The Republican.

George B. Goodlander, Editor.

CLEARFIELD, PA.

Thursday Morning, Nov. 19. 1868.

A man in Coventry, Vermont, recently presented a bill of $30 against a school district for water that the scholars had drank from his well. That State gave 30,000 majority for Gen. Grant. The children must be as great drinkers as Theodore Tilton reported the General to be.

Thad. P. Stephens, Esq., last week assumed control of the editorial department of the Bellefonte National, &c. His ideas seem to be as dark as those of the dead Stevens, but they may become whiter by use and experience. He is a clever gentleman, but he is engaged in a bad cause.

"The State of Alabama is now conceded to Grant by 2,500 majority. In many of the white counties that usually polled 1,500 to 2,000 votes, not more than 500 to 600 were cast. In Marion county no election was held."—Loyal Exchange.

What a commentary on "free government!" A party boasting of their success because two-thirds of their own race are disfranchised, while the black barbarian is enfranchised!

A New Journal.—A literary newspaper, entitled The Heath and Home, is announced by Messrs. Pettengill, Bates & Co., New York, to appear on or before the first of January next. The paper will be under the editorial management of Donald G. Mitchell, ("Ik. Marvel,") whose name is a guaranty that the literary work of the paper will be admirably performed.

Progress—Backwards.—For a christian and highly civilized community like Massachusetts to elect a Beast to Congress. The wholesale robber and seducer of females is to take full command. John Morrissey, or even the "wickedest man in New York," is a saint when compared with old Ben. Butler. "Hell upon earth" means Brownlow in the Senate, and Butler in the House.

An exchange says the people in New Hampshire have voted in favor of a convention to frame a new State Constitution. They propose to reduce the unwieldy House of Representatives, three hundred and forty odd in number, increase the Senate, which is now a little family circle of twelve, and abolish all religious tests for office. It is about time Democracy, common honesty and a "republican form of government" were adopted by this Puritan Commonwealth.

"Hon. David A. Wells, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, it is said, asserts that the receipts from customs and internal revenue are at present ample to pay the expenses of the Government, interest on the public debt and to pay a considerable portion of the debt annually in addition."—Loil Exchange.

This syren song has been sung for the past four years, but the debt is greater than ever, and we will be very much mistaken (if Gen. Grant keeps the present "loil" tribe in office) if the same result is not arrived at four years hence. Turn out the present collectors and assessors, and there may be a reduction; but the present prodigal crew do not know how to economize.

The Test.—The re-election of Beast Butler to Congress by a larger majority than before, is a great joke on "loilty" and morality. This most unscrupulous villain of the age will no doubt be the leader of the "grand moral idea" party in the next Congress. The ladies had better keep a sharp eye upon this immoral monster. The greatest enemy Gen. Grant has is to be the leader in the next Rump. He is the proper successor of the debauched Stevens, and leader of moral ideas founded upon a Puritan basis.

United.—The proprietors of the Louisville Courier and the Journal, acting upon their State motto, "United we stand, divided we fall," have united these two first-class journals, and they will hereafter be published under the title of the Louisville Courier-Journal. The talent and enterprise of both being merged into one will make it the best newspaper published in the United States. Those of our readers who wish to be posted on Southwestern news can do no better than subscribe for this excellent newspaper. Address, W. N. Haldeman, Louisville, Kentucky. Terms—daily, $12; weekly, $2 or twenty copies and one to the getter-up of the club for $30.

Contrast Again.—The Abolition traitors in times past spent a great deal of time depicting the curse of slavery; and to make a sharp point in their argument—a real stunner—would compare Kentucky with Ohio. Now, let them once more, by way of variety, make a contrast between a "rebil" and a "loil" State. Contrast Kentucky with Tennessee. The former gives 90,000 Democratic majority; the latter gives a Radical negro majority of about half that number. Kentucky is at peace; its State bonds are as good as greenbacks; it rests in the sunshine of unequalled prosperity. Tennessee is a negro hell, and hardly a day passes without a record of some bloody atrocity committed inside of its borders—a rape, a robbery, a riot, or some gross violation of peace and order. Which condition is preferable?

"Loil" Cabinet-makers.

The Cabinet-makers are just now busy getting up a Cabinet for General Grant. The philosopher of the Tribune furnishes the following material:

"General Schofield, ex-Secretary Stanton, Gen. Sherman, Gen. Sheridan and Gen. Thomas, are, perhaps, equally available for the post of Secretary of War. Mr. Sumner, Charles Francis Adams, Mr. Trumbull, Gen. Dix, Mr. Bancroft and Mr. Motley, are among the names suggested for Secretary of State. The more important office of Secretary of the Treasury naturally suggests the names of Benjamin F. Wade, Gov. Fenton, Gov. Boutwell, and Senators Morgan, Sherman, Conklin and Morrill, and Mr. Washburne. The remaining Cabinet positions call up a score of names, and may, perhaps, afford an opportunity for rewarding the minor coadjutors of Grant in the great work of suppressing the rebellion."

A sentimental Washington correspondent has prepared the following:

Secretary of State—J. Lothrop Motley, of Massachusetts.
Secretary of War—John M. Schofield, U. S. A.
Secretary of the Navy—David D. Porter, U. S. N.
Secretary of the Treasury—David A. Wells, of New York.
Secretary of the Interior—E. B. Washburne, of Illinois.
Postmaster General—Ex-Governor Dennison, of Ohio.
Attorney General—Senator Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey.

Here is another guess what the Cabinet is going to be:

Charles Sumner, Secretary of State; General Schofield, Secretary of War; Admiral Farragut, Secretary of the Navy; Treasurer Spinner, Secretary of the Treasury; Senator Conness, Secretary of the Interior; Representative Washburne, of Illinois, Postmaster General, and Representative Wilson, of Iowa, Attorney General.

For all of which there is not probably any foundation except in the wishes and in the imagination of the guessers.

Gen. Grant Has Made a Speech.

A number of his Republican friends, headed by the "loil" Mayor, called on him in Washington, on Tuesday, and offered to get up a "demonstration" for him. Gen. Grant responded as follows:

"I am glad to meet you all and to receive your congratulations, but I hope you will spare me any further demonstration. I live in this city, and like to avoid demonstrations here as elsewhere, and with my consent there cannot be any. I am always ready to meet such gentlemen as may call at my office or house at any time without public display or demonstration. This would be much more agreeable to me, and I hope it will be agreeable to you.

"I am not unmindful of the feeling intended to be displayed by a public demonstration, and you must take all this for 'granted'"

After the General had concluded, some persons spoke privately with him, said how much they were disappointed, and asked him again if he would not let them have a procession and serenade him. He answered them substantially that he could not, of course, prevent them from having a procession whenever they pleased, but he preferred that they should not make any display at his residence. This settled the matter, and the delegation retired a good deal crestfallen. The conclusion of this business is very generally gratifying to all except the knot of office seekers who were chiefly concerned in trying to get up the demonstration.

School Director's Duties.—The last number of the Pennsylvania School Journal has the following sensible article on the importance of school directors visiting schools: "The duty of visiting schools is considered one of the most important duties that directors have to discharge in the administration of the system. The law makes the duty imperative, and no person should accept the office of school director unless he is willing to perform it. Where well done, its effect is always to make the schools more efficient. It encourages good teachers, and exposes bad ones. It stimulates pupils in their studies. It enables directors to ascertain the exact condition of the schools, school-houses and school-grounds. On the whole, so high value does the Department set upon the local supervision of the schools, that it always expects to find the schools of the districts which are regularly and systematically visited by boards of directors, according to the provisions of the law, other things being equal, fifty per cent. better than those of districts in which the schools are entirely neglected in this respect, and this estimate is made from personal observation in hundreds of districts."

Gold vs. Free Government.—A cotemporary truthfully remarks that we have been beaten by the bondholders. This country is precisely in the condition of England. A heavy debt held by the subjects of the Crown holds them in subserviance to the Crown and the aristocracy there; a heavy debt held by the citizens of this country holds them in subserviance to Congress, which for the last three years has been the Government. Money—the extreme thirst for wealth which our people feel—making every other interest bow to this dominating interest—is the curse of the country. A Republican Government to endure, must exist in simplicity. Persian and Macedonian gold destroyed the liberties of Greece; and as mankind has never changed since the creation, the probability is that the interest held in the national debt by the people of this country will eventually effect the same purpose. The "God and Morality" party lay not their treasures up in Heaven, but on earth; and liberty and constitutional government must succumb to the almighty dollar

"Let Us Have Peace."—A leading New York journal that has supported General Grant for the Presidency, referred recently to this motto, and says: "We look now to see those words converted into acts—to see the olive branch substituted for the sword in the Southern States, negro supremacy quietly superseded, and such measures adopted as will create harmony out of discord in that genial and fruitful portion of our country comprised in the States now suffering from a mistaken and vindictive policy. We look also, and hopefully, to this, that after the 4th of March next there will be a check put upon the monstrous corruptions which prevail in all the departments of the government, that economy shall supercede extravagance in the disbursement of the public funds, that the public debt shall be reduced as rapidly as possible, and that the taxes which press upon the people shall be made more easy to bear."

Among the men who have been discharged from the United States Armory, at Springfield, Mass., recently, for want of work, is William Bliss, who has been in the employ of the government since 1820. As was the custom years ago, he paid $120 for his chance in the Armory.

The Radical Cry of Fraud.

The persistency and apparent sincerity with which the Radicals keep up the cry of fraud against Democrats, while engaged themselves in the perpetration of the most gigantic outrages on the right of suffrage ever yet committed among a free people, present the strangest contradiction which human nature has ever yet exhibited. It was a profound observation of a philosopher, that the most abandoned of mankind are ready to condemn in others the very vices to which they are themselves most prone, and find some difference in situation, condition or circumstances to justify the partial distinction. It is not necessary to go among those whom the world considers wicked to find exemplification of this strange contradiction. The "unco, godly" Radicals, who have not a word of condemnation of a giant outrage by which the people of Florida were defrauded of their suffrage, hold up their pious hands in horror at some perverted tale of fraudulent voting in New York. The Radicals can steal a whole State, put down its electoral vote triumphantly for their candidate, and turn about and denounce with virtuous wrath the wicked Alderman M'Mullin. Mr. Greeley can make loose charges of fraud columns, long, going away back to Placquemines and the candle boxes of Kansas, but his pure mind perceives no iniquity in the measures by which the people of three States were deprived of their suffrages, and the Democratic party of twenty-three votes. When the Radicals would cover up the enormous party proscriptions by which one hundred thousand voters in Tennessee, and ninety thousand more in Missouri were stripped of their rights, a great hullabaloo is raised about a man being arrested with a fraudulent naturalization paper, in Mackerelville or Bungtown. O, Radicalism! thou art a religion, and Pecksniff is thy prophet!

When party necessities requires a two-thirds majority in Congress to obstruct the wise action of President Johnson, the Radical committee on elections, of which our own Scofield is a shining member, readily invent pretexts to throw out the requisite number of Democrats. To accomplish the purpose, where there has been some slight irregularity in a voting precinct, the whole poll is thrown out, if it will benefit the Radical contestant. If two or three illegal votes be proved, that is sufficient to count out all the legal voters at that polling place, if it will aid a Radical to get his seat. The archives of the Radical committee of Congress, are full of the most flagrant instances of injustice done to constituencies in depriving them of their legally elected members. But if a poor Irishman be found with a fraudulent paper in his pocket, probably put there by a Radical, what virtuous diatribes are poured forth against the Democratic party, accompanied by hints to take away the franchise altogether from the foreigner for twenty-one years!

To come down to a familiar instance or two: General Morgan, of Ohio, was ousted from the Fortieth Congress for the sake of a favorite Radical, named Delano. Morgan was elected by a handsome majority, but a whole district was counted out here and another there, for some alleged trivial irregularity, and Delano cyphered in. General Morgan denounced the fraud in his place in Congress. He exposed the cunning lies by which the claim of Delano was supported. He challenged his opponent to meet him this year before the people of the district, but his challenge was prudently declined. General Morgan returns to the Forty-first Congress with a majority that a Radical committee with Scofield for a member, cannot overcome.

Take the case of M'Kee, who was defeated by over thousand majority by Young. His opponent was thrown out, and his seat given to M'Kee, on the ground that Young was elected by rebels and copperheads. The Radicals thus cunningly provided themselves with a precedent to eject every Democrat who may be chosen from the States of the South for years to come, to put in their partisans, and entrench themselves in power.

Everybody understands this. No Democrat ever contests a seat in Congress. If a Democrat should undertake to contest the seat of a Radical, his friends would deem him fitter for a home in an asylum for the feeble minded, than for a place in Congress. Covode, who is notoriously the most extensive colonizer in Pennsylvania, knows all about it. Beaten in spite of his frauds, overborne by the weight of his own unpopularity, he gets up a cock and bull story about fraud in Dunbar township, Fayette county, and finds a pliant tool in the return judge from Indiana county, who refuses the certificate to General Foster, who is elected by a majority of forty-one votes. He then rushes to Harrisburg, and urges the Governor to drop the name of General Foster from his proclamation of members of Congress elect. The game of Covode, in different shapes, is to be repeated by some twenty or thirty other defeated Radicals, and enough Democrats will, doubtless, be ejected to secure a Radical majority of two-thirds, which may be required to checkmate any conservative movement that Grant might contemplate. And while all this will be going on, Greeley will prate about fraud in New York, and Forney will never be done talking about that wicked Billy M'Mullin.—Harrisburg Patriot.

Eagle Dead.—The celebrated bald eagle, so well known in and around Germantown, and for twenty one years one of the attractions of the Wistar estate, died recently. This fine specimen of the royal bird became the property of the elder Wistar in 1810, in which year he traveled all over the State on the roof of a log cabin, and became a celebrated character. He lived in the trees in front of the mansion, and though he occasionally winged it away a few miles, would invariably return. His head and tail, originally black, became white as snow as he grew older.

A convention of white lead manufactures was held in St. Louis on Wednesday. The object of the convention was to effect a concert of action in matters relating to the trade, with the further object of promoting the interests of the western white lead manufacturers, exclusively, of reducing the price of white lead, and ridding the market of adulterated material. Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Cleveland and St. Louis companies were represented in the Convention.

The remains of Mr. F. J. Tronbat, who died recently in Paris, have arrived in Philadelphia. He was a prominent lawyer and writer upon legal matters.

Pennsylvania Election—Official Vote of 1868.

We give below the full official vote of every county in the State. In Philadelphia, the Radical board of return judges threw out nearly 4,000 votes cast by naturalized citizens for Seymour:

A Dead Man Revives.—Mr. George Warren, formerly of this city, was taken sick at Meadville, and on Saturday last, was supposed to have "breathed his last," in the presence of his sister and other friends. Word was sent to the relatives here that his body would be sent on for burial, and preparations made by them for conducting the "last, sad rites." The remains were expected on Monday and a hearse and carriages were in waiting at the depot, but on receiving notice that the funeral party had missed the train, their services were postponed until the next day. On Tuesday the hearse was again on hand, but instead of the corpse a dispatch was received stating that the body showed signs of life. At a later hour another telegram arrived saying that Mr. Warren had bid good bye to his coffin, and was sitting up in bed, happy in the thought of having made a narrow escape from being buried alive. His case is a warning which should not go unheeded.—Erie Observer.

A truly loyal Tennessean, named Bowles, thus addresses Brownlow's Legislature: "I am talking to your honest heart, Mr. Speaker, which I know you've got one. You give the rebels the power, and you'll be took outen that seat in no time. Do gentlemen say that wev've got no right to bring troops here, when the blossom of Hell's Delight hangs high on a sour apple tree? The rebellion in Tennessee is now up higher than it was six months ago. Now, Mr. Speaker, I want to call upon your honest heart, which I know you've got one, to say whether if we don't pass laws, the rebels won't take the power and put us under hell's kitchen. The gentleman from Wilson said wev'e no right to call for militia. Don't you know that the rebels are gaining on us every day, and want to put us down and will do it." In justification of Mr. Bowles it ought to be stated that he is by odds the most grammatical speaker on the "loil" side of the House.

Stile Training.—George Francis Train has issued a red hot manifesto, in which he says he is about to break up his residence in the English jail where he has been living, and come to America henceforth to live for revenge. Hear him: "With my fingers on the jugular vein of Eengland, so help me God, I will never let go until America becomes American, and Ireland has an Irish flag, over an Irish Republic, free from the damnable injustice of ages. Revenge is wild justice. Ireland shall be revenged. The payment of the Alabama claims and the release of the American citizens has already been balanced by the national insult to the Chinese Ambassador, because he happens to be an American. Time will show who has the most power—the American Minister dining with the British noble, or the American citizen dining with the Irish peasant.

How it Works.—The Superintendent of one of the most important Government works in New England, writes to Washington in regard to the working of the eight hour law, that, in so far as it was designed to secure better intellectual culture of mechanics, by giving them opportunity for it, is a humbug. Some of his men work outside at over hours, and thus make from $2 to $3 per day, beside what the Government pays them. Only two or three do anything more than before in the way of studying or reading, while the majority spend their extra time in useless loafing, invariably acquiring habits that make them less steady and reliable as workmen.

J. H. Herrick, a bright boy of eighty, recently married a gentle maiden, named Chatfield, of the same age. Their parents made no objection. Their residence is at Lodi, Conn.

Female Suffrage.

At the election on Tuesday, in Newark, N. J., Mrs. Lucy Stone Blackwell and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Blackwell, presented themselves at the polls and attempted to vote. The leaders claimed that under the old constitution of the State women had the right to vote and had frequently exercised it, and that the present constitution is illegal, because women were not allowed to vote upon its adoption or for the convention that framed it. But, even if it is constitutional, it still admits the right of women to vote, because it does not expressly limit the suffrage to males. The judges would not be convinced, however, and the votes were refused. In another part of New Jersey, the village of Vineland, one hundred and eighty-three women marched to the poll and offered their sacrificial ballots likewise upon the shrine of the future. With that charming indiscretion which characterises the sex, they had confided their intention each woman to some favored man, and the males took a truly hideous advantage of their confidence. For they provided separate receptacles for the votes of the fair, and into these those votes were put, the deluded depositors fondly dreaming that they had borne effectual part in the election. The wretches who thus paltered with them in a double box and kept the word of promise to the eye but broke it to the hope, ruthlessly rent the beggarly account of else empty boxes full fraught with the future of femininity, and scattered their consecrated contents to the winds. These budding aspirations so cruelly crushed must give us pause.

As Mr. John T. Schumaker, Congressman elect from the Second District of New York, alighted from a Broadway stage, at the corner of Amity street, he was set upon by three men. One of them stole a diamond pin, valued at one thousand dollars from Mr. Schumaker's shirt bosom, and passed it to a confederate, who made his escape. Two of the robbers, giving their names as Wm. B. Roth and John E. Townsend, were arrested on the spot.

The Fenian Brotherhood will begin a general Congress in Philadelphia, on the 24th inst., at which over one thousand delegates will be present from this country, Canada, England, Ireland, Scotland, Australia and South America.

BOOTH'S IMPROVED
STUMP EXTRACTOR.

MESSRS. BOOTH & RUMBARGER, the Proprietors of the Improved Stump Extractor, wish it distinctly understood that they warrant this machine to do just what it is recommended—excelling other stump machines by being constructed on three philosophical principles. It will extract the largest pine stump, suspend it above ground—permitting the soil to fall back in the hole—and will pull them as fast as ten men can dig the dirt from the roots after extracted. It will pull (owing to the size of the stumps) from forty to one hundred per day. It will either turn them over, or suspend them to be propped up, as desired. The Proprietors build the Extractor, deliver it, and test it on the farm of the purchaser; and if it does not render complete satisfaction, and do just as recommended, they will take it away and charge nothing for their trouble. Price of Machine, $160 00.

CERTIFICATE.
We, the undersigned, having witnessed the trial of T. J. Booth's Improved Stump Extractor, on the farm of R. H. Moore, near Luthersburg, on Saturday and Monday, the 7th and 9th of November, take pleasure in saying to the public, that we believe it to be the best machine now in use for extracting stumps. It is of simple construction, easily managed, not liable to get out of order, and very durable. Four men took the machine from the wagon, when entirely apart, put it together, and pulled a large pine stump in less than one hour. We saw two men pull a large stump with ease. They use a horse, but he does his work in taking out the largest stumps, without a hard pull. Mr. Booth, the Patentee, fully understands putting up and handling the machine. We would advise those in want of stump extractors to see this one tested before purchasing elsewhere, which they can do free of charge by calling on the Proprietors.

Democratic Almanac.
THIS invaluable publication is for sale at the post-office. It should be in the hands of every Democrat. It contains full election returns from every county in the United States; besides, the number for 1868 contains a complete list of the names of all the newspapers suppressed and mobbed during Lincoln's administration; and that for 1867 contains the names of all those civilians who were imprisoned during the same period. These two lists, for future reference, are worth more than the price of the publication. The number for 1869 is also full of valuable statistics. Any one sending 60 cents to the Post Master, will receive by return mail a copy for each year, free of postage. [Jo23tf

NATURE'S GREAT RESTORER.
SCHEETZ'S
Celebrated Bitter Cordial.
THIS medical preparation is now offered to the public as a reliable substitute for the many worthless compounds which now flood the market. It is purely vegetable, composed of various herbs, gathered from the great storehouse of nature, and selected with the utmost care. It is not recommended as a Cure-All, but by its direct and salutary influence upon the Heart, Liver, Kidneys, Lungs, Stomach and Bowels, it acts both as a preventive and cure for many of the diseases to which those organs are subject. It is a reliable Family Medicine, and can be taken by either infant or adult with the same beneficial results. It is a certain, prompt and speedy remedy for Diarrhoea, Dysentary, Bowel complaint, Dyspepsia, Lowness of Spirits, Faintings, Sickheadache, &c. For Chills and fevers of all kinds, it is far better and safer than any quinine, without any of its pernicious effects. It creates an appetite, proves a powerful digester, and will counteract the effects of liquor in a few minutes. Prepared by JACOB SCHEETZ, Sole Proprietor, N. W. cor. Fifth and Race streets, Philadelphia, Pa. Sold by all Druggists. [nov11-1y
