wider than the Two Horse Machine of past seasons it is as a whole, narrower, lighter and stronger, and will run much easier—with no material side draught. We present, therefore, for the coming season, a machine one foot wider than those of most makers, with a light draught for two horses in Reaper or Mower, LIGHTER THAN IS REQUIRED BY MUCH NARROWER MACHINES. By the production of balancing of this machine, in connection with a pointed steel jointed tongue, (with the wheel frame,) the cutting apparatus, when mowing, is now easily thrown over obstructions while in motion, simply by the weight of the driver in his place, thus dispensing with all levers and complicated arrangements to effect the same object.

The machine of 1859 will be found superior as a MOWER, presenting some peculiar features not attainable by other machines. The Two Horse Machine, though cutting about five and one half feet wide, is of light and easy draught, accomplishing a greater amount of work with a less expenditure of power than any machine made.

A warranter is given to every purchaser, and in addition, the following offer is made: Any farmer, who may desire it, is at liberty to work this machine through the harvest with any other, and PAY for the one PURCHASED.

For further particulars, as also for patent claims under which this machine is built, we refer to our annual pamphlet, which will be furnished on application to us, at Chicago, or either of our many agents.

Reliable machines can be seen at all prominent points.

Price of machines delivered in Chicago, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Louisville, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Baltimore—charges following from these points:

For Four Horse, complete	$155
For Two Horse, complete	140

THE NEW YORK DAY BOOK says:

"The majority of Hair Washes, Hair Dyes, Hair Tonics, Hair Oils, and the numberless preparations which are now before the public under such extravagant, hyperbolical and fantastic titles as we see paraded in show window cards, and newspaper headlines, as hair preparations, are all humbugs of the first water, their real merit, when they possess any, is that they do no harm. HOG'S LARD, WHALE OIL, LARD OIL, SWEET OIL, scented and colored, make up, when in beautiful wrappers and white flint glass bottles, the costliest character of tonics; and when that costly, are baptized with noble sounding names, and caught at by verdant young and old of both sexes. Such is not the character of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative. This gentleman comes before the world without any tinsel falsetto Xilophidorium, or any other astounding and startling catchpenny terms. He simply advertises a Hair Restorative—what it expresses, precisely—and as a Restorative it acts. Buy Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and as you value your scalp, eye, your very brains, apply nothing else, for it may be that you will get some worse substance than perfumed lard oil on your crania. Remember, Wood's Restorative for the Hair is the best article extant."

It Will, by Nature's own Process,
Restore Gray Hair to the Original Color,
Will make Hair Grow on Bald Heads,
Will restore the Natural Secretions,
Will remove at once all Dandruff,
Will cure all eruptions on Scald Head,
Will make the Hair Soft and Glossy,
Will make the old appear young again,
Will preserve the Color of Hair to old age,
Will always Fasten it and stop its Falling,
And is one of the best Toilet Articles for the Hair now in use.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS & IRON

AN APERIENT AND STOMACHIC Preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combination in Hypogene. Experience of the Market Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its early use in almost every conceivable case. Immediate in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

Debility, Nervous Affections, Emaciation, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, incipient Consumption, Scrofulous Tuberculosis, Salt Rheum, Mismenstruation, Whites, Chlorosis, Leucorrhoea, Pleiritis, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatism, Intermittent Fevers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if just return d from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical change, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old codest, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overbearing, and generally regularizing agent, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a secret purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often proved sufficient for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked Diarrhoea, even when advanced to Dysentery, confirmed, exacerbating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and pallient hectic, which generally indicate incipient Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculous, this medicinal iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well known liabilities.

The attention of families cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swelling and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In Intermittent Fevers it must necessarily be a great remedy and scientific restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc, should be addressed to
