A very desirable property is offered for sale by Auctioneer Bloom, the location of which is a good one for a hotel, store, or mechanic of any kind. Consult advertisement elsewhere.

Free Exhibition.--Our attention was directed the other day to a great crowd of people on Market Street, opposite the Jail, and upon inquiry, was informed that it was occasioned by the arrival of a lot of new and attractive goods just opened for the inspection of customers, at the store of C. Kratzer, Clearfield, Pa.

Notice.--There will be a Methodist protracted meeting held in the grove near Wallaceton, commencing in the evening of the 4th of June, and to continue for several days. The Rev. Mr. Robison, and Rev. Rev. James Clary, Pastor,

Recorder's Office.--Below will be found the number of Deeds entered for record in this office for the week ending Monday, May 16th, 1870, together with the names of the grantors and grantees, where situated, and the consideration:

Deed of Morris township School District to John Hoover, for lot of ground in Morris tp.; $1.
Deed of James S. Marsh and others to D. F. Smith, for 176 acres in Bell township; $16,000.
Deed of Mason G. Bloom to Joseph R. Irwin, for lot in Curwensville Borough; $850.

Deed of Samuel Clark to James M. Welch, for lot in Curwensville Borough; $1,700.

O'Brien's Grand Menagerie will exhibit in Clearfield, to-morrow, and from the descriptions we have seen of the display given in other places lead us to expect a truly startling spectacle. With a desire on the part of the manager to give increased respectability to this marvelous and moral exhibition, we are requested to particularly announce that no circus is in any way connected with it--thus affording all an opportunity of seeing the wonders of Nature without being brought in contact with those objectionable features usually witnessed in traveling exhibitions where circuses and menageries are combined. The animals and birds in connection with it are of the rarest kind, and Prof. Whitaker, the eminent explorer and zoographer, of the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Science, who is perfectly conversant with the subject, will in a descriptive lecture on zoology, explain the varied traits of Animal Life. We are also requested to make known that the manager has made an arrangement with the Lower Bridge Company to the effect, that it will be free to all going to and returning from the show. Exhibition place:--O. B. Merrell's lot, West Clearfield.

Improving Slowly.--We noticed Daniel Livingston, Esq., Internal Revenue Assessor for this Congressional District, on our streets one day last week. He has underwent a long and wasting spell of sickness, and is just now getting able to be about.--We regret his declining health very much, because he may be compelled to resign eventually, and if we are to be tormented with United States Assessors in the future, there is no Republican in the district whom we would rather see in that position than Mr. Livingston. Besides, we believe he discharges his duties, disagreeable as they may be sometimes, impartially to the citizens, faithful to the Government, and with honor to himself.

Snake Charming.--Here is an item for those who are sceptical concerning the charming power of black snakes. The youngest son of Joseph Riden, near Kelley, was playing a short time ago, in a field near his father's house when he alarmed the neighborhood by his loud screaming. His father ran to his relief, and found him gazing steadily into the eyes of a black snake, without power to remove his eyes from those of the snake. He was completely charmed, and had not his cries brought assistance he would have fallen a victim to the serpent's coils.--Lewistown Democrat.

A Card.

Clearfield, May 17, 1870.

Mr. Goodlander,

Dear Sir: As the time for announcing candidates for nomination at the Primary Election is here, I desire to offer the name of Hon. JOHN G. HALL, of Ridgway, Elk county, as a candidate for ASSEMBLY--subject to the action of the Democracy at the Primary Election.

CLEARFIELD.

The last Legislature is reported to have passed a law prohibiting the shooting of quail for the next three years to come.

In Champaign county, Illinois, wheat is selling at 81 cents a bushel, and corn at 85 cents, a condition of the market never before known.

A well known writer says: That the editor and postmaster are to society what figures are to mathematics--they are doing more in behalf of popular knowledge and human progress than all of the other institutions of mankind combined.

The Mifflintown Democrat rejoices in the fact that "the borough ordinances in regard to muzzling dogs, was enforced ten days--four days longer than any other ordinance ever enacted by the borough authorities." There are ordinances elsewhere which are similarly treated.

The Bedford Gazette records the funny incident of a gentleman and two ladies out driving in a spring wagon, when the seat on which the ladies were sitting gave way, tumbling the fair creatures into the road. The gentleman did not miss them, immediately, till, on looking back, he found them, dusting themselves. No damage done.

Terrific Hurricane.--Passengers from Omaha report that the hurricane which prevailed in the Missouri Valley on Friday, the 6th inst., was destructive beyond anything ever before known there. Houses were overturned and demolished, travel stopped, and general destruction was caused by the wind, which swept so violently down the river that boats could not cross, and passengers from California were detained on the opposite side of the river.

Robbery in Oliver Township.--On Friday, April 29th, between the hours of eleven and twelve o'clock at night, two men entered the house of Mr. Wm. Hawthorn, of Oliver township, and committed one of the most high-handed outrages that has ever been recorded in our county. The door of the house was unlocked, and one of Mr. Hawthorn's daughters hearing some person enter supposed it was her brother, who was absent, and called to him, when the robber answered telling her to keep quiet.--They then entered the room where Mr. and Mrs Hawthorn were sleeping, and catching Mr. H. by the neck dealt him and Mrs. H. severe blows in the face, telling them that if they would be quiet and give up their money they would not be harmed; but if they made an outcry they would settle their "hash" with the pistols and knives which they carried. After getting all Mr. H's. money, $35, and also six dollars belonging to one of the daughters who had been from home, and had just returned, one of the villains went up stairs to the room of the absent son, but, of course, found no one there. They both wore black masks and were armed with knives and pistols. After getting all the money in the house they coolly bid the affrighted family good night, and left.--Brookville Republican.

Married.

On the 3d of May, 1870, by Rev. Wm. M. Burchfield, Mr. JOHN M. MACUMBER, of Clearfield, to Miss ELLIE OWENS, of Curwensville.

On the 8th of May, 1870, by John H. Rowles, Esq., Mr. WILLIAM SLOSS, of Pike, to Miss ELIZABETH TUBBS, of Ferguson township; all of Clearfield county, Pa.

Items.

The Philadelphia Age says: It is decidedly refreshing to hear leading Radical organs talking about the "shameless fanaticism" of the Know-Nothing party. All the leaders of that organization are old Know-Nothings. Schuyler Colfax blistered his conscience with a Know-Nothing oath, which he never recanted, and the same can, with truth, be stated of all his more noticeable colleagues. Know-Nothingism sprung from the same vile compost bed which produced the Anti Slavery movement, Free-Loveism, and kindred monsters, and the Radical party will embrace either or all, as it suits their corrupt and mercenary purposes.

Robbery.--On Friday evening last a man entered the toll-house at the river bridge, Muncy, and drawing his pistol in a menacing manner, demanded the money of the woman in attendance. There was nobody in the house at the time but Mrs. Dewitt and a young girl she has to assist her. Mrs. Dewitt courageously refused to give up the money box, belonging to the bridge Co., and containing about $400. The thief however managed to put out the light, grab the box and make his exit. Before the alarm could be given he had made good his escape. This is one of the boldest robberies we have heard of lately.

Disgraceful.--Are we never to hear the last of old woman Lincoln? Her husband was worth $18,000 when made President, and $75,000 at the time of his death, at which date Congress gave his wife $25,000, making an estate of $100,000, full half of it her own. Since Lincoln's death this miserable creature has pauperized herself through extravagance, and is now in Germany, howling across the broad Atlantic her impecuniousness, and badgering Congress for more money. If she is a pauper, it is because she has deliberately made herself by her foolish extravagant habits. It is another picture of the beggar on horseback. Let her be told that she has no claims. Her husband was the tool of a base party, which has pauperized the whole nation, and destroyed a million of lives, each one a vast deal more precious than her own. Yet after all Ben Butler, Colfax, Grant & Co. last week voted her a pension of $3,000 a year for life. Had some widow who lost a husband and three sons in the army, possessed the impertinence to have applied for an extra bounty of only $50, she would have been ordered out of the Capitol by these worthies, while this "harem scarem" is voted her $3,000 with ease.

A Brilliant Wedding.--The marriage of Hon J. Haldeman with Miss Maggie Cameron, on Thursday evening, at the residence of the bride's father, Senator Cameron, passed off with great eclat. The groomsmen were General P. B. M. Young, Congressman elect from Georgia, and Cameron Burnside, of this city. The bridesmaids were Miss Lizzie Haldeman, of this city, and Miss ——Loughridge, of Baltimore. Among the distinguished gentlemen present were Gov. Geary, Hon. Eugene M. Wilson, Minnesota; ex-Governor Swann, Maryland; Hon. J. D. Stiles, Pennsylvania; Hon. C. A. Eldridge, Wisconsin; Hon. T. N. McNeely, Illinois; B. T. Biggs, Delaware; Hon. P. Van Trump, Ohio; Hon. Charles Haight, New Jersey; Hon. George Dawson Coleman, Lebanon; and Hon. John J. Pearson. The entire party, with a few exceptions, are stopping at Bolton's Hotel.--Harrisburg Patriot.

"Take off Dem Cloze."--A correspondent of the Fredonia Advertiser relates the following incident in connection with the late equal rights celebration at Corry. The question now arises who was the livery stable man:

"Quite a laughable affair came off in the hall some time during the evening, so I am told, the truthfulness of which I cannot vouch for, as I was not there.--It occurred between the manager of the dance--a very polite darkey--and one of our livery men, who had, during the day, received no little attention from the colored boys in the way of patronizing his stable for rigs during the day, and thought it would be showing them proper respect to make his appearance in the ball, and pay them the little entrance fee in return for their liberal support. Mr. Liveryman hadn't more than taken his seat, and they were forming a new set, when the manager came up to him, bowing and scraping very politely, and addressed him in these words: "Ahem! Mr. ——, I ar berry sorry, sar, but your cloze is so strongly flavored wid de barn, dat it is offensive to de ladies.--You will habe to go down stairs."

O'Brien's Grand Menagerie will be here to-morrow. Don't fail to see it.
