SWINDLERS.—As the humbugs and swindlers are not all in the penitentiary, we invite the attention of our readers to a new scheme of fraud which has lately come to our notice. We refer to the note business, on our fourth page.

A VETERAN GONE.—Another of the oldest settlers has paid the debt of nature. We refer to David Sunderland, long a citizen of Bell township, who expired on the 4th of April, at the ripe age of 93 years, surrounded by a large circle of friends and relatives.

BRIDGE LET.—We learn that the Committee who have charge of the erection of a bridge over Muddy Creek, at Karthaus, have made a contract with William Zimmerman & Son, who are to erect it for the sum of $1,476, and have it completed for travel by the 1st of October, the payments are $500 on the commencement of the work, $500 when the abutments are up and the bridge framed, and the balance when completed and accepted by the Committee.

GOOD STOCK.—We are pleased to observe that a proper interest and enterprise is being manifested upon the part of some of our farmers in obtaining good and blooded stock. Judge Barrett, who has been turning his attention to farming lately, we notice has secured a full-blooded Alderney Bull, and put him on his farm midway between this place and Curwensville. In the horse line, Leander Denning leads off, and has become the proprietor of the finest Stallion ever owned in the county. Mr. W. P. Tate has become the owner of several pairs of full-blooded Castor White Pigs. He also designs securing some imported horned stock. This is the right spirit. It is no more trouble to raise a blooded horse, cow or hog than a common rust. It is as essential for the farmers to turn their attention to raising blooded stock as good crops, and far more profitable. Both are constantly being looked for in market, and always command double price.

NEARLY FULL.—It is well enough that Court week is near at hand, because the sheriff's family is getting too large for the old Jail. We will be very much mistaken if some of the birds don't get out yet before Court, notwithstanding the combined vigilance of Sheriff Pie and Jailer Bush. The old style prisons are really "played out," so far as modern thieves and their detention is concerned. Our rickety old concern is really an invitation to improved thieves to come within the county and follow their calling, because it is almost an impossibility to hold them when three or four must be put in one room. We are glad to know that within two years at the furthest, Morris, Thom & Young will have an establishment completed that will keep scoundrels where they are put, if the upper stories are to be a type of the basement, which they are now engaged in putting up.

The foregoing we penned on Monday morning. On Tuesday morning we inform the public that four of the prisoners succeeded in making their escape last night and are now at large.

OUR BAND.—That we have a good Band, and that the members composing it are gentlemen, is demonstrated on every hand; and that we need just such an organization among us, all confess, yet few seem to appreciate the difficulties surrounding an organization of this kind.—That all love to listen to the musical strains sent forth from their hall and the earliest of the streets these pleasant evenings, is very evident, but that all contribute something substantial toward the support of this necessary organization is not very evident. To ask the members of the Band to contribute more than their time is asking too much. Who, then, is to pay the rent of the hall, light, fuel, music, instruments, etc. All these expenses must be met with money, and if none is paid the result will be that the organization will be compelled to disband and the wind be our only music. Real liberality and hospitality has been manifested by some of our citizens, but we regret to say that many have not contributed a cent toward the support of the Band. Friends should bear in mind that hospitality entering to the stomach will not pay rent, hire teachers, or secure fuel, light and instruments, and without these the Band must go down. A Band is as essentially necessary in an improving and prospering town like ours as a railroad, school houses, or some social enjoyments which are literally patronized, yet far more demoralizing, if not entirely unnecessary as real enjoyments. Friends, patronize the Band substantially and earnest, lest it does not go down. Let the members' stomachs alone and give something toward replenishing the treasury.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.—On last Wednesday Sheriff Pie attempted to arrest a notorious character who has annoyed our courts exceedingly for the past four years, named "Jim Johnson," residing somewhere above Glen Hope. He succeeded in getting hold of him and after a desperate fight succeeded in fastening a pair of hobbles on him. During the scuffle Johnson succeeded in dealing the Sheriff four or five heavy blows on the head and neck, which made him quite sick after the excitement were off. During this time Johnson got inside the door of his house and secured a double-hitted axe, stood in the door and swore he would split the Sheriff's brain out if he attempted to touch him, and in the meantime succeeded in knocking his hobbles, thus giving him the free use of his limbs, and flourishing his axe in a lively manner. The Sheriff drew his revolver, demanding Johnson to surrender. At this moment Johnson's wife rushed upon the Sheriff from behind, exclaiming, "for God's sake don't commit murder." While this engaged Johnson attempted to escape, but the Sheriff grappled him and a hand to hand fight ensued in which the Sheriff found he was coming out second best, because of the powerful muscular strength of the prisoner. While in this position he discharged his revolver, hoping to make him surrender, but Johnson knocked the pistol out of the Sheriff's hand and dealt him a severe blow on the left temple which brought him to the ground, and the desperado made his escape.

The County Commissioners offer a reward of $100 for his delivery at the Jail of this county.—See description elsewhere.

It is needless to say that during all this time several persons were in sight, yet no one attempted to assist the Sheriff but a boy, who deserves great credit. This fact will not prove very creditable to the bystanders in the estimation of law abiding citizens, and the only palliation in their favor is the fact that Johnson was feared and dreaded by all who dwell in that neighborhood—hence their failure to discharge their duties as good citizens in assisting an officer in the discharge of a public duty.

The Sheriff is considerably demoralized in a physical way. He has carried four large artificial bumps on his head, a swelled jaw, sore throat, and a sprained ankle, which has been very painful, but otherwise he will be all right in a few days. But woe to Johnson, should he ever get his hand on him again.

DECLINATION.

MR. EDITOR: I feel truly thankful to the Democratic party for what they have already done for me, but must decline being a candidate at this time. Before I entered on the duties of that office I took an oath to support the Constitution of the United States and of the State of Pennsylvania, that I would discharge the duties of that office with fidelity. Now, sir, you know the difficulties that I had the first year of my term on account of the new Jail, believing that a large majority of the citizens of the county were in favor of a new site for the Jail. You know, Mr. Editor, and Messrs. Bigler know how I labored with them until they agreed to sell those lots where the new Jail is being now built, from the fact to build the Jail on the old site would have cost the county from eighteen to twenty thousand dollars more than on the present site. With all that I have done nothing more than my duty. Still some men who have been "sucking the public tit" from their infancy, who will shortly have to go down, down, down, as B. F. Butler said, to their graves unhonored and unwept, say that they pity me; that they thought I knew more than to be duped by you, Mr. Editor, in this (last) assessment, which you are as innocent of as a child unborn, which I unhesitatingly say—and to which my two associates will be qualified to. Men who have been skulking their regular quota of taxes which the poor laborer and mechanic have been paying. Now, when it hits these aristocratic natures, "Oh!" say they, "Goodlander done it." Let any man come into the Commissioners' Office and examine the triennial assessment for the last nine years and there find those glaring facts which cannot be contradicted, and then ask himself, was it right for the poor to pay when the rich went Scott free. And still they say the Commissioners had no right to do what they have done, when the law requires that all property shall be assessed at its bona fide value. I would like these old croakers to say what interest it was to me to raise the valuation of their property, from the fact that I had no enemies to punish or friends to gratify, but was only doing what I thought was my duty; and if I have done anything wrong it was an error of the head and not of the heart. A few more words and I am done. This is not a new principle; it has been adopted all over the State. Nor is it the first time that the Commissioners of this county have tried to adopt this same principle. Why, sir, we have had constant scolding, not only the present Board but former Boards have gone through the same ordeal, for mismanaging the affairs of the county. These grumblers predict the ruin of the county, men have barrangued around the streets of Clearfield against the extravagant of the Commissioners, and in the face of all this the county has moved on, the taxes have been laid and collected and the expenses paid. Now, Mr. Editor, I say the progress of Clearfield county ought to silence the ravingers of manisacs who unfortunately are allowed to run loose, and whose friends have not discovered the propriety of putting them in proper places under treatment. Now, sir, I believe I have done my duty to the best of my judgment. If I have erred it is an error of judgment and not of intention. If I differ with my constituents I will allow them to scold me, because that is their right; but, sir, I deny the right of any man to impugn my motives. I believe when men do so constantly blow their own pipe in praise of their own honesty, that the public generally put them down as fools or knaves. In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I again thank the people, feeling conscious that I have discharged the duties incumbent upon me without fear, favor or affection.

SAMUEL H. SHAFFNER.

"DRUNKENNESS AND ITS CURSES,"

Under this caption, though the Journal, some person has vented his spleen against a modest, unassuming man of our quiet, orderly borough.

"Humanity," I have no doubt, selected this house, believing the proprietor would take no notice of his unmanly attack upon it. As to its being located on the side-walk where ladies very frequently pass is true, and if he had any desire to act fairly towards his neighbors, (if he be a citizen of our borough,) he would have stated that the following hotels were also as near the side-walk as the one he has so fiercely attacked: The Clearfield House, Osceola House, Yorkshire House, John C. Henderson House, and the Exchange Hotel—and he would have said more, that when, on any particular occasion, the citizens of the surrounding country come into our borough, it is an unusual sight to see occasionally a drunken man on the side-walks in front of, or near either of these five named hotels, and the gentlemen who keep these hotels cannot well prevent it, but when you come to speak of the citizens of the borough of Osceola, "Humanity's" remarks lack that candor which should characterize the production of every man who intends it for the public.

But, I ask where "Humanity" would it most admirably; he should at once apply to the State Agent of U. S. Grant & Co's Ku Klux Klan, where he might obtain an appointment to go down with some one to the Southern States, from which he could send up to the Washington City Ku Kluxes reports of outrages committed, (which never were committed,) upon the legal negro—black or white.

As to "Humanity's" attack upon our Court, if proof were wanting of his high qualifications to become an eminent scalawag—fit to travel under directions of the dynasty at the National Capital—the piece published in the Raftsman's Journal the 10th of May, 1871, would remove all doubts and make his promotion certain.

Osceola, May 18, 1871. FAIR PLAY.

SAD AND FATAL ACCIDENT.—A most sad and fatal catastrophe occurred near Northumberland on Saturday forenoon last, resulting in the sudden death of Edward S., youngest son of C. Wainwright, Esq., of Dent's Run, Elk county. The young man was in the vicinity of Northumberland looking after a couple of rafts which his father had tied up there waiting for water to run them to market, and to pass away the time, as is supposed, he went up on to Blue Hill, a steep, rocky promontory projecting out into the river. After climbing some distance he, by some mishap, lost his balance and was precipitated about thirty feet into the shallow water below. He was seen to fall by some persons a short distance off, who hastened to the spot, only to find him lying dead in the water, which was about two feet in depth. He was a young man of about eighteen years of age—of more than ordinary promise, and his untimely death will be a sad affliction to his bereaved parents.—Empirian Independent.

BADLY SOLD.—In spite of all the exposures of the counterfeit greenbacks—saw-dust—swindle, a resident of New Galilee, Mercer county, took a box from the express office at Enon Valley, paying ninety-six dollars thereon, and found it filled with saw-dust. Greenburn wanted to make a disturbance, but upon a reminder that he had been engaged in an attempt to defraud the government, he subsided, and went home a sadder but a wiser man.

We learn that one of our country hotel keepers went fourteen better—$140, for a similar box, and has manifested his enterprise by serving an attachment on the express agent, in order to get his money back again. When will the fools all die, and knaves become honest men?

An accident—most miraculously not fatal—occurred on Thursday at the junction of Allegheny with Spring street, at the M. E. Church. The Clearfield train was backing down to station from Round House. Mr. Robert McCully and wife, residing near Janesville, Clearfield county, attempted to cross the track in a buggy, not discovering the train until it had quite reached them. Mr. McCully then turned his horse's head. The train struck the vehicle, broke steps on cars, threw Mr. and Mrs. McCl. out, and severely injured the latter. The buggy was considerably demolished.—Tyrone Herald.

WINDY.—Brainerd & Jones, of the Tyrone Herald, said something about a new power press last week, but the print was so much whiter than heretofore that we could not read it, but we take it for granted that they said something good. We hope the new press will make their politics white, too. Some whitewashing in that line is needed in "little State," to have it look like the neighbors.

HIGH PRICES REPEALED.—It will be noticed that Messrs. Hartwick & Goodwin, merchants at Curwensville, have taken a new departure and are determined to sell goods at surprisingly low prices, from the fact that they have knocked high prices in the head. They desire an interview with all their old and any number of new customers.

EXCITEMENT IN GLEN HOPE.—Sheriff Pie raised considerable excitement in the quiet village of Glen Hope last week while capturing several Jail birds, but the furore created by Messrs. James M. Dickey & Co., while disposing of their large stock of goods, far exceeds the excitement created by the Sheriff. Read their advertisement elsewhere giving an account of their fight with high prices.

WHOLESALE REMOVAL.—We notice that Messrs. Hartwick & Irwin are removing to their splendid new quarters on Second street, where they have one of the finest rooms in the State. Their advertisement elsewhere indicates business of the first order.

DECLINE.—We are authorized to withdraw the names of Eli Bloom and I. G. Barger, Esqs., as candidates for Prothonotary. Their cards came to hand too late for this issue, but will appear next week.

DENTAL CARD.

DR. A. M. HILLS

Would say to his patients and the public generally, that, having dissolved partnership with Dr. Shaw, he is now doing the entire work of his office himself, so that patients need not fear being put under the hands of any other operator. Having obtained a reduction of the patent on the plate material, I am enabled to put up teeth much cheaper than formerly. I also have Dr. Stark's patent process for working rubber plates, which make a much lighter, more elastic and stronger plate for the same amount of material, and polishes the plate on both sides, rendering it much more easily kept clean. Special attention paid to the preservation of the natural teeth, and all work guaranteed entirely satisfactory to patients.

Office at the old corner, opposite the Shaw House. Office hours from 8 to 12, a. m., and 1 to 5, p. m. Patients from a distance should notify me a few days beforehand of their intention to come. Always at home, unless other notice appears in both the county papers. feb15'71

PEACE IN EUROPE!
BUT
GREAT EXCITEMENT
IN FRENCHVILLE!

The bloody contest between France and Prussia is at an end for the present, so far as the slaughtering of men and the destruction of property is concerned. The Royal Jugglers no doubt pride themselves and rejoice over the result, but how insignificant is their work when compared with the humane and christian efforts of

who has undertaken to supply all the citizens in the lower end of the county with food and raiment at exceeding low rates from his mammoth store in MULSONBURG, where he can always be found ready to wait upon callers and supply them with

Dry Goods of all Kinds,

Such as Cloths, Satinetts, Cassimeres, Muslins, Delaines, Linen, Drillings, Calicoes, Trimmings, Ribbons, Lace,

Ready-made Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Caps—all of the best material and made to order—Hose, Socks, Gloves,
