Brick Works.—It is now fully set- tled that we are to have fire clay manufactured in our borough. Mr. A. H. Shaw has made a perma- nent lease of clay and ground whereon to erect buildings for the manufacture of fire clay brick. Mr. Henry Wile, of Philadelphia, and Mr. H. A. Richards, of Pinegrove, Schuylkill county, are the enterprising gentlemen who have determined to lead off. They understand the business, having been engaged in it for years, and possess the required capital, out of which they will make a fortune. They have entered into a contract with Mr. Ale to erect a building 75 by 100 feet, and intend to use a sixty horse power engine to drive the machinery, besides giving employment to a large number of laborers, some of whom are already at work developing the clay, digging, etc. The proprietors design to purchase a plot of ground somewhere in the vicinity, with a view of erecting twenty or thirty houses for the benefit of their employes.

Now, let our citizens lend their moral and sub- substantial aid to these gentlemen, who come among us to develope our minerals. Let us not hear on every corner that "it won't pay—they will break up," etc., but aid and assist them instead. To our mind our capitalists and business men, when abroad, spend too little time in calling the attention of foreign capitalists to the many "golden placers" located in our county, such as coal, fire clay, iron ore, etc. They either want to keep it a secret, or do not deem it worth debating with capitalists in the east, who are daily looking around for investments in something of the kind. We feel like delivering a lecture to our readers on this point, and may do so at some future period, if we can gather a few more substantial facts.

But for Mr. Shaw and Mr. James E. Watson, it is doubtful whether the gentlemen in question would ever have turned up here to look after our fire clay. Gentlemen, capitalists, debate coal and fire clay, along with timber, when at home or abroad.

* * *

Grumblers at Newspapers.—The Bloomsburg Columbian says: "It is strange how closely men read the newspapers. We never say anything that anybody don't like but we soon hear of it, and everybody is sure to tell us of it. If however once in a while we happen to say a good thing, we never hear of that; nobody seems to notice that. We pay some man a hundred compliments, and give him a dozen puffs, and he takes it all as a tribute to his greatness, and he never thinks of it; never thinks it does him any good. But if we happen to say things this man don't like, or something he imagines is a reflection on him or his character, see how quickly he flares up and gets mad about it. All our evils are duly charged to us, but we never apparently get any credit for what good we do." Such is in part the life of an editor. His mistakes are charged up against him in regular ledger form, while his credit is withheld, and kicks and cuffs awarded instead in many instances.

* * *

Decoration Day.—We notice by exchanges that this annual period was pretty generally celebrated. But the day and circumstances are so overburthened with etiquette and useless expenses that at the close of the day there seems to be more jealousy and ill feeling than the opposite. As an illustration, the Bellefonte Watchman says: "Our colored fellow citizens were very much mortified at the refusal of the members of the G. A. R. to allow them to participate in the parade on Decoration Day. Since the Radical party has advanced them to a condition of political and social equality, they consider it very hard treatment to shut them out from the privilege of manifesting their respect for the fallen braves who shed their blood that the colored man might be free. What have the G. A. R. in this place to say to this charge? Will they be able to clear their skirts in such a manner as to correspond with the provisions of the civil rights bill? We pause for a reply."

* * *

Understands It.—The local of the Brookville Jeffersonian, although not very long in the harness, seems to understand some things. He says: "Some men are born mean; some men achieve meanness; and some men have meanness thrust upon them. The first take their county paper without intending to pay for it; the second class get it a year for nothing, and then refuse to take it out of the office, and the third class won't subscribe for it because generous neighbors loan them copies."

* * *

Pay-triotic.—Thirteen Mercer Co. Radicals are candidates for Sheriff; nine for Prothonotary, and thirty-two for the balance of the county offices.

Habitual constipation leads to the following results: Inflammation of the kidneys, sick and nervous headache, biliousness, dyspepsia, indigestion, piles, loss of appetite and strength, all of which may be avoided by being regular in your habits, and taking, say one of Parson's Purgative Pills, nightly, for four or six weeks.
