OILS OIL WELLS.—We lately gave the result of V. M. Thomson's management of the Oil Companies, in which we stated that it oil wells of the Thompson and Commercial had been demonstrated beyond a doubt that the majority of the abandoned wells in legitimate oil producing territory were abandoned for want of a proper knowledge of operating them,and not because it had ever been proven that oil ceased to exist in their locality. This theory is no longer a hypothesis, as all are willing to admit who have seen the operation of the principle as applied to the Woodford, the Phillips, and the Jaynes wells, on the Tarr farm. By a joint arrangement four wells of these companies are pump. at the same time, two of them yielding but little oil while the other two produce nearly one thousand barrels daily. When but two are pumping, no matter which of the two are selected, no oil to speak of is obtained. It will be seen then, that the wells must be relieved of a certain amount of water before the oil can be procured, and in this case the wells communicate with each other in such manner that the oil producing wells can be relieved of water by pumping those which yield but little water. If those of the number which yield but little water were plugged up or seed-bagged, in such manner as to prevent communication with other wells, to prevent the surface water of these wells from running into the other, as has been the plan generally adopted, the object would be entirely defeated, as it has been found impossible to make use of a pump of sufficient capacity at any one well to clear an oil producing well of water and at the same time procure the oil. Hence the principle of pumping a number of wells jointly and simultaneously is the only method yet discovered by which an old producing well can be resuscitated and brought back to its original yield.

The plan is now so well understood and appreciated that the proprietors of the Egbert Farm have resolved to adopt it, and have contracted for Liddell, Selden & Bliss' pumping rigs to do the work, as we were informed a few days ago by the Superintendent of the farm. This gentleman is so well satisfied with the principle that although he estimates the Egbert farm loss by fire at over $100,000, he concludes the improved method of operating, which can now be easily introduced, will make the farm worth twice its former estimated value Erie Dispatch.

A SOUTHERNER'S OPINION OF BEECHER.—A letter-writer from Alabama, in the New York Watchman (Southern) has a neighbor who has been on a visit recently to the great metropolis, and thinks well of Rev. H. W. Beecher. He says:

"I went half an hour before the time, and barely was in time for a seat. Beecher will do. Beecher has religion. The people sing like a genuine Methodist camp meeting. You feel when you come away, that, God helping, you will be a better man. Your heart is moved, and your eyes moistened. No nigger, no politics—real gospel, heart searching, practical religion. I went again, and is was the same thing. We discussed Beecher, and concluded he would do, and made up our minds to invite him down to the capital of Alabama to preach."

A LOVE AFFAIR.—The New Albany Ledger says that a man named Price was engaged to be married to an heiress named Love, not a hundred miles from that town. The preparations were all made, the bridal party assembled, and the divine ready to tie the knot, square and strong on the arrival of the groom. The gallant Price, however, hearing that his intended was not the heiress he supposed she was, upon consideration, changed his mind. He never appeared! The wretch! The spirit of the bride said come, and, as if fulfilling the Scriptures, though more likely filling full themselves, those assembled partook freely of the wedding luxuries without money and without price.

A LADY, modestly attired, was on her way to New York, on board one of the Hudson river night boats. She sat quietly reading in the ladies' cabin, when a flashily dressed dame, mistaking her for a servant, rather rudely accosted her with, "Do you know this cabin is for ladies?" "Certainly I do," was the answer, "and have been wondering for some time why you were here."

"JAKE, did you carry that umbrella home that I borrowed yesterday?" asked a father of his son. "No, father, you have often told me to lay up something for a rainy day; and as I thought it would rain soon, I laid up the umbrella."

A LADY visiting a girl's school, asked one of the children, "What are you making my little mistress, is it a chemise?" "No ma'm," replied the girl bashfully, "it's a he-shine."

"A PAIR of pretty eyes," said Coxcomb, "are the best mirrors to shave by." "Yes," replied old Hunx, the bachelor, "and I have known many a man shaved by them."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

AYER'S PILLS—Are you sick, feeble and complaining? Are you out of order with your system deranged and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the blood, and the disease lurking in which make disease. Avoid settles somewhere in the body, and deranges its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering and derangement. While in this condition, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore. Take the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint is also true in many of the deep seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Cased by similar obstructions and derangement of the natural functions of the body, they are equally and many of them surely cured by the same means. Note who know the virtue of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure, such as Headache, Foul Stomach, Dyspepsy, Biliousness, Indigestion, Derangement of the Liver, Costiveness, Constipation, Heartburn, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Worms and Suppression, when taken in large doses.

They are Sugar Coated, so that the most sensitive can take them easily, and they are surely the best purgative medicine yet discovered.

AYER'S AGUE CURE.

For the speedy cure of Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever (Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache, or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fever, indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in bilious derangement, caused by the Malaria of miasmatic countries.

This remedy has rarely failed to cure the severest cases of Chills and Fever, and it has this great advantage over other Ague medicines, that it subdues the complaint without injury to the patient. It contains no quinine or other deleterious substance, nor does it produce quinism or any injurious effect whatever. Shaking brothers of the army and the west, try it and you will endorse these assertions.
